It checks excessive perspiration, cools and soothes the skin, destroys unpleasant odors and enables you to forget your feet. Try it. Price 25¢ per box.

CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN

There was much stir and a lot of business doing yesterday at the Rhoades & Rhoades offices, where the members of the firm and H. Lyons, the advertising manager of the new Carlisle addition, were getting things lined up for the opening of their campaign which is billed to start in a few days for the disposal of the lots on the newly platted tract. There is a lot of work connected with an enterprise of this sort, and there were chunks of it being torn off yesterday by the energetic men who have taken in hand the sale of this extensive piece of property. "It will take a little while to get things organized," said J. M. Rhoades last night, "but we will have our forces lined up before many days and the war will be opened up as soon as we get our guns planted where we want them."

Those who have known Herman Rossi during his long residence in Wallace welcome him cordially to the business circles of Missoula, and the announcement that he has become identified with the insurance business in this city has been the occasion of many complimentary remarks. Mr. Rossi has made a reputation for boosting that entitles him to recognition in any community; he has been for years the managing director of the live ones in the Coeur d'Alene metropolis, and much of the enterprise that has been shown in Wallace in past years has been the result of his planning and of his energetic leadership. He was mayor of the Boost town for a while and he has been advertising the country for so long that the old-timers are loathsome when they don't hear his voice. That he has allied himself with Messrs. Wheelton and Fernald in this city is certainly for the good of the city; it means one more good booster.

LABOR PLANS

There is a movement on foot amongst the union men of the city to have a lively celebration of Labor day this year, and it is expected that the next meeting of the trades and labor council will take up the matter and appoint committees to get the work started. It is understood that the new officers of the council are favorable to the plan, and as it is three years since there was a Labor day celebration here, there will be a general sentiment in support of the proposition. At the next meeting of the council there will also be taken up the question of the selection of a delegate to the Montana Federation of Labor; this choice was postponed at the regular election, when the following officers were chosen: President, George Lehman; vice president, George Scott; recording secretary and treasurer, Charles E. Dodge; guard, M. C. Chapman; executive committee, Ed Boughton, George Scott, E. F. Trapp, C. Baruel and W. Wilder.

ANOTHER MATINEE

At the fair grounds this afternoon there will be held another meeting of the Matinee club. The chief attraction will be the third installment of the 15-mile pacing race, in which Denis Lee's Nellie Obispo has won four mile heats and Gaspard Duschamps' Senator Carter has taken two, with John R. Daily's Obispo Junior a close runner-up each time. There was never any prettier racing than these three horses showed a week ago, and if the weather permits there should be a repetition of the performance today. There will be, also, a special matched race, best two in three, with three starters. John McCaffrey names Leota Shapard, Chris Morrison names Muggins and Tom Hickey's nomination is Katherine Howard. There will be a half-mile dash for named horses and a scrub race for three-eighths or a quarter. The sport should be fine.

FAIR IS A BEAUTY

Will C. Reilly has returned from a visit to the Seattle fair. He went to the coast as escort to his sister, who continues her journey up into Alaska to visit another member of the family. Will remained to look over the exposition and says he is glad he stayed. "It is a fine show," said he last night. "There are no rough spots; it is all running smoothly and the displays are fine. The showing of Alaskan and Pacific products is remarkably complete and the state exhibits from the coast are wonderfully good. There have been bigger fairs but there was never one that was more complete or that had a better location. It is worth the trip to the coast to see it. The country down there is fine."

HARRY'S HOT RUN

Harry Shapard has established a new endurance record for local automobiles, and, incidentally, has won a rat in the Puffer canyon road that will be hard to fill. He was out riding in his machine Friday evening and, down at the mouth of Puffer canyon, he came upon a coyote that was loping leisurely along and evidently looking for some excitement. If that was really what the beast was looking for, he found it in a large chunk. The worried look of animal that he wore when the whizz-wagon came along disappeared in a few minutes and he had a rat for his life. Shapard, not being any longer a member of the city council, had no particular dignity to cast aside; he just opened the throttle and threw the machine into the high gear and started after the coyote. The creature kept just ahead of the buzz-wagon and didn't look worried even when Harry was hitting a 70-mile clip. The chase led up the canyon until the ground got so rough that it hurt the wolf's feet, and then the pursuer and pursuer turned and chased down the canyon again. The automobile took the bumps pretty well, though some of the occupants of the car were a bit jarred at times. Four laps up and down the canyon were made, with the coyote all the time about 10-12 feet ahead of the machine; he held the distance like a soldier and regulated his speed by the gait of the bubble. If it hadn't got so dark that the women in the car insisted upon going home Shapard would be running up and down the canyon yet. As it was, he ran regretfully home in the darkness, and when he looked at his mileometer it showed that he had chased that coyote 127 miles.

MAKING LONG TRIP WITH A DOG TEAM

With a team of Alaskan dogs and one of the sleds used by "mushers" in the frozen north, E. A. Smith, noted government mail carrier of Alaska who is making a trip on a wagon from Nome to Washington, D. C., and return, is in Missoula on his way back to Nome. Smith left Nome on November 14, 1905, and must be back in that city by November 14, 1909. He successfully made the trip from Nome to Washington, D. C., and has made this much of the return journey without serious mishap save the loss of five of the ten dogs he started with. He is well ahead of his time and says he will be able to make the trip into Nome in time to claim his wages. Smith was for years engaged by the government to carry mail from Nome to Point Barrow, the northernmost point of the American continent and has won some big wagers with his dog teams.

LEND A HAND SOCIETY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Lend a Hand society met in regular session Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Inel. After the usual routine of business, the officers for the ensuing year were elected. The results of the election were as follows: Mrs. M. Rogan, president; Mrs. Charles Miller, vice president; Mrs. J. Folsel, secretary; Mrs. J. H. Inel, treasurer. The society decided to have an executive committee, also an auditing committee, each to be composed of three members appointed by the president. Refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed by all.

The sheriff's office was informed last night that Tim Lebeau, who was given until 6 o'clock last evening to be out of town, had shaken the dust of the city from his feet and had left for other and more congenial climes. It is believed that Wolf and "Till Goldberg," other well-known men of the same stripe, had left during the day, taking with them their supporters.
