

MARKET MOVEMENTS OF THE DAY

New York, July 6.—There were hopes indulged by the professional element in the speculation that today was to witness the revival of active interest in the stock market. They were disappointed, as the meagre total of the day's transaction shows. Even that slender aggregate was done to a proportion of almost one-half in the first hour. There was nothing to show that important speculative interests were coming into the market. The opening advance gave place to a reaction, but after the advances had been wiped out the downward movement lost force. Prices hardened again to the best in the later dullness. News developments were mostly favorable to values and the halting action of market proved something of a puzzle. Sentimental influence was exercised by the heavy loan of United States Steel. The selling of the block was based on reiteration of the previous reports from Paris that the plan to introduce it on the Paris bourse had been rejected by the authorities. This report met with the contradiction from the Paris office of the bankers concerned, which has accompanied each repetition of the report of the failure of the plan. The denial, however, did not revive the tone of United States Steel in the market. The reports from trade sources of the good rate of recuperation in the industry were equally without benefit to the stock. The bank statement published on Saturday gave clear evidence of the heavy strain of the July settlements, but the easy tone of today's market took away any influence from the showing. The rapid progress making with the tariff bill in its later stages, especially the readiness with which the corporation earnings tax and the income tax amendments to the constitution were accepted in the senate, was cited as possibly of ominous import to the capitalistic interests in some of the day's discussion in Wall street. The closing tone of the market was uncertain.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, (par value), $4,404,000. United States 2s and 3s declined 1/2 per cent on call.

CELEBRATION HELD AT HISTORIC FORT

Samuel De Champlain at upper left. Mme. Jusserand, wife of the French ambassador, upper right; Mrs. Bryce, wife of the British ambassador, below.

Bluff Point, N. Y., July 6.—With the arrival of President Taft, Ambassador Jusserand of France, Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, Secretary of War Dickinson and Vice Admiral Ito of Japan, the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain, which had been confined during the past two days to the states of New York and Vermont, today took on an international scope and a world-wide interest. Ambassadors Jusserand and Bryce and President Taft all commended their respective countries to policies of peace and, in the shadow of an old fortress which had witnessed some of the bloodiest battles in all history, they expressed the hope that never again would the peace among the great nations of the world be interrupted by a war. The president and the ambassadors and the members of their staffs were shown, through the historic ruins of "Old Fort" as the natives called Fort Ticonderoga, which is now in course of restoration. Some of the old cannon were in place today and hundreds of rusty relics were on view, some of these were reminders of the days of Indian conflicts, others were links of history leading back to the bloody fights of Montcalm, Abercrombie and Amherst to the famous taking of the place by a band of 23 American colonists under General Ethan Allen and to naval battles which helped to make famous the waters of the lake, discovered three centuries ago by Samuel Champlain. fort on the placid waters of the lake and set among a flotilla of modern naval vessels of the smaller classes, was a reproduction of Champlain's little craft, the Don de Dieu. The president was the guest tonight at dinner of Walter Witherbee on the latter's houseboat, which is anchored in the lake off this point. Tomorrow the scene of the celebration shifts to Plattsburg, where the president again will make a brief address and where Senator Root will deliver an historical oration.

The Metal Market. New York, July 6.—The London tin market was higher than last week, spot closing at 131 1/2 and futures at 133 1/2. The local market was quiet but higher in sympathy with the advance abroad, with spot quoted at $25.95@28.10. Copper was a shade lower in London, spot being quoted at 158 1/2 and futures at 159 1/2. The local market was dull and nominal with Lake quoted at $13.25@13.42 1/2; electrolytic at $13.60@13.12 1/2 and consisting at $12.25@12. Lead declined to 112 1/2 @ 6d in London, but remained dull at $4.35@4.45 in the local market. Spelter was unchanged at 121 1/2 @ 6d in London and was unchanged at $5.40@5.45 locally.

Chicago Grain and Provisions. Chicago, July 6.—The wheat market was in a demoralized condition after the first hour today and prices declined 1/4 to 2/8 from the high point of the session. Various stock reports indicated a material improvement in the condition of the fall-sown crop, and there was a large increase officially reported in the acreage sown to wheat in the Canadian northwest, Kansas City and St. Louis each reported arrivals of 60 carsloads, with 8,000 sacks additional by water at the latter point. Weather in sections of the winter wheat belt during the last 48 hours inspired some buying early in the day, but the effect of any possible delay to harvesting was soon offset by the cash situation in the southwest. The market closed extremely weak at almost the bottom. Cots declined in sympathy with the break in wheat and corn. The close was weak. Provisions closed steady with prices a shade to 3c higher.

Boy's Life Saved. "My little boy, 4 years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him, and believe that saved his life."—William H. Stroking, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by all druggists.

Over Thirty-Five Years. In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for 35 years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by all druggists.
