CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN In the eye of the hunter, the hold-diver is not much for duck. If a man were to return from a hunting trip and present you with a brace of this variety of duck, you would regard his friendship with a good deal of suspicion. But there were three of these birds of peculiar construction that, yesterday, afforded a good many people considerable entertainment and, in the end, succumbed to man's innate destructiveness. Where they came from nobody was able to tell; the first that was seen of these three birds was as they were swept over the rifle at the head of the north channel of the river yesterday forenoon, paddling with all their might against the current but losing all the time in the contest, their strength being unequal to the force of the stream. They were young birds and were not able to fly, but they could dive like old folks and their antics amused a crowd which was at times 50 in number, standing on the bridge in the rain, watching the little birds as they struggled against the inevitable. Yard by yard, the hold-divers were swept down the stream, yielding stubbornly to the force of the wash against them, until they struck water back of John Schloegel's place where it was comparatively quiet. Then they made a brace and went up stream, only to get caught in the current and to be swept back down toward the bridge. They stuck together but they could not hold out, they would dive and swim under water and they would paddle like ferry boats on the surface, but down and down they went. For three hours a changing crowd watched the performance; then the little fellows were washed close to the bridge and fell victims to rocks thrown by boys who couldn't resist the temptation. There's evidently no limit to the resources of Missoula, and a stranger as he watched the killing of ducks in the city limits.

WHITEY PREPARES FOR BARBECUE LABOR DAY CHEF MAKES READY FOR BIG FEED—BAND MUSIC A FEATURE. One of the principal features of Missoula's Labor day celebration is to be a barbecue, and yesterday afternoon "Whitey" Watson, who is to officiate in the role of chef, trekked out to Greenough park to turn the first sod in preparation. Armed with a pick and garbed in the clothes of a workman, "Whitey" started out, and before he returned there was a great pit ready for the two beets that are to be spitted over the "roaring fire" mentioned in the largest of the large posters the advertising committee has plastered all over the face of Montana. By Monday everything will be ready for the barbecuing of great quantities of beef, and there will be food for everybody. Another pleasant feature of September 6 will be the music incidental to the day. The Missoula band and the Missoula Junior band have been rehearsing new selections for some time, and their concert should be well worth while. Monday will really be the first public appearance of the Missoula Junior band, although several dances have been given by the organization. Those who know say that this band has made wonderful progress and that the city will have just cause to be proud of it. A "rule" being to be a comedy feature of the parade.

RUSSIA IS ANXIOUS FOR SLICE INVITES ROOSEVELT TO HUNT TO HUNT CROWN PRINCE OF ABYSSINIA WOULD HAVE AMERICAN SHOOT WHITE ELEPHANT. Berlin, Sept. 3.—Lidj Jeassu, the crown prince of Abyssinia, has invited Theodore Roosevelt to a great elephant hunt, promising to beat up a white elephant for him to kill, and otherwise to arrange a splendid sporting program. This news has been brought into Berlin by Adolf Mayer, a kinsman of King Menelik of Abyssinia, who has arrived here with a commission from the Abyssinian government to purchase supplies. King Menelik sent an invitation to Mr. Roosevelt at Washington to be his guest, but Mr. Roosevelt declined, explaining that as he had refused the invitations of several European sovereigns he could not make an exception of King Menelik, however much he might desire to do so. It was then arranged that the crown prince should invite Mr. Roosevelt unofficially. Before Mayer left Abyssinia, a commission had been sent to hand this invitation to Mr. Roosevelt, wherever it could find him, and King Menelik was hopeful that the former president of the United States would accept the invitation.

CONTRIBUTES MONEY TO THE CAUSE THOMAS F. WALSH GIVES MONEY TO SCHOOL OF MINES FOR EXPERIMENTS. Denver, Sept. 3.—Interest in the production of radium has in a few days exceeded the most sanguine expectations of Thomas F. Walsh, who recently contributed $5,000 to the Colorado School of Mines for the purpose of testing free of cost all samples of pitch blend sent to the school. Mr. Walsh in a statement issued today expressed his gratitude to the Associated Press and newspapers for the publicity given this effort to arouse interest in the production of radium. Regarding pitch blend Mr. Walsh says: "So far pitch blend has been found in gold and silver sulphide veins. It looks like magnetic iron and has great specific gravity with the lustrous black of gun metal." Referring to the demand for specimens, he concluded: "Letters are pouring in, not only from our own state, but from all the mining states of the west, asking for information and specimens. As it may not be possible to send such specimens to all applicants now, next of the interested parties in Colorado will be supplied first. After that our sister states and territories will be supplied as far as possible."

A NATURAL BRIDGE DISCOVERED IN UTAH Salt Lake, Sept. 3.—Spanning 274 feet and over 200 feet high, a natural bridge said to be the largest known, has been discovered by a party of members of the Utah Archeological society which has just returned from an expedition along the Colorado river in northern Arizona and southern Utah. It is located four miles north of the Arizona line in the state of Utah six miles east of the Colorado river. On the top of the bridge were found imbedded several fossils of remarkable size, indicating the presence in earlier times of giant animal life. The party brought back with them photographs of the wonderful work of nature, as well as a collection of rare pottery and baskets used by the cliff dwellers centuries ago.

READY FOR SCHOOL. San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 3.—With the school opening season not far off this city is preparing for a great influx of boys and girls from every part of the state and Mexico. A very large number of pupils from points in the United States outside of Texas are also expected. Last year's scholastic population of San Antonio numbered over 12,000. According to figures furnished by the many private institutions this number will be augmented for the present year by at least 2,000. A larger number than ever is coming from Mexico. Better class Mexicans who wish their children trained in the most modern sense of the word have for a long time looked on San Antonio as the logical place where this can be accomplished. In the first place there is a large and cultured colony of Mexicans here, and then the distance from the Mexican border is not too great.

GOODS ARE RUSHED INTO THE COUNTRY Washington, Sept. 3.—During the few months prior to August 5 when President Taft signed the new tariff law, exporters to this country almost doubled their shipments on many articles on which a rise in duty was anticipated under the Payne bill. The imports of principal articles for the seven months ending July, 1909, is shown in detail in a statement issued by the bureau of statistics, embracing also comparisons with figures of the corresponding months of last year. The largest importations which were rushed into profit by the operation of the old Dingley law, comprised hides, raw silk, unmanufactured wool, cotton laces, linens, crude India rubber and copper. The value of the principal articles imported during the seven months period on which figures were compiled were: Sugar, $68,000,000; hides and skins, $2,500,000; coffee, $4,400,000; raw silk, $12,300,000; crude India rubber, $29,500,000; unmanufactured wool, $26,100,000; cotton laces, $21,000,000; diamonds, $19,500,000; copper, pigs, bars, etc., $17,900,000; furs, $6,400,000; silk laces, $3,500,000. Chief among the increases over the same period last year were: Hides and skins, $2,500,000; unmanufactured wool, $26,100,000; diamonds, $19,500,000; India rubber, $17,000,000; raw silk, $11,000,000; cotton laces, $7,000,000.
