

SIDEWALK MEASURE ATTACKED

LEGALITY OF ORDINANCE PASSED BY HAMILTON COUNCIL IS QUESTIONED.

Hamilton, Oct. 28.—W. P. O'Brien has filed suit in the district court praying for a restraining order in the matter of the city enforcing the sidewalk ordinance that was passed by the council some time ago. It is contended in the complaint that the ordinance is not legal, as it was passed at a special meeting and that due notice was not given.

The complaint prays for a restraining order against the city, and P. M. Drinkenberg as mayor, against tearing up the sidewalk on certain lots, designated as lots 7 and 8, in block 27, of the town of Hamilton. They are located on Main street between First and Second streets, and one lot is vacant and the other is occupied by the Owl saloon.

The order restraining the city from tearing up the sidewalk in front of the property in question also restrains the city from paying any moneys to Kaiser & Jermain, cement contractors, for any labor on sidewalks in front of the lots and from paying for any materials for a walk in front of these lots.

R. A. O'Hara and Cratchfield & Taylor are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

KILLS HER HUSBAND WITH REVOLVER

WOMAN HAS SPOUSE ARRESTED FOR DESERTION THEN SHOTS HIM DOWN.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Two hours after she had caused the arrest of her husband, Abner Levy, a tailor, on a charge of desertion, Mrs. Esther Levy visited the cell of her husband at the Harrison street station and before the police had time to interfere shot through the bars at Levy, inflicting a fatal wound. In the building at the time were a score or more of policemen. Mrs. Levy stood in the corridor of the cage talking in a low voice to the prisoner, who remained locked in his cell. Suddenly she drew the revolver, which had been concealed beneath her jacket, and fired. A prisoner who occupied the cell with Levy said that Mrs. Levy behaved with excitement in conversation with Levy.

"Are you coming back to me and the children?" asked the visitor.

"No," answered Levy, "you put me here and here I will remain. You tell your story to the judge."

Mrs. Levy then shot her husband. She was taken to the woman's annex of the station where she became hysterical. When Mrs. Levy ordered the warrant for her husband's arrest she had charged Levy had neglected his home for other women, and she had to work as a saleswoman to support their four children.
