

SURVIVORS ARRIVE IN PORT

VICTIMS OF SCHOONER SOQUEL DISASTER LANDED AT PORT TOWNSEND, WASH.

Port Townsend, Wash., Jan. 25.—Details of the wreck of the American schooner Soquel were brought here with 12 survivors and the bodies of Captain Charles Henningsen's wife and his 3-year-old daughter, by the revenue cutter Manning this afternoon. Captain Henningsen said: "I was bound in past Cape Flattery. The approximate location of that point was reached Sunday, January 17. An observation in order to ascertain our position had been impossible for six days. In a few hours two feet of snow had fallen on our decks. At 8 o'clock the course was changed so as to take us out to sea. We had passed Cape Flattery and were blown onto Vancouver Island."

Captain Henningsen says the Soquel struck at 12:30 a. m. Saturday. His wife and children were in bed at the time.

Lifeboat lashings were removed and in this Mrs. Henningsen took a position beside her husband, the captain holding the child. A loud report of an advancing comb caused the woman to call out: "This means death; kiss me, Carl."

In full sweep of the storm the loosened lifeboat was raised from its cradle and dashed on the deck, pinning the three beneath. The woman was instantly killed and the child was thrown across the ship.

Second Mate Henningsen, a brother of the captain, was washed overboard, but was rescued. His companions in the small lifeboat finally landed on a cluster of rocks a short distance shoreward from the wreck. They were rescued eight hours later.

At the request of Captain Henningsen, four of the life-saving crew swam from the rocks on which they were held to the schooner and thence brought off the bodies of his wife and child.

Excepting the ship's log book and a part of her papers, nothing was saved from the wreck. Captain Henningsen was part owner.

EXPLOSION ENTOMBS TEN MEN

ACCIDENT IN MINE TUNNEL MAY COST LIVES OF SEVERAL WORKMEN.

Pittsburg, Jan. 25.—While Superintendent Logan and a party of miners were investigating conditions in the coal mine of the Merchants' Coal company at Boswell tonight, a gas explosion occurred which has already cost the life of one man and may result in the death of a dozen more. Superintendent Logan, accompanied by Mine Boss Norris, Pit Boss John Cole and 11 miners had begun and the pass gateway was complete back in the mine when the explosion occurred. The mine caved in and the pass gate way was completely blocked, with 10 men back of the obstruction. Three miners badly burned, found their way out and carried the superintendent, who was seriously injured and unconscious. He died soon afterward.

Rescue parties are trying to rescue Norris Cole and eight other miners, whose fate is uncertain.

INVESTIGATING JURY HOLDS SHORT SESSION

Washington, Jan. 25.—When the federal grand jury, which is investigating the alleged libel of the New York World and Indianapolis News, in connection with the purchase of the Panama canal, adjourned at noon today until tomorrow, it had been in session for only one hour.

Contrary to expectations no witnesses were heard today, but it is stated that several will be on hand tomorrow to complete certain phases of the investigation. Today's session was occupied with the reading to the jury of statements which appeared in the New York and Indianapolis papers, upon which the alleged libels are based. The grand jury is not expected to make a return in the case until early next month.

PIETRI AND HAYES TO RUN.

St. Paul, Jan. 25.—Dorando Pietri and John Hayes of New York will meet in a 15-mile race here on February 25.

Why pay 10, 15, 20 or 25 cents for a cake of "toilet" soap when, for five cents, you can buy a cake of Ivory Soap which is bigger and better in every way.

How much bigger? Two or three times as big.

How much better? Well, there is only one way to find out—buy a cake and see for yourself.

Ivory Soap 99 1/100 Per Cent. Pure.

HAMILTON TO HAVE FUR SEAL SERVICE NEW MILL

OTMEAL DEPARTMENT TO BE ADDED TO THE PRESENT FLOURING INSTITUTION.

Special to The Daily Missoulian.

Hamilton, Jan. 25.—The contract was let today by the Hamilton Flouring Mill company for the erection of an oatmeal mill, which will be installed in connection with the flour mill now operated by that company.

This will be the only institution of the sort in the state of Montana, the nearest competitive point being Spokane, from which city most of the oatmeal consumed in this section comes.

The approximate cost of the mill will be $10,000 and the work of erecting the building will be started at once. It is believed that the machinery will be laid down by May 1, and the mill will be running full blast by July. The capacity of the new institution will be 200,000 bushels a day, or about 50 barrels of cereal product every 24 hours.

Experiments by authorities and experts have shown that the oats raised in the Bitter Root are the best known for meal purposes, and have been much sought after by both eastern and western milling concerns. The mill company has arranged to replace some of the boiler and machinery equipment of the present mill so that no changes will be necessary when the new building is erected.

JUDGE MYERS UPHOLDS TELEPHONE INJUNCTION

Special to The Daily Missoulian.

Hamilton, Jan. 25.—The J. A. Curran-Bell Telephone company injunction suit was heard in the district court here today and decided favorably to the defendant company. This action is the outgrowth of an injunction suit by the Bell company restraining Curran from operating or interfering with the operating of the telephone exchange in Stevensville.

Last August J. A. Curran contracted to purchase the Stevensville exchange from the Bell people, but is said to have refused to comply with the terms of the contract, and is also said to have refused to make the payments specified in the contract. The restraining order was issued on January 5, at the request of the Bell company, which based its plea on the violation of the terms of the contract.

Mr. Curran filed no answer yesterday and what his line of defense will be when the case is brought for trial on March 1 has not been made public.

WOULD EXEMPT BEER.

Salem, Ore., Jan. 25.—Representative McHugh has introduced in the house a measure designed to divide the prohibition law on the question of beer and whisky. This is the first time that an attempt has been made to divorce beer from whisky in a local option law.

VENERABLE EDUCATOR COMING WEST

PRESIDENT ELIOT OF HARVARD IS TO BE GUEST OF COLLEGE MEN AT ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, Jan. 25.—The coming of venerable President Eliot of Harvard university, who will be the guest of Minnesota Harvard men at their annual dinner in February, will be an event of much importance in educational circles and plans have been made by which the famous eastern university head will deliver several public addresses in the twin cities. President Eliot will be in St. Paul and Minneapolis on February 13 and 14, delivering addresses in St. Paul at Hamline university, an institution which has furnished Harvard many of its undergraduates, and at the Y. M. C. A. building.

President Howard Elliott of the Northern Pacific, a Harvard man of 1881; Dr. Bridgman, president of the Hamline university of St. Paul, and a personal friend of President Eliot, and Romeo G. Brown of Minneapolis, president of the Harvard club, will welcome the famous educator to the northwest. Mr. Brown and Dr. Bridgman will be Mr. Elliott's guests, leaving St. Paul February 11 for Chicago to meet President Eliot there and accompany him to the twin cities.

On Saturday morning, February 13, President Eliot will proceed with Dr. Bridgman to Hamline university, where, at 11 o'clock, he will address the student body. Hamline will be out in force to welcome him, and with President Eliot will be James J. Hill, Governor John A. Johnson, President Northrop of the University of Minnesota and other prominent Minnesota men, some of whom will also address the students. From Hamline President Eliot will go to the State university, and at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon will deliver an address at the First Unitarian church in Minneapolis. In the evening he will be the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Harvard club in the new quarters of the Minneapolis club. College men from all parts of the northwest will attend.

On Sunday morning President Eliot will come to St. Paul as the guest of President Howard Elliott, taking dinner at the home of the latter. At 3:45 in the afternoon he will deliver an address at the new Y. M. C. A. building, which will be open to the public, following which he will return to Mr. Elliott's Summit avenue home and there meet the Harvard men of St. Paul and their wives in an informal way. He will leave in the evening for Nashville.

President Eliot has not visited the northwest since 1881, and it was only after considerable correspondence that the northwestern alumni were able to arrange for his present visit. He is exceptionally active in the face of advancing years, and although he recently celebrated his 75th birthday, still takes a keen interest in the graduates of the famous eastern university. Minnesota Harvard men will make his coming an event of importance in college circles, and his addresses in the northwest will be of much interest. President Eliot is considered the most famous living American educator, and the alumni are especially pleased with their ability to arrange for his public addresses in Minneapolis and at Hamline university and the Y. M. C. A. in St. Paul.

HUNDREDS OF MISSOULA WOMEN who yesterday had not the slightest idea of what the styles for spring are to be can talk authoritatively on the subject today. They knew every detail, not only of the frocks for formal dress wear, street costumes and house dresses, but of all the accessories form parasol to shoes and the undergarments as well.

Most of them who have children can tell you of the latest styles for boys and girls. Those who do fancy work are enthusiastic over the new suggestions and designs. Those who do not fancy work, but who perforce must do more or less of it, are happy in their knowledge of simpler, better and more economical ways of making their own spring apparel, with the assurance that all likelihood of mistakes is reduced to a minimum. There are also many who would give the average dry goods man a few valuable pointers on the fabrics that are to be worn this season.

WHY?

One might well ask: Why this suddenly acquired knowledge? What storehouse or what fountain of information have they delved into or bathed in? But the answer is not far to seek. Here it is:
