CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN

PEOPLE YOU KNOW AND SOME OF THE THINGS THEY SAY AND DO.

Last of the Bitter Root delegation to reach the west side from Helena, Colonel Crutchfield arrived last night from across the range, and will spend today with his brother here, leaving tonight for his home in Hamilton. Upon his arrival the colonel was greeted by local friends, who congratulated him upon the splendid fight which he waged against senate bill 18. Colonel Crutchfield was gratified by the expressions of approval, and said that the contest against this bill was his only active participation in the legislation this year, but he took that up because he felt that the bill in its original form was unjust and iniquitous. "I am gratified over the outcome," said he, "I believe that the amendments have made the bill safe and that it will prove a benefit now. Missoula should be pleased to see the presentation of the case against the bill which was made by Frank Woody. He was master of the situation. The Ravalli county people appreciate what he did for them. You are familiar with the details of the controversy and all that it is necessary for me to say is that I am satisfied with the result and that I believe that the action of the legislature in this matter prevented a great wrong from being done to the state."

Another returning Bitter Rooter in town yesterday was Luke D. Hatch of Stevensville. He spent the day in Missoula waiting for the train to take him up the valley, and while he was here he had the liveliest sort of a time answering the salutations that were hurled at him, and in the renewal of his old acquaintances here. Luke has seen more fights than any other man in the Bitter Root. He began his fighting when he was a boy in the civil war, and he continued it in the west when the war was over; he has fought through innumerable campaigns in politics since there were no Indians to fight, and he went over to Helena with his friends and neighbors to help in the contest against senate bill 18. He was interested in the fight, and yesterday he said it was one of the best scraps that he ever saw. "It looked like a losing game when we went over to Helena," he said, "but Colonel Crutchfield lined up his forces in great shape and had some good advisers and assistants. Before it was realized what was going on, the colonel and Frank Woody and old man Whaley were straightening out the mess, and in spite of the strength of the forces against them, they carried the battle through to a successful finish. It was the prettiest fight I have seen in a long time, and I am glad I was in it. It was going on every minute of the day and into the night, and it never did stop till the last minute."

Alderman McCormick is also back from Helena, where he was called to participate in the contest against senate bill 18. The large holdings of the McCormick estate in the valley gave the alderman for the Second ward a lively interest in the fight, and he shared the general satisfaction over the outcome of the vigorous campaign. But when he reached home his joy was changed to sorrow and his gladness to mourning. His heart, which had beaten high in the ecstasy of victory, was cast down into the depths of disappointment. There was no happiness for him. And the cause of the aforesaid transformation lay in the fact that the guinea fowls had died and their obsequies had been held by the members of the alderman's family while he was in Helena. It was a sorrowful occasion when the alderman reached home; it was with considerable hesitation that the family broke the news to him, as they all realized how dear the guinea were to his heart. Had he made a trip to Deer Lodge to get them? Had he not chased them 14 miles in the hot sun when they forsook their bed and board? Had he not nursed them through sickness? Had he not welcomed the arrival of their offspring? Had he not shared in their sorrows when some unprincipled son of Belial invaded the sacred precincts of the Second ward and stole some of the herebefore mentioned offspring? What wonder was it that he was cast down when he heard the news? For did he not know that there would have to be other guinea obtained and that he would have to go through the whole experience again? That was enough to make anybody feel sad. But the boys up at the sisters' school are elated; they can see ahead another half holiday when they will be turned loose again to help Donald chase the guinea fowls, and that is good sport for them. So they do not share the overwhelming grief that afflicts the McCormick family.

Perhaps a drill is for drilling, but drills do not always drill, just the same. Consequently there was good news in DRILL IS DRILLING. A letter which came to Frank Thomas yesterday from John Scott, who is down at the Kennedy creek coal fields, directing the operations of the big core drill which is exploring the coal measures. Mr. Scott writes that the drill is working perfectly and that it is giving fine promise of great success in its revelations of what lies beneath the surface. Mr. Scott is more confident than ever that there is going to be a big coal mine on Kennedy creek, and he is pushing the exploration work as fast as the excellent equipment will do the work. The drill is going down at a good rate, and it will be sent down as far as it is found to be necessary.

BONDS FOR SCHOOL BEFORE PEOPLE

TRUSTEES OF DISTRICT NO. 1 VOTE TO SUBMIT $40,000 ISSUE TO ELECTORS.

Agitation that has extended over several months and a need that has been felt for a year or more were shaped into concrete form last evening, when the trustees of school district No. 1 voted unanimously to put the building of a new school for the west side before the people of Missoula at the coming spring election on April 3. The trustees voted last night to present to the voters the question of issuing $40,000 in bonds to build the proposed school, the need of which is admitted most enthusiastically by the residents of the north and west sides. The school population has outgrown the schools of the city and a new building is now an urgent requirement. Not only has it been impossible for all of the pupils to be accommodated in the buildings now in use, but also has it been necessary for many of the school children of the city to walk long distances each day for their earlier education.

In Good Shape. That the issuing of the proposed bonds will have no effect on the school tax of the city was asserted last evening by members of the board. The school fund is now in excellent condition and the increase in valuation in properties in the district will serve to keep the tax rate down to its present figure. Within the past 12 months $17,990 in refunding bonds have been retired, and only $5,000 remain to be cleared up between now and 1913, when $10,000 go. The entire indebtedness of the district is only $66,000, and with the increased valuation of properties, the $40,000 worth of bonds can be issued and still allow the district to remain well within the limit of its legal indebtedness. After 1914 the sum of $45,000 to be liquidated, this being the cost of the Roosevelt school. In 1913 $10,000 worth of bonds, the cost of enlarging the Central school, is to be met, and paid in the sum of $5,000 fall due in 1910.

Despite the fact that the county's resources have been greatly taxed during the past year by floods and new buildings, the issue of bonds which was floated at the time of the building of the county jail was paid by the treasurer on the first of the month. This was the first issue which has been paid by the county in the last 10 years. The issue was for $13,000 and was floated March 1, 1889, when the jail was built, for a term limit of 20 years, at 7 per cent interest.

County Assessor Kroone was busy all day yesterday finishing up the work on the new field books and preparing for the beginning of the work on the city property tomorrow. The work will be much easier this year than before owing to the fact that the new field books, which are the work of Mr. Kroone, are much simpler than the old, and will make radical changes in the system. Under the new system a book is made for each district, in which a map of all the lots and a diagram of the property in the different blocks are placed on one page and an exact description of the property on the opposite page, with the names of the owners and the assessed value. These will be placed in the hands of the deputies tomorrow. Mr. Kroone has named six of his assistants and will decide upon the seventh today. Those whom he has named up to date are E. E. McAboy and Henry Warden, who will have charge of the business district; A. W. Dixon, who will work on the north side; J. P. Boyd, who will have the west side; W. R. Hamilton, on the east side, and Chas. McCauley, south side.

The funeral services over the remains of Harry H. Parsons, Jr., will be held at the residence on South Fifth street east at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Walter Lennie-Smith will officiate and interment will be in the Missoula Valley cemetery.

The crew of men on the construction of the new Higgins avenue bridge is making fast headway. Bases for seven of the piers have been completed and when the other bases are ready, the work on the piers proper will be started. Thomas A. White is in charge of the work and is going on steadily under the supervision of Chief Engineer B. W. Sweet. An eight-inch pump, connected with a 20-horsepower motor, will be installed next week and will be used to throw the water from around the excavation for the piers. Dr. Waddell, of the firm of Waddell & Harrington of Kansas City, is expected to arrive in the city soon and look over the work that has been done. A. W. Burrell, of the Burrell Bridge & Construction company of Spokane, is also expected to be in Missoula within the next few days.

Yesterday Mrs. Pearl T. Marshall, chairman of the county examining certificates had been granted to the following candidates at the examination recently held here: First grade, Edward Akin; second grade, Edith Fisher and Henry Clemens; third grade, Merina B. Allen, Frances Bieri, Berna Burr, Mayme Dwyer and Esther Cain.

Thomas L. Greenough has as his guest his partner, Thomas Wren, who is spending a few days in the city. Mr. Wren is well known here and is renewing his former acquaintances.

To those who contemplate joining the Fraternal Order of Eagles, there will be an initiation of 50 members or more on the third Tuesday in April. W. S. HORD, Secretary.

Notice. N. G. Tevis and C. A. Crawshaw have purchased an interest in the firm of Henley & Eigeman and the style of the firm will hereafter be HENLEY, EIGEMAN & CO.

Notice. The funeral of Richard Westby, who died at St. Patrick's hospital Friday evening, will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Episcopal church, Rev. Walter Lennie-Smith officiating. Burial will be in the Missoula Valley cemetery.

The Women of Woodcraft will give a card party in I. O. O. F. Hall annex March 10.

CLUB WOMEN ELECT NEW MEMBERS

ORGANIZATION BALLOTS ON NAMES—INTERESTING PROGRAM IS ENJOYED.

The only business transacted at the meeting of the Woman's club yesterday afternoon was the balloting on names for new members, a number being admitted. A committee consisting of Miss Mary Stewart, Mrs. C. H. McComb and Mrs. T. B. Thompson was appointed to select a club flower.

The program for the afternoon was under the charge of the Current Topics and Shakespeare department, with Mrs. E. L. P. Ector in the chair. A vocal duet entitled "Future Thoughts" by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Perry, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. C. Orr was splendidly rendered.

Act I, scene 2 from the "Merchant of Venice" was very cleverly presented by Ray Dismore, the young man's delivery being exceptionally fine.

A piano solo, "Fantasia," from Mendelssohn, was rendered in a very acceptable manner by Mrs. N. S. Little and was thoroughly enjoyed.

The halcyon scene from "Romeo and Juliet" with Miss Susie Bandman taking the part of Romeo and Miss Agatha Lynch as Juliet, was one of the enjoyable numbers on the program, the young people acquitting themselves with a great deal of credit.

A quartette composed of Mrs. T. H. Dunstan, Mrs. J. E. Gannon, Mrs. George McAllister and Mrs. Bertha Thurston, rendered "A Morning Song" in a very fine manner. At the close of the program delicious refreshments were served.

The music department will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. P. M. Reilly in the Hammond block.

The art department will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Miss Eloise Knowles in the art room of the university.

The literature department will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. T. A. Wickes on University avenue. The subject for discussion will be J. G. Holland.

The entertainment committee of the Woman's club building fund has decided to give a dance on Easter Monday, April 12, at Elite hall. Tickets can be secured from any of the members of the club and also at several of the business houses in the city.

G. O. Shields, who lectured at the university of Montana Friday evening, left yesterday morning for Great Falls, where he finds his next engagement. Mr. Shields is in many ways a remarkable man. He has visited the west at frequent intervals for the past 30 years and has seen this country rise from a semi-savage state to its present state of prosperity and civilization. "I came to Missoula for the first time in 1833, or just about 26 years ago," said Mr. Shields yesterday. "I don't suppose that there were a thousand inhabitants here at that time, there was nothing to the town excepting a collection of wooden buildings huddled around the depot, which, I understand, is now the Northern Pacific's freighthouse here. I have visited Missoula five or six times since then and have always been glad to note the city's progress."

About the only thing that figured in the weather yesterday was the sunshine. There was a light frost during the night, but the entire day was more like early summer than winter. The official observations:

Bonds for Sale. Masonic temple 20-year 6 per cent first mortgage bonds, in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 each, to the amount of $85,000 with interest payable semi-annually. These bonds are secured by a deed of trust, placed with the Western Montana National bank, as trustee, covering the property on East Cedar street, together with all improvements to be made thereon, which, when completed, will have a total value of $100,000. The various Masonic bodies have placed into this enterprise the cash value of $15,000 and $17,000 in cash, part of which has been used for excavation and foundation.

Further information can be obtained from the Western Montana National bank, Missoula, Mont. F. H. KNISLEY, Secretary.

PAUL GILROY IS DEAD OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

IN THE POLICE COURT.

In the court of Justice of the Peace Harry Small yesterday afternoon Myrtle Littlejohn and Jessie Warwick were tried on a charge of petty larceny. The case against the first named was dismissed, but the latter was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and to serve 30 days in the county jail. Dan Reardon, who was arrested Friday evening by Chief of Police Smith, was tried on the charge of robbery, it being alleged that he stole $100 from A. Morrison in the Club saloon on West Front street. After the completion of the hearing the justice took the case under advisement until Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Ray Gelles, colored, accused of running a "hop joint," was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs. She paid and was set free.

The funeral of Richard Westby, who died at St. Patrick's hospital Friday evening, will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Episcopal church, Rev. Walter Lennie-Smith officiating. Burial will be in the Missoula Valley cemetery.
