

IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD

BLANCHE BATES IN "THE FIGHTING HOPE."

"THE CLIMAX"

In the full flush of its New York success Joseph M. Weber's great play "The Climax" by Edward Locks, consists of a really great play and is recognized as one of the best products of American dramatic genius. It is declared that the play appeals to the most complex emotions. It is a delightful comedy taken as such alone, it is interesting as a speculative philosophy, though its treatment relieves it of being in any sense a problem play, and as a whole it forms one of the most charming dramas of the stage today. There are only four characters in "The Climax," but they are all living, moving human beings of red blood, not "stage characters," but the people you meet in every day walks of life. The story comes from the west to develop her own as a singer. She resides in the household of her instructor, an Italian voice culturist, and is beloved by his son Pietro, a young composer of great promise. She also has another suitor in the person of John Raymond, a young physician, who is untiring in his efforts to win the girl and turn her from the stage career, but all to no avail. Consequently, the doctor employs "mental suggestion" to destroy the girl's ability to sing. Finding herself unable to sing the girl consents to marry the doctor, but on her bridal morn she regains her voice which forces the doctor to confess that he used his will power to crush her ambition for a stage career. There is a vein of incidental music interwoven in the plot which is one of the important features of the piece. "The Climax" is in three acts and will be presented by a very capable cast of Broadway players.

MISS BILLIE BURKE

Miss Billie Burke is making her first transcontinental tour as a star this season and from all along the line comes glowing accounts of the triumphs she is scoring. Her play is "Love Watches," a comedy by the same author as "My Wife," the piece in which she first appeared in America as John Drew's leading woman. She is booked at the Harnois Theater for Tuesday evening, November 2.

PALYS AND PLAYERS

Annie Mack, the dancer, is to be featured in a new musical production.

A new play, "Two Women and That Man," is to have an early production in New York.

"The Harvest Moon," by August Thomas, is to have its first production at Atlantic City.

Charles J. Ross and Lina Abarbanel will be featured in Henry Savage's production of "The Love Cure."

Alla Nazimova is to begin her tour in "The Passion Flower" at New Haven the latter part of the month.

William Gillette, who wrote "Held by the Enemy" and "Secret Service," is writing another play on the Civil War.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," the novel by John Fox, is now being dramatized and will be produced by DeMeyer and Norris.

"The Earth," James Bernard Fagan's latest play, is to have its first American production early next month in Chicago.

"The Lottery," a new play by Rida Johnson Young, is to be produced by the Shuberts shortly, with Jameson Lee Finney in the leading role.

Charles Frohman has postponed his departure for London, where he is to take up his permanent abode, as he has 15 productions yet to make here.

Margaret Anglin will remain in New York indefinitely. "The Awakening of Helena Ritchie" being the only production in which she will appear this season.

Sir Charles Wyndham and Miss Mary Moore will present the following plays during their American tour this season: "Mrs. Goring's Necklace," "The Mollusc" and "David Garrick."

Miss Bernhardt will soon enact the role of Maria, a blind woman, in Brieux's "La Folie." It is the part

Mrs. Patrick Campbell is playing in Sir Herbert Tree's London production of the drama.

Walter Hampden, the original Mansson of "The Servant in the House," and Miss Janet Beecher of Chicago will assume the leading roles in the impending production of Clyde Fitch's play, "The City."

Electropodes Do Wonders For Stomach

Remarkable Electric Device To Produce Wireless Current That Quickly Restores Diseased Stomach and Other Organs.

A Real Treatment For Rheumatism.

We want to call the attention of our readers to a remarkable electric device which seems already to have exploded many pet theories of physicians and scientists, and to have produced positive wonder to those who have used it.

This new invention is called Electropodes, which comes in pairs—both producing together, it is stated, an unnoticeable yet effective current throughout the entire body, permeating the vital organs, purifying and correcting diseased conditions, regulating vital functions, and strengthening the nerves almost beyond description.

It proves at last that electricity is not only life but health, and vigor unsurpassed. It has already produced astonishing results in stomach and liver troubles, kidney complaints, back pains, lumbago, insomnia, weak heart, rheumatism, nervous prostration, neuritis and weak nerves.

These results are not fanciful but already proven. For those who have relied on medicines for curing the above diseases, these Electropodes come as a distinct revelation.

Those who wear them report an inexpressible new feeling of glow and health to every organ, the nerves, the entire body. Nothing like it has ever been found.

Electropodes are peculiar metallic insides in appearance, insulated and so placed in the heels of the shoes as to be unnoticeable to the wearer. They are never uncomfortable; indeed, were it not for the glow of energy and health you would never know you had them on. They are different from any other electric device in that they produce a current only when in actual use.

If your druggist should not have Electropodes on hand, send $1.00 for a pair to The Electropode Company, suite 65, Holland block, Lima, Ohio, and they will be sent to you on the same 30 days' trial, with our contract signed by the manufacturers, binding themselves to completely satisfy you, or positively refund your money, and also the interesting story of how Electropodes heal no matter where the trouble is located. Send your order for lady or gentleman.
