THREE CENT RATES IN MISSOURI

MISSOURI, KANSAS & PACIFIC TO RUN ON HIGHER BASIS HEREAFTER.

St. Louis, May 23.—The Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad company has announced that, acting upon the advice of its legal department, it will place the 3-cent basis of passenger rates in effect in Missouri on Tuesday, May 25. This will be established as the maximum and the minimum rate for the Katy's line in Missouri. No announcement, as yet, has been made for the Gould lines, but it is generally understood that the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain, the Cotton Belt and the Wabash will adhere to the 2-cent basis until the cobweb of state litigation is swept away.

The state supreme court has set May 22 for the hearing in Jefferson City on the application of some of the lines for a writ prohibiting the state court from jurisdiction in the Missouri rate controversy.

Jones Suit Up Today.

Today in the St. Louis circuit court, the circuit attorney's injunction suit filed at the request of the governor will be called up on the motion to dismiss, and it is presumed that a general continuance will be asked for. The circuit attorney is taking steps for an appeal from the order of Judge McPherson, in the federal court, enjoining the circuit attorney from proceeding against the railroads in the rate case. The appeal will be heard by the United States circuit court of appeals.

With the state courts and state officials tied up, the railroads still in litigation would then decide upon the rate policy to be adopted, as there is no intention on the part of any line to maintain the 2-cent basis pending the appeal of the state to the supreme court of the United States on the 2-cent rate law. It might not be reached for two years.

Lines on 2 1/2 Cent Basis.

The Santa Fe has not yet determined upon its future course, but up to the present time it has contended that the 3-cent basis should be restored. Independent action on the 2 1/2-cent basis is already in effect on the Burlington lines, the Aton, the Rock Island, the Price and the Kansas City Southern. The same basis is in effect on the Rock Island-Price lines in Arkansas. The 2 1/2-cent basis is absolute and provides for no concessions except commutation rates. Injunction proceedings in the state court have been dismissed as to the lines adopting the 2 1/2-cent basis.

BRIDGE TROUBLES ARE NOT YET OVER

That the troubles of the city, as far as the temporary bridge is concerned, are not yet over, was fully demonstrated yesterday to the satisfaction of everybody, when the scenes of the day before were repeated.

PEOPLE OF THE CITY FIND AMUSEMENT IN WATCHING ANGRY TORRENT.

When the people of the city arose yesterday morning and made their way across the bridge they could see that there was trouble on hand, with more to come, as logs, tree trunks, driftwood and other debris were jammed against the piling of the bridge in both channels and threatened to make short work of the structure. Word was soon passed and City Engineer Mayo and Chief of Police Smith, along with Superintendent Sweet and his force of men, were on the job.

Work was first started towards clearing the south channel, and with the aid of ropes and the hoist engine, things soon looked promising. But it turned out that the job was not such an easy one as was at first thought, for the jam was so tight that the long, heavy ropes frequently broke, each break bringing a longer delay, as it required a great amount of work and time to splice the ropes and get them attached again to the logs.

WATCHED BY HUNDREDS.

During the progress of the work, several hundred people were on the river banks and the bridge. The spectacle appeared to furnish huge enjoyment for most of them. Late in the afternoon, the spectators were electrified to see an enormous tree trunk, with roots attached, floating towards the bridge and betwixt were freed, offered, and just as freely taken, as if which channel the tree would be forced into. For several moments it lay stretched on the point of the channel, as though debating with itself to which channel to choose, finally taking the north channel, whereupon both were paid on the spot and most of the spectators tore wildly to that part of the river in order to be on the spot when the heavy trunk struck the bridge.

Much to the disappointment of many of the vulgar public, the tree, instead of coming broadside, floated end for end, and passed safely under the bridge.

After supper the attention of the men employed on the work was devoted to the jam at the north end of the bridge, which was assuming alarming proportions. After several hours spent in the hardest kind of work, the jam at this point was broken up and the bridge left unobstructed.

During the progress of the work one side of the bridge, the west one, was closed to the use of vehicles, but at no time was the walk for pedestrians barred. At a late hour last night everything was in good shape, although the river showed no signs of going down.

It was announced yesterday that the store known as the Colonial ice cream parlors, on Higgins avenue, has been sold by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rock, to Henry Schacht, a Minnesota man. The deal was consummated last week. Mr. and Mrs. Rock bought the store several months ago from L. D. Howard, it being known at that time as the Howard-Sign, and have been operating it ever since. The new owner, Mr. Schacht, comes from Waterville, Minn., and has had several years' experience in that line of business. He will make this city his home and will attend to the business personally.
