

DESIRE TO ARRANGE ARE MICROBES IN SCORE CARD YOUR SCALP?

PLANS ARE MADE TO GIVE RATING TO STANDARD VARIETIES OF APPLES.

IT HAS BEEN PROVED THAT MICROBES CAUSE BALDNESS.

Spokane, Oct. 7.—Plans are being made for a meeting of representatives from fruit growing districts in the United States and Canada during the Second National Apple show in Spokane, November 15 to 20, to arrange a score card which will include all the standard varieties of commercial winter apples and give them their proper rating.

Regarding this convention the Apple Show Bulletin will say in its forthcoming issue that it is conceded on all sides that no score card has yet been published which is fair at the present time, for the reason that during the last few years several varieties of apples have been brought to a state of perfection which entitles them to a new rating. Continuing, it says:

"Scoring values were suggested last year which gave each variety a full rating on quality. This plan, while commended by many exhibitors, was criticized by others, who insisted that proper recognition was not given to some high grade commercial apples. This year the trustees of the National Apple show invited all exhibitors to give their views upon improvements for the second show, and a majority of the exhibitors requested that the rules and scoring card of the American Pomological society be adopted.

"This was done, but it is now apparent that the quality ratings are not fair to several varieties, principally because such apples as the Winesap, Jonathan, Romp Beauty and others which are grown extensively in the northwest, are still under the ratings announced 12 years ago by the American Pomological society, when these varieties were not brought to the present state of perfection.

"There is question but what the American Pomological society should make a complete revision of its score card, but, unfortunately, that organization will not meet again until 1911. In the meantime the National Apple show will find it a most difficult problem to use a score card which will be fair to all districts.

"It is conceded that the rules of the American Pomological society are uniformly fair, but the quality ratings are not just. The rules specify that in making awards the judges shall first consider the value of the varieties for the purpose for which they may be adapted; second, color, size and uniformity of fruit; third, freedom from insects and other blemishes; fourth, pack.

"These rules meet universal approval, and it is reported that a score card has never been announced which would be fair to all apples and yet conform to the foregoing rules."

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the sebium, which is the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles, and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

Dandruff is a contagious disease, which is largely due to a destructive microbe, which when left to pursue its course causes itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Dandruff is caused by the microbe affecting the glands which produce the sebaceous matter, which latter then unnaturally dries up and scales off.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "32" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "32" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

Rexall "32" Hair Tonic is entirely free from grease or sediment, is exceedingly pleasant to use and will not gum the hair or permanently soil the clothing or pillows.

We exact no obligations or promises—we simply ask you to give it a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1. Remember, you can obtain it in Missoula only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Missoula Drug Co.

SETTLEMENT SECURED IN TAX PROPOSITION

St. Petersburg, Oct. 7.—The foreign ministry has announced the settlement of the dispute at Harbin between the German consul and the Russian authorities over the refusal of the proprietor of a German brewery to pay certain taxes.

The consul has added officially that the brewery has no claim to German protection, and, at his orders, the German flag has been taken down from the brewery. The general consul at Mukden has taken charge of the situation and proceedings have been begun against the German subjects for insulting Russian officials.

NOTES OF WALLACE

Special to The Daily Missoulian. Wallace, Oct. 7.—Steve Adams, twice tried for the murder of Fred Tyler in this county, in which crime he was implicated by the confessions of Harry Orchard, has divorced the wife who stood by him so faithfully during his trials and was married this week to Miss Bertha McFadden of Harrison, Adams was discharged after both juries had disagreed. He is now tending bar in Harrison.

Chicago stockholders in the Lucky Calumet property, headed by W. R. Jones, have written to the other stockholders of the company asking them not to pay the assessment of 3 cents levied by the directors until an investigation into the method of handling the funds of the company has been made by the committee appointed by Chicago persons interested. It is claimed no report has been made of the disposition of funds gained by the sale of treasury stock recently and the levying of a previous assessment, and that little development work has been done to give cause of expenditure of the money.

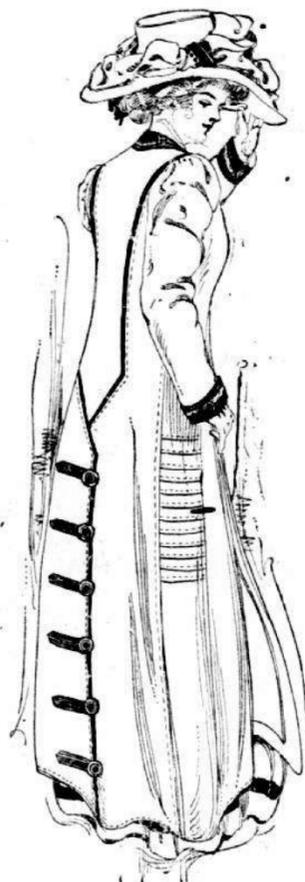

On the ground that George Heigh pulled a gun from his pocket simply to hand it to his father standing nearby and not to threaten Ben Carrigan, the probate judge has freed Heigh of the charge of exhibiting the gun with intention of frightening Carrigan.

The mining companies doing business in Shoshone county will pay taxes for 1909 on nearly half of the assessed valuation of the county. The assessed valuation of mining property and net profits of mining companies is $2,717,428, of which sum $2,488,000 is the total of net profits for 1908, on which the tax is levied. The total assessed valuation for the county this year is $7,822,733.

A new lease on life has been given the town of Eagle, often called "the birthplace of the Coeur d'Alenes," by the completion of the plant of the Eagle Lumber company. Eagle was the first town in the Coeur d'Alenes but has been dead a long while. The lumber plant employs 50 men and has a capacity of 40,000 feet a day. Vast tracts of white pine and red fir timber are tributary to the sawmill.

The Grandest Opportunity Missoula Women Ever Had Is Their's Now

Missoula women will be better dressed this season than ever before and the reason for it lies in this most unusual event which enables all women to buy better and more expensive apparel and millinery; yet without exceeding their predetermined expenditures.

Our Great Alteration-Removal Sale

This sale is a result of necessity, not choice, and in this Missoula women have played in wondrously good fortune. Here our entire new fall and winter stock of women's apparel and millinery is being sacrificed at the very beginning of the season to follow the extensive alterations now in progress here. Hardly a garment and not a hat in the great collection from which you may pick without reserve but is new this season, bought with the idea of lending attractiveness to the new department, which through delays in the manufacture of its sumptuous fittings was not ready to receive them. The styles you have to choose from are the best the country affords, varied enough to suit every taste, and in every instance is that unmistakable feature of Missoula Mercantile Co. quality.

IN THE THEATERS

The attraction at the Harnois theater tonight is "In Old Kentucky," the play that never grows old. The piece has reached the 17th year of its career on the American stage, and the end is not yet. It has never been withdrawn for a single season, and practically every playgoer in America must have seen it at some time or other, but nevertheless, it turns in a substantial profit to its managers, Litt & Dingwall, every year. The company and production are always kept up to a high standard of excellence, and no inferior or number two company is ever sent out. The pickaninny band, composed of more than a score of diminutive and entertaining features of "In Old Kentucky." The race scene is always well done and exciting, and there is an atmosphere of good, wholesome Americanism to it that cannot be denied. "In Old Kentucky" appeals to every class of theater patron by reason of its many attractive features, and the stage has offered but few plays of like merit in the last 16 years. What is probably the most expensive and most elaborate equipment ever prepared for the play has been gotten up for the present season of 1909-10, and the company, it is promised, will equal, if not surpass, any that has ever been seen in the piece. The mountain heroine, Madge Briery, will be played this time Miss Mildred Johnson, a charming young actress, and several old-time "In Old Kentucky" favorites are in the cast, including Bert G. Clark as the "Colonel." Mr. Clark was in the original production when the play was enjoying its long run at the Academy of Music, New York, more than 16 years ago.

What a lot of things there are to do before Winter comes—curtains and blankets to wash; rugs to clean; furniture, cut glass and silverware to brighten.
