

FIRST ENGAGEMENT IS A PIRATE VICTORY

TIGERS' DEFEAT DUE TO COSTLY ERRORS AND LACK OF TIMELY HITTING.

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—The National league champions won the first game of the world's championship series by the score of 4 to 1 at Forbes field today. After the early innings, Detroit was outplayed in every department of the game. In the first three innings Detroit displayed the Pittsburghs. There were 23,255 paid admissions. Every seat in the amphitheater was filled when Empire Johnstone called "Play ball."

Manager Fred Clarke and Tommy Leach were the Pittsburgh stars. In the fourth inning Clarke solved Pitcher Mullin's puzzling delivery and made a smashing home-run hit into the right field bleachers. This tied the score and appeared to take all the heart out of Detroit. Scoring was comparatively easy for Pittsburgh after that. Leach's sensational catch of a hard drive from Ty Cobb's trusty bat, with two Detroit men on bases, in the seventh inning saved the game.

Admirable Pitching.

Both George Mullin and Charles Adams pitched admirably. Mullin allowed only five hits, Adams was hit safely six times. Adams was unsteady in the opening inning, when he gave two bases on balls and allowed two hits. After he steadied down, Detroit was not able to get more than one hit in an inning. Mullin was an enigma to the locals during the first three innings. In these he did not allow a hit and gave but one base on ball. He had retired two Pittsburgh men in the fourth, when Clarke made his home run.

Delehanty's Bad Break.

Delehanty made a ridiculous error at the beginning of the fifth inning and Abstein made three bases on it. This was followed by a two-bagger by Gibson, and another error by Bush gave Pittsburgh two runs and the game. In the fifth inning Mullin hit Byrne in the head with a pitched ball and it looked for an instant as if he had knocked out the little third baseman. After a few minutes, he was able to get up and trotted to first base. Pittsburgh played with machine-like precision all the way and Byrne and Gibson started with clever hits of fielding. The presence of the leading batter of each league—Cobb and Wagner—created great interest, and the work of both men was closely watched, as many bets have been made as to which will hit the better during the series. Wagner had the better of it today, as he made a two-bagger and was hit in four times up, giving him an average of .333. Cobb failed to make a hit, as Leach's fine catch robbed him of what was almost a certain three-bagger. Cobb stole a base in the fifth inning, and it was on this play that Wagner made a remarkable one-handed scoop of Gibson's low and wide throw. The play was close and the Pittsburgh men disputed Empire O'Loughlin's decision for some time before they would continue the game.

Tigers Score First.

Detroit scored in the first inning. D. Jones drew a base on balls and Bush sacrificed him to second, Abstein to Miller. Adams could not locate the plate and Cobb also walked. Crawford hit a smart bouncer to Adams and D. Jones was forced at third by a throw to Byrne. Delehanty landed a safe hit in left field and Cobb scored, while Crawford moved to third and Delehanty to second on the throw to the plate to catch Cobb. Morlarity shot a bouncer to shortstop, but it hit Delehanty and the latter was out, while Morlarity received credit for a hit. The winners were retro one, two, three, in the first and two were out in the second when Abstein drew a base on balls. This advantage was short-lived, as Abstein was caught napping by a quick snap by Mullin to Tom Jones. Again in the third Pittsburgh men were retired in order and not until two were out in the fourth did Clarke's home run come. Immediately after this Wagner was hit by a pitched ball, but Miller ended the inning with a fly to Cobb.

Fifth Is Fatal.

The fifth inning brought about the downfall of Detroit. Delehanty admitted it by making an inexcusable error on Abstein's grounder and the Pittsburgh first baseman was on third before the ball found its way back to the infield. Mullin struck out Wilson after a hard time, but Gibson's two-bagger to center scored Abstein. Bush then muffed Adams' easy grounder, allowing the pitcher to get to first and Gibson to third. Byrne was hit on the head, and the bases were full. Leach fled to Davy Jones and Gibson beat the throw to the plate, giving Pittsburgh the lead by 3 to 1. Clarke finished the inning, Delehanty to Tom Jones.

Detroit was able to get on first base in the second, third and fourth innings and to second in the fifth and seventh. Mullin singled with two out in the second. Crawford did the same thing in the third. Schmidt drew a pass with two out in the fourth, but was forced at second by Mullin.

Hope Shortlived.

Detroit hopes rose when Davy Jones opened the fifth with a clean single to right, but he was immediately forced by Bush. Wagner to Miller. Bush was forced the same way by Cobb. Cobb then stole second, but the chances were gone when Crawford fouled to Gibson.

Pittsburg added another run in the sixth. Wagner opened with a two-bagger to left and went to third when Schmidt made a bad throw to catch him napping off second. Miller fouled to Schmidt and Abstein hit a puny roller in front of the plate and was out, Mullin to Tom Jones, while Wagner scored the fourth and last run. Wilson followed with a single to center and stole second, but Gibson ended the inning with a fly to D. Jones.

Leach Saves the Day.

Leach saved the day for Pittsburgh in the seventh. With two out, Davy Jones singled to left field and Bush drew a base on balls. Then came Cobb's terrific hit and Leach's spectacular catch. Detroit was retired in order in the eighth and ninth. In the last inning Jennings sent McIntyre in to bat for Tom Jones, but the best he could do was to fly to Clarke. Schmidt sent an easy fly to Leach and Mullin ended the game by striking out. The total receipts of the game were $49,271.50, which will be divided as follows: To the national commission, $4,927; to the players, $23,748.81; to each club owner, $7,248.87. The score:

HACKETT IS BEST.

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 8.—William J. Hackett of North Weymouth, Mass., won the Boston-Brockton race of about 25 miles today in a field of 59 starters. His time was 2:37:24.1-5. The race started from Boston at noon.

South Carolina now stands 36 counties dry, six wet. With the knowledge of their overwhelming majority the prohibitionists are preparing to gain center victories if possible. When the legislature meets next January the party will demand an amendment to the constitution making prohibition statewide, as in Tennessee, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

WHITE SOX BLANKED SCHOLASTICS CLASH BY CHANCE'S CUBS

OVERALL AND WALSH IN PITCHING DUEL, BUT LATTER'S SUPPORT IS WOBBLY.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Opportunistic hitting, coupled with errors and loose playing by the Chicago American league team, gave the National league players the first game of the series for the city championship. Both pitchers worked in good form, but Overall had a better chance than his opponent as a result of the teamwork behind him.

Table with columns: AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows for Nationals and Americans players including Evers, Schebeck, Schutte, Chance, Steinfield, Purcell, Hoffman, Tinker, Archer, and Overall.

Score by Innings.

Summary table showing runs scored by each team in each of the nine innings.

Summary.

Two-base hits—Evers, Isbell. Sacrifice hit—Steinfeld. Stolen bases—Schutte 2, Evers, Isbell. Double plays—Purcell, Parent and Isbell. Left on bases—Americans 6, Nationals 2. Base on balls—Off Overall 1, off Walsh 2. Struck out—By Overall 5, by Walsh 7. Wild pitches—Overall 1, Walsh 1. Time of game—1:40. Umpires—O'Day and Sheridan.

A LIVELY CONTEST EXPECTED

Both teams to meet on the gridiron at Butte today in good condition. The game will be played sharply at 2:30. Sections have been reserved on the field for the rosters of the two schools so that there will be ample room in the stands for all spectators. The game promises to be a good one and as it is the first appearance of the local scholastics as Principal Thomas said yesterday: "turn out and help the team by filling the bleachers."

ACCUSER OF DR. ROLLER IS HIMSELF ACCUSED

Seattle, Oct. 8.—Joe Carroll, the wrestling promoter, is being sharply criticized by the county jail in default of bail and will have a hearing before a United States commissioner next Tuesday morning. They were arrested in Douglas county by the sheriff of King county without a warrant, and on arrival today a charge of using the United States mail to defraud was placed against both and they were given into the custody of the United States marshal.

CHICAGO NEWS LETTER

Chicago, Oct. 8.—New membership received by the Postal Savings Bank league since the American Bankers' association declared open war upon the bank measure. It indicates that the crucial fight in congress next winter between the banks against this measure and the people for it will find a formidable membership enlisted, to make an organized and united demand for the enactment of the bill. Letters received from both men and women, inquiring how they can aid in the fight, show the public awake to the situation, growing indignant and ready to take up the gauge of battle thrown down by the money power.

NATIONAL COMMISSION AFTER MURPHY'S SCALP

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—The national commission met at the Scheunoy hotel today, but did not take the expected action on the reopening of the Pfeiffer case. President Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago Nationals has asked for the reopening of the case in which he was fined $500 for the alleged tampering with Pitcher Pfeiffer of the Toronto Eastern league club. It is expected that decisive action will be taken by the commission when it meets again tomorrow morning. From intimations made by members of the commission, it is thought Murphy will be given 72 hours in which to pay the $500 or be read out of organized baseball. It is also believed that he will be reprimanded by the commission.

In legal and political circles in New York a story is current to the effect that Frederic P. Couderc and other eminent legal lights of the metropolis are at the proper time to bring suits in the United States courts to test the constitutionality of the federal corporation tax law.

Governor Glasscock of West Virginia has announced that he is in favor of an income tax amendment to the federal constitution, and will use his influence to have the next legislature ratify such an amendment. An extra session of the legislature will be called this fall.

SCHOLASTICS CLASH TODAY

TEAMS FROM MISSOULA AND ANACONDA HIGH SCHOOLS TO MEET ON GRIDIRON.

The high school boys hold the record in Montana field today and they will present this afternoon what promises to be the most interesting exhibition of the great scholastic game billed for them this season. Anaconda is to be the victim—or the victor as the case may be—and from the outlook at least the Smelter city lads are going to be able to take good care of their end of the contest. The representatives of the Anaconda high school arrived in the city yesterday morning with blood in their collective and individual eye and with the stern resolve in their hearts to atone for Missoula's overwhelming victory at the last meeting of the two schools. They are a fine healthy, husky-looking bunch of ball players and they go into the game today fit and ready to do or die. They are accompanied by Coach Rice, their instructor in the team game, and he is very well satisfied with the prospects. Mr. Rice is an old Syracuse man, having won his letter on the water and while his specialty is the handling of the sweeps he knows a thing or two about football—as he hopes to demonstrate today.

The Missoula team also is in first-class condition. Hard work has been put in until the last minute and the squad is in perfect condition. Despite the fact that Whitman, Van Engelen and Halford last year's stars are out of the game this fall the team is the best which has ever represented the school and it is anxious to make the scalp of the copper-smelters the first one in its collection. Under the direction of Coach Dingmore the team has become fast and clever and several times the scholastics have manifested their ability to play the game by holding down the crack university team to low scores.

The teams as they will line up at the call of the referee's whistle tomorrow afternoon are as follows:

Substitutes—Anaconda: Beal, Riskin and bell. Missoula: Halford, Miller, Sheedy and Simpkins.

Baker will referee and it is likely that Coach Rice will umpire.

The game will be played sharply at 2:30. Sections have been reserved on the field for the rosters of the two schools so that there will be ample room in the stands for all spectators. The game promises to be a good one and as it is the first appearance of the local scholastics as Principal Thomas said yesterday: "turn out and help the team by filling the bleachers."

A Bitter Root Land Snap

The Florence Ranch

The Florence ranch comprises 320 acres of as fine irrigated fruit land as there is in the Bitter Root valley or anywhere else, barring none.

But business necessity now compels me to sell it. It's prize land—nearly every inch of it. That's why I bought it a number of years ago with the sole intention of developing it for my own exclusive personal use—for my own home fruit ranch.

And, at the time I bought it, almost 13 years ago, I could have selected almost any other tract in the entire valley, but I picked out the Florence ranch because I believed then, as I do now, that there is not a better tract of land, all things considered, in the Bitter Root valley.

But it's got to go. I have other large interests to care for and some heavy payments to meet soon.

That's the reason I have placed the Florence ranch on the market, and I want you to see it.

It's only a short automobile run from Missoula, about 25 miles up the valley, and my representatives will be pleased to drive you up and back without the slightest obligation or expense upon your part if you are seriously interested in high-grade fruit land.

I selected this particular property for sale out of my other Bitter Root valley holdings because it is the best, and will therefore sell the quickest, and it's money I must have right now or I would not part with a single acre of the Florence ranch at any ordinary price.

I have just cut it up into five-acre tracts and I shall dispose of it immediately at a less price per acre than land of equal producing worth is now selling for anywhere in the valley.

In fact, at about the price of raw—that is, uncultivated—land that cannot be compared to the Florence ranch property, either in soil, proven productivity, irrigation rights, location, transportation and market facilities, or in beauty and charm of its home features and natural surroundings.

It has been under irrigation for years. The water right has been decreed by the courts to be perfect and unassailable, insuring the property the perpetual use of more pure, soft mountain water than can be legitimately utilized.

The water right will be conveyed with the land without any additional consideration. This makes the water positively free to the purchasers of the land for all time, eliminating entirely all future irrigation charges, annual water taxes, rent or fees of any nature or description.

The title to the land is as good, valid and sound as a government land patent and will be conveyed by warranty deed. The lay of the land is ideal.

It is high land on the west side of the valley—the oldest and most thoroughly proven fruit bench in the Bitter Root.

mental stimulus to the thrift of the nation "is uneconomic," has met a very chilly reception. The failure of the association to agree on a substitute provision of any kind has left the obvious need of an auxiliary to the present banking facilities unprovided for by the bankers. Even in the New England states, savings bank facilities are found unequal to the needs of the people who wish to save.

One investigator for the Postal Savings Bank league has reported that he finds Bristol, Me., with a population of 2,000 and 10 postoffices. The nearest savings bank in 20 miles distant. There are 400 postoffices in Maine, but there are 42 savings banks. In the towns and cities which have savings banks there are found to be only 250,000 of the 700,000 inhabitants of the state.

Mayor Edward W. Hooker, of Hartford, has written to the league: "I do not agree with your savings bank officers that a national system of savings will hurt them in the least, but they seem to look at the matter in what to me is a selfish way, and feel that the postal savings bank would hurt their business. I earnestly hope that your efforts will be successful, as I believe the postal bank would be a great benefit to the entire country, and would in no way hurt the savings bank, but would also be a benefit to this institution."

A bulletin issued by the league over the signature of George H. Currier, chairman of the executive committee and the publisher of "Woman's World" the magazine of the largest circulation in the world, declares: "Not in years has there been an issue before the American people that was so clear cut as this, the people against the banks. We must organize; for 'united we stand, divided we fall' expresses the need in the face of the opposition."

The contention of the American Bankers' association that this govern-
