

Careful, but curious wife: "How did you get your coat so muddy, Charles?" "Let it fall last night, love." "Wine: "But where were you to do such a stupid thing?" Charles: "Where was I? Why—why—inside it."

"You are very handsome," declared he. "Ah," said she, "so you would say if you did not think so!" "And so you would think," rejoined he, "though I should not say so."

"I put a kiss under the postage stamp for my darling," wrote a Cincinnati man to his girl. She deftly removed the stamp with steam, but found no kiss, only some remnants of plug tobacco and a strong odor of beer. They are not married yet, and are not likely to be.
