CHICAGO, January 5.—Local Saloon Keepers' Association have appointed a committee of five to work against the present agitation for increase of saloon licenses. The Citizen's League are confident that the law will be passed making the lowest license free for any saloon in the State.

PLANO, Ills., January 5.—The wife of Charles Homm recently applied for a divorce on the ground of infidelity. Last night he sought her out, confessed his guilt promised reform and begged her return. She refused, whereupon he drew a revolver, shot himself in the head and died in ten minutes.

A Wheeling special says that information was just received that Robert Case and Jack Moore, two middle-aged men, of West Virginia, were burned to death. They had probably been drinking heavily, built a large fire and laid down. The matter, however, has not yet been investigated.

A St. Louis dispatch says Christine Nillsen is suffering from a severe cold and will not appear in concert to-night. Advanced sales amounted to over $4,000. The songstress leaves to-night for New Orleans where she is announced.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 5.—The observatory in Golden Gate Park was partially destroyed by fire last night; loss about $15,000. A valuable collection of exotics was ruined. It will take years to replace it. Further damage may arise from derangement of the heating apparatus.

ST. PAUL, January 6.—The campaign of slander in the Senatorial contest took a new turn last night. A package of affidavits was received from Colorado retelling the recent attacks on Senator Windom for his Western mining transactions, etc. One affidavit by Wm. Wolfe, of Durango, Col., shows that he was approached by George Wilkinson, of Winona, with a proposition to blackmail Windom out of from $10,000 to $20,000. M. J. McClosky, Windom's agent in Durango, Col., testifies that Windom's property there is only worth $9,000 instead of the fabulous amounts claimed, and Robt. Dickey, Superintendent of the Tenipet mine, testifies that Wilkinson told him that he was going to make it hot for Windom and bust him for the Senate if it cost $10,000.

CHICAGO, January 5.—The advent of Gebhardt produced much merriment among citizens and reporters. Not of the latter were able to get near enough the aesthetic young swell for an interview, the nearest being one enterprising quill-driver who interviewed a strongly Teutonic Gebhardt in good faith as the genuine one until he discovered that he had run afoul of Moses Gebhardt, a clothing merchant, instead of Freddy. His appearance in the Grand Pacific corridors and his evident love of notoriety, elicited from one of the Apollos who reside there the remark: "Why doesn't Mrs. Langtry select a man for her friend?"

The following party took a drive yesterday in a stylish sleigh. Mrs. Langtry, dressed in heavy cloak and close English turban; Mr. Gebhardt dressed in heavy overcoat and close English pants; Miss Langtry, (maiden sister of the lily) dressed in heavy cloak and close English turban; Mr. Murra, dressed in heavy fur overcoat and close Italian pants; a poodle dog, dressed in red ulster and silver standing collar.

It is learned that Mrs. Langtry has decided never to go out doors while here without her sister, and that the former would by no means allow Gebhardt to come here alone, but insisted that Mr. Murra was to be present at all interviews. Mr. Murra is not in love with Mrs. Langtry, but he is great chums with Freddie. There is no jealousy between Gebhardt and Murra. F. A. Schwab, whom Mrs. Langtry has engaged as a business manager, said to a reporter last night that Mrs. Langtry was extremely well pleased with the business done both in Chicago and elsewhere. She did not in any way concern herself about the rumors reflecting upon herself. She regards them as nothing more than idle tittle tattle liable to gain currency about the private life of any other person. So far as Gebhardt was concerned, Schwab felt that he had not acted in any way otherwise than became a gentleman. Mrs. Langtry had a right to choose her friends and it was an outrage to cast the base insinuations which had been thrown about her.

NEW YORK, January 6.—A dispatch was received from Montreal, stating that the Canada Pacific railroad company had obtained all the capital required in London and that a syndicate had been formed there to take stock. This report is not altogether correct. Most of the money was obtained in the United States and Canada from the sale of lands and from government subsidies. The stock will be listed on the New York Exchange at an early date and will be largely held in this country.

The Times editorially says: There are many indications that Democratic politicians and organs are not well pleased with the course Governor Cleveland is disposed to take. He has not yet made known his purposes very clearly, but such official utterances as he has made are not reassuring to those who have an eye to the distribution of spoils. He favors reduction in the number of offices and restriction of emoluments. He is not disposed to make offices for yearning aspirants, and when he makes appointments, he is inclined to select the men best qualified for them. There are grim mutterings that he will come in conflict with the Senate when it comes to asking for confirmation of his appointments, and threats that he will find himself out of harmony with his party in the Legislature.

WASHINGTON, January 5.—Randall said he was unavoidably absent from the House yesterday; had he been present he would have voted for the passage of the civil service bill.

Singleton, of Illinois, did not hear his name called or he would have voted against the bill.
