MANY GOOD EVENTS SCHEDULED AT SPOKANE FAIR PROMISE TO BE GOOD.

HARNESS AND RUNNING RACES AT SPOKANE FAIR PROMISE TO BE GOOD.

Spokane, Sept. 12.—There are some class horses entered for harness and running events for the week's racing at the Spokane Interstate fair, September 20 to 25, for the $15,000 hung up in purses. On Monday there is the Traveling Men's selling stake, seven furlongs, for a $100 purse, two running races for $200 and $150 purses and the start of the Interstate Relay race for a $1,000 purse, two miles to be run every day of the week. Horses entered are: C. S. Turner's William T., in the 2:25 pace, and R. D. Allen's King Kassel, John McCormack's Northwest, J. V. Quigley's Light of Day and Zan-thus, owned by Waller & Thwaite.

Tuesday is Derby day, and there is a bunch of good entries to strive for the glory and the $1,000 purse. There is a 2:20 trot, in which are entered such good horses as John McCormack's Packline, E. H. Jones' Mayo, J. H. Fletcher's Jack Monroe and Ed Davis' La Corresta, and three running races. Wednesday shows four running races and a 2:15 pace, in which are entered good horses. Tuesday has four running races and a special harness event. Friday has a 2:20 pace, a special harness event and a couple of running races, besides the Chamber of Commerce Handicap. Saturday sees the farewell handi-caps, one mile, a special harness race and the finish of the Interstate Relay race.

For all of the latter-mentioned races, as well as the first, good purses are hung up, aggregating $15,000, and from the list of entries already received there is left no doubt that this year's will be the best racing yet seen in the northwest.

The principal characters in the great Biblical drama, "The Siege of Jericho," that will be produced every night at the fair are Joshua, the mighty Hebrew leader; Rahab, who betrays the city to the Israelites; Rahab's father and her mother, seven high priests of the Israelites and four ark bearers. To take the minor parts of soldiers, slaves, artisans, water carriers, guards, women and children, a troupe of 300 actors of experience in the peculiar form of drama are needed.

The ancient stronghold that guarded the entrance to the land of Canaan is erected by the Gregory company every day and destroyed every night. Three baggage cars of scenery are used and nearly three tons of fireworks, and the stage whereon is enacted the frightful tragedy is 300x300 feet.

From the time that the mighty hosts of Joshua appear before Jericho's frowning walls until the start and fatal conclusion of the siege there is action, portrayed with minute and historical accuracy, so far as the story of the siege is preserved in the Biblical and profane accounts. Water carriers are seen leading their donkeys from the River Jordan within the city walls, then the alarm is given as the Israelites appear and the siege starts. In enacting the siege the huge stores of fireworks are used to the great advantage. Flames are cast down by the defenders upon the besiegers, who are no less backward in using the weapon, in which the ancients were well versed; and when the walls crumble to the ground and the inhabitants of Jericho are given to the sword, the spectacle concludes with a display of pyrotechnics such as the ancients did not know of.

DRINKS GALLONS OF PURE ALCOHOL

New York, Sept. 12.—Eighteen whiskey flasks, which had contained, approximately, five gallons of the quantity of alcohol to be found in the "gas-house" district, were on the table in the little room on the top floor of No. 234 East Twenty-fifth street yesterday, when a policeman broke down the door and found Kate Williams dead on the floor. When she was taken to the morgue later and an autopsy performed, it was said she had consumed the entire five gallons within a few days.

MAKE BIG HAUL.

Pittsburg, Sept. 12.—The biggest diamond and jewel robbery, perhaps in the history of the country occurred in Pittsburg last spring, but the police are only now making it public. The value of the gems stolen amounts to $100,000, yet the police refuse to make known the name of the person robbed. They admit, however, that they are on the track of the man or men who stole one diamond valued at $10,000 and enough other jewelry and precious stones to total the $100,000. It is thought that the house, which is said to be situated just outside the city, was robbed last February, while the family was at home.

BIG PRICE PREDICTED.

Areola, Wis., Sept. 12.—Two hundred dollars a ton for broom corn is now predicted by men in the trade. Today farmers have refused $170 for broom corn in the field. The price last Tuesday was $100. Buyers are frantic, while the farmers are standing pat.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT FAIR

NINETY THOUSAND PERSONS PRESENT AT OPENING OF THE BIG EXHIBIT.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—Ninety thousand people opened Minnesota's annual state fair, which has grown enormously in exhibits, buildings and variety of attractions within the year. Minor Heir, the famous pacer, tried for the world's record without a windshield, but did not lower it, although covering the course in 2:01 3/4, a remarkable performance considering that the pacer went upon the track with a perceptible limp. Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota delivered the opening address and the first day's whirlwind celebration closed with a striking reproduction of the charge of the First Minnesota at Gettysburg, viewed by 47 old men, survivors of that famous regiment.

In all America only the great Toronto exhibition rivals the show now in progress in St. Paul. James A. Tawney, chairman of the house appropriations committee, was one of the most prominent of the first nighters and made a suggestion, which has been enthusiastically taken up, in declaring that a fair so great should not hold open for a single week, but should be a two weeks' exposition, and should be conducted along lines which have made the great American expositions so successful in drawing people from all the world.

Behind the opening of the fair is a story of record-breaking construction work duplicated but once in the United States. The last state legislature appropriated funds for the construction of a huge new steel and concrete grandstand. Owing to various delays the breaking of the ground was so long deferred that expert engineers declared that the structure could not be completed in time for this year. George J. Grant of St. Paul thought otherwise and took the contract subject to the delivery of the completed structure ready for occupancy on the opening day. Nine thousand barrels of cement, 8,000 barrels of gravel, 1,000 tons of structural steel, and a forest of timbers for false work were used by enormous construction crews working day and night. The building is complete in every detail and was ready the night before the opening. Thirteen thousand people occupied it the following morning. It is 105 feet high and cost $250,000.

Among the attractions is a Swedish village, brought from Sweden intact, an Iroquois village and band of natives, a Chippewa Indian village from far northern Minnesota and a mile of Midway amusements. The fair remains open a week and a total attendance of 600,000 is looked for.

SWIMMER RUN DOWN BY A STEAMBOAT

New York, Sept. 12.—As the steamboat Richard Peck entered the pilot channel of Hell Gate, the pilot sighted in mid-channel, and struggling with the eddies, a swimmer, who was afterward found to be Robert J. Douglass of Astoria. As the channel was too narrow for the steamboat to be turned aside, and the current too swift for her to stop, the pilot was confronted by the alternative of running down the swimmer. He sounded the alarm whistle, but Douglass was unable to get out of the way and was run down and drowned. Douglass had served in the navy and had gained a reputation as a swimmer. He had an ambition to cross Hell Gate at that time of the tide and was attempting the feat when he lost his life.

CONFESSES A CRIME CHARGED TO ANOTHER

New York, Sept. 12.—Henry Greenberg, now serving sentence of 20 years in Dannemora prison for burglary in this city, has made a statement in which he confesses to having committed the crime for which Louis Goldberg is now serving a life sentence in Sing Sing. Goldberg, who comes from a good family, was convicted of burglary in this city last February, and, as it was his second offense, the law required that he be sentenced to life imprisonment. Greenberg, in his statement from Dannemora prison, declares that Goldberg is innocent and that he committed the crime of which Goldberg was convicted. Attorneys for the Goldberg family are investigating and it is possible that they will ask for a new trial.

A COUSIN OF THAW'S ANSWERS CITATION

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Miss Frances Rush, former wife of Charles Harper Thaw, a cousin of Harry K. Thaw, appeared in the debtors' court Friday in answer to a citation on a $120 judgment for jewelry purchased by her.

Miss Rush declared that she had not a dollar left from the $75,000 settlement she received from Mr. Thaw at the time of the divorce, two years ago. She declared $35,000 went to her attorney. The rest of the money, she said, she spent traveling and in betting on horse races.

Miss Rush said she had spent, or helped to spend, about $500,000 in her life.

RETURNS TO AMERICA FROM HIS MISSION

New York, Sept. 12.—After having spent the last 10 months speaking for the cause of Christianity in European universities, John R. Mott has returned to this country. Mr. Mott, who is the senior secretary of the foreign department of the International Y. M. C. A., and general secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, said:

"Bible study has a greater place today than ever before in many universities. When I was in college we had a Bible class of 40 at Cornell. Today there are about 500 studying the Bible, yet they call Cornell a Godless institution. Down at Yale there are about 1,000 studying the Bible. The state universities in the west do even better. We now have about 7,000 students of the Bible in colleges, all connected with our federation. I can remember when we had only 2,000."
