CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN

PEOPLE YOU KNOW AND SOME OF THE THINGS THEY SAY AND DO.

Certainly there is nobody who will dispute the statement that yesterday furnished genuine spring weather or will FOR SURE criticise a bit of enthusiastic comment upon the conditions which made Sunday the most delightful day of the year. It was the best ever, and everybody was eager to enjoy it to the full limit. If there was anybody left indoors, it was because he was a quarantine and feared the wrath of the health officer. Nothing else could have kept any live man or his wife indoors in such alluring sunshine as was poured over the Land of the Red Apple yesterday. The robins registered yesterday in several parts of the city; there were spring flowers gathered on all sides; there was warmth in the air and there was pleasure in being out in the midst of it. There was snow on the hills, but it failed to chill either the atmosphere or the enthusiasm of those who were out enjoying it. No matter which way you strolled, you met somebody who was enjoying the day just as much as you were; there were large audiences in the churches in the morning and in the afternoon everybody turned out to imbibe added joy in being out of doors. It was difficult to believe that it was not May. It was the real Red Apple weather; the kind the old-timers tell about. And we can stand a lot more of the same.

The warm weather had, at least, the effect of starting some action regarding the city election. Tonight there will be a meeting of the members of the republican city central committee to discuss the question of a citizens' movement against the plan of a party ticket. The meeting will be held in the office of E. C. Mulrooney, and no forecast is made as to the result of the discussion which will be had. A call has been made, too, for a meeting of the democratic city central committee Wednesday night at the offices of Hall & Patterson. It is stated that this meeting will be devoted to the consideration of the best means of getting a good business-like administration for the city this year. There is a division of opinion as to which plan is the better. There is undoubtedly a sentiment in both parties in favor of a citizens' movement, but, as some of the party leaders expressed it last night, "The time is getting short and there does not seem to be any definite movement towards putting a citizens' ticket into the field, and something has to be done." It does not follow that the party committee meetings will put a quietus on the citizens' movement. It may be that these meetings will result in quickening action along the other line. But there are to be two party committee meetings this week as a starter in the municipal campaign, so the election will not be entirely neglected. This is something.

POPULAR MISSOULA WOMAN DIES

MRS. EMMA HORD ANSWERS LAST CALL AFTER MANY YEARS OF ILLNESS.

Mrs. Emma Elizabeth Hord, one of the best known of Missoula's early settlers, died at her home, 201 East Front street, at 7:30 o'clock last night, of kidney trouble. She had been an invalid for several years, and a few days ago her malady took on the form of acute kidney disease, ending in death.

Mrs. Hord was born in Oldtown, Me., in 1840, and when 9 years old moved to Missouri. In 1860 she was married to Edward Hord, who died in 1875. Mrs. Hord remained a resident of Missouri until 1883, when she, with her children, moved to Missoula, where she has since made her home. The surviving children are: Harriett, William, Benson, all of Missoula, and Mrs. N. P. Woods of Stevensville.

Deceased was a woman whose winning personality made her one of the most popularly known of Missoula's residents. She was a staunch and steadfast Christian and a devoted mother. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, joining that denomination when 18 years of age. For many years she was closely identified with the religious work of the Methodist church in this city, but failing health in recent years limited the scope of her endeavors.

The funeral services will be held from the Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. W. Tait officiating. Burial will be in the Missoula Valley cemetery.

MISSOULA PEOPLE APPRECIATE CONCERT

A decided hit was the concert given yesterday afternoon by the members of the Missoula Eagle band on Higgins avenue near the Hammond block. The bandmen, under the leadership of J. K. Witzman, rendered a number of selections which brought forth applause from the audience which lined the sidewalks for blocks.

The program was the same as announced a few days ago. The band is showing vast improvement and is one for the residents of Missoula to support. The "Valse Bachanal," composed by the leader, J. K. Witzman, brought forth rounds of applause from the people, who seemed to appreciate its fine quality. At the conclusion of the selection a large bouquet of flowers was handed to Mr. Witzman. A box of cigars was presented to the members of the band by Kelly & Helmbach.

PREPARING FOR EXCURSION.

Oliver Harnois left yesterday on a trip up the Bitter Root valley. He will spend several days billing every town in the valley for the excursion to Missoula next Friday. The occasion is the performance of "A Stubborn Cinderella," to be given at the new Harnois theater on Friday night.

Editor Elected.

The sophomore class has elected an editor and business manager of next year's annual. DeWitt C. Warren was elected editor and M. S. Bullerlick was the successful candidate for business manager. Other members of the staff will be appointed by the two elective officers.

Annual Debate.

Robert C. Line, M. S. Bullerlick and DeWitt C. Warren have been selected to represent the university in the annual debate with the Washington State college. The debate will be held in Missoula the latter part of April.

Johnny Frane of California and Bert Keyes will fight in Brooklyn, March 15.

STATE UNIVERSITY DOINGS

STUDENTS WILL PUBLISH WEEKLY PAPER—PLAY PLEASURES—OTHER NEWS.

It is almost a certainty that the students of the university will begin the publication of a weekly college newspaper this spring. A stock association was formed a few weeks ago, which drew up a constitution and by-laws for the control of the paper. This was accepted by the faculty with a few amendments, and the association has in turn accepted the changes asked by the faculty.

Students and faculty may become stockholders in the "Press club," the name by which the association is known. A board of seven directors is to be elected by the stockholders. The editor and business manager will be elected by the directors, subject to the approval by the president of the university, for a period of one semester.

The newspaper will probably be known as the "Weekly Kalmin," and will, in a large measure, take over the news features of the monthly magazine. If successful it is probable that the Monthly Kalmin will be merged with the new publication next year.

The Kalmin is one of the old established institutions of the university. The editor has always been chosen each year by the faculty, and other members of the staff appointed by the editor. The faculty has approved the plan of having the editor and business manager elected by a student board since the administration is desirous of placing the initiative in the hands of the students as far as is feasible.

It is hoped to have the new publication started soon, as the student promoters wish to give their journalistic venture a fair trial this spring.

Play Successful.

"The Jack Trust" was played Saturday evening in Convocation hall by the members of the dramatic society. The students had learned their lines well, and the acting was good for amateurs. The characters of the play were taken by Misses Laura Johnson, Ethel Marcum, Frances Foster, Roberta Satterthwaite, Florence Leach and Robert C. Line.

The dramatic society puts on a play about every six weeks, and the members of the organization are deriving much benefit from their amateur acting.

Students' Carnival.

The executive committee of the Associated Students have decided to give another May carnival this year, the date being about the first of May. The carnival given last year was so successful that the event has been placed among the annual affairs of the students. Miss Mary Stewart, Fred Greenwood and J. B. Speer have been appointed the executive committee of the carnival, and plans are already well along towards making the affair the best event of the spring functions.

ADDRESSES SOCIALISTS.

Ida Crouch-Hazlett, editor of the Montana News, the state organ of the socialist party, published at Helena, was the central figure in a meeting of the socialists of Missoula, held last evening at Fremont's hall. She was the speaker of the evening and devoted her talk to the principles of the party. A fair sized audience listened to the address.
