PASSING EVENTS

Once in a while the Fourth comes on Sunday; as the calendar is arranged it has to be so and perhaps it is well that conditions are as they are.

When the Fourth comes on Sunday and we are afforded the opportunity to consider the serious side of the occasion which we commemorate upon this date.

AT WASHINGTON.—At the national capital our representatives sweltering in the two ends of the massive building that is the seat of our government, are wrestling with problems which affect to a very great degree our life as a nation.

and recrimination, just as there is now. Those men were great men and they were brave men; but they were no greater and they were no braver than are the men who sit in Washington, engaged in framing the laws by which we are to be governed and our national existence regulated.

JUDGE WITTEN.—In line with this thought comes the recollection of the presence of the man who was Missoula's guest for a few days last week. Judge Witten is a type of the present-day officeholder which embodies most of what is good in our national system.

CIVIC DUTY.—Not all of us can serve our country in this way; there are not offices enough for all of us, and not all of us possess the ability to fill an office properly if we had the opportunity.

AS TO NOISE.—The movement for a noiseless Fourth has new advocates each year, but each year, also, it loses its former earnest champions.

does not follow that the man who frowns upon the vociferous demonstrations of the holiday is a model member of the community. It is when we get away from the significance of the noise, and when we permit the day's demonstration to become a mere bedlam of hullabaloo that the good, old-fashioned Fourth ceases to be a good model to follow.

OUR FOURTH.—For various reasons, all of which appear sufficient, it was decided not to have a formal celebration of the Fourth in Missoula this year. The city has some important matters on its hands this month which require its full attention and which call for the expenditure of considerable money.

The boy stood in the blazing street and all around him red; big crackers popped about his feet and crackers sizzled overhead.

There's nothing in a name and, if the north pole must be discovered, it doesn't make any difference to the pole whether the discoverer is Walter Wellman or Erick von Drygalski.

With German scientists planning to go to the North Pole by the arctic route, Walter Wellman will have to sail or quit. His bluff is likely to be called.

Missoula merchants add to the gaiety of the season by their alluring offers. Read their announcements in The Missoulian this morning.

But, really, nobody sympathizes much with the perspiring senators. They had a chance to get through before the hot weather came.

In the passage of his corporation tax law by the senate President Taft finds some compensation for Yale's loss of the boat race.

Caution should season patriotism when the celebration is on. Then there will be less trouble and fewer accidents.

Missoula has had livelier Fourth's but there never was one when she had greater cause for happiness than this year.

Mingled with the noise of the Fourth is the announcement of increased wages in many industries. It sounds good.

As added contributory joy for the festal season comes the announcement that the electric road is soon to be built.

The importance of the tariff measure is shown by the fact that the senate has indicated debates in midsummer.

However, the suffragettes at Seattle will hardly take their Declaration of Independence stick this Fourth.

The racket's red glare is all right if the stick doesn't come down and punch a hole in your tin roof.

The eagle's scream is no less significant if it is mingled with palmistry. It was originally that way.

The difference between a skyrocket and Missoula's growth is that the skyrocket comes down.

A sane Fourth is not necessarily a noiseless Fourth. There is a lot of noise that is sensible.

We get two holidays when Sunday is the Fourth, for which we should be deeply grateful.

The warring suffragettes at Seattle are in a fair way to kick and make up.

It is also eminently proper to attend church, even if it is the Fourth.

In the matter of skyrockets, Orville Wright is a pretty good one, himself.

The class ad is better than red fire in that it never burns out.

Never mind the headache; remember you were a boy once.

The Dogology makes a good national anthem.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR TODAY

JULY 4, 1909.

Paul's Second Missionary Journey—Antioch to Philipp. Acts xv:35 to xvi:15.

Golden Text—Come over into Macedonia and help us. Acts xvi:9.

Verses 36-38—Is it generally necessary to follow up any good work which we have commenced if we would make it a success?

Verses 37-39—Would it have been wiser if Barnabas had first consulted Paul in the matter of taking Mark?

Barnabas was a relative of Mark; are we as good judges of the fitness of our relatives for an office as we are of the fitness of others? Why?

Why is nepotism in government appointments looked upon with suspicion?

Had Paul probably good reason for objecting to taking John and Mark with them? (See Acts xiii:13).

If a man shows lack of courage or lack of faithfulness in one position does that disqualify him in any measure from getting another or from success when in another position?

If both Paul and Barnabas had been duplicates of the man Jesus would there have been this quarrel between them, and how would the matter likely have been settled? (This question must be answered by members of the club).

When two Christians fall out, is one or both always to be blamed?

Verses 40-45—Did the dispute between these men work out for good, as it resulted in two missionary deputations instead of one?

By any process of reasoning can you conclude that God was back of this dispute between these two godly men so as to better work out his purposes?

Chapter xvi:1-3—Should ministers and other christians be on the lookout for young men who are fitted for the ministry the same as business men are for good salesmen?

What can you say for or against Paul circumcising Timothy in view of the decision of the council at Jerusalem? (See Acts xxi:20).

In matters of habit or ceremony, or non-essentials, is it well for us to give way to the views of others, sinking our own preferences when we can accomplish good by so doing? For example, you may oppose wearing "pig-tails" in this country with wisdom, and yet refuse to wear one in China may be great folly.

Verses 4-5—What were the "decrees" of the elders which were at Jerusalem? and are these binding upon the church today? (See Acts xv:28-29).

Is a church better with or without an elaborate creed?

What did Jesus teach which is not included in righteousness and the constant vision of God?

Will a church sound "in the faith" always be a magnet to draw others to it?

Verses 6-8—Why did the holy spirit forbid them to preach in Asia and

MANY ENJOY CHOICE STEAKS CUT FROM A YOUNG BUFFALO

BUTCHERING THE VICTIM OF AN ACCIDENT.

The accompanying cut shows Chief Duncan McDonald of the Flathead reservation in the act of skinning a buffalo cow, which was killed during the loading of the Pablo herd at Ravalli a few days ago.

The animal, about 4 years of age, was so unruly that the loaders could do nothing with her. She fought desperately against being driven through the loading chute into a freight car and in a mad rush across the corral butted blindly into the side of the pen, breaking her neck. She was immediately bled and the carcass was removed to the back yard of the Ravalli hotel, where it was skinned, dressed and butchered for use as a part of the menu for the Sunday dinner a week ago.

Bithynia, and would they have sinned had they done so? When we are hindered providentially from doing certain good works is that the holy spirit hindering us? Does God adopt in leading us? Does God in every emergency give us some sure guidance as to what we ought to do? Was this vision just as clear a call from God as though He had spoken personally? Verses 11-12—Does God direct the course of the Christian with absolute certainty, notwithstanding wind or sea? Verse 12—What is one of the first things an earnest Christian looks out for when he moves into a new community?

Are women generally in the majority as earnest Christians? Verse 14—Are busy women generally more spiritual than those who have but little to do? Should all girls be taught to earn their own living? Is it easier for God to open the heart of an industrious person than that of an idler? Verse 15—If a person is inhospitable or stingy is that a sure sign of ungodliness? Lesson for Sunday, July 11, 1909. Paul's Second Missionary Journey—The Philippian Jailor. Acts xvii:16-40.

Sugar Beet Growers' association at Dillon, sends analyses of beets grown in that district last year. These indicate excellent quality, both as to sugar contents and purity. He says: "I am enclosing a list of men who grew beets last year; there were many who did not take care of their beets. The yields per acre have been estimated in all cases except the Beaverhead Ranch company and myself, whose beets were actually weighed; but I think the estimates on the others are about right. The beets were analyzed at the sugar factory at Idaho Falls. "We are expecting to put in at least 500 acres this spring, and I am confident that we will have better results than last year, because we know more about taking care of beets."

OUR NEW NATIONAL MUSEUM BUILDING RECENTLY FINISHED

Washington, D.C.—With the completion of the new national museum the United States is in possession of one of the finest housings for a museum in the world. Details of the moving have just been completed, and it is now open to the public. The picture was taken from the top of the city postoffice.
