

MONRO TRIAL BEGINS BEFORE SMALL

CASE OF GREEK CHARGED WITH EXTORTION IS STARTED IN JUSTICE COURT.

A large and interesting crowd of Greeks was present yesterday afternoon in the court room of Justice of the Peace Small to attend the hearing of Nick Monro, the Greek leader, who is charged with having demanded $50 from a dozen of his countrymen in order that they be able to hold their jobs with the Northern Pacific railway.

The complaint was filed against Monro on March 19 last, and the trial was set for yesterday. J. L. Wallace was the attorney for the defense, while the interests of the state were looked after by County Attorney Mulrony, assisted by Charles Hall. At the outset a number of objections were made by Mr. Wallace in his endeavor to prevent the case coming to trial, but they were overruled by Justice Small.

This trial promises to be a long drawn-out affair, judging from the slow progress made yesterday. The state will examine five witnesses, while it is thought that nearly 20 will testify in favor of the defendant. One witness, George Puntas, was in the chair from the beginning of the trial yesterday afternoon until 5:30 in the evening, with a chance that about an hour will be consumed in getting the rest of his testimony when the case is resumed this morning at 9 o'clock. An interpreter was used yesterday, and that, of course, made progress, much slower.

Before Justice Small.

At the end of the preliminary hearing of Silvin Grey, colored, accused of robbery, which was yesterday continued from last Saturday, Justice of the Peace Small decided that the evidence was insufficient to hold the woman to the district court, and she was therefore discharged. She was charged with having "touched" a man for $70 one day last week.

An Indigestion Remedy Free

Many people who are otherwise healthy suffer from indigestion, or dyspepsia. When you consider that the stomach and allied digestive organs are the most important organs of the body, it would seem that a disorder there is to be taken very seriously. Dyspepsia cannot eat the things they like, and soon the day begins with chronic constipation begins, or, in other cases, you have been constipated all along and the stools are forced and irregular. But there is no use letting indigestion go until it becomes chronic and undermines your health. It is good advice to suggest to you that you go to your drug-gist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the wonderful cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. That is what C. Fowler, of Carson City, Michigan is well today. Others who did the same and are cured are Ida A. Fortune, of Grand Junction, Minn.; B. E. Thompson, of Shenandoah, Ia., who actually considers that it saved his life. You can obtain a 50-cent or $1 bottle of the drug, and, taken according to directions, it will probably be all you need. It is a liquid, acts gently, and besides the laxative effect, contains exceptional tonic properties which tone the stomach, and that is what is especially needed in indigestion. All sufferers from indigestion who have never used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can obtain a free test bottle by writing the doctor. It will be sent direct to your home without any charge. In this way thousands have proven to their own satisfaction Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the very remedy they needed to cure indigestion. When once you use this grand remedy you will throw violent cathartics, tablets, salts, etc., away.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.

New York, April 6.—Announcement was made here today of the purchase by the Cleveland Automobile company of Indianapolis of the Pope-Toledo automobile manufacturing plant at Toledo.

FIGURES WHICH TELL IMPRESSIVE TALE

IMMENSITY OF TUNNEL WORK IS SHOWN BY INTERESTING STATISTICS.

As announced in The Missoulian Monday morning, the town of Taft is practically a thing of the past. The electric light service from the tunnel power plant has been discontinued, the Northern Pacific has withdrawn all of its station force except the man who attends to the mail for the present, and there are but two stores, two saloons and a restaurant left of the once bustling, bustling town in the mountains. The presence of the first Milwaukee train has afforded some excitement. Now that has been there for three days, the novelty has worn off, and the few people who remain are devoting their attention to the business of closing up and getting away.

There are some men left in the tunnel clearing up the big bore of the line of slide and debris left by the drillers. This work will require two or three weeks, according to the estimate of those in charge. The Northern Pacific, as already stated, has discontinued its freight service at Taft, but there are supplies enough in stock to last until the men now employed are through with their work.

Thomas E. Kurtz, who has been storekeeper for the Winston company ever since the company took up the construction of the tunnel, is closing up his business and will soon be ready to leave. In his capacity as storekeeper and purchasing agent, Mr. Kurtz has handled an immense volume of business during the two years that the tunnel was building. As is generally known, there were two tunnel camps, one on this side of the divide and one on the west slope. The supplies for both sides were handled from this end and were freighted over the mountain.

Some idea of the amount of business involved in handling the supplies for the tunnel work can be formed from the statement that the freighters hauled from Taft over the divide into Idaho 25,000 four-horse loads of material. This represents 3,322 carloads of merchandise. And this is but the stuff that was used on the west side; it was probably about one-third of the entire amount purchased and handled on the entire work.

During the first year 9,000,000 pounds of coal were used at the power house and elsewhere in the construction. The figures for the second year, now completed, have not been entirely completed, but they will exceed the 9,000,000 mark of the first year by a little. These are but a couple of items; they are given as illustrative of the immensity of the undertaking. Everything else about the work was on the same scale and the job was carried through with a rush and a degree of accuracy never before attained on an undertaking of this extent. The whole record is one of great figures. The average man has little conception of the vastness of the undertaking until he sees some of these items from the account.

ROBERT SOARE DEAD AT HOT SPRINGS

NORTHERN PACIFIC ENGINEER PASSES AWAY AFTER A LONG ILLNESS.

Charles Schrage yesterday received news of the death of Robert Soare, which occurred last week at Hot Springs. Burial was last Saturday in the Episcopal cemetery at Hot Springs, in accordance with the wish of the members of the family.

Robert Soare was an engineer on the Northern Pacific and had been in Missoula for three years. He was 38 years old. Before coming to Missoula he had been employed on the logging road of the Big Blackfoot company. He was a favorite with his friends, and the news of his death will be received by them with sincere regret. For some months Mr. Soare had been sick, and on March 24 he left here for Hot Springs in the hope that the climate and the treatment there would benefit him. The trip was taken too late, however, and down there he breathed his last. Acute rheumatism was the cause of death. Mr. Soare was a brother of H. L. Soare, formerly of Bonner and now manager of the Hope Lumber company at Hope. He had no other relatives in this part of the country.

CITIZENS CO-OPERATE WITH CITY

PROPERTY OWNERS ON UNIVERSITY AVENUE PLAN TO HELP CITY ENGINEER.

When it was ordered by the city council that University avenue should be set apart into an improvement district the property holders determined to organize themselves into an association for the purpose of co-operating with the city engineer in carrying out the improvements as provided in the ordinance in the best manner possible. To this end a meeting was called Monday night and adopted a constitution and elected officers and an executive committee. The following are those elected to direct the management of the association: President, C. L. F. Kellogg; vice president, Professor J. P. Rowe; secretary and treasurer, E. A. Newlin; executive committee, Messrs. Kellogg, Craig, Shibley, Marlowe and Wickes.

While the attendance was not large, the interest was all that could be asked for. Those having homes on the avenue feel a pride in the creation of a street that will be an honor to the city and a pleasure to those living upon it. They hope to make it a fitting entrance to what will be in the near future one of the most beautiful university grounds in the west.

City Engineer Mayo, who will build a home on this avenue, purposes in carrying out the plans of improvement to set the pace for the city and set before the citizens a practical example of what we should aim to have everywhere in our community, and especially so in the avenues that are new and just ready for permanent improvements. Mr. Mayo will have a committee of representative property holders with whom he may hold counsel in regard to kind of trees and ways of parking and anything else that will tend to carry out the wishes of all living upon the avenue. This meeting marks an epoch in the development of beautiful Missoula.

BIG IRRIGATIONIST IS COMING

SECRETARY HOOKER OF THE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION WILL BE HERE TOMORROW.

Arthur W. Hooker, secretary of the National Irrigation congress, will reach Missoula Thursday afternoon on No. 3. Mr. Hooker has written to the chamber of commerce that he wishes to meet the people of Missoula and to talk over with them the plans of his organization with special reference to the annual meeting at Spokane this year.

At a special meeting of the executive committee of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon, it was decided that President Harrington and Secretary Ebert of the chamber should meet Mr. Hooker upon his arrival and tender him the services of any or all of the members during his stay here. Arrangements were also made for a public meeting Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the rooms of the Missoula club, where Mr. Hooker will address those who attend and explain in detail what he expects of Missoula in the matter of co-operation in the meeting at Spokane.

Missoula has an active interest in the plans of the irrigation congress, and there is no doubt that there will be a good attendance at the Thursday night meeting. The irrigation congress has done a great work in the development of the west and in the campaign of education relative to the plan of reclamation. It has been a thoroughly practical body and has added greatly to the effectiveness of the campaign in behalf of the reclamation work.

CLUB'S EASTER BALL WILL BE GREAT

PLANS FOR THE EVENT PLACE IT HIGH IN THE LIST OF ATTRACTIONS.

An Easter ball that will be an Easter ball is the plan of the members of the committee of the Woman's club that is at work upon the arrangements for the first of the entertainments which the club has planned for the benefit of its building fund. The affair will be held Easter Monday in Elite hall. That is about the only detail which the women managers will give out; they promise, however, that the ball will be of the most striking entertainment of its kind ever given in this city.

Enough is known, however, of the plans to warrant the statement that the announcements are not overdrawn and that the ball will be a notable society event. The members of the Missoula Woman's club are no better at keeping a secret than others of their sex, so some of the plans have leaked out. The decorations of the hall will be particularly fine; they will emphasize the Easter colors and will be artistic in their tints and hues and in their grouping. The music has received special attention from the committee and the arrangements for this part of the program have been made with great care. This was necessary on account of the special numbers on the dance program.

The dance program will be all that an Easter ball calls for. The attendance promises to be large; there will be dancers there that have not danced in many years, but they are interested in the cause and the club members have promised that their guests will all have a pleasant time. Tickets to the ball may be obtained of any of the members of the committee of which Mrs. Bandmann is chairman.
