

TOWN TO BE MOVED ON SLEDS BY ELDER

JUNCTION, IDAHO, TO BE TRANSPLANTED AS SOON AS THE WEATHER PERMITS.

Lewiston, Oct. 13.—Some day the good old town of Junction will get up and move a mile away to the new city of Leadore, said W. F. Stone of Junction, Idaho. Mr. Stone is one of the prominent merchants of central Idaho and his interests embrace banking, mining, lumber and general merchandising.

"Every building in Junction is now on skids ready to be moved when the switch is made from Junction to Leadore. Even the bank in Junction is on runners and we have to watch closely to see that some freighter does not come along with a 12-horse team and steal it from us.

"There is new life down in our country," went on Mr. Stone, "and in spite of the fact that we are going to abandon our old town, we realize it is for the best and is in the line of progress.

Leadore a New City. The reason for the change is that the Gilmore & Pittsburg railroad, which is now tapping this great country, forks a mile from Junction. One branch will run to Salmon and the other to Junction. In this big V a townsite has been laid out. Up to this time, while construction is on Junction has been held up but when the road passes the old city will be deadlier than ever.

Its Ups and Downs. "Junction was once a historic town—lying just across the Montana line in Idaho. In the days of the old Nicola mine it thrived; later it dwindled and then with the railroad building epoch it bloomed again, only to wither upon the cessation of construction."

Mr. Stone says the track-laying machines are now putting down rails 20 miles out of Armosted. The grading is in progress past Junction and as far as Salmon and the passenger trains are expected to puff into Leadore on New Year's day.

"There is a country of untold mineral wealth in copper and lead in this district. The railroad will tap this and carry out the ore which up to this time has been worthless on account of the high rate of hauling ore by freight. One hears a lot about Montana waking up and developing but let me tell you Idaho is on the job. The new road has one tunnel in there which will be 7,000 feet long.

"About Christmas day something will happen which never happened in America before. If the roads are good and the snow solid every building in Junction will be slid over to Leadore and Junction abandoned. Many buildings have recently been erected in Junction to accommodate the great number of men employed in grading."

GAYNOR IS ATTACKED BY ELDER

COUNTY OFFICIAL MAKES SENSATIONAL STATEMENT REGARDING THE CANDIDATE.

New York, Oct. 13.—The principal development today in the political warfare preceding the municipal election was the sensational attack upon William J. Gaynor, democratic nominee for mayor, by Robert H. Elder, assistant district attorney of Kings county, who has represented the state in the fight to enforce the anti-betting laws on the race tracks. The attack, in the form of a statement, was designed to support and supply details to the charges made last night by William Ivins, that Gaynor as a justice of the supreme court, had sought to defeat the purpose of the anti-gambling statute.

Mr. Elder declared that he had learned of the alleged conference of Gaynor and Patrick H. McCarren of Brooklyn, at which the constitutionality of the race track law was discussed, and it is charged a test case was contemplated upon which Justice Gaynor was to render a decision. The Elder statement says:

Elder Statement. "The new law against public gambling on the race track went into effect June 11, 1908. At that time the racing was going on at Sheepshead Bay. A few days later a public official of prominence, who has been aiding me in my efforts to enforce the law, told me he had, but a few moments before, engaged in a conversation with Eugene Wood and that Wood had stated to him that he (Wood) and Senator Patrick McCarren had been present at a conference with Judge Gaynor in which the constitutionality and the validity of the new gambling law could be nullified and a habeas corpus suit was to be arranged to be brought before Judge Gaynor to get a decision on the race tracks.

"Probably an hour after this, another public official of high prominence whom I met upon the race course, stated to me substantially the same thing. I believed then this conversation did take place because of the direct way in which the information came to me. I believe yet that it took place."

Branded as Lies. Justice Gaynor was busy tonight reading the Elder statement, but he did not intimate whether he would make a reply. The Ivins charges he branded as lies.

The republican candidate, Otto T. Barnard, was the only one of the three majority nominees to make any active campaigning today. He organized a club at Columbus university and spoke at several political gatherings. Senator Patrick McCarren was suddenly eliminated from participation in the local campaign today by an acute attack of appendicitis which required an immediate operation.

WANT TWO REPUBLICS ESTABLISHED THERE. Washington, Oct. 13.—Official advice received at the state department indicate that the Nicaraguan revolutionists, if successful, expect to separate the country into two republics, one to consist of the Caribbean states and the other of the Pacific coast states. Consul Moffat at Bluefields, in a telegram to the state department today, says the revolutionary movement began at midnight Sunday with the proclamation of Juan Estrada as provisional president and that Estrada had summoned a provisional cabinet. The movement, which was in the states of Selaya and Cape Gracias a Dios, was begun without bloodshed or conflict.

WILL BE IMPORTANT ENGINES OF WAR. New York, Oct. 13.—Declaring that Napoleon's dictum, that "God fights on the side with the heaviest artillery," entirely out of date, H. Maxim, inventor of explosives and engines of war, predicted in an address tonight that "God hereafter would fight on the side with the strongest flying machines, and the most of them."

"Flying machines never will be able to work wide destruction by dropping explosives from the air," he said. "War vessels may have their superstructures slightly damaged or their decks bent by explosives dropped upon them, but in order to do much damage dynamite requires confinement."

"The aeroplanes will be the strong arm of the signal corps, each carrying two or three men. They will be auxiliaries in the next great war, and they will be widely effective in the destruction of bridges, magazines and storehouses."

STORY OF HARDSHIPS IS TOLD

STRANDED SCHOONER FINALLY MAKES ITS ESCAPE AND RETURNS TO SEATTLE.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 13.—The trading schooner Bender Brothers, which three years ago stranded three miles from Behring sea on the flat of the Kuskowin river, Alaska, arrived here today bringing a story of hardship and of danger that rivals the tales of fiction. The vessel was saved by missionaries and natives who dug a trench three miles long through which they were able to get her into water of sufficient depth. The captain of the ship brought his command to Puget sound without navigating instruments or proper stores and with the aid of a single seaman and a party of four stranded prospectors who were picked up on the river. The prospectors had spent 45 days in an open sailing boat. When they reached the schooner they had been 10 days without food other than fish and were nearly overcome with fatigue and thirst. Of the party, H. Buckley of Spokane and Fred Soderberg of Seattle had been 11 years prospecting for gold in the interior of Alaska without having made a visit to civilization. A small pack of furs and a spoonful of nuggets, not exceeding $10 in value, were their reward for years of hardship and constant search for treasure.

TO SWIM THE RIVER. Portland, Ore., Oct. 13.—Portland is going to advertise a mild winter climate in an unusual way. A large number of members of the Multnomah club, a prominent local athletic organization, will swim across the Willamette river at Portland on Christmas day. This will not, however, be a difficult feat. The river is quite warm all winter and ice forms very rarely. Only once or twice in a lifetime is the stream frozen across. It is thought by swimming the stream at Christmas attention can be called to the mildness of Portland winters.

Portland, Me., Oct. 13.—Commander Peary said today: "If the statement given out by the Peary Arctic club is not sufficient to prove that Dr. Cook did not reach the pole, more evidence will be forthcoming. Special to The Daily Missoulian. Butte, Oct. 13.—John F. Forbis, law partner of Judge Hiram Knowles before the Missoula jurist was appointed to the federal bench, has announced his intention to retire from practice in Montana at the beginning of the new year and remove to his ranch, which is located near Portland, Ore. He has been practicing his profession in Butte for 25 years. Forbis is a young man. Mr. Forbis became prominent as an attorney in trying an adverse suit on the Anaconda claim, the title of the case being Upton against Hickey. Probably no case attracted more attention and is more widely known than the case of Fitzgerald against Clark, a case which involved many important points in mining law, and which Mr. Forbis won. This case was fought clear through to the supreme court of the United States, and points settled in that case are frequently quoted in courts when mining cases are involved. The Amy-SilverSmith case was another important case which Mr. Forbis was engaged in, and which attracted more than ordinary attention. He has been attorney for the Boston & Montana Mining company and the Butte & Boston company for many years, and as a mining attorney he is one of the best-posted men in the country.

(Continued from Page One.) constitution that was made—it is the constitution of Oklahoma—and it is a zoological garden of cranks. I don't mean to say that it has no good ideas in it; it has. At the idea of tying down a legislature which is an experiment, so to speak, with the laws that are to be adopted to a new territory, with a long discourse imposing all sorts of limitations, is a mistake which you ought to profit by.

RESPONSIBILITY.

"Your assumption of statehood throws upon you a responsibility that will not enable you thereafter to charge it to the federal government. When you get into difficulty out here and have had officials or your legislature gets you into it in a county or city, you cannot say it is all at Washington because Washington does not understand it. Then the fault will be on your own hands. I have no doubt that you will stumble and fall as other people and other states have stumbled and fallen, but you are Americans, you are come of a race used to self-government; used to tug hard knots in the school of experience and profiting by them. And if by a chance I can restrain the desire of those most progressive, if I may use that expression, or most full of idea of having limitations on government, can restrain them from making the constitution other than a fundamental law, its simple rule of limitations, if I can halt and induce the people of this state to take time to deliberate over that instrument that is to follow them so long in the history of their state and its growth and development I shall have not let this morning go without its profit."

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER ETC. While Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, etc., are troubles which affect the skin, their source is far deeper than the outside cuticle. These affections are caused by irritating humors, or uratic acid in the blood. Such impurities inflame and irritate the delicate net-work of fibrous tissue which lies just beneath the surface of the outer skin, and the inflammatory discharge thus produced is forced out through the pores and glands, and is continually kept up while the blood remains infected. This exudation causes the formation of scales and crusts so often seen in Eczema, and when they are scratched off the flesh is left raw and more susceptible to other infection. It can very readily be seen then that to produce a cure the circulation must be purified and cleansed. This S.S.S. will do. It goes down to the very bottom, removes all humors and impurities, neutralizes the excessive acids of the system and in this way removes the cause of disease. Local applications can only soothe the irritation and assist in keeping the skin clean; they never produce a cure because such treatment does not reach the blood. S.S.S. restores to the skin, and enables it to nourish the skin and keep it soft, smooth and healthy. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.
