SEEING THINGS

Don't be short-sighted, you'll see the electric line and several stream lines in less than two years.
39 ACRES rich land within 2 1/2 miles of Missoula—covered with perpetual water right; absolutely the finest fruit soil in Missoula valley. There are now between 250 and 500 young fruit trees; nearly all the Red McIntosh varieties and plenty of room for 4,000 more.
LISTEN! While these trees are growing you can easily take off $200 to $300 worth of potatoes per acre; an annual net profit of $9,000 every year until trees bear. At that time you can subdivide 20 acres of this tract into 2 acres each at $600 an acre. Missoula is growing, the values are growing; acreage is your best growing investment. Today this can be bought for a little less than $300 an acre.
