CONSERVATION WORK THAT IS PRACTICAL

THE WASHINGTON ASSOCIATION MAKES PLAN FOR AN EFFECTIVE CAMPAIGN.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 21.—Sterling of flood water in the forest areas for irrigation purposes, for prevention of forest fires, for preservation of water power and for the protection of navigation; conservation of public lands for the benefit of the actual home-builder and settler; the building of good roads and the preservation of the natural scenery, are among the things recommended by E. H. Libby of Clarkston, president of the Washington Conservation Association, in a letter to the executive committee.

opportunities presented to the organizations, adding: "A similar list of subjects would pertain to many other states, but in Washington the magnitude of the opportunity can only be appreciated when we know the extent of our natural resources in timber, minerals, coal, valuable stones, soil fertility, ocean waterways and navigable rivers, water powers, fisheries, climate and scenery. The herculean proportions of the undertaking may well appear to many a patriot. Its vastness and importance, however, spells the greatest need of such an effort as our association contemplates, which, in brief, is an attempt to secure a greater degree of right uses for these splendid natural resources. For, in my view, conservation means simply right use."

SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR MARRYING NEGRESS

Richmond, Va., Jan. 21.—In the sentencing at Farmville yesterday of Marcus Lindsay and his wife, a negress, to serve 18 years in the penitentiary, one of the most inhuman cases in the history of the state has been developed. Lindsay is the son of a white woman and, although he believed he had negro blood in his veins and associated with members of that race, the court held that he had enough Caucasian blood to be legally white.

SHORTAGE OF WHEAT THREATENED

REPORTS SHOW DECREASE IN ACREAGE SOWN TO THIS AND OTHER GRAINS.

Final reports on the acreage and condition of the winter wheat crop here and abroad increase the apprehension caused by the last government statement and indicate that 1909 will be an unusual year in the crop world. The reduction in the amount of land sown to wheat is particularly marked. Reports received here indicate that the crop also went down in the quarters in much worse shape than was at first supposed. The necessity of bumper crops this year, as a basis for returning prosperity, give these reports a significance that they otherwise would not have, as well as making it certain that the attention of the entire commercial world will be focused as never before on the condition of the crops, from the movement of the first spring news from the wire in March until the last fields are harvested late in the fall. The year promises to be a sensational one. According to the government report, the area sown to winter wheat shows a decrease of 1,762,000 acres and a falling off in condition of nearly 6 per cent, as compared with last year. The newly seeded acreage in rye is put at 4 per cent less than last year and its condition at nearly 8 per cent below normal. The situation in Europe, except in Great Britain and France, is very unsatisfactory. Whether the crops here turn out successfully or not by the end of the season depends partly upon weather conditions during the remaining weeks of the winter, but so far as wheat is concerned, the prospect is gloomy. Unusual preparations are being made by the agricultural department and the big, private crop reporting system which has its headquarters in Chicago, to cover the crop situation thoroughly.

The police made use of their firearms and order was restored.

NOT THROUGH YET.

GHOST OF "CLIQUE" DISCOVERED AGAIN

Washington, Jan. 21.—In an investigation of objections filed with the senate against the confirmation of Samuel H. Donnelly as public printer, the members of the senate committee on printing have discovered what appears to be a revival of the old "Wahnetas" and "Kickapoo" cliques within the ranks of the labor unions at the great printing establishment. These forces threaten to take part in the dispute which has been waged between employees of the printing office for a number of years, to the great annoyance of the public printer. Members of the senate committee have determined not to take cognizance of the operations of these cliques, and, ignoring their activities, have decided to again report the Donnelly nomination to the senate, with a recommendation that it be confirmed.

INVESTIGATION QUASHED.

MADISON, WIS., JAN. 21.—A joint resolution providing for an investigation of the recent United States senatorial primary law was killed in the senate today by a vote of 17 to 3 after a call of the house which had been in force for more than 24 hours was raised.
