Those Serious Charges Against the New York Store Answered.
Charges of a grave nature are preferred against us. We arise to explain. About one year ago we inaugurated a sale that for magnitude was never surpassed by any business house of concern in the northwest. The community were aroused and stirred from center to circumference. For the first time in the dry goods history of Montana we placed the best quality of Amoskeag gingham at the startlingly low price of 5 cents per yard; twilled cloth at 5 cents; heavy outing flannel at 5 cents; lining cambric at 5 cents; nainsook at 5 cents; hosiery, dress goods, cloaks and blankets in like proportion. Orders came like a house on fire. Letters of congratulation were received from all over Montana, the state of Washington and northern Idaho. Our store continually presented the appearance of a spiritual political meeting. Well, during days and weeks there was no cessation.

Christmas night at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Ganes was entertained a merry company, the game being drive whist. At the end of the session, Miss Fullerton and Mr. Stoner were found to be the winners, the prizes being Emerson's Essays, in two volumes, for the lady, and a silver picture frame for the gentleman. At the other end of the line, Mrs. Avery was presented with a ball of wearing cotton, and Mr. Penwell with a wooden specimen of an Ethiopian, who danced at the end of a string. The players were Misses Fullerton, Ely, Frandich, Allison, Williams, Edgar, Magnus, Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Sims; Messrs. Pigot, Penwell, Stoner, Sims, Wade, C. J. Clark, E. W. Beattie and Freddie Gaines. The rooms were prettily decorated with Christmas holly and large bouquets of fragrant roses. Refreshments for which the hostess is justly celebrated were served about midnight. The evening was one of genuine pleasure, and a fitting close of a merry Christmas day.

One of the prettiest events of the week was the dancing party given by Mrs. S. Wood at her home on Madison avenue, in compliance with the wishes of Mrs. Straughn, of Missoula. After the dancing, refreshments were served in the dining room, which was elaborately decorated for the occasion in red and green. Holly, mistletoe, and red berries, were placed here and there, and on the table was placed large cut glass bowls of rare red roses; silver chandeliers with red and green shades; their soft light to that of the brilliant chandeliers, and these, with the pretty evening dresses of the ladies, made a picture delightful to look upon. Those attending, in company with Mrs. Straughn, of Missoula, were Mrs. Straughn, Callen, Sharp, Franklin, Cope, Murphy, A. Murphy, Davenport, Slight, A. Rosenbaum, Corwin, Cory, Harrison, and Messrs. Merrell, Messrs. Carpenter, Hanna, Walker, Prosser, Holter, A. Holter, Metten, Cullen, Arnold, Sanders, Word, C. Word, W. Murphy, Cory, Wilson, Carnochan.

The Young Men's Capital club had a financial success in their masquerade ball, Friday evening, the galleries being quite well filled with spectators, and the floor with masquers; of the latter there were just enough to comfortably fill the hall and give convenient room for dancing. It was the usual scene at a masquerade; there were the usual dominoes, red and blue, fancy costumes of mixed colors, flower girls, Red Ridinghoods, cowboys, sailors, policemen, etc. There was some fine dancing on the stage, a skit dance by Miss Forbes, a high kick by her sister, and a lively jig by Miss Gincherau. Each of these young ladies received a prize for her specialty. There were fourteen prizes given; the masks were off about midnight; after that the dancing was renewed until a late, or more correctly, an early hour.

Bishop and Mrs. Brewer, Thursday, at their home, gave a very pleasant evening to the Chinamen of the Episcopal Sunday school. They were assisted in a pleasing programme as follows: Miss Harrison with her usual sweet voice and manner rendered a solo of the bishop's own composing, and also a ballad, "Little Girl, Don't Cry"; Misses Leslie and Frieda Foote gave several delightful duets on the piano and violin, and Dr. Foote entertained them right merrily with drawing charcoal sketches of funny faces, groups and scenes. Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, chicken salad, cake, chocolate, fruit, etc., were served, and then numerous games and played. A very pleasant evening was had, which the Chinamen and others were appreciated to the fullest extent.

The Knights Templar on Christmas day met in their asylums all over the United States at exactly the same hour, and joined in the Christmas observances and the sentiments presented by the grand encampment and the grand master; the chief toast being: "To our Most Eminent Grand Master, Hugh McCurdy, the head of American Templar Masonry who holds all Templar hearts." The response was: "To the great heart of Templar Masonry, and to every Templar Mason's heart, one and inseparable." Other toasts and responses were given by the Templars in session in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. RheinoId Kleinschmidt entertained a number of young people Wednesday evening at various games of cards, billiards, prizes and at each table different game; in the progression, those winning the most points received the prizes. Miss Ella Kleinschmidt. Continued on Seventh Page.
