CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN

For the first time in his life, Jim Rhoades hadn't words at his command to express his feelings. He was down and out. ENTIRELY ECLIPSED He backed off the boards, beaten to a frazzle, left in the plexus. When a Missoulian man broached the subject to him, he said: "All right. Say all you want to, I'm entitled to it all. I am guilty and that's all there is to it. I am willing to take my medicine." The cause of it all was that Sid Coffey, in the other corner of the Hammond building and the occupants of the seven Sutherland sisters on exhibition in his window and Jim's show window was vacant. After all the enterprise he has shown since he came to this city, this was a bitter defeat for the gentle James and all he could do was to admit defeat. "But it's hard," he said, "to be eclipsed by such a pigskin as Sid Coffey. I have spent years in the acquisition of a reputation, it is tough to have to lay down my hand to a fellow like him. But I'm skinned."

H. L. Lyons, advertising manager for the Car Line addition company, left last night for Butte after several busy days in town. Mr. Lyons is engaged in organizing his campaign in the other districts of the state and is getting his forces lined up for a record-breaking success. Meanwhile the other districts are settling to Missoula people at a rate that is very satisfactory and the indications are that another fortnight will establish a new figure in local real estate transactions as the sales for the first two weeks have been surprisingly large. "I am more confident than ever of the bright future of Missoula," said Mr. Lyons last night. "Every time I come back here from somewhere else, I am better satisfied than ever before with Missoula and her prospects. It is an effort to sell lots here, the reputation of Missoula is taking care of the real estate situation. There is a demand for Missoula property and the fact is that it is a real pleasure to talk Missoula outside of town."

MUCH-MARRIED MAN PLEADS GUILTY

W. M. GARDINER ADMITS BEING BIGAMIST AND GOES TO STATE'S PRISON.

Thompson, Mont., Aug. 10.—Rather than face his wife, who came all the way from Howard Lake, Minn., to testify for the state, W. M. Gardiner, until arrested a resident of Noxon, this county, pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy in the district court today and Judge Myers sentenced him to a year in the penitentiary. Deserting his wife and two children at Howard Lake, Minn., Gardiner came west, and about three years ago was married to Miss Irene Lauder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bauers of Noxon, and they were living as man and wife when he was arrested. To them was born one child, about two years of age now. Gardiner came very nearly breaking down when the court pronounced his sentence. His wife from Minnesota arrived on Sunday, but was not in court when he pleaded guilty. At his previous arraignment and in his preliminary hearing in the justice court he pleaded not guilty. His trial was to have been heard this week.

It is probable that some reconciliation will be effected between the two women, his legal wife and the woman with whom he has lived during the past few years as her husband, they having met today. The Noxon girl seems to cling to him and it is probable that the Minnesota woman will secure a divorce now that he has been punished, and clear the way for the Noxon girl to become his wife and legalize her child.

PROBABLE MURDER IS DISCOVERED

UNKNOWN MAN, TERRIBLY BEATEN AND WOUNDED BY BULLET, FOUND AT BELKNAP.

Special to The Daily Missoulian.

Thompson, Mont., Aug. 10.—An unknown man, apparently a laborer, was found near the water tank at Belknap, about six miles west of here, early this morning with terrible wounds in his head and evidently in a dying condition. He was brought here on No. 2 and taken to Dr. Peek's hospital, where his injuries were dressed. His wounds will undoubtedly prove fatal. The county attorney and the sheriff's force have been unable to get a statement from the victim. At times he would open his eyes and appear to be conscious, but no word escaped his lips in answer to questions. The officers believe that he was assaulted and robbed and then thrown from a train. Over his left temple he has marks as if he had been struck by a heavy instrument, and at the top of his head is a bullet hole, the shot having crushed the skull. Papers found on his clothes are in the hands of the officers and from these his identity may be established.

The man was still alive at noon today.

A report is current that two men who know about the affair and were in the car when the crime was committed were at Paradise this morning. This is being investigated by the officers.

...of farmers who plant trees along the roads adjoining their property. Politics did not enter the lobby discussions today, but much comment was heard for and against the resolution, which will be proposed by Secretary Hooker of the board of control, asking a bond issue of $5,000,000 by the United States to be loaned to finance irrigation projects. This afternoon the commercial bodies of Spokane gave a parade illustrative of the commercial development of the north-west. The parade passed a huge reviewing stand occupied by the delegates. Two other parades of similar character will be given the end of the week.

NOTHING PERSONAL

The returned officers of the Twenty-fifth were amazed by the increase in population and the splendid development of the city. During the automobile run, a spin was taken up the Rathbone and the auto sidetracked to permit a herd of cattle to pass. Arriving the cattle were a young man on horseback, when he had his bunch of beavers safely past the machine, he asked the chauffeur to wait a minute, so he could ride his horse close to the auto. "I want to get this colt used to everything," he said as he dug in the spurs and forced the recalcitrant animal toward the small wagon. "Is there anything personal in that?" asked Major Shattuck of General Hodges, and the latter agreed to have it to the commander. "This horse gave prompt and positive assurance that he had preference to the machine and not to any of its occupants. There was no court-martial."

LOCAL SOCIETY

Delightful Bridge Party.
Mesdames Elizabeth Schuch and Fred Schuch entertained last night at a delightful bridge party at their home in South Missoula, complimentary to their guests, Mrs. Shill and the Misses Lair of Lafayette, Ind. Bridge was enjoyed until 2 o'clock, when an appetizing luncheon was served, after which cards were resumed until late in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennie-Smith Entertain.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lennie-Smith were host and hostess at a delightful picnic given in the Greenough park yesterday afternoon. A pretty camping spot was made unusually attractive with hammocks, cushions, books and other things which make outings both pleasant and luxurious. A delicious luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock.

THE LAST CHANCE TO SECURE LAND

Spokane, Aug. 10.—At the last council of Indians on the south half of the Coeur d'Alene reservation, to be held in September, outside Indians will have their last chance to gain admission to the tribe by adoption and so obtain allotments of land on the reservation. As a result it is stated Indians are coming from British Columbia, front Oklahoma and from nearly all states west of the Rockies. This bargain, it is said, realizes that his once powerful nation is soon to be lost in the maelstrom of civilization. When he dies it is predicted the government will recognize no other chief.

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS

Commodore Faulds of the Northwest Tribune cruised down from Stevensville yesterday and spent the day in this port, waiting to meet Mrs. Faulds, who has been on an extended visit in the east. During the course that preceded the arrival of the commodore, which brought Mrs. Faulds home, the commodore visited as many of his Missoula friends as he had time to call upon. As usual, he had much to say that was interesting to the friends of the Bitter Root country. "The season is fine all through the valley," said the commodore. "I have ended my vacation and have gone to work at the old stand and I remain pretty good to have my hand on the job once more, even if it was pleasant to roam about and feel that there was no particular care upon my shoulders. I feel that I am in touch with the valley and its people once more and I am enjoying the work." The yield in the valley this year will be surprising, even to those who are accustomed to the big crops up our way. There has been great development in all parts of the valley and some Stevensville was not behind in the procession."

TAKES NEW POSITION.

Helena, Aug. 10.—J. T. McLaughley, for a number of years connected with various western railroads, has been appointed and today assumed his duties as assistant general freight and passenger agent for the Great Northern, with headquarters in this city.

"WHITEY'S" CHARM

Everybody in western Montana knows "Whitey" Watson, but not so many are wise to the fact that "Whitey" has a not-to-be-surpassed way of keeping babies in good humor. Last evening Mr. Watson was at the Grand Hotel there for the third time in two days to hear Arthur Deming, who has brought to Missoula one of the cleverest monologues heard in a long time. In front of Mr. Watson was seated a proud and happy father, a young man with luxuriant hair. A conservative estimate says that the parent could stuff several Ostermoors were he to have his locks shorn. Now the baby of course one couldn't have told that the man was a parent if the child hadn't been in his arms—was tired of the show and began to fret, you know how—"Wa-a-a-ah"—and would be consoled only when its progenitor would let it—once really couldn't tell, you know—bury its fists in his hair and "Yo, heave" to beat creation.

After a certain amount of this, Papa had his money's worth and the child began once more to "Wa-a-a-ah." Here is where "Whitey" sat in the lane and saved the bankroll. Attracting the infant's attention with a particularly beaute smile, he lowered his head and the delighted little one made one wild hoopy grab for his hair, on the glazed top of Mr. Watson the baby's hand alighted with a crack that made the house turn around, struggled for a second for a hold and then slipped. The child gazed in amazement at this new manifestation of the wonders of nature and then succumbed to reverent awe. Not until the performance was over did the wise one's courteous resolver and the reliability of "Whitey" charm had been properly demonstrated. The next time that child tries to pull the hair of the genial old urban Mr. Watson it should wear sandpaper gloves.

A NEW RECORD

Traveling Freight Agent Mortimer of the Northern Pacific was a Missoula visitor yesterday. There are always so many things to attend to when he comes to Missoula that he had to cut just the high places in getting about town during the day. He did, however, find time to take a bit with a Missoulian man. "The Northern Pacific established a new passenger record in July," said he. "Not only did we make a great record on the Rocky Mountain division, but we eclipsed all previous performances on the entire system. Every bit of double track that we have in use came in mighty handy and was a great help in handling the business of the month. August is starting off well and the outlook all over the system is splendid. We are much pleased with the way Missoula business is showing up; it shows that the city is growing and that it is getting into the class of our best towns. Missoula has everything to entitle it to position in this class and it is going well up toward the top of the list."
