MOVED

Into Our New Store—First Door North of Old Store Room. Our business grew too large for the old store. We invite our friends and customers to call and see us.

Yesterday was clearly the day of B. G. Morris. Those who participated in the booster banquet of the night before were enthusiastic in their praise of his efforts in arranging the affair and in bringing it to such a successful conclusion. Many of the guests at the banquet took occasion to call upon Mr. Morris and express their appreciation, in addition to the formal vote which was extended to him at the banquet. The result was that Mr. Morris' office in the Savoy hotel was the scene of a soiree all day. But the appreciation was not one-sided. Mr. Morris did quite as well pleased as I am over the way the booster banquet turned out," said Mr. Morris yesterday to a Missoulian man. "I believe everybody was satisfied, and that means a great deal to me. I had some hesitation in taking up the matter, but I am sure my motive was not misinterpreted, and the visits that I have had today have made me feel more appreciative than ever of the courteous treatment I have been accorded."

With the honk of their automobile and the chug of their motor, Charles E. Dorman and Charles F. Dallman pulled out yesterday morning for the Bitter Root, boosting for the apple show. Soon a streak of dust and a whiff of gasoline were all that remained of their entourage and they whirred along the road to the south. The apple show managers had met earlier in the day and had awarded the contract for the construction of the booths for the show to H. P. Kirkby. This left President Dorman free to accompany Booster Dallman, instead of going up on the train in the afternoon and uniting forces at Hamilton. The two apple show boosters went prepared for an aggressive campaign, and it is a safe prediction that they will bring back pledges of large exhibits and many of them. They are a strong team and it was their plan to yoke up with J. O. Read at Hamilton and sweep the valley for the best of everything to be shown at the big show. "You bet, we'll get 'em." This was the parting call of Dallman, and Dorman echoed it.

RICH ORE

Charles E. Schmitz of the Copper-Smith Mining company has been among the visitors in Missoula this week. Mr. Schmitz brought with him this time some of the ore of the newest strike in the Copper-Smith and showed it to his friends, who had been prepared for something specially fine by the report of the discovery which was given in The Missoulian last week. The ore, however, exceeded their expectations and there is so much of it that it impresses those who are familiar with the property as being one of the best mining propositions ever produced in the lower valley. "We have a mine, as sure as you're alive," said Mr. Schmitz to a Missoulian man. "Here is the way the ore looks; you can see for yourself." Whereupon he handed out some of the rich rock and a magnifying glass. He certainly had the goods to show for quality and those who know the mine say that the statements which have been made as to the extent of the ore body are all conservative. "Work is going on at a good rate," said Mr. Schmitz, "and we are going to have a great mine."

A NEW MAYOR

It is Mayor Wilkinson now. Mayor Logan has gone to Davenport, Iowa, for a fortnight to visit with the blacksmiths of the nation, as represented by their delegates to the convention which is to be held there. In the meantime Mr. Wilkinson, as president of the council, takes up the staff of office and is now on the job. There is a good deal of business pending at present, which makes the job of mayor a busy one, and Mr. Wilkinson went home last night tired and ready to turn over the office to anybody who wanted it; there were no takers, however, and he will be there with the robes of office for the rest of Mr. Logan's absence. Mr. Wilkinson is a good deal better than a green hand at the job, as he has been on the work before. Yesterday he took up the work and there was no hitch; there were plenty of routine matters to keep him engaged and the city ran along as smoothly as if there had been no switch of mayors. And it will continue to do so.

LANE IS PLEASED

Managing Director T. S. Lane of the Independent Telephone company was in town yesterday on business connected with the affairs of his corporation. After looking over the work that has been done here, Mr. Lane said he was well pleased with the way things are going and he looked for the speedy completion of the local system. "We have not been served with any injunction here yet," said Mr. Lane. "That has been our experience in so many places that it seems strange to us sometimes when we get into a place where there is not a lot of complaint. We are going to have a model headquarters building here and the work of getting the system into shape is going on as fast as could be expected."

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF SUPERIOR RESIDENT—EULOGY IS DELIVERED.

Special to The Daily Missoulian. Superior, Oct. 6.—The funeral of James G. Wilkinson was held here today, interment being in the Superior cemetery. The services were held in the First M. E. church. The funeral services were unusually impressive. Mr. Wilkinson was known and beloved by hundreds in Superior and the vicinity and the hall was crowded. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. J. Lister, who took as the text of his eulogy the words, "Thou shalt be missed because thy seat will be empty." The choir rendered a number of beautiful selections during the services.

Mr. Wilkinson was born in Hometown, Penn., on May 31, 1847. He spent the early days of his life there, coming to Iron Mountain in 1891, where he lived until 1894, when he came to Superior.

He is survived by his wife, two sons and one daughter, all of whom live in Superior. He also leaves a brother, Robert, in Murray, Ill., and a sister, who is living in Pennsylvania. Respected and admired as he was by all who knew him, his death came as a shock to the community, although for the past year he has been a helpless sufferer with a deadly disease.

WEDDING BELLS RING IN HAMILTON

ERNEST S. HOLMES OF MISSOULA MARRIES MISS KATHRYN JENKINS—SOCIETY.

Special to The Daily Missoulian. Hamilton, Oct. 6.—Miss Kathryn M. Jenkins, a well-known young lady of the Bitter Root valley, was united in marriage here this morning by Rev. E. N. Cookcroft of the Episcopal church to Ernest S. Holmes of Missoula. The ceremony was witnessed by a few relatives and intimate friends of the contracting couple.

Mrs. Holmes is a popular young woman of the valley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jenkins of Florence. She will be remembered in Missoula, as she is a former resident of that city. A little over a year ago she was in an accident in which one young woman was killed when a gasoline speeder, on which a party of young people of Missoula were riding to their homes, but escaped with slight injuries. She was formerly a bookkeeper for John R. Daily and the South Side meat market. Mr. Holmes is well known and popular in the Garden city, where he has been employed for several years. He is bookkeeper for the Union meat market. The newly married will make their home in Missoula.

Mrs. Clements is Hostess. Mrs. J. S. B. Clements was hostess yesterday afternoon at an enjoyable Kensington at her home in Orchard Homes. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and at 5 o'clock a dainty luncheon was served.

Pleasant Surprise Party.

Mrs. Charles Lemley was pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening by a number of her friends and neighbors at her home in North Missoula. Cards were played until late in the evening, when delicious refreshments were served and prizes were awarded. The first prize, a handsome plate, was won by Mrs. Pulliam. Mrs. Belknap captured the second, a pretty vase, and Miss Blanche Pulliam was awarded the consolation, a leather pillow burned with an appropriate motto. About 35 guests were present.

Enjoyable Card Party.

One of the most enjoyable events of Wednesday was a card party given by Mrs. W. H. Smith at her home on West Pine street. Whist was played until 5 o'clock, when an appetizing luncheon was served. About 25 ladies were present to enjoy Mrs. Smith's hospitality.

Four Leaf Euchre Club.

The Four Leaf Euchre club was entertained by Mrs. Tyler B. Thompson at her home on East Front street on Wednesday afternoon. The fascinating game of five hundred was played and in the middle of the afternoon a tempting luncheon was served, after which cards were resumed until late in the afternoon.

Fraternity Dinner.

The monthly dinner of the Missoula Alumni chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity will be given at 6 o'clock this evening at the Florence hotel.

A CLASSIC

It is, perhaps, outside the province of a newspaper to speculate upon the probable life of a play—to attempt a prophecy as to the length of time popular demand will keep it on the stage. Still, in writing of "Paid in Full," it is difficult to refrain from promising to the four acts of the drama—for that is what the production really is—a long life, a successful career. "Paid in Full" is not new; it has visited Missoula twice—last season and last night—and that is evidence of its age, for it is rather far from Broadway to Missoula, and shows do not cross the continental divide in their early infancy. "Paid in Full" is not new, but is still good. The audience that witnessed its second production in Missoula last evening was as intensely concerned as that of a year ago, and indeed, everywhere throughout the United States the interest is maintained as strongly, for there are five companies on the road this season with "Paid in Full." Taking these facts into consideration, not to mention the strength and subtle beauties of the story, it is, perhaps, not too rash to think—and hope—that "Paid in Full" will become a classic of the American stage.

Of the play itself little need be said, for those who follow the stage know the story it tells. Of the cast that produced it, to the delight of a rather small audience at the Harmon theater last evening, nothing but good may be said. To Louis Morrell is due the credit of playing a disagreeable part in a perfect way, while Sara Perry must be commended for her cleverly capable acting of the part of the wife of the degenerate portrayed by Mr. Morrell. Of the other people in the cast, Charles Riegel, Rose Snyder, Catherine Tallman and Ned Finley, the work of the latter shows boldness and best.

YOUNG CHILD DIES.

Melvin B. the three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rice, died yesterday morning at the family home, 1600 Sherwood street, of acute gastritis. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the residence. Rev. Walter Lennie-Smith, pastor of the Episcopal church, officiating. Burial will be in the Missoula cemetery.

UNTER ADVISEMENT.

The trial of R. A. Paetke, alleged to be a vagrant, was concluded yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Small. Paetke is employed by a West Front street saloon to peddle beer. Justice Small will announce his decision this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

PIONEERS TO MEET NEXT MONTH

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MAKE EFFORT TOWARD SECURING NEW MATERIAL.

Judge W. Y. Pemberton, librarian of the State Historical and Miscellaneous library at the capital, in an interview today with a representative of the Record, expressed the desire that there be an exceptionally large attendance at the meeting of the Society of Sons and Daughters of Montana Pioneers.

"This meeting date," said Judge Pemberton, "corresponds with the day fixed by law as Pioneer day in the public schools of the state. The opportunity for recording the true history of Montana from the lips of those who were actual participants therein is rapidly passing, and I feel that it is incumbent upon the descendants of the pioneers to assist in the work. If there is a large and representative attendance at this meeting we can get the necessary machinery in motion, and it is almost a case of now or never."

GOOD CHEER FOLLOWS THIS CHURCH WEDDING

An interesting wedding of the week was the union of Chris Hermann of Thompson and Miss Mary Murphy of Missoula, which occurred at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Catholic church. Mr. Hermann is the son of the late Jacob Hermann, who was one of the best known of the pioneer settlers of western Missoula county. The bride is a young woman of Missoula, well known and highly regarded. The bride wore a blue broadcloth suit, with hat to match. Immediately after the wedding ceremony, breakfast was served at the Shepard, where a party of the intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann assembled to wish them great joy and to celebrate the happy occasion. Early in the afternoon the bridal pair left on the Northern Pacific for the coast, where they will spend several weeks with friends in Portland. At the conclusion of the honeymoon journey, Mr. and Mrs. Hermann will return to Montana, where their home will be at the Hermann farm, near White Pine. They have the best wishes of a host of friends in Missoula and elsewhere. Among the guests at the wedding was Mrs. Patrick Whalen of Thompson, sister of Mr. Hermann.

NONE THERE.

Mrs. Ring, who conducts the Union rooming house, on Railroad street, wishes the statement made that when the officers searched her house, the other night, for suspicious characters they found none. Mrs. Ring asserts that her establishment is a proper place, and the experience of the officers in their search indicates that her contention is correct.
