CAUGHT ON THE RUN ABOUT TOWN Charles F. Dallman, who is the Missoula county director of the state fair, yesterday morning received a telegram from Secretary Martin at Helena instructing him to name 10 Missoula county men to represent this section of the state upon the committee, which is to receive President Taft when he visits Helena. The instructions were that the committee must be chosen outside the county commissioners and others who will be ex officio members of the committee. Mr. Dallman consulted a number of the business men of the city and made these selections, all of the appointees agreeing to go to Helena and participate in the president's reception: Frank Cannon, A. L. Stone, Andrew Logan, Fayette Harrington, Dan Arms, Dan H. Ross, C. H. McLeod, J. M. Keith, C. L. Kellogg, James M. Rhoades. The list was forwarded last night to Secretary Martin and it is expected that the committee will accompany the local officials who are to take part in the reception ceremony September 27.

A GOOD CHOICE Dr. Ward, the resident veterinarian, yesterday received from Dr. Knowles of Helena the appointment of assistant state veterinarian, the service under the appointment to begin at once. Dr. Ward, who has been a resident of Missoula for several months, is one of the best-known veterinarians in the country; his service in Chicago and the central states has been extended and he has been connected with some of the most important veterinary investigations in Chicago. Dr. Ward is a graduate in medicine as well as a veterinarian, and his appointment is certain to strengthen the department of which Dr. Knowles is the head. He has given special attention to tuberculosis in cattle and is an enthusiast regarding the work of the health departments in preventing disease. He entered yesterday upon the performance of his new official duties as soon as he received his commission. The appointment is important, as it places a resident of Missoula upon the state staff of the veterinary department.

SIDE TALK It is interesting to listen, these days, to the talk on the beaches, as the crowd, basking in the bright September sunshine, watches the work on the Higgins avenue bridge. There is always a good representation in the line that inspects the work from the avenue and the temporary bridge, and the comment that is heard amongst the onlookers has taken on a very different tone during the last few days. The verdict of these critics of the beachers is all favorable these days. A fortnight ago it was very caustic, but the bridge looks better to them, now that it is assuming shape, and they are getting enthusiastic. "I knew it would be a good bridge," said one of them yesterday afternoon. "All along I have said that all the trouble was that the work was too slow, and you see that I was right. That is a real bridge, and all of the work is good; you can't get away from that. There was never anything wrong but the speed, and that is all right now; the work is fine and I am sure that you won't have a chance to watch it much longer. But we'll soon be able to walk over. That bridge, and that will help some." That is the way it goes all day. The work that is being done this week is speedy and the results are apparent. There was nothing but commendation yesterday from the beachers.

OUR BOB Bob Mentrum spent yesterday in his old ballwick; he was on his way home to Anaconda, after having spent several days at Seattle in attendance upon the meeting of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' association. He also visited other coast cities to inspect the fire departments and says he had an interesting and instructive time. "It was the best meeting I ever attended," said Bob yesterday. "There was no time even to go out to the fair. Every hour of the day was spent in the business of the association. I learned a good deal and I found out, also, that we little fellows know something about the game, after all. We had some fine demonstrations by the Seattle department, but what interested me more than anything else was the work and equipment of the Canadian departments in Vancouver and Victoria. They have automobile apparatus entirely, and they make some of the fastest runs that I ever saw. They get away with 200 feet of hose in the box, while the horse-drawn wagons carry only 100 feet and they get to a fire and have their hose laid well under way. At one of the stations a man on a motorcycle carried two extinguishers and was at the fire and at work before the big equipment got there. In small fires he handles the whole thing, many times. It is great work and I believe the automobile will supplant the horses entirely in fire department work. The Canadians are also good in their ladder work. They do not handle their tall ladders as we do at all, but they get them up in quick time and their system has some advantages. I never had a more profitable or instructive trip."

BIG AUDIENCE SEES BIG SHOW A THOUSAND PEOPLE SEE THE PERFORMANCE OF "POLLY OF THE CIRCUS." Seldom has the Missoula public had the opportunity of seeing as good a play as well presented as "Polly of the Circus" at the Harnois theater last night. A remarkable drama, carried by an able cast, and aided by the best of scenic effects, it carried the audience by storm, and no play so far this season has been accorded such a reception as was given "Polly of the Circus." From start to finish the show was a good one, and repeated curtain calls and prolonged applause—even a bit too prolonged—showed the way in which the audience appreciated it. "Polly" herself won the hearts of the thousand people who saw her, and if Miss Mabel Taliaferro carried the part of the "circus-rider" any better than did her successor, Miss Ida St. Leon, she was deserving of all the praise which the eastern public gave her. Sweet and charming, Polly controlled her audience at all stages of the game, and her acting through the whole show was of a higher order than has been seen in Missoula in many a day. Earl Ryder, as the "Rev. John Douglas," upheld his part of the play in fine shape, as did, in fact, every member of the cast. "Uncle Toby," the old clown, made a strong impression on his audience, and Harry Lane, the man who carried the part, won a lot of well-deserved applause in his scene. The scenery was another strong feature in the play's success. The circus tent was one of the most realistic bits of the stage decorator's art which has ever been shown here. Clowns, tumblers and acrobats with their animals and equipment gave the big circus scene an atmosphere, and the whole thing was brought to a climax in the last scene when the moving over the hills away from the deserted show lot. The whole show was a success, and if "Polly of the Circus" ever comes this way again she may be sure of a royal welcome.

DRUMMOND GIRL HIT BY TRAIN MISS SUSSIE WALDBILLIG LOSES LEG IN ACCIDENT NEAR HER HOME.

Special to The Daily Missoulian. Drummond, Mont., Sept. 16.—Miss Sussie Waldbillig, the daughter of a prominent Drummond rancher, and brakeman Patrick S. Burke of the Northern Pacific were badly injured this afternoon when the rig in which Miss Waldbillig was riding was struck by work train 1293 near this place. The accident occurred at about 6 o'clock. The work train had just pulled in on the main track westbound and was maneuvering to get onto the east-bound passing track. To do this requires considerable switching, during which the road crossing must be passed twice in quick succession. It was just after the train had passed the road crossing for the first time that the accident occurred. Miss Sussie Waldbillig and her small brother and sister were returning from a day's shopping in town, and seeing the train pass over the crossing and stop, attempted to drive the rig over the track, the backing train hitting the rig squarely and smashing it to kindling wood. The little girl, seeing the approaching train, jumped to safety, but Miss Waldbillig and her little brother were caught by the train and pinned between the wreckage of the buggy. Brakeman Burke, who was on the rear of the train, seeing the accident coming, jumped in between the car and the buggy and threw on the airbrakes. It was too late, however, and the brakeman, not quick enough to avoid the collision, was caught between the car and the buggy and injured internally. Miss Waldbillig's right leg was crushed under the rear truck of the car and was badly smashed near the ankle. The little boy who was with her escaped, luckily, with but a few scratches. The injured pair was taken to Missoula on a special train and placed in St. Patrick's hospital. Dr. Parkman, the Northern Pacific's surgeon here, accompanied them. Miss Waldbillig is the daughter of John Waldbillig, one of the oldest settlers in Drummond. She is but 16 years of age. Both Are Better. The surgeons at St. Patrick's hospital found it necessary to amputate Miss Waldbillig's leg below the knee last night, but she was reported recovering easily after the operation. Burke was taken to the company hospital and had nearly recovered from the shock last night. He is a resident of Missoula.

His capture was effected by two miners living near who suspected him by his manner, actions and appearance. Tuesday morning they went to the old mining cabin where he was stopping and met him coming out. He was brought to Libby last evening.

Berlin, Sept. 16.—Orville Wright returned here today from Frankfurt, where he made a trip in the Zeppelin III dirigible balloon. Speaking of his sensation, he said that ballooning did not compare with the flight of an aeroplane, in the sense of power over the elements or the exhilaration from rapidity of motion. There will be a meeting of the Mountaineers on Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN WILL RECEIVE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO GIVE RECEPTION IN HONOR OF VISITING TEACHERS.

The joint institute of the public school teachers of Missoula and Ravalli counties, which will convene in this city on Monday and last until Wednesday evening, promises to be of unusual interest. Mrs. Pearl T. Marshall, superintendent of schools in Missoula county, and Miss Nora Smithey, at the head of the Ravalli county schools, are sparing no efforts to make the meeting a success. Secretary Erbert of the Missoula Chamber of Commerce stated last evening that the business men would be willing to co-operate with the ladies of the Women's club in a reception to be given the visiting teachers in the rooms of the Missoula club in the First National Bank block on Monday evening. Plans are well under way for this entertainment, and the high school orchestra is expected to be one of the principal entertainers of the evening. Besides selections by the orchestra there will be solos by well-known vocalists.

DR. BREEDEN PREACHES TO LARGE AUDIENCE Another large audience greeted Dr. H. O. Breeden at the Christian church last night and listened with rapt attention to his able sermon on "The Wages of Sin." It was a heart-searching sermon and made a profound impression upon those who heard. H. S. Saxton rendered most effectively "The Bird With a Broken Pinion." In response to the invitation a number presented themselves for membership in the church. Tonight Dr. Breeden will answer the question, "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" On Sunday afternoon he will address men alone at the Harnois theater, on which occasion H. S. Saxton will have the assistance of the University Glee club. At night, at the same place, a great union meeting will be held, when the subject of the sermon will be "The Divinity of Christ."

For the last eight years he had been following mining at Clinton, where, at the time he was taken ill, he was foreman of the Cape Nome mine. He was a member of the local order of Eagles, the Scandinavian Brotherhood and the Miners' union. He leaves no relatives in this country, but is known to have two married sisters in Norway.
