This will be a busy Saturday. When you get up and started this morning on your daily rounds, bear in mind that you have two days' business to do in one: Sunday is Sunday and Monday is the substitute Fourth of July. The banks will close Monday; so will the federal offices and the county offices, as well; the stores will follow suit and Monday will be made the play-day for us all—except the makers of the morning newspaper; they will work right through it all, just as they do through every other holiday. But they are used to it and they like it—nit. Sunday this year is the Fourth and Monday, on account of the regard which we entertain for the Lord's day, will be the day we celebrate. So, today, there will be the dinners and the breakfasts for two days to buy and the preparations to make for the quiet ladylike celebration of the nation's birthday which we are to enjoy this year. The chief of police and the chief of the fire department are the fellows who will have most of the excitement this year; they will be kept busy chasing the elusive youth of the land and seeking to curb his desire for promiscuous celebration. Whatever uncertainty there was for a time as to whether there should be any cessation of business Monday, was dispelled yesterday when one of the veteran merchants of the city replied to a question affecting the matter: "I have been here a good many years but the Fourth is one of the days for which I have a good deal of regard and I cannot recall a year when I did not pay attention to it. Our store will close just as if Monday were the fourth instead of the fifth of the month, for it is the day the president says we shall celebrate and I am going to celebrate to the extent of closing the store if nothing else is done." And he was right.

The first letter from Charlie Lemley since his operation at the Mayo hospital in Rochester was received yesterday by Mrs. Lemley. It was not a very long letter; it was written on a postal card; but it was as good as if it had been pages long and it brought the good news that Charlie—then five days past the operating table—was strong enough to sit up and take notice and was hopeful that a few days more would take him out of the hospital and put him on his feet. He is still yearning for a day's fishing and there will surely be a declaration of the trout family when he gets back to Montana. A postscript to the note announced that the Eks in Rochester had been mighty kind to their brother so far from home. Which goes without saying, though it is good to hear.

A telegram that came yesterday afternoon announced that Frank McHaffie, also at Rochester, had been successfully operated upon and that he was feeling as well as could be expected after the experience. Yesterday's mail brought, also, a letter from him, written two days before, in which he stated that the operation was scheduled for yesterday. The news of the telegraphic message, following upon this, was good and satisfactory. In the letter Frank said he expected to be up and around a few days after the operation and that it was probable that he and Lemley would come home together. It is reasonable to assume that the pair will return primed for a fishing trip and that there will be things doing. Each of them has been threatening to make a fishing record as soon as he got straightened out as to his interior arrangements and, by all the indications, that happy time has come. And the two may depend upon a hearty welcome when they get back to the best town on earth.

After a successful and compatible partnership of 11 years as managers and owners of the LONE HAND, Southern, Charlie Donovan and Tom Burns yesterday dissolved and Charlie has become the sole owner of the establishment. The two came to Missoula from Hamilton; Donovan had been long years in Missoula before he went up to the Bitter Root, but Burns jumped clear from the bluegrass country to Hamilton. He came with some of the best horses that ever lived and as soon as he and the horses got here, the bluegrass began to grow upon the benches of the Bitter Root and it has grown there ever since until it is even better than it is in Old Kentucky. The partners have made a lot of friends; there is hardly a man in town who doesn't know one or the other or both of them. But the turn in the long lane came yesterday and Tom said goodbye to the old place. The friends that he has made will miss him, but they will be glad that one of the old firm is to remain and Charlie will have to do the honors for both. And he is baiting upon a plan that enables him to do it all right. He is there, whether it is buttermilk or a julep.

MEANS OF IDENTIFICATION.

The body of G. Horn, who was struck and killed by No. 3 Thursday afternoon near Bonita is being held at Lucy's undertaking parlors pending an investigation by Coroner Kendrick. An examination of the body yesterday revealed what may lead to his positive identification, in the shape of an anchor tattooed on his right hand between the forefinger and the thumb. Aside from the fact that the man is from Spokane, and had left that place last month, nothing else is known about the case.

BITTER ROOT VALLEY ADVERTISED

NORTHERN PACIFIC ISSUES INTERESTING CARD—EXPOSITION RUSH GREAT.

The most recent advertising issued by the Northern Pacific road is in the form of an illustrated card showing the beauties and advantages of the Bitter Root valley. The whole card is well gotten up and contains a volume of valuable information as to the capabilities and possibilities of the Bitter Root. The credit for the advertisement is largely due to Sid M. Ward of Hamilton, for it was by him that the data and information and, for that matter, the idea, were given to the railroad officials.

The rush to the exposition still continues, and every train nowadays, both west-bound and east-bound, goes in two sections. The route is hot and dusty, but apparently the western mountain air is a relief to the travelers who look cooler than the natives, even. The branch trains all along the line are reported crowded, too, and the Bitter Root gets more than its share every day. All of the eastern tourists seem to regard the valley and the Yellowstone park as the two stop-off points on the Northern Pacific, and the little branch line is certainly doing its full quota of business. Missoula is also a strong factor in the exposition crowds. Every day there is a larger Missoula delegation leaving the city; and it has gotten so that berths must be reserved days in advance.

FOURTH ARREST GROWS FROM GAMBLING CHARGE

The fourth arrest growing out of the charges made by Sheriff Graham that gambling was being conducted in the Headquarters saloon was made yesterday when Bert Tracey was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Farrell. Tracey, along with W. A. Ferguson, is accused of sitting in the solo game at the Headquarters and both are in jail, facing charges of gambling.

Val Blindauer and Pete Anderson, who are said to have been connected with the game in a proprietary way, pleaded not guilty before Justice Dyson yesterday. They were first arraigned on Thursday afternoon, as was told in yesterday's edition of The Missoulian, and at that time took the 24 hours allowed by law in which to plead. The time for their hearing has not yet been set and both men are out on bonds.

TESTIFY TO COMMISSION.

The value of land in the Lolo country was the burden of a mass of testimony in the district court yesterday afternoon, delivered before the commissioners appointed in condemnation proceedings brought by the Clearwater Short Line for right of way purposes. The hearing lasted until late in the afternoon.

QOW VISITS.

H. J. Dow, resident engineer for the Puget Sound at Drummond, spent yesterday in the city on company business.

PIONEER RAILROADER DIES IN TACOMA

OLD MONTANA HORSEMAN DEAD
—FIRST TIME CARD ISSUED YESTERDAY.

The news of the sudden death of W. N. Johnson, an old timer of this section of the country, and a man who was connected for some time with the construction work of the Milwaukee, will come as a surprise to many of the friends of the old man in this part of the state and in railroad circles. Mr. Johnson died suddenly in Tacoma at the home of his son-in-law. He was buried on Tuesday. The old man was a great horseman, having been connected with the turf for some time, and horse racing was his hobby. He was always full of stories of his exploits around the track and was perhaps as good an authority on the performances of race horses, past and present, as could be found. He was a partner of Benjamin Dennison, the ranchman, and he numbered his friends by the score among the local horsemen.

Yesterday was a red-letter day in the Puget Sound, not that it marked any definite step in the progress of the road, but that it saw the issuance of the card No. 1 of the Missoula division. The issuance of this time card is not in itself a remarkable event, but marks the end of construction days and the beginning of the first scheduled train operation. Yesterday's card marks the time of two trains, both freight, one a through fast freight and one a local train. Both have been in operation for some time past, but no fixed schedule had been issued until yesterday. The new trains, Nos. 43 and 44 and Nos. 77 and 78, run over the division on a four-day schedule, from Deer Lodge to Aliberton in two hours, and from Aliberton to North Fork in two more, and vice versa. This time is not very fast, but as the track gets into better shape and the finishing touches are put in the schedule will be made faster. The two freight trains are the only ones shown on card No. 1, but, as was announced in The Missoulian a week ago, the local officials expect to see a passenger service by about July 15 to accommodate the registration crowds which will probably be made a regular train after the rush is over, and which may be followed by a service straight to the coast.

The second carload of bridge steel arrived in Missoula yesterday and was delivered to the Burrell Bridge & Construction company. It will be unloaded at once at the bridge and it is expected that the erection of the framework for the new bridge will start within a few days. The abutment has not quite been finished, but just as quickly as the wall is in shape work will be started. The travelers and derricks which will be used in the erection work have not arrived as yet, but it is expected that they will be in the city by July 5 at least, and that there will be no delay to the work on that account. This carload of steel will be followed by others at short intervals, and as the Burrell company is putting the steel out at the rate of a carload a day they may be expected to arrive here about that fast.

The local Puget Sound office force received an addition yesterday in the person of H. H. Tavenner, who, with his family, arrived from Moline, Ill., to take a position as chief clerk to General Agent Hillman. Despite the hot weather, which was so oppressive to Missoula people, Mr. Tavenner went about yesterday with an expression of relief on his face. "And it's no wonder," he said. "When we left Chicago that city was in the midst of a season of heat which was as bad as I ever saw. People hardly dare to go out of doors, it is so humid, and everywhere people are dropping dead on the streets. And they have terrible thunderstorms in the evening there. The lightning is almost ceaseless and the rain falls in torrents. All through the eastern part of our trip we were followed by these storms, which varied from cyclones to miniature cloudbursts; so you see it is no wonder I am tickled to death with my new home."

Knutte E. Ericson, one of Winstanley's men at McQuarrie, reported yesterday just about as narrow an escape from death as could be found. It seems that he and Mrs. Ericson were driving from McQuarrie down towards Clinton, and that while crossing one of the dangerous grades along the mountain near that place the rig rolled over the embankment down a distance of 30 feet into rocks and brush. By some miracle both Mr. Ericson and his wife escaped serious injury, and aside from a few minor bruises, came out unharmed.

Chief Engineer E. H. Davison of the Puget Sound returned yesterday morning from a week's inspection of the company's camps in the Blackfoot and Clearwater countries. The road still has a number of parties out in the field, who are surveying a line across into Idaho on one hand and up into Canada on the other.

ADVANCE AGENT HERE.

Gentry Bros' advance car stood in the Missoula yards all day yesterday, while the agents were busy decorating the city, and its gorgeous green and yellow sides seemed to add to the heat and humidity which pervade a railroad on a day like yesterday.

BULGER RETURNS.

Frank Bulger, formerly chief clerk for Assistant Engineer Day at Taft, returned to Missoula yesterday after a visit to his home in Burlington, Ia.

WEDDING SUPRISSES FRIENDS

STEVENSVILLE COUPLE KEEPS MATRIMONIAL INTENTIONS SECRET—SOCIETY.

Miss Berna C. Marks and Roy McDonald Corley were married at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. J. N. Maclean officiating. Both are residents of Stevensville and the wedding comes as a complete surprise to even their closest friends, as they had kept their plans a secret. As a matter of fact, nobody knew of the impending marriage—excepting Miss Mary Marks, sister of the bride, and Frank Williams, both of whom attended the principals in yesterday's event.

The wedding was planned for 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but an accident to the buggy in which the bridal party drove to Missoula from Stevensville delayed the ceremony an hour. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald returned to Stevensville last evening.

Automobile to Hamilton.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hillson, Judge and Mrs. Witten, Miss Witten, Miss Dorothy Sterling and Miss Helen McLeod automobilized to Hamilton on Thursday and after taking dinner at the Tavalli hotel had a delightful run home by moonlight.

O. E. S. Lawn Party.

The Order of the Eastern Star gave a very pleasant lawn social last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Breelich on East Front street, the proceeds of which are to go toward the furnishing of the dining room in the Masonic temple. The evening was delightful for such an occasion and called forth a large attendance.

Persons.

Mrs. F. H. Woody and Mr. Franklin Woody returned Thursday night from a ten days' visit at Kalspell.

George Ogden of Plains is a guest at the home of Colonel Thomas C. Marshall.

George Beckwith of St. Ignace spent Thursday in Missoula.

Miss Pearl Jenkins of Wickliffe, Ky., is the guest of her aunt, Miss Capitola Jenkins.

Miss Hallie Richmond of Clinton, Ky., arrived Friday morning at the home of Colonel T. C. Marshall and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Walter Field at Fort Missoula for the summer.

Miss Stella Daft of Salt Lake is the guest of her cousin, Miss Bess Hollenbeck, and will spend the summer in Missoula.

Miss Mignon Joslyn of Deer Lodge is visiting at the home of the Misses Napton.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED ON PUGET SOUND ROAD

The badly mutilated remains of a middle-aged man were discovered yesterday morning on the Puget Sound tracks about two miles east of the city, the man evidently having been struck by a work train or freight. When found by a party of laborers the remains were lying beside the tracks. Coroner Kendrick was called and gave permission for the removal of the body. At the morgue a search of the man's clothes disclosed papers bearing the name "P. J. Dunn," and this is presumed to be the correct name of the man. An effort will be made to locate relatives of the stranger.
