MILWAUKEE LINE FOR BILLINGS

OFFICER OF NEW LINE SAYS THE AIM IS TO GET A FAIR SHARE OF BUSINESS.

Billings, Jan. 28.—That the Milwaukee will build a line into and through the city of Billings and that this extension will be begun first of any of the projected branches from the main line after the latter is completed to the coast, is assured by an official of the St. Paul who was in this city yesterday. Just how the road will come into the city is not definitely known by the official, but he said three feasible routes had been considered. He said:

"The ultimate object of the Milwaukee company in building into Billings is to reach the Yellowstone National park. Its purpose, however, is of a three-fold nature—to secure a large portion of the freight business which is known to exist in this locality, to tap the Bear Creek coal fields, and to secure a share of the tourist travel to and from the park."

"As to a possible route into the place one is from Roundup, across country, a distance of about 50 miles; the second is from Forsyth, up the Yellowstone river, and the third would be a continuation of the main line from Rapid City, S. D., through the Black Hills, across the corner of Wyoming and thence into southern Montana. If the last-mentioned route is followed it is my opinion that Billings will be made the principal division point for the road in this part of Montana, and that the shops will be located here. This would mean that Billings would be on the main line, and I believe that this is the line that will be projected into the city."

"According to my information there are two divisions of the road that will be taken up immediately following the completion of the main line to the coast. One of them is the road into Billings and the other is the branch to Spokane."

"The coast extension will be finished in less than three months, as all that remains undone is the connecting link between Garrison and Missoula. This distance is approximately 70 miles, and had not inclement weather interfered with the work it would have been finished by April 1. I am satisfied that the entire line will be completed and that trains will be running to the coast by July 1."

RAILROAD WILL TUNNEL THROUGH A CEMETERY

Spokane, Jan. 28.—Following the decree of the court allowing the Greenwood Cemetery association $25,000 in payment for a right-of-way for the Great Northern over and under a part of the cemetery ground, the money was promptly paid over and already some of the right-of-way has been cleared.

The Jewish cemetery association also was paid $5,000 for a right-of-way across its property, a corner of which was needed by the railroad. Before the Great Northern started condemnation against the Greenwood Cemetery association it had offered $15,000 for the land it needed. The directors of the cemetery held out for $35,000, and the court decree was a fair compromise. Little damage is done to the cemetery for the reason that most of the right-of-way will run through a tunnel, and because it touches a part of the cemetery where there have been no burials. The tunnel is approached by a cut from both directions, coming out on the north at the west end of the Great Northern bridge across the Spokane river, where it makes connections with the Great Northern tracks.

MILWAUKEE TO BREAK WITH UNION PACIFIC

As a result of the building of its Pacific coast extension, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, it is said, will sever preferential tariff relations with the Union Pacific, established about six years ago, after the St. Paul rebuilt its Chicago-Omaha line and completed sharply for Pacific coast trade. At that time the Chicago & Northwestern also had what traffic men call a "preferential agreement" with the Union Pacific, whereby the latter should work for and favor above all others the Northwestern as its eastern connection. This is in writing and it bound the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific men to work for the Northwestern. In other words, in getting business for the agents of the Union Pacific, they always tried to route it over the Northwestern, and the Northwestern did the same for the Union Pacific.

JURY CANNOT AGREE IN HENDRICKS CASE

Anacosta, Jan. 28.—The jury in the case of former Justice of the Peace M. B. Hendricks, charged with grand larceny, was unable to reach a verdict and was this afternoon discharged. Hendricks was charged with grand larceny in connection with the affairs of the estate of I. Gibbs, and because of the prominence of the parties concerned, the case has attracted much attention. Hendricks was arrested in Tacoma, where he has engaged in business, and brought back to Montana for trial.

TRIAL OF JOHNSON BEGINS AT ANACONDA

Anacosta, Jan. 28.—The trial of the case of George Johnson, formerly deputy treasurer and one of the most respected citizens of this city, on the charge of embezzling sums aggregating $10,000 from the county, began here today. Johnson's alleged pecuniations covered a period of many years, he having served as deputy through several administrations and his arrest caused a sensation.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR MATRIMONY.

"Successful business girls and women," says Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson, of the Woman's Home Companion for February, "are to well off financially to want to marry. The girl who earns $12, $15 or $20 a week sets for herself a standard of living, dress and small luxuries which would require a husband earning $25, $30 and $50 respectively. She regards as necessities what her mother considers luxuries. If a man who is earning only as much as the girl or a few dollars more a week asks her to marry him, she knows that the girl must either deprive herself of some things she has grown to regard as necessities or she must continue to work. And there is many a home-hungry young man today too proud to allow his wife to work. Through agitation and her own honest effort at desk, counter and loom, woman is rapidly nearing the goal of equality in work and wages with men. Her services are worth today as much as those of the man who might marry her—if her services were worth less."

TWO ARE SENTENCED.

Special to The Daily Missoulian. Helena, Jan. 28.—Judge Hunt this morning sentenced George Zubach, a resident of Armington, Mont., to 90 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $1. He also fined J. L. Wilson, a prominent stockman of Custer county, $400. Zubach pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury in a homestead proof, and Wilson pleaded guilty to unlawfully enclosing the public domain.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 28.—A special to the Times from Globe, Ariz., says that at a special meeting of the Globe Miners' union today the resignation of Walking Delegate Willis was accepted by a two-thirds vote. Willis was the union official to whom mine operators objected and was responsible for the recent shutdown. The Old Dominion Copper company announces resumption of business.

CHEYENNE PREPARES PREPARE THE BEST FOR CONVENTION HOME REMEDY

ELABORATE ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE FOR THE DRY FARMING CONGRESS. SIMPLE RECIPE FOR RHEUMATISM AND KIDNEY TROUBLES. KOREAN EMPEROR'S AID AT TACKS SECRETARY IN A FIT OF ANGER.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 28.—Elaborate arrangements have been made to entertain delegates and visitors to the third transmissouri dry farming congress which meets in Cheyenne next month. The entertainment and accommodation committees of the Industrial club have the work well in hand. Automobiles and carriages will meet every train and a citizens' committee of 50 wearing white caps will escort the delegates upon arrival to the Industrial club, where, after registering, they will be driven to hotels or private homes. A special committee is at work canvassing the city to secure rooms for the city's guests. Governor Brooks, Mayor Cook and other prominent people will throw open their homes to the delegates. As a result of what is believed to be the disposition of National Forest Commissioner Pinchot to disapprove of dry farming, efforts are being made to have the members of the country life commission appointed by President Roosevelt attend the transmissouri dry farming congress. Other prominent men who will attend the congress are the following: experts from the department of agriculture; Professor E. C. Chittcott, dry land agricultural investigator; Professor W. M. Jardine, dry land agricultural agronomist; Dr. Karl Kofflerman, soil bacteriologist; Dr. L. J. Briggs, director of the physical laboratory; P. H. Schwartz of the general land office will also attend.

The following prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles has no doubt been used millions of times, viz: Fluid Extract Sassafras, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at little cost and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal, and at bedtime, drinking a full tumblerful of water after each dose. It is stated that this prescription is a positive remedy for kidney trouble and lame back, weak bladder and urinary difficulties, especially of the elderly people, and one of the best things to be used in rheumatic affections, relieving the aches and pains and reducing swellings. A well-known authority states that this mixture acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys; cleanses these spongylike organs and gives them power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood which is the cause of rheumatism. If your back or sides ache and you suspect kidney trouble it would be wise to try this for a few days.

RACE TRACK PROMOTERS PROTEST AGAINST BILL

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 28.—The Walker-Otis anti-race track bill, as passed by the assembly, was the subject of discussion tonight by the senate committee on public morals. Thomas H. Williams, Jr., president of the new California Jockey club, and several others representing the interests of that track, as well as the Santa Anita Racing association, were heard at length in arguments protesting against the passage of the bill unless amended to permit bookmaking for limited meetings, not to exceed 30 days in a year in any county. It is expected that the bill will come up for action early tomorrow by the senate. The bill to which the racing men object, according to the leaders in both houses of the legislature, meets with the approval of a large majority of the state senators. It makes bookmaking a felony. Governor Gillett has declared on several occasions that he would sign any anti-race track bill passed by the legislature.

THE POULTRY YARD.

Anybody can keep hens, but nobody can have hens keep him. Throw the house wide open for an hour or so on pleasant days, and give a thorough airing. It will be many weeks before the hen with the frozen comb will do anything toward filling the egg basket. Too much pure air in the quarters is almost impossible. Give plenty of ventilation, avoiding direct drafts. Mix a tablespoonful of charcoal with a quart of mash, every other day during this month. It will have a wonderful tonic effect. A cold, uncomfortable hen will not lay. The expert poultryman knows that, and accordingly he feeds well and makes his fowls work. Green stuff is a scarce article these days. Steamed clover and leaves are a good substitute. The clover contains lime and other elements that increase egg production. Do not allow the fowls outdoors unless the runs are clear of snow. Poultry that are compelled to eat snow to quench their thirst are apt to suffer from bowel disorder. February is the beginning of the duck-laying season, but not before the latter end of the month. Young ducklings, well reared are laying now, but there is not much profit in their eggs, as they are not suitable for hatching. Heat is needed in the poultry house only when ventilation is so bad that the air would be almost moist without the heat to compel the air to absorb it. But it is more reasonable properly to ventilate the poultry house and keep it dry in that way. If there is any bad weather coming to us, it generally makes it appear during February. The wise poultryman is one who has already prepared for that emergency, and his laying eggs in large quantities. The best way to warm poultry is by giving them something to do. So keep plenty of litter on the floor and scatter grain in it. Make it a rule to leave the laying hens to themselves during the forepart of the day. That is their busy time, and they do not like to be disturbed then. In charging an incubator with eggs they should all be of uniform size and color. The brown shells are thicker than the white shells, and therefore demand different treatment. Moisture or ventilation sufficient for the one class would not do for the other. This is the cause of many failures. Hen mites can be killed in winter as well as in the summer. If the hens be removed to other quarters, the mites; but it must be kept up for several days in succession. Put cobwebs, chips, etc., with a little sulphur, into a large kettle and set it on stones in the center of the pen. Keep it supplied and keep watch over it.—From February Farm Journal.

THREE IN THREE THOUSAND.

In the February Woman's Home Companion Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson shows conclusively that successful working girls do not marry. Her conclusion has been reached after 15 years of intimate contact with working women, and after a careful analysis of conditions. One investigation was in a department store employing 3,000 girls. Mrs. Richardson asked the welfare secretary at the store how many girls had resigned to marry the past year. She hit her pencil and thought a few moments. "Three," she announced finally. "Three girls out of 3,000 married in a year! That store is no haunt for Cupid, evidently!" "Well, what in the world do your girls do?" I demanded. "Do? Why, we have the smartest girls in the country in this store. Do? Why, didn't you hear about Miss Blank being made buyer for the underwear when Mr. Jones died? And you know Miss Smith is now the head of the store in Pittsburg. She is getting $500 more a year out there. You remember that girl with the gray eyes who used to help me—Miss G.—well, she has taken a course in philanthropy and is now charity investigator. The welfare secretary was waxing truly enthusiastic. "You see, our girls do things." "Everything except marry. Why don't they marry?" "Because they don't want to," snapped the secretary. "Any man would be glad to get one of them, of course."
