

SOCIETY

While the attractions of the week have been varied, the leading event, of course, was Mrs. Pliske's her absorbing play, "Salvation Nell." This brought forth many theater parties, all of the boxes being filled and many handsome costumes being seen. Indeed, the pretty playhouse presented a scene of metropolitan gaiety and splendor. While there was a wait of considerable length before the play was begun, it was taken good-naturedly, and visits were made from seat to seat and from box to box with a disregard of formalities that was altogether delightful. Many pleasant little supper parties were given after the play, and several dinners preceded it. Luncheons, dinners and birthday celebrations have all helped to fill the week to the total exclusion of larger and more formal affairs. Fort Missoula has also contributed its share, field day being especially attractive, and drawing a number of visitors from the city.

Miss Power Entertains.

Miss Edna Power was the gracious hostess Friday evening at a small and delightful card party, at which five tables were played. The decorations, in red and white poppies and sweet peas, were unusually beautiful, and the same color scheme was carried out as far as possible in the refreshments, which were served at the close of the playing. Miss Ethel Wilkinson was the fortunate winner of the first prize and Miss Lucy Webster of the second. The first prize for the gentlemen was carried off by Gilbert McLaren. Miss Powers' guests were Misses Ethel Wilkinson, Marjory Ross, Lucy Webster, Nell Whitaker, Lucy Whitaker, Phyllis Gagnon, Margaret Lacy, Abbie Lucy, Mary Rankin, Isabel Runan, Messrs. Clarence Perbis, Joe Farrell, Ned Winstanley, Massey McCullough, Jack Greenough, Gilbert McLaren, Thayer Stoddard and Jack Power.

In Honor of Visitors.

The Misses Pearl Jenkins and H. B. Richmond, who are visiting Mrs. Ben Waller Field of Fort Missoula, were the guests of honor at an unusually pretty luncheon Friday afternoon. The table was beautiful with quantities of cool, green sallax, brightened with pink sweet peas, and making a pleasing background for the silver and crystal. A number of courses were deftly served, the whole forming a perfect epicurean repast. The guests were Messdames Johnson, Field, Wright, Randolph, Anderson, Thompson, Grubbs, MacDonald, Gordon, England, Kieroff, the Misses Jenkins, Richmond, Ratcliffe, Gale.

Large Box Party.

Two of the theater boxes were occupied Thursday evening by a large party chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. John R. Toole. The ladies of the party were beautifully gowned and the boxes presented an attractive appearance and contributed greatly to the atmosphere of the evening. The party was afterwards entertained at an enjoyable supper, which perfectly completed the entertainment. The guests were the Misses Evelyn Polleys, Kate Trainor, Frank Trainor, Dora Hamilton, Thula Toole, Messrs. Ward Rathburn, Hart Willis, R. Lantz, Charles Swinburn and A. Hayfort.

Merry Birthday Party.

Miss Beatrice Ineb, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ineb, was the delightful and delighted hostess to a group of her young friends, who met at her home to celebrate her sixteenth birthday on last Monday afternoon. The young ladies, in their airy summer attire, formed a charming picture as they played on the lawn, and the dignity of eleven years was forgotten as they romped through the afternoon. Very delicious refreshments had been provided for the youngsters by the thoughtful mother, and all were served liberally. The guests were the Misses Gertrude Haasler, Maudie and Adelaide McAllister, Mabel Armour, Beulah Sulby, Mary Little, Mary and June Sanders and Miss Annie Bennett of Malcoota.

Mrs. Field Entertains.

Mrs. Ben Waller Field entertained Wednesday at luncheon, covers being laid for seven. The morning was spent watching the interesting sports which took place on the athletic grounds, it being Field day at the west. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and was a very delightful affair. A beautiful luncheon set of drawn work was used on the mahogany table, which was further adorned with sweet peas. In the afternoon the party were spectators at the baseball game, which elicited much enthusiasm. Mrs. Field's guests were Misses Pearl Jenkins, Thalia Richmond, Phyllis Gagnon, Alice Woody, Lieutenant Conway.

Complimentary to Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Frank Van Patton extended a pretty compliment to Mrs. E. G. Moore of Danversport, Iowa, last Wednesday afternoon when she entertained at a kersting in her honor. The ladies who were invited brought bits of various kinds of fancy work, and the afternoon was pleasantly spent in admiring each other's handiwork, and many a new stitch and fascinating "recipe" was taught and learned, while scraps of harmless gossip and chatter were bandied to and fro. Refreshments were served during the afternoon to the guests, who were Messdames W. H. H. Dickinson, P. Gardner, J. Ineb, John Patterson, George McAllister, Charles Hollingsworth, C. T. Perry, Guy Billings, H. H. Hill, J. Goff, Will Hassler, T. H. Van Patton the Misses Dorothy Burton and Mina Goff.

Box Party and Supper.

J. H. T. Truman was the host at a box party on Thursday evening to see Mrs. Pliske in "Salvation Nell." That the play was thoroughly enjoyed goes without saying. At the conclusion of the performance the party went to Ye Olde Inn, where an elaborate supper of many courses invited them. The table was laden with the most perfect and gorgeous of roasts, which were afterwards carried off by the ladies. The guests on this evening were Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Donohue, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Schenck, Mrs. H. G. Houghton.

Pleasant Picnic.

A pleasant picnic was given last Sunday on Miller creek by the Misses Tuitt and A. Deschamps in honor of their cousin Miss Anna Bell of Fairview. Some sixty young people enjoyed the day, and in the evening a reception was tendered Miss Bell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Tuitt. The piano was presided over by D. C. Deaneberg, a husband of some note. From Bette, who rendered some clever selections. Light refreshments were served and all who attended voted it one of the most pleasant entertainments of the season. The guests were Messrs. and Messdames Phillips Lacasse, Joseph Normand, P. Loiselle, R. Deschamps, H. Marcure, F. Lueler, A. La Fleur, P. Deschamps, the Misses Anna Deschamps, Imelda, Loiselle, Louise Dupont, Julie Dumouchel, Edna Marcure, Juliette Marcure, Anna Beauregard, Messrs. D. C. Beauchemin, J. B. Besette, H. Clouthier, A. Quilting Bee.

One of the most novel and unique entertainments of the season was the quilting bee given by Miss Daisy Kellogg last Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss May Hamilton. When the guests arrived they were ushered into a room, where they found an old-fashioned patch-work quilt set up in the quilting frames, which called forth many exclamations of admiration. Thimbles, needle and thread were promptly produced, and the guests fell busily to work, while the merry voices kept pace with the fingers that deftly stitched and tied and snipped until the last thread was clipped and the work program finished and well done. The quilt was then presented to the guest of honor with a little speech that won admiring plaudits from all. At the close of the work the young ladies took a well-earned rest while they enjoyed the refreshments which were served. The participants in this pleasant afternoon were the Misses May Hamilton, Isabel Hamilton, Della Hamilton, Nell Bullard, Jennie McGregor, Ida Cunningham, Ethel Anderson, Helen Smead, Winnie Peigimer, Mrs. William Ferguson of Billings.

Birthday Banquet.

A double birthday was celebrated on Thursday evening, when A. B. Hammond entertained a few of his friends at Ye Olde Inn in honor of his natal day, which was also that of Major J. E. Thompson. The table, which was elaborately decorated, was laid for eleven. A delicious repast was enjoyed, and toasts were drunk and all good wishes were expressed that the two men who were unimpaired and unshamed to announce their public and openly their ages, might live to enjoy many happy returns of the auspicious day. Mr. Hammond's guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hammond, W. C. Murphy and Major J. P. Thompson.

Royce and Brock of San Francisco.

AN EQUALITY CAMP OPENED BY WOMEN

Spokane, July 24.—Camp Equality, on the wooded shore of picturesque Liberty lake, in the east of Spokane, was formally opened by the Spokane Equal Suffrage league the afternoon of July 18, when preparations were begun under the direction of Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton and Mrs. La Reine Baker for the state convention in this city early in October. The suffragists are housed in tents, the retinue of servants including cooks, boatmen and ordinary laborers. David C. Coates, former lieutenant governor of Colorado, now a resident of Spokane, who led the insurgents at the national convention at Seattle, early this month, was the chief speaker at the opening session, at which the Spokane College club, which recently adopted the "No vote, no husband" slogan, was largely represented. It is announced by Mrs. Hutton that this is the beginning of a state-wide campaign in the interest of the cause. Arrangements have been made with an electric railway company to run special trains from Spokane during the first campaign in operation. It is expected that there will be several speakers of national fame before the camp is closed.

WOMEN AND HOME

To clean enamel ware with salt mixed with vinegar. For cleaning oilcloth milk can be used to good advantage. In washing glasses use a little soap first and then rinse well. When baking place a layer of salt under the mold. This prevents burning. Hop pillows are a great comfort to nervous people and often cure headaches. Try a good talcum powder during the hot weather for your oily nose and face. Green vegetables, to preserve their color, should be boiled in open sauce pans. Do not labor under the impression that things cook faster when the water boils hard. To drive away cold sores wet a little common baking soda and apply. Camphor also is good. To prevent fish from falling apart in boiling, put a small quantity of vinegar into the water. Iron saucepans may be cleaned on the outside by thoroughly and briskly rubbing them with fine sand. Solid window shades are best cleaned by rubbing them with stale bread or Fuller's earth with moderate pressure. A little carbolic acid added to the water in which burns, brushes and cars are washed, greatly lessens the soreness. If iodine has been applied to the skin, but smarted too much, it is well to know that it can quickly be removed with ammonia. All cooking utensils should be washed immediately after they have been used with soda, which will remove every trace of grease. Essence of cinnamon, allowed to evaporate in a shallow bowl or dish in the sickroom is said to be effective in destroying germs in the air. Pickles should never be kept in glazed ware, as the acetic acid of the vinegar will form a poisonous compound with the lead contained in the enamel. Onions are excellent for nervous persons. Two or three eaten with bread and butter before going to bed will act as a sedative and induce refreshing sleep. One secret of washing hands so they will not shrink is to dry them quickly. When nearly dry they should be pressed with an iron which is not very hot. A tablespoonful of granulated sugar added to the salted water used for basting roast beef will give to the latter a rich brown color and greatly improve its flavor.

BABY'S SUMMER REMEDY FREE

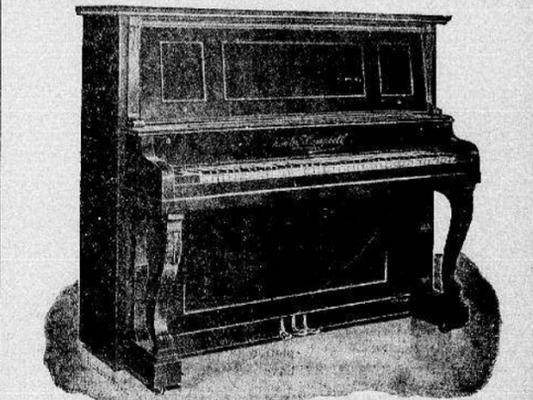

In a family where the children are still young few mothers experience the joy of passing a summer without the children becoming sick. As a rule the ailment is a trivial one, though it looks very serious. The trouble usually lies in the stomach or bowels, due to a summer cold or to unfit food, water or fruit—the hot-weather dangers. Before becoming alarmed, however, give the child a dose of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN when you put it to bed. The direction sheet that comes with each bottle will tell you the quantity to give, according to the age, and as the remedy is pleasant to take and does not gripe, the child will not refuse it. By morning it will be much improved, and in another day entirely well. That is the experience of thousands of mothers. Give it in constipation, biliousness, summer complaint, loss of appetite or sleep, sick headache, nervousness, etc. Do not give salts or purgative waters, tablets, pills or sleep-producing remedies that always contain narcotics, for these are unpleasant to take, gripe, and do only temporary good. DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN is a vegetable compound, thoroughly tested in American homes for many years. Women, children and old people are among its staunchest friends. Your druggist will sell you a bottle at the small price of 50 cents or $1.00.

Those who have never yet used DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN and would like to make a trial, should write to the regular way of these druggists, and obtain a 25-cent sample bottle. For further information or any number of their family medicine books, write to Dr. Caldwell, 517 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill. If the case seems serious, the doctor will be glad to send you a bottle of the medicine free of charge. In this way you can find out what it will do without cost. Also, if you give your child a little of the medicine, you will know the person who has children should send for "Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" to his druggist, containing the doctor's address and directions, to be sent to him at once.

TWO BEAUTIFUL GOWNS WORN BY YANKEE GIRLS IN LONDON

Two beautiful American heiresses who have been presented by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid at the court of St. James. The pictures were taken in the gowns in which they were presented. At left, Miss Oga Wiberg of Cincinnati. At right, Mrs. Adams Clarke of New York. Among those fortunate enough to be presented at the court of St. James by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid were Miss Oga Wiberg, the youngest of the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wiberg of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Adams Clarke of New York. Both young ladies are well known in American society. Last year Miss Wiberg spent the season in Washington, and while there was a great social favorite. She is a niece of General Tecumseh Sherman and a cousin of Mrs. Alexander Thackeray, whose husband is consul in Berlin. The gowns worn by these two beautiful daughters of America were commented upon generally, and it was conceded that the American gown quite outshines that of the English.
