

PRESS ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED

INVITATIONS EXTENDED TO NUMEROUS EDITORS TO GATHER AT SPOKANE.

Spokane, Wash., April 28.—Editors and publishers of 270 daily, weekly and class publications in eastern Washington and Oregon, northern and central Idaho, western Montana, southeastern British Columbia and points in Alberta have been invited by the Spokane press committee to meet in this city on May 8 to discuss plans for the formation of the Inland Empire Press association.

The purpose of the organization is to unite the press of the country to work for more substantial and greater development of all parts of the Inland Empire and to encourage the emigration of desirable settlers and influx of capital to assist in building up the country and develop its agricultural, industrial and commercial resources.

The Spokane press committee, composed of representatives of every journal published in Spokane, headed by N. W. Durham, editor of the Spokesman-Review, will entertain the visitors. Following the organization meeting in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce at 1 o'clock, the party will visit Recreation park, where the Spokane Indians and the Tacoma Tigers play in the regular league series for the northwest pennant. This will be followed by a seeing Spokane tour, and in the evening, beginning at 7 o'clock, there is to be a complimentary banquet in the Hall of the Deques.

"This organization will in no way interfere with the work of the state editorial associations," said Arthur Hooker, secretary of the Spokane press committee, "but is designed to be of more direct benefit to the various communities and the district as a whole than any other similar association possibly could be. We expect to have the co-operation of every editor in the country in this work, which is entirely in the interest of a greater Inland Empire."

FATHER RECOVERS HIS KIDNAPED GIRL

San Francisco, April 28.—The 7-year-old boy, James Cabanne III, who was smuggled out of St. Louis in a wicker basket and brought to this city by Broughton Brandenburg, his stepfather, who is being held by the police to await the action of the New York authorities in connection with a charge of grand larceny, was taken from the juvenile detention home today and given to his father, James Sheppard Cabanne of St. Louis, who arrived on a morning train.

Mrs. Cabanne expects to return home this evening and does not anticipate his departure will be delayed by habeas corpus proceedings, of which there had been some talk previous to his arrival here.

EXCITED WOMEN MAKE RAIDS UPON TRADING STAMP STORES

WOMEN RAIDING TRADING STAMP STORES.

St. Paul, Minn., April 28.—The hard battle won by the merchants of Minnesota in the state legislature which resulted in the passage of new anti-trading stamp legislation, was immediately followed by the assaults of hordes of angry women on the trading stamp stores in St. Paul. The women, holding thousands of stamps, could not be convinced that the stamps were not valueless and it was necessary to call out the police and place guards in charge of the stores for several days to prevent riots and the destruction of the premium stocks of the stores. The new legislation does not prohibit the use of stamps, but provides that no more shall be issued unless their value is plainly printed on their face, and their redemption at their stated value is provided for. Stamps showing a face value of $1 must be good for a dollar's worth of goods at the stores or the stores will be closed by the authorities. The stamp craze struck St. Paul five or six years ago, and gained a strong foothold. Merchants generally were forced to adopt them because of the action of principal dealers in making them one of their trade-getting devices. The stamp companies have reaped enormous profits because of the hundreds of thousands of stamps issued which fell into the hands of women who never completed their "books," and therefore never presented them for redemption. Under the system of the stamp companies, each stamp issued was paid for by a merchant before it reached the customer of his store. Unredeemed stamps were therefore clear profit to the companies. The new legislation will practically abolish the business.

management. Dr. Dickie will lead for an hour, Mayor Rose will follow for an hour, Dr. Dickie will have half an hour for rebuttal, and Mayor Rose will close with the same time for rebuttal. The seating arrangement will be the same as during the Milwaukee debate. The two speakers will pay the cost of the debate, each will be allotted 100 tickets, and the entire balance of the seating capacity of Orchestra hall will be turned over to the various Chicago business and commercial organizations, in proportion to their registered membership. At Milwaukee there were nearly 6,000 persons in attendance, and the Chicago debate promises to attract even greater attention. These debates have been compared to the historic debates on slavery between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas, inasmuch as they are between the accredited national representatives of the wet and dry of the entire country.

PROHIBITION ISSUES TO BE DEBATED

MAYOR ROSE OF MILWAUKEE AND PROFESSOR DICKIE TO ARGUE MATTER.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 28.—Details have been arranged for the second in the series of three great debates on the prohibition question between Mayor David S. Rose of this city, opposing prohibition, and Dr. Samuel Dickie of Albion college, the accredited representative of the national prohibition party. The debate will be held at Orchestra hall, Chicago, Friday night, April 29, and the interest that the Milwaukee debate aroused in every part of the country promises to be even greater on this occasion. The Milwaukee debate in March resulted in some sharp attacks on Milwaukee by the prohibition speaker, and as Mayor Rose is an ardent defender of the Milwaukee situation, it is probable that the fur will fly in earnest at the coming debate. The question will be the same as debated at Milwaukee, "Resolved that prohibition as applied to the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquors is right," but there will be a slight change in the speaking ar-

DEMAND REDUCTION ON SUGAR

CONSUMERS URGE PRESIDENT TO SEE THAT DUTY IS MADE LOWER THAN AT PRESENT.

New York, April 28.—Urging President Taft to loosen the tariff tentacles with which the sugar trust octopus squeezed from all American consumers over $100,000,000 last year, the customers of 200,000 small grocers throughout the land sent to the White House from this city today a final plea for a real reduction on this universal household necessity which congress has refused in the face of petitions from the people of every state in the Union. Through the committee of wholesale grocers, which has been formed here to assist in obtaining cheaper sugar for consumers through reduction of duties on raw and refined sugar, the heads and housewives of over 100,000 American families have recorded their support of this movement, which the official figures shown can result in an annual saving of $8 to every household in the land. Only the intervention of the president can today save the wage earners of the entire country from paying tribute at breakfast, dinner and supper to the powerful trust which has saddled sugar on the plain people with a burden of duty eight times that on diamonds, it is declared. Reminding the president that besides the little brown sugar growers of the Philippines there are 30,000,000 men, women and children on his home continent in the grasp of the sugar trust, this petition of the American consumers asks for a square deal in reducing the huge 80 per cent tariff, on the basis of which fully 2 cents is tacked to the price of each pound of this kitchen staple of which 2,284,791 tons were imported for consumption last year. In forwarding to Washington this mass of requests from their customers for cheaper sugar, the grocers declare that their interest in increased consumption is identical with that of the consumer, and cite the recorded statement of the independent refiners that they require no protection and favor the admission of both raw and refined sugar entirely free of duty. The fact that the sugar trust has recently sold for export large quantities of sugar at almost 2 cents a pound less than it was offered to American consumers is also called to the attention of President Taft as proof that the trust can refine sugar without protection much better than every housewife can afford to pay the tariff tax of fully 20 cents every time she fills her ten pound sugar jar. Included in the thousands of petitioners against this trust tax on their daily food, are hundreds of granges throughout the country who have hastened to register their protest over the counties of the village grocers in every section of the country. Ten millions of farmers today pay a 2 cent tax on every pound of sugar for their households, they point out, solely to give a bounty to less than 100,000 farmers who are engaged in raising sugar beets for the domestic market. Though this is the greatest fruit-growing country in the world, it is further asserted, the stunting of the canning and preserving industry through lack of cheap sugar today robs the farmers of what might be an enormous demand for their fruit. Just $142,732,347 could have been saved to the housekeepers of this country last year without the tariff tax which the sugar trust would perpetuate in the Aldrich bill, it is shown by figures taken from government statistics. That sugar, the daily necessity of the plain people, is now scheduled in a transparent job to continue at an 80 per cent tariff rate, while champagne is to be taxed only 56 per cent, automobiles 45 per cent, furs 35 per cent and paintings and statuary 20 per cent is declared by the consumers in their

FIRST STEPS TAKEN TOWARD WORK

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS AND ADVISORY COMMITTEE HOLD A MEETING.

Helena, April 28.—The state board of examiners, delegated by the legislature to have charge of the construction of the new wings to the capitol, for which a bond issue of $500,000 was authorized, met this afternoon with the members of the advisory committee, and the first actual steps toward their construction were taken. The state land board having purchased in behalf of the commonwealth the entire bond issue and made $50,000 available, the question of materials to be used, the plans and architect were considered at more or less length. It is understood that insofar as possible the general plan of the Kentucky capitol will be followed, this structure having made the greatest impression during the recent trip of the board members. It was also determined to make an inquiry into the advisability of a supply of marble in the Sweet Grass hills with a view to its utilization either for the main structure or for trimmings. Other matters of detail were discussed at greater or less length. Plans for plans and construction will soon be called for, it being evident that the board purposes as early actual construction as possible, in the hope that the building may be completed by the time the twelfth legislative assembly convenes in January, 1921.

PROPOSE TO REDUCE LUMBER PRODUCTION

Seattle, April 28.—Twenty-six of the leading lumber manufacturers of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, who control to a large extent the rail shipment of the products from this section to the east, met here today and attempted to reduce the production of lumber 40 per cent. The order to the mills will go out in two days, it is said. The drastic curtailment in production will be followed by other reductions in working crews. While the tariff is under discussion lumber dealers in the east refuse to buy lumber, it is said.

Some More Facts

About Hammond Addition

I

The environment of HAMMOND ADDITION is perfect for a home district. The eastern boundary of the addition is the state university campus, with its beautiful lawns, its fine trees and its pleasant drives and walks. The handsome building of the Missoula county high school is on the western line of the addition. The addition is sufficiently remote from railway and business to make it an admirable location. It would be difficult to find anywhere conditions more entirely satisfactory than those which exist here. This fact impresses itself upon any man who looks over the ground. He becomes homesick for a location here and he realizes that it is the ideal place for a home. The permanency of the surroundings, too, affords a security for the establishment of a home here. Time and money and effort expended here will not be rendered worthless by the invasion of commerce.

III

The improvements that have already been made in this addition are typical of what will be done as the district becomes more thoroughly settled. Gerald avenue, for instance, is as pleasant a residence street as can be found anywhere. Here the homes are embowered in shade and are surrounded by delightful grounds. The improvements that have been made here indicate what can be done anywhere in the addition. Conditions are perfect for landscape gardening. On University avenue has been organized an improvement district for the permanent and systematic improvement of the main thoroughfare of HAMMOND ADDITION and for rendering more attractive the approach to the state university. This work is to go ahead at once; it is the beginning of other plans in the same direction; others will follow until the addition is a magnificent garden spot.

II

And, as the addition is secure from unpleasant surroundings, so it is assured of satisfactory conditions within. The lots are not sold singly; two or three or four lots comprise your premises as well as those of your neighbor, and you are guarded against a crowded condition; the district will never become congested. More than that, there is a condition imposed upon buyers of these lots as to the minimum cost of the house that will be built; this insures attractive buildings and a district made up of handsome houses. These houses will always be surrounded by spacious grounds. There will be no crowding and there will be no unsightly buildings. Business blocks will never intrude here, and HAMMOND ADDITION will always be a pleasant home district. This makes for attractiveness to a degree that renders the addition particularly desirable as a place of residence.

IV

Another fact which will be convincing is that there are so many of your friends and acquaintances who have taken advantage of the opportunity which this sale affords and have secured for themselves locations in this addition. There are many new houses on the lots that have been purchased this spring and there are plans made for many more. Some of the most attractive homes in the state are to be found here already, and the close of the present season will find their number increased. We would like to have you look over the addition; we are satisfied that you will be convinced of the force of this list of facts and that this last one will be specially strong in its appeal to you. Look over the list of this spring's buyers and you will see what an excellent lot of neighbors you will have if you buy here and build a permanent home for yourself.
