CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN
Yesterday, although it was Sunday, witnessed the largest crowd of the registration season—HUNDREDS perhaps it was because ARE HERE. It was Sunday. The people who arrived to register found the notarial offices closed and had to spend the day in town, waiting for the opening Monday. Most of them appeared to be glad they came here. Not one of them but had a good word to say about the treatment they had received in town. Missoula was able to demonstrate its ability to take care of the crowds, and could have cared for twice as many and not been pushed hard. There was no overcrowding; everything went along smoothly and comfortably. "Today's business shows," said a business man last night, "what we could expect if there were only an agreement as to hours on the part of the notaries, so that there would be eight or ten hours for registration each day. There would be just as many people, register as there will if the offices continue to remain open all night, and the strain would not be as great on the notaries. They would have comfortable office hours and the business people of the city would have a chance to get some benefit from the crowd in town. There should certainly be some arrangement made by which reasonable and reasonable hours could be kept. Do this and stop the soliciting of business by the notaries and the registration will do us some good; otherwise it is hurting the city. It is the best opportunity for advertising—good advertising—the city ever had and it is being absolutely wasted."

NOTARIES WILLING.

Speaking for the main body of the notaries, one of their number said to a Missoulian man last night: "I am willing and I believe most of the rest of us are willing to do what the business men of the city desire. For my part, and I let my associates feel the same way, I would prefer to have the hours agreed upon so that we would be on duty only from 8 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. That would enable us to handle the crowds and would give time for the visitors to see the city without rushing away on the train that brought them in. We are interested in the city and we want to do what is right. I am sure there can be an agreement reached, the trouble has been that there has been no meeting of the notaries and there has been no attempt to reach any mutual understanding. It has been a case of every man for himself. There are only three days of the registration gone and it is not too late to make a fresh start. I wish you would say that the bulk of the notaries are anxious to do the right thing; the few who are not willing to enter an agreement can be brought around I am certain."

W. R. Glascock was in town yesterday from the upper Blackfoot in visit his wife, who is currently recuperating in St. Paul Squarely, Rick's hospital after an operation. In a call at the Missoulian office, Mr. Glascock said that the upper country is in fine shape: "There have been a good many surveys building railroads throughout the valley this spring," he said, "and it looks as if there would be some graders up our way before long; but it will look a good deal more like business when the dirt begins to fly. There is one thing we need up there right away and that is a stage line to Missoula. It would be a good thing for us and I am sure it would be a good thing for Missoula. If the present stage line and mail route could be extended 12 miles or so beyond Clearwater we would be accommodated and we would have direct communication with Missoula. Now it is a long way around. I should think this would interest your business men very directly."

In the backwater of the river and in the quiet sloughs, there are to be found every day this month LADS ARE SCORING SUBURBAN SWIMMING. backs gleaming in the sun and the splash of water from the beating of youthful hands and feet, with the cries of joy which come from the youngsters as they swim and paddle and enjoy thoroughly their amphibious existence. There is one of these swimming holes just below the Ritter River bridge and another just above the Van Haven street bridge. Each of these was thronged yesterday and the others, farther up the river, had a good play. Even if you are too old to paddle with the boys, there is a lot of fun watching them and it is worth while to stroll around and see their good times.

"We have not understood what Boon is up against and we certainly have not known what a splendid opportunity he has to display his exhibits. If we don't give him enough to show the valley's resources, it will be because there are no live ones left in the valley."

HELIOGRAPHS TO BE TRIED OUT

ADVISABILITY OF USING SIGNALING APPARATUS TO BE DETERMINED.

Experiments will be made during the summer with the standard heliographs, which are now used in the war department for signaling on the national forests. One of these experiments will be on the Kanikeu national forest in Idaho, and the other on the Stanislaus forest in California.

It is intended to discover whether these instruments will be of use or national forests to report fires or transmit other messages in areas where there is no quick method of communication. The conditions of climate and latitude, as well as the species of inflammable trees in the two forests are sufficiently different to determine whether the instrument is suited to some localities and not to others.

Ease and quick communication to all parts of a forest must be had if fire is to be kept down. Anyone who knows of the fearful damage wrought by forest fires on private and unprotected lands each year, will easily see that through the patrol use of telephone lines and other means of communication such as is maintained on the 195,000 acres contained in the national forests, the losses can be reduced to a minimum.

For the administration and protection of the 118 national forests in 19 states and territories and Alaska, the government spent $2,526,008.02, or about 11-1/2 cents an acre for the calendar year 1908. Of this amount $592,463.19 was spent for permanent improvements, including the construction of 3,400 miles of trails, 190 miles of wagon roads, 3,200 miles of telephone lines and 40 miles of fire lines.

SECOND TIME-CARD IN EFFECT

YELLOW CARS ARE NOW A REALITY ON PUGET SOUND—OTHER DIVISION NEWS.

	No. 1.	No. 2.
Butte	7:30 a. m.	10:00 p. m.
Missoula	12:50 p. m.	5:05 p. m.
Alberton	2:10 p. m.	3:30 p. m.

Time card No. 2, putting on the two trains whose schedule is shown above, went into effect at 12:01 a. m. yesterday and the real era of operation on the road was begun. The train movement for the first day was very good and the yellow cars went over the division in fine shape. Engineer Davis and Conductor Hinnack brought the train over from Butte and the return was made with Engineer Sanders in the cab and Conductor Hinnack in charge. The yellow cars drive here for good and Missoula is in direct connection with Chicago and St. Paul.

A large number of the force took advantage of the first day's run and went to Alberton with their families for an afternoon's outing. Among these were General Agent A. J. Hillman and his wife, F. B. Wilson, freight foreman, and C. E. Goodwin, the chief clerk. All of those were delighted with the run and were enthusiastic over the prospects. "The train ran remarkably well," said Mr. Hillman yesterday, "and there was not a single marring incident to the trip. The road rides well for a new line, too, and I was greatly surprised at the condition of the track. I would have thought that I was on an old road."

The opening of passenger traffic caught the local officials a little unready and when the train pulled into Missoula the receiving facilities were not ready for it. The work of remodeling the building, which is to be used as a depot, is taking longer than was at first expected and the station was not finished yesterday. The platforms had not been built either and as a consequence it was necessary for the train to block the crossing at the end of the bridge until the baggage and express could be unloaded. This difficulty will be remedied at once, however, and platforms will be built along the track. A platform will also be built from the east door of the depot, where the waiting room is to be, straight to the track. The general offices of the division will be put upstairs, while the ticket office and the general agent's office will be on the lower floor.

The next development in the local passenger situation will be a through train running over the division to connect with the local service on the Columbia. This change was announced by General Superintendent Earling in a recent interview here and the date for it is set for the early part of August. Traffic Manager Calkins recently here out this statement by saying that within 30 days there would be a local service extending from St. Paul to the coast. This local service will hold for little less than a year, thorough service being scheduled for opening on July 1, 1910.

NOTARIES' OFFICES OPEN AT MIDNIGHT

Promptly at midnight last night a number of the notaries public opened their various places of business and resumed the work of registering people for lands on the Flathead reservation. As most of the late trains arrived near that hour, a steady stream of applicants was on hand at most of the offices, and the men who administered the oaths were kept busy. At 11:30 the new local train from Butte, on the Northern Pacific, arrived in the city, bringing about 450 persons, most of them coming to register. The rush from this train did not so much subside that the next rush was on, this time from trains Nos. 1, 4 and a section of No. 15, long overdue, its scheduled time for arrival being 8:45 a. m.

Not all the notaries opened their offices, as many of them expect hard work during the coming week and wanted to take advantage of their chance to rest. But those who did open did a rushing business, although they did not get the most part, remain open all night, many of them closing after the people from No. 15 had registered. Those who opened at 12 o'clock last night were Josiah Shull, V. S. Kutehn, W. T. Graybeal, Wellington Nupton, the Amalgamated notaries, A. K. Andersen, Edw. Hoverson and W. H. Smead company.

MAJOR DURAND AIDS LOCAL SALVATION ARMY

The local Salvation army has been recruited for the last week by Major Durand and his staff from Butte. Major Durand has been holding nightly meetings at the army hall for a week and he will continue the services until next Sunday, when he will leave for Butte. During the latter part of the week local officers will be elected and they will continue the work here.

Miss Stephenson was operated on yesterday at St. Patrick's hospital for appendicitis. She is said to be getting along as nicely as could be expected.
