CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN

PEOPLE YOU KNOW AND SOME OF THE THINGS THEY SAY AND DO.

H. E. Burch, superintendent of the Montana Independent Telephone company, with J. C. Ball, manager of the company's securities department, is in the city, looking over the streets and alleys with a view to getting an early start with the construction work of the lines in town. Mr. Ball is working with him and the two spent yesterday in the examination of prospective sites for their new building, which will be erected in the spring. Upon the completion of his preliminary survey, Mr. Burch will return to his headquarters in Butte; Mr. Ball expects to be at the Florence hotel for several days before he goes to Spokane, stopping at the towns between here and there, where local systems are to be built this year. It is the expectation of the company that its system will be in operation in Missoula this year, within 20 days the Helena exchange will be in operation with toll connections to Butte, Anaconda and Deer Lodge on the west and all of the principal cities in eastern Montana. The Missoula system will be the up-to-date automatic service. "This is my first visit to Missoula," said Mr. Burch yesterday to a Missoulian man, "and I am much disappointed in the town. But the disappointment is all in your favor. The city is much bigger and better than I had expected to find; it will take much more of a system to care for the city than I had expected, but that is all right, for the business is here. I believe Missoula is the best city in the west these days; it is certain to be one of the two great cities of Montana."

D. H. Cordz has started on his annual spring tour of the east in behalf of the ready-to-wear department of the Golden Rule store. While he is away Mr. Cordz will spend considerable time, as is his custom, in Chicago and New York and will visit such other places as it is necessary for him to see in completing the stock which he provides each season for the Golden Rule. Mr. Cordz will be absent six weeks or more. Prior to his departure, Mr. Cordz said: "I expect to purchase the best stock of ready-to-wear garments for women that we have ever carried. Each season witnesses remarkable progress in the production of this class of goods and we are informed that the stock for the spring trade is exceptionally fine. As you know, we buy for the whole Golden Rule system of stores, a fact which gives us great leverage in securing advantageous prices, and we are buying even more extensively than ever. I think I can promise Missoula's finest lot of spring goods ever seen here."

Tonight, at the county high school building, Dr. Elrod of the state university, will deliver an illustrated lecture before the boys' literary society. Dr. Elrod's theme will be "Some Features of Our Montana Mountains." The talk will be made more effective by the introduction of a series of views which are from the doctor's own collection, made during his extensive mountain climbing in Montana's ranges in the course of his extensive biological investigations. These views, themselves, are wonderfully fine and, coupled with the interesting description which Dr. Elrod gives, will make the lecture an unusually interesting and entertaining event. This lecture is one of a series which will be continued through the school year, Principal Thomas having arranged an especially interesting course in which some of the speakers will be from the faculty of the state agricultural college.

A. M. Stevens has returned from a trip to Butte on mining business and has taken up his work at the home office again. Asked yesterday for some news as to the progress of events at Salsese, where so many Missoula people are interested, Mr. Stevens said: "I haven't been up there myself for several weeks, but I find some letters here that bring the news that mining is more active than ever in the camps around Salsese, now that the chinook has settled the snow and has made it possible to get about more readily. There has been a very rich strike made in the Last Chance and the Bryan tunnel is nearing the ledge as is made evident by the fact that frequent stringers of quartz are encountered and they give some good values. The Eddy people have finished their upper crosscut and are so well pleased with the results that they are preparing for the construction of their proposed big tunnel. Everything in the district points to renewed activity in the early spring and there will certainly be some interesting developments around Salsese soon. I look for the first news to come from the Park or creek side, but there are things doing in the copper belt that will make good news for you before long."

The hundreds of Missoula people who are the friends of Colonel Wilson who, as captain, was stationed at Fort Missoula with the Twenty-fifth, will be glad to know that his son is coming here to locate. Mr. Wilson comes to Missoula from Laurel, Neb., and the Advocate, published in that city, contains this pleasant reference to his residence in the town which has been his home for 10 years: "Guy Wilson of the Farmers' State bank returned the first of the week from Missoula, Mont., where he expects to go early in February to enter the employment of the Western Montana National bank with a view to taking an official position. Briefly this offer came to Mr. Wilson some time ago, he went out to investigate, was satisfied and has accepted. For nearly 10 years Mr. Wilson has resided in Laurel; locating here soon after graduating from Princeton. During all that time his name has stood for everything good, honorable and uplifting; he has discharged faithfully every public duty and filled capably and honorably every position of trust assigned him. Modest and unassuming to a marked degree, never seeking prominence or courting praise, he has gone quietly on, 'living the life,' in spite of all obstacles and under all conditions. Comfortably settled as the cashier of his father's bank, the people of Laurel had come to look upon him as established here, and it is no flattery to say that the announcement of his intended departure brings a keen sense of sorrow and loss to practically every person in the community. However, a larger field of usefulness seems to be opening before him, and the part of his Laurel friends is but to wish him Godspeed. The people of Missoula will find Mr. Wilson staunch and true, and every inch a man, at all times and under all circumstances. These are strong words of commendation, but the Advocate voices them advisedly. Knowing they but express the sentiments of all its readers who have enjoyed Mr. Wilson's acquaintance or had business relations with him, he has made good here; he will make good there."

Special to The Daily Missoulian. Anaconda, Jan. 25.—R. delk Smith is in the city on his way home to Missoula, after putting the finishing touches to the big Montana Blair ranch deal. Mr. Smith feels pride of his success in handling the matter, but is still further elated over an offer made him by the Montana Blair Land & Irrigation company to manage their newly acquired property, at a salary of $5,000 a year, which he accepted. He is to assume charge May 1 and give the property his personal attention. He will continue to make Missoula his headquarters.

THIRTY-FIVE PARTICIPATED. Union City, Tenn., Jan. 25.—In the trial today of Ed Marshall, alleged night rider, Ethelbert Rogers testified that 35 men participated in the murder of Captain Rankin. Rogers and Marshall were neighbors. "At Walnut Log, Marshall and I did everything we could to keep them from killing Rankin, and I asked Garrett Johnston to let me take Rankin to Hickman in my buggy, but he did not answer me," said the witness.

E. A. Winstanley REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE 134 Higgins Ave.

The art department of the Woman's club held an enjoyable meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Madamess Vic Skinner and Newell Mason in South Missoula. An interesting paper, dealing with the life and paintings of Maxfield Parrish, was read by Mrs. C. H. McComb. After a short business session dainty refreshments were served.

The literary department met at the home of Mrs. T. A. Wickes in South Missoula yesterday afternoon. Oliver Wendell Holmes was the subject of the day's discussion, which was followed by a brief social session. Tea was served during the afternoon.

The music department held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nat Little on South Fourth street. Two excellent papers, "Song Composers," and "Piano Composers," were read by Mrs. J. W. Shrock and Mrs. Carrie Tillinghast. Mrs. Nat Little and Mrs. Tillinghast rendered several piano solos, and Madamess E. A. Winstanley, J. Meriam and John Gannon favored the members of the department with vocal selections. Refreshments were served late in the afternoon.

The executive board will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. J. E. Power on Pattee street.

Mrs. J. M. Price and Mrs. E. J. Dodds will give a tea on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dodds in South Missoula for the benefit of the Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church.

Mrs. Adams is hostess. Mrs. Ralph Adams was hostess on Monday afternoon at an informal, although most enjoyable tea, at her home in South Missoula. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and at 5 o'clock tea was served.

Mrs. McCullough improves. Late last night a report of the condition of Mrs. G. T. McCullough, who was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage on Saturday night, showed a slight improvement on the part of the patient. Although still unconscious, Mrs. McCullough was able to take some nourishment on several occasions during the day, and hopes are now extended that she will soon revive.

DR. LAUDER ENTERTAINS AUDIENCE AT RECITAL. It is not every day that lovers of music in the far west have an opportunity to listen to the work of a finished musician who, through his exhaustive study of the history of his art as well as its technique, can interpret the works of the masters so as to convey to the hearer the message and thoughts embodied by the composer in the language of tones. For this reason the audience which listened to Dr. W. Waugh Lauder in his recital at the Christian church last night were fortunate in hearing a program of rare merit.

Dr. Lauder is not only a performer of exceptional skill, but he has familiarized himself with the personal history of the composer of each selection he plays, has ascertained the history of each particular composition, the conditions under which it was conceived and the thought which the author sought to convey by means of tone words. His interesting and instructive sketches, given before the performance of a selection, enables the listener to find new beauties and a new meaning in the music.

Dr. Lauder's program last night included both light and heavy classics; enough of the former to prevent the latter becoming over-heavy. Among the selections deserving special mention were Beethoven's "Waldstein sonata" and a suite from Chopin, including his "Octave Polonaise," "The Dream," "Funeral March," prelude, "In the Cathedral" and "Cradle Song."

EIGHTH GRADE AT CENTRAL. At the earnest solicitation of a number of north and east side residents, whose children have recently been promoted to the eighth grade in the public schools, the board has decided to add an eighth grade department to the Central school. This action, on part of the board, was made necessary not only by the fact that this grade has been overcrowded in the schools on the south side, but because of the extremely long walk involved in reaching the south side from the districts north of the tracks.

THREE OPINIONS. Helena, Jan. 25.—Three opinions were handed down by the supreme court today, all originating in Butte. New trials are ordered in the suits of Clark against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company and in the personal injury suit of Pullen against the city of Butte. In the former the latter suffers defeat, while in the latter the city is the victor. The court affirmed the decision of the lower court in the suit of Dodd against Vuovich and others, involving certain rentals.

MOVEMENTS OF OFFICIALS. General Superintendent G. A. Goodell of the Northern Pacific went east this morning on No. 6, after a western trip. Superintendent Rapelle will return this morning on No. 4.

YOUNG JAPANESE DIES. T. Aoki, a young Japanese, who has been confined to St. Patrick's hospital for several weeks, died at 1 o'clock this morning of consumption. No plans have been announced for the funeral.

RIVER FALLING. Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 25.—The river is still falling and all danger of further trouble from high water is passed. Very little attention is being given to the subject here.

CONTORTIONIST IS INSANE

FRANK CASWELL A FAMOUS ACROBAT, TAKEN TO WARM SPRINGS FROM BILLINGS.

Crying for just one more shot of the "dope," Frank Caswell, at one time the most famous contortionist in the world, an acrobat who has delighted thousands who have seen Barnum & Bailey's circus, the high class minstrels and leading vaudeville people, will be taken this morning to Warm Springs asylum, having yesterday been declared insane by a lunacy commission composed of Dr. Chapple, Dr. Watkins and County Commissioner Newman, says the Billings Gazette.

In an emaciated condition from the effects of hypodermic injections of drugs, Caswell was carried from the county jail to the court house to appear before the lunacy commission. He was still begging for some "dope" and the last thing Jalior Pound did before going to the jail last night was to procure sufficient of the drug to relieve the man's sufferings until he was safely housed in Warm Springs.

There was no doubt as to the insanity of Caswell, though he was able to talk coherently to the members of the commission when he testified. He was anxious himself to be sent to Warm Springs in the hope that there the ravages of the fearful habit might be overcome and he might lose his appetite for morphine.

At one time Caswell was one of the most famous contortionists in the world. He traveled over the entire world with Barnum & Bailey circus. Later he was with Field's minstrels and became famous through the green frog act, which he was the first contortionist to present, his mother, who was a show woman, having made for him the first frog costume used by a contortionist on the stage. After his minstrel experience he went into vaudeville.

In Spokane, Wash., he had a fall, which resulted in the breaking of his neck. He lay in a hospital in Spokane for weeks, during much of which time a 20-pound weight was attached to his head in an effort to cure him. It was then that he contracted the morphine habit. Enormous doses were given him to relieve the pain after he was injured and he continued the use.

In his sane moments Caswell talks entertainingly of countries he has seen and the noted personages he has met. A strange incident of his confinement in the county jail here was the fact that a Mexican, who is confined there, recognized him as a great contortionist he had seen perform in Barnum and Bailey's circus in the City of Mexico.

Cute physicians who came in contact with Caswell, and physicians who examined him say that the possibilities of his recovering from the drug habit at Warm Springs are good, as he is possessed of an unusually bright mind and is anxious to be cured.

ALLEGED MURDERER CAUGHT. Amite City, La., Jan. 25.—Garfield Kinchen, charged with being the leader of the gang that murdered three persons near Tickfaw, last Friday, was surrounded today in a cabin seven miles from Amite City.

BOY IS KILLED BY HOUNDS. Fifteen minutes afterward I began to wonder why he had not returned and I stepped to the door. A short distance away I saw the two dogs worrying something on top of the snow, which had crusted hard. The two animals, which were mongrel shepherds, I believe, had some struggling object between them. I seized my rifle and ran towards them. As I approached, the dogs, as is the habit of their kind, drew back a little and I shot the one that was nearer; the other ran about 50 yards and stopped. I shot it, too. Then I picked up the boy, who was unconscious and bleeding, and stood with him in my arms, not knowing what I should do. A freight train then came by and stopped. The crew, after learning what had happened, did their best to get the child to the nearest hospital, which was at Taft, 31 miles away. We arrived there at 7 o'clock.

HAD NO CHANCE. "Hudson was unconscious most of the time. I tried to keep him from talking, even when he did wake up, but once he said that the dogs attacked him from both sides and that he never had a chance to call for help. When I picked him up his clothing was almost all torn from his body and he was struggling to raise himself on his arm. The doctors at Taft did all they could for my boy but he died this morning. His injuries were terrible."

Word of the tragic death of the ranger's son was brought to Missoula yesterday by J. J. Dowling, a St. Regis man. The forestry service was also notified and late in the afternoon C. H. Marsh received a telegram, saying that the body of the child would be brought to Missoula today. The father will accompany the body and it is supposed that an inquest will be held. Ranger Barringer is well known in Missoula.

MAKES APPROPRIATION. Boise, Idaho, Jan. 25.—The house today passed a bill appropriating $50,000 for an Idaho exhibit at the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific fair in Seattle.

AN INTERNAL STRIFE FEARED BY MINERS

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 25.—Internal strife, rather than a wage contest, is feared by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, in session here. Only one wage scale of large importance is to be negotiated, that of the miners of the three anthracite districts in Pennsylvania. The organization is giving much attention to the dispute between the national administration and its opponents, headed by John Walker of Illinois, who is Mr. Lewis' rival for the presidency. The ballots cast last December are now being counted and the result may be announced tomorrow or Wednesday. The controversy is bitter and charges of improper influence in the election have been made.
