BIG ORANGE ORCHARD TO BE PLANTED

HARVEY C. STILES TO SET OUT FORTY THOUSAND TREES IN TEXAS.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 17.—Harvey C. Stiles of Raymondville, Tex., one of the jurors on horticulture at the St. Louis World's fair, and editor of the Industrial Mexicanas, has just completed arrangements for the planting of the largest orange orchard in Texas. Mr. Stiles owns a property of several thousand acres, The Palms, in the lower Rio Grande valley, and on this orchard will be located. The fruit selected by him is the Satsuma orange. Forty trees to the acre will be set out, making a total of 40,000 trees for the tract.

Mr. Stiles will also set out 60,000 grafted pecan trees on his property, covering at least 1,500 acres. Only the best varieties, coming under the general classification of paper shells, will be planted by him.

The planting of orange and pecan groves has recently been undertaken very extensively in southwest Texas. About 10,000 acres have been planted with orange trees within the last few years. Only 50 acres, however, are at this time bearing fruit. Within the coming year the acreage will be increased to at least 20,000 acres, and southwest Texas will then be in a position to enter the fruit market of the United States strongly. The variety grown as a rule is the Satsuma orange. Its fine flavor and the ability of the tree to withstand light frosts make it the best tree for these parts. Another advantage in selecting the Satsuma is the fact that it is an early fruit, coming into the market when the groves of California and Florida are not yet in a position to supply ripe oranges.

The climate and soil of southwest Texas have, as far as the North American continent is concerned, practically insured a monopoly to these parts in the growing of pecans. The pecan nut is a native of southwest Texas, and along the river banks and in the flats it is found in a wild state. The efforts of arboriculturists to reduce the growth of wood in the tree and convert the energy thus saved into nuts have been very successful, and a tree bearing about nine times the number of nuts in proportion to the wood as compared with the wild species has been produced. Incidentally, the size of the nuts, as well as their flavor, has greatly benefited by the process. There are now some 14,000 acres planted with pecans, though only a very small number of trees are mature enough to bear. Reliable authorities are of the opinion that within the next two years at least 45,000 acres will be planted with pecans. Like practically every other wood derived from nut trees, that of the pecan is very useful, its beautiful grain and susceptibility to a very high polish making it a first-class material for high-type woodwork.

NEWS OF THE MINES.

Spokane, Sept. 17.—The Q. S. Mining company, which owns 20 claims, 18 miles, a waterpower right and sawmill in Okanogan county, Washington, decided at its annual meeting in Spokane to erect a custom smelter near the Q. S. mine as soon as transportation facilities are provided to take machinery and supplies in and the products out of the camp. These officers were elected: President and general manager, Colonel A. M. Devey, Spokane; vice president, M. L. Bevis, Spokane; secretary, A. M. Polk, Concomly; assistant secretary, J. W. Shipman, Spokane; treasurer, E. J. Hyde, Spokane; directors, Herman Linker and Milton N. Rogers of Spokane, E. H. Thatcher of Republic and H. W. Gilford of Loomis. President Devey announced that the company had ample capital, available immediately, to erect the building and equip a modern smelting plant, adding that this will be done as soon as means of transportation are provided, either by electric or steam railroad. He is at the head of a company which has plans ready for an electric line between Nighthawk and Brewster, Wash., 15 miles, and it is given out that work will begin next spring. If not during the early winter, the bonds for the project have been taken over by a syndicate of French capitalists.

The old Republic Mining company has been incorporated at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, with a capital stock of $5,000,000 to do mining, milling and smelting. The officers are: President, W. L. Benham, Seattle; vice president, E. C. McDonald, Spokane; assistant secretary, E. W. La Veine, Coeur d'Alene; treasurer, A. Stark Oliver, Spokane. The other incorporators are: G. H. Kester, James A. Borden and M. J. O'Neill. Offices will be maintained at Montreal, Spokane, Coeur d'Alene. Of the capital stock the incorporators take 2,500 shares each. W. W. Redhead, as trustee, takes 2,541,196 shares, and E. C. McDonald, also as trustee, takes 2,332,333 shares.

The True Fissure Mining company elected these officers at Wallace, Idaho: William Trentowsky, Gem, president; W. W. Hart, Wallace, vice president; George Bailey, Spokane; secretary; Peter Sjolander of DeBorgia and John Wood of Gem, directors. John Lefevre was re-elected manager. More than $25,000 has been spent in developing the property, which is located near Saltese, Mont. A fine showing of ore was made in the upper workings, and to tap the body at depth a 200-foot crosscut tunnel has been driven. With the cutting of the ledge a drift was started to get under the ore. It has 300 feet to go to give 1,000 feet of depth and a large amount of stoping ground.

The Success mine on Nine Mile in the Coeur d'Alenes is shipping ore to the smelter, and it is announced that consignments will go out regularly. During the days before the financial crisis resulted in lowering the market

MARKET MOVEMENTS OF THE DAY

What is declared to be one of the richest strikes of silver-lead ore reported in British Columbia was made in the Copper mountain section of the Shulkamoen district. Samples containing lead sulphides and iron oxides assayed 60 per cent lead, 28 ounces silver and $1.60 in gold. The ledge has been exposed at intervals for 500 feet by open cuts. The lowest exposure in the gulch would give a depth of 150 feet with 100 feet additional to be obtained by stripping and a tunnel driven on the ledge.

J. E. Tuttle, Jr., creditor to the extent of $1,768.56, has filed a petition in the Spokane superior court asking the appointment of a receiver for the Montana Scotch Bonnet Copper & Gold Mining company. A judgment was secured in King county against the company for $1,145 in September, 1906, but was not paid. The judgment was renewed by a suit in the district court of Montana last June, and now amounts to the sum named in this action. The only assets of the company, it is alleged, are several unpatented mining claims in Park county, Montana, of uncertain value, and in addition to the judgment the company has more than $5,000 of other debts.

The Bluebird property, near Rossland, B. C., is to be developed by sinking shaft that is expected to tap four or five producing veins within the boundary lines. The greatest depth reached so far is 25 feet. Five veins with a maximum width of four feet have produced 10 cars of $20 ore, net, from the smelter. One car of carbonates yielded 27 1/2 tons. The Canadian government has paid $10 royalty on the lead contents of each car. I. C. Carter of Spokane is president and manager of the company operating the property.

Six feet of zinc ore has been opened in the Iron Mountain Mining company's tunnel near Superior, Mont. The bins are filled and preparations are being made to ship the ore in its crude state to the smelters at Columbia, Ohio. The property was formerly known as the Iron Mountain mine, and paid more than $500,000 in dividends from the shipment of lead-silver ore mined from a parallel vein less than 40 feet away.

W. H. Heath of Spokane has taken a crew of eight men to Alaska to develop a group of 20 claims on Willow creek. They will pass the winter in the northland. Samples of ore assayed here by C. M. Fessett run as high as $22,000. The property is owned entirely by Spokane men. A. A. Lyden has been prospecting the claims for the past two years, and everything is now ready to begin development work.

The British Columbia Copper company has bonded three more claims in the Kamloko district. These are the Irene, Sunset and Shamrock claims, adjoining the Bonanza group. The company secured bonds on 23 claims in the camp in a week. The veins on these three new claims will average $20 a ton in all values.

The Alaska Exploration company has been incorporated in Spokane with a capital stock of $1,500,000, and J. C. Parsons as secretary, to develop properties in the Cook Inlet country. Conrad Wolfe of Spokane, manager of the United Mining company, announces a strike of ore on its property near Chewelah, Wash. Work was resumed on this property two weeks ago after a close-down of several months. The ore was found on the 100-foot level, and the body is reported to be heavier and richer than any previous strikes made on the mine. Three machine drills are being worked and the company is making small shipments to the Granby smelter. The grade for the railway spur to the mine is completed, and the company will soon be able to make large shipments. The company has started work on a 2,000-foot tunnel to tap the ore bodies at depth.

The Swastika Mining & Milling company, controlled by eastern capital, has taken over 12 claims on Lake Pend d'Oreille, most of them lying near Lakewview on the Coeur d'Alene divide, and will develop them extensively. The transfer of the claims was made through J. M. Ferguson of the Princess Panama Mining & Milling company, who succeeded in interesting the buyers on his eastern trip. It is given out that the company will install a concentrator at Stannicht, Idaho, to handle its ores. A 2,000-foot tunnel will be started immediately, which gives promise of opening up large bodies of ore. Assays of the ores taken from the claims show galena values intermingled with gray galena running from $10 to $300 a ton. The claims are 2,900 feet above sea level.

One ton of zinc ore has been shipped from the Montana Standard property, 10 miles east of Burke, Idaho, to the reduction works at Poplin, Mo., where it will be tested. It also purposed to ascertain a better method for its treatment to save the lead and zinc contents of the ore. After the proper methods have been found, machinery to handle it will be installed and regular shipments will be made. Several zinc experts from Missouri have inspected the property and will make a report as to the method of treatment.

Remarkably rich copper ore has been found on the St. Lawrence group of claims near Saltese, Mont., owned by Messrs. Finch & Campbell of Spokane, and Angus and Daniel Euthland of Wallace, Idaho. More than a car of ore which will average 42 per cent copper to the ton is in the dump. Some of the ore goes as high as 60 per cent copper and the copper glance runs as high as 79 per cent. The ledge had an average width of 16 feet and has been drifted upon for a distance of 1,200 feet.

New York, Sept. 17.—Speculation in stocks moderated its pace today, presumably in compliance with suggestions from those who hold the purse-strings. With an actual surplus reserve last Saturday of less than $1,000,000, the sub-treasury had absorbed enough by the middle of the week to leave the percentage of reserve below legal requirements, unless a scaling down of deposit liabilities had been effected in the meantime by a loan contraction. The summary of the week's currency movement shows the sub-treasury reduced its aggregate withdrawal for the week by yesterday's operations, leaving the total at $5,400,000. Foreign money markets gave additional evidence today of the effect of this process. Discounts in London again advanced. The action of the market today proved that cautious reduction of outstanding commitments was going on. St. Paul was picked out for operations on a rising price movement to afford a sustaining force in the market. The recovery from its early decline in Reading served the same purpose. The spurt in Reading was responsible for the strong closing at the day's highest point.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $4,378,000. United States 4s, registered, advanced 1/4 per cent on call.

Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—The presence on the floor of the board of trade of visiting delegations from various exchanges throughout the country, who were here to attend a grain men's convention, distracted materially from interest in trading today and prompted a shortening of the session by a half hour. Liquidation of September holdings by a leading long was the feature of trading in the wheat pit. Liberal receipts in the northwest have the principal bearish factors. The range for December wheat was between 87 1/2c and 92c. The market closed weak at the lowest point. Cots were firm at the outset but soon weakened in sympathy with the

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Bayless, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick and coughed all the time, and if I did not have consumption it was near to it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar and it stopped my cough, and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar." The Long, Dark Evenings Are Coming

Those cosy evenings at the fireside with a book for company. That sounds comfortable, doesn't it? It will not prove so, however, unless you have good light—and, of course, that means electric light. Your living room should have at least one high-efficiency tungsten lamp in it—the lamp which doubles your light without increasing your light bills. As soon as we are established in our new offices in the Masonic Temple building we shall carry the new tungsten lamp in stock for sale to our customers at cost price.
