CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN

PEOPLE YOU KNOW AND SOME OF THE THINGS THEY SAY AND DO.

During all the storm, there was not a breath of wind in Missoula; those who were here know that, of course, and it is ment- THE STORM lashed here at this time, but as a matter of news, but merely in contrast with the conditions at Bonner Friday night and yesterday morning. While the snow dropped quietly down here in Missoula, there was a 70-mile gale blowing seven miles east of here at the mouth of the Blackfoot and one-story cottages in Bonner were buried to the eaves in the drifting snow. Where the wind went to nobody seems to know; there was a lot of it at Bonner and there was none here. It was one of the freaks of the storm. L. A. Walker came down from Butte on the overland that reached here yesterday morning; he said that it was thawing in Butte Friday night and when the train reached Deer Lodge, the weather was frightfully cold. The extreme cold seemed to hit and miss; there was nothing uniform except the snowfall—that was something to talk about wherever you were stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Reilly reached Missoula yesterday afternoon from Helena, having been on the road for almost 20 hours. On the trip their train had no less than five helper engines, four of them dying between stations. It was necessary to take two running starts to get through the Mullan tunnel. One mile an hour was the speed during the first 10 miles of the journey and two miles an hour was the best that could be done on the run from Clinton to Missoula, the last run of the trip. It was bitter cold all the way and the weather at Missoula was the warmest that was struck anywhere. Mrs. Reilly suffered from the cold and her husband was mighty glad to get home. "I had a good time during the week at Helena," said Mr. Reilly last night, "but I'll not go away from Missoula again in the winter time. Not even an inaugural ball can draw me again."

William Bryan and his niece came up from Carter yesterday. Miss Skidlen has been spending several months with her uncle and is on her way home to Pennsylvania. Her last experience in Montana was one of bucking snow and she will remember it for a long time. "We left Carter," said Mr. Bryan last night, "on the stage which had been put on runners. There were 18 inches of snow there. At the mouth of Spring gulch the snow was two feet deep and the road was so bad that we had to leave the body and rear box of the sled and come into Charette's on the front box. The team played out and we changed for one of Charette's. The snow was four feet deep there. We took a high spring wagon and even in that the wagon bed scraped the snow. It was hard traveling but it was better than the single box. Miss Skidlen had an experience that will last her. Some of the time she was completely covered with snow as we plowed along on the one box, but she didn't freeze and we got through all right."

Not even the discouraging weather of yesterday morning dampened the ardor of shoppers who had read the announcement of the big sale at the Golden Rule store. There were some doubts in the minds of the people in the store about the success of the first day of the sale, when they saw the weather outlook Friday night. But they had billed the sale and they were determined to see it through. They were surprised when 9 o'clock found their store crowded with buyers, for the paths had not been cleared of the snowfall of the night before and it was not reasonable to expect folks to come out so early, even for the bargains offered. But they came, just the same, and they came in crowds. They filled the store and kept filling all day; in the afternoon, after the sun came out, the rooms were packed. "Despite the weather," said Advertising Manager Hollingsworth last night, "the sale has started off with a splendid rush."

Senator Fairbanks of Sanders county came over to Missoula to spend Sunday. He started for Sanders county, but his train stopped here and he stopped with the prospects who were so poor for a good trip that he decided to turn here and get back to Helena as soon as he could. "Things start off pretty well at the capital," said Senator Fairbanks last night. "There hasn't been much done yet, but there has been a good beginning made and I think we will get down to business this week. The opening was pleasant and there has been no trouble at all thus far. We look for a peaceful session without much excitement. The weather was terribly cold in Helena all the week, but that is the regular thing when the legislature meets over there and we get used to it."

ONE GOOD HIGHWAY.

The Orchard Homes people are not good-roads folks in the summer time alone. They are at it in the winter, too. Yesterday morning they united and organized a snow-bucking gang. A big snowplow was built and a road 15 feet wide was plowed through the snow from South Third street all the way down through Orchard Homes and through its principal roads. It was a great success and there is a good driveway for those who go sleighriding today.

"HOBO PETE" CALLS ELECTION

UNEMPLOYED OF MISSOULA ARE INVITED TO ELECT DELEGATES TO CONVENTION.

Last week Missoula had a special election for the street car franchise and this coming week, tomorrow, to be exact, there is to be another one, for "Hobo Pete" Jensen, president of "Hoboes' union No. 66, International of America," has addressed a call to the hoboes of the city for a special election for the purpose of electing a delegate to the hoboes' convention, which will be held in St. Louis on January 28. At this election there will be four wards in which the votes will be cast. The First ward voters will cast their ballots in the court house, the Second ward will vote in the Headquarters saloon, the Fourth ward will vote in the Waldorf saloon and the Third ward will be the winter end of the bridge. This latter place is for the benefit of the unemployed of the south side.

Peter Talks.

Said "Hobo Pete" last night: "We are going to elect a delegate to the convention which will be in St. Louis on the 28th of January and I am candidate for it. I am Emil Kelly. Whoever one gets elected will go to the convention and will fix up a scheme to go to the government and make dem give us guys work, an' we tink we will give a good chanst to get jobs."

"Wot T'ell."

When asked to give his idea of this part of the country, Pete, who has traveled all over the United States, said: "You know dat dis country has good prospeck's don't yeh? Well, us guys can't develop it by our lonesome, can we? So if de rich guys wot do de dirt part, w'y wot t'ells a poor feller agoin' to do? Jump out in de snow? Well, I don't tink we will. Youse jist put it in de paper da de election will come off tomorrow, an' we'll do de rest."

Female Suffrage.

Each county in each state in the country will be entitled to representation in the convention and it claimed that there will be several thousand hoboes present. At the election in this city tomorrow "Hobo Pete" wishes it stated that every unemployed man, woman and child will be entitled to a vote as usual. It is expected that a large ballot will be cast. Pete thinks that he stands a very good show to be elected, but is devoting every effort to promote the election, irrespective of himself.

SON LEAVES TO MEET BODY OF MAJOR TORREY

Henry Torrey, a student at the University of Montana, left last night for San Francisco, where he expects to meet his mother and the body of his father, Major Z. W. Torrey, who dropped dead at his desk in Manila on December 8. The transport Sherman, which was due at Honolulu Friday, is carrying the body of the dead soldier, formerly commandant at Fort Missoula. The body will be taken east for interment.

FAT WOMAN'S TROUBLES.

If you try to get the fat off with the exercise, tell me, please, where's one going to find the time? I haven't any faith in it, anyway, as a reducer. It hurts the fat person's weakest spot—the heart. As for dieting, that is out of the question, altogether. Better be fat than have cancer of the stomach.

The safest and quickest way to reduce excess fat is also the cheapest and easiest. Go to the druggist and get 1/2 ounce Marmola, 1/2 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 1/2 ounce Peppermint Water. They cost but a trifle. Take them home, shake them together in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. If you are not losing a half to a pound of fat a day inside of a month, your case will be one in a hundred. Try it—makes you feel better all over.

BULLERDICK CLIMBS MT. SENTINEL

UNIVERSITY ASSISTANT MAKES STRENUOUS ASCENSION TO READ INSTRUMENT.

According to M. F. Bullerdick, and nobody else is in a position to know right now, the top of Mt. Sentinel is a very desirable place to live. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Bullerdick, who is an assistant to M. J. Treadwell of the University of Montana, made the trip to the mountain top to take the weekly reading of the thermometer instrument installed there. The young man had a strenuous time of it and, besides frosting both his ears and performing impromptu acrobatics in the snow, found out that there had been no wind on top of the big hill that watches behind the state university and that the cold on the mountain peak had not been as intense as that in the valley. Mr. Bullerdick stands several inches over six feet, but he fought his way through snow that was waist high in making his rather remarkable climb. Although he reports greater warmth on Mt. Sentinel than at its foot, he does not believe that, under the present weather conditions, it would be advisable to establish his residence there.

A Strenuous Trip.

Young Mr. Bullerdick started from the university at 2:45 yesterday afternoon and completed his journey at 5:45, reaching the top of the giant hill at 4:30. According to his statement, it is impossible to go forward more than a few rods up the hill at a time, on account of the snow, which is nearly three feet deep on an average. It was necessary for him to dig his way through the snow with his knees, slow and wearisome process, especially when one considers that the thermometer was standing at three or four degrees below zero at that time.

Treacherous Footing.

"I spent only 15 minutes at the top," said Mr. Bullerdick last evening, "looking at the instrument. It showed that on only one night had the temperature stood at very much below zero and that the average temperature up there had been appreciably higher than down here. I froze my ears and my gloves became so wet from the snow that I was forced to make the return trip barehanded and could not use the 'Alpenstock' that had assisted me in going up. The footing was treacherously slippery and I had to dig my fingers into the snow. I had a German sock and canvas before I started, but I had forgotten to take account of the incline, which brought the snow line up to my waist. My legs, from the knees up, suffered a good deal. Taking it all in all, my trip was an experience I would not have missed."

EIGHT WITNESSES TELL OF RAID ON "JOINT"

Yesterday afternoon before Justice Dyson the depositions of eight of the 11 witnesses held to testify in the trial of Pete Dumphy, who is to face a gambling charge in the district court, were taken. As was told in yesterday's edition, 11 witnesses were held under bonds of $25 each. As only three of them could furnish bond, the depositions were taken to allow the witnesses to gain their release from the county jail. The testimony given yesterday related exclusively to what was going on in the room over the Montana saloon raided Thursday night by Sheriff Graham. The dullness of the afternoon's proceedings was enlivened by the testimony of E. J. McCrary, who showed a regular John D. Rockefeller memory.

timber hurled through the air by the explosion of a gasoline tank. Dr. Peck was quickly summoned and he was carried to the home of E. J. Frazier. Several of his ribs were fractured and it is feared he sustained fatal injuries. Late this morning he was removed to the home of W. R. Davidson at Woodlin.

The losses occasioned by the fire, so far as ascertainable, are as follows: Henry Torin, Sr., about $3,000, insurance; D. V. Herrick, $5,000; no insurance; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Barnes, $5,000, insurance about $1,500; First State bank, $100, fully insured; A. S. Ainsworth, $200, fully covered; Adams & Adams, no loss; E. C. Day, practically no loss; restaurant, total loss; Exchange saloon, Cummings & McGraw, but light loss, mostly caused by moving and through explosion in adjacent buildings, fully covered by insurance.

SUITS ARE FILED.

St. Louis, Jan. 9.—Suit for nearly $1,000,000 was filed against local street car companies on behalf of the city of St. Louis today. The claim is based on the non-payment of a tax of 1 mill a passenger.

Henry Rickers will sell at public auction at his ranch on the big flat, three miles north of McCay bridge, on January 12, 1909, horses, cattle, chickens, household goods, etc. Free lunch.

SUN SUCCEEDS SNOW SATURDAY

MOST REMARKABLE STORM IN YEARS CULMINATES—PIONEERS' PRESTIGE PASSES.

What does it profit a man to be a pioneer in Montana? The last nine months have taken away from the old timer his chiefest claim to prestige, the ability to say, "Yes, I know it's pretty bad, but you should have been here in the winter of 1857," etc., etc., etc. The flood of last June gave the high water record into the keeping of the younger generation and the blizzard that culminated yesterday added the long distance snow medal to the collection. The man who came to Missoula 60 years ago hasn't a thing on the man who came here six months ago. Once more, what does it profit a man to be a pioneer in Montana?

SNOW IS MEASURED.

Yesterday, when the snow that started Wednesday night was measured, the observer at the local station of the government weather bureau announced that a trifle more than 30 inches had fallen. He also announced that the thermometer had dropped to 16 degrees below zero, the lowest mark of the year. As soon as it became bruited about town that the government thermometer warranted to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, had registered such a low temperature, those who had not been noticing the cold began to freeze at once. Also, there were many who contended that by no possibility could it have been as cold as the weather bureau reported. The observatory stuck to its guns and the record must stand as official. As The Missoulian stated yesterday it must be frightfully frigid at the University of Montana, where the weather is "taken."

A FINE DAY.

It is probable that the almost absolute absence of any wind created the impression that yesterday's temperature was higher than that of the day before. During the daylight hours the sun shone brightly and—below zero or not—Saturday, January 9, 1909, was a fine day. The following are the observations:

Maximum 4
Minimum 16 below
At 6 a. m.
Thermometer 2 below
Barometer 26.52
At 6 p. m.
Thermometer 14 below
Barometer 26.85

Wind from north. Five inches of snow, making a total of a little more than 30 inches.

MISTAKE IN IDENTITY.

Lemans, France, Jan. 9.—Reports circulated in America connecting the name of Wilbur Wright, the American aviator, with a suit, are said to have grown out of the fact that several persons mistook one of Mr. Wright's machinists for the aviator himself.

The young mechanic has been credited with showing much attention to the wife of a sergeant in a local troop. This started gossip that eventually took the form of connecting Mr. Wright with the affair in place of his mechanic. There is no evidence that the sergeant has begun any official proceedings.

FIVE FROZEN TO DEATH.

Edmonton, Alberta, Jan. 9.—Five Frenchmen who left Stony Plain for MacLeod river, three days ago were frozen to death, three miles west of the Nine Mile house on the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad survey.

Bonds for Sale.

These bonds are secured by a deed of trust, placed with the Western Montana National bank, as trustee, covering the property on East Cedar street, together with all improvements to be made thereon, which, when completed, will have a total value of $100,000. DONLAN ADVOCATES WHIPPING POST

BUTTE JUDGE BELIEVES IN THRASHING WHISKY-DRINKING FATHERS.

Special to The Daily Missoulian.

Butte, Jan. 9.—Judge Michael Donlan of department three of the district court went on record this morning as being in favor of a whipping post for certain culprits. The matter came up on an application to send two children of Dan Leary to the orphan's home at Twin Bridges. It was shown that Leary had taken the crusts of bread which the oldest child, a boy of 8 years, had secured from restaurants, and eaten them, leaving the little ones to go hungry. Leary got one of the hardest "roasts" ever given from the bench of a Montana judge. Leary's wife openly asserted that her husband was no man and said that if the judge turned her and the children out from the courtroom, he would send them into the snow, for they had no place to go, no opportunity to get groceries or fuel; that their home was in squalor. Humane officer Gilligan saw to it that the woman is being cared for and the children will be taken to the home Tuesday. In part Judge Donlan said: "They are about to pass a law in Montana to whip fellows like you. A whipping post will be a good thing in Silver Bow county. You are like a great many other men in this city; you try to drink all the whiskey made in Kentucky and refuse to work. You get married and impose a burden on the taxpayers of this county to support you and your children. You are a disgrace to yourself and your name. You are no good. Go take care of your wife and children; you should be ashamed of yourself to be brought into court on this charge."
