DESCENT MADE INTO CHERRY MINE

TWO MEN GO DOWN, BUT MEAT FORCES THEM BACK—BOYS UNDER AGE EMPLOYED.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 17.—For the first time since Sunday two men tonight descended the ventilating shaft of the St. Paul mine, in the blocked and fiery galleries of which more than 300 men and boys lie dead. The exploit was successfully carried out by Thomas Morris and R. Y. Williams, of the United States Geological Survey. They found no bodies. The heat forced them out of the mine.
From what they discovered it is thought the fire has moved back from the main shaft and that it may be possible to enter it soon. First a test was made for black damp. A safety lamp was extinguished at 100 feet.
A numerous faction confided all day that the mine should be sealed for months, if necessary, for weeks in any event, until further explorations could be made with safety. This faction included a majority of experts here from all over the country. But the cries of men who have lost their comrades, and the women, was too strong, and Morris and Williams determined upon the attempt.

Age Limit Violated.
That boys under the legal age limit are among the dead in the St. Paul mine was proved to his own satisfaction today by Edgar T. Davies, state factory inspector. In one case the mother of the child victim has apparently lost her reason, and state officials are investigating with a view of fixing responsibility for the violation of the law that has ended so tragically. It is the case of Mrs. Charles Howard, whose 15-year-old son Alfred, is "down" in the mine. "The case clearly presents a violation of the child labor law," said Mr. Davies today. "We are on the track of many such cases."

Inspector Davies and his assistants were denied access to records of boys employed in the St. Paul mine when they applied for them at the company's office a few days ago. "We are now making a systematic canvass," said Mr. Davies, "to learn all we can. We have discovered a number of serious cases, and will run them down to fix the guilt where it belongs. It is to be expected, however, that in some cases parents of the children did not tell the truth about the children's ages."

An order for the two troops here to guard the string of sleeping cars and the private car of President Earling was given by Sheriff Skoglund after repeated rumors that plotters would blow up the train.
The demonstration of feeling on the part of the survivors created much uneasiness among mine officials. This led Sheriff Skoglund to take immediate action, and at dusk he asked the railroad officials to move the troop cars, stationed several hundred feet from the mine, up beside the special cars, which are serving as a temporary hotel.

One Wild Orator.
Sheriff Skoglund ordered the soldiers to remain quietly in their cars. Their presence excited no comment from the sorrowful men and women about the mine. Pent-up grief and anger were unchecked by officers today and, even when an orator mounted the sand sealed shaft of the mine, the sheriff, singlehanded, calmed the situation. The climax came when James Witherell, a veteran miner, leaped to the shaft and harangued the crowd of weeping women and ailing men. Witherell condemned the acts of the authorities since the disaster and declared the men entombed in the mine were buried alive. He made no threats. "The men were buried alive," shouted Witherell. "They were alive Monday night, but they died when those mine experts shut off their air. Can a man breathe through four feet of sand? I tell you they were crucified."

SUFFERING ENDED.

Geo. A. Freisheimer Sells the Remedy That Cured Stomach Trouble of 14 Years.

And best of all Geo. Freisheimer guarantees it to cure you or money back. Read this:
"I have been a great sufferer for 14 years; everything I ate gave me heartburns. I have never been able to get anything that would give me any relief until a friend of mine insisted on my taking Mi-o-na. I took a 50-cent box and I believe I am entirely well."
—F. M. Bryant, Newman, Ga., June 5.
Mi-o-na is not a nostrum; it is the prescription of a celebrated physician who is a specialist in stomach diseases.
One clever woman calls Mi-o-na the Sunshine Prescription, because it changed her from a miserable, nervous dyspeptic into a bright, healthy, happy woman in a few weeks.
These little Mi-o-na tablets are surely wonder workers. They absolutely cure indigestion whether acute or chronic.
They stop belching, gas in stomach, and heaviness in a few minutes. Distress after eating vanishes as if by magic when one or two little Mi-o-na tablets are swallowed.
Only 50 cents a box at leading druggists everywhere and in Missoula by Geo. Freisheimer. Test sample free from Booth's Mi-o-na, Buffalo, N. Y.

FINAL PRACTICE HELD BY BLUE AND CRIMSON

New Haven, Nov. 17.—The Yale varsity football team and substitutes today held their final practice for Saturday's game with Harvard. This consisted of a half hour's signal drill. There was no scrimmage. The question as to who will be at right end for Yale was settled today. Savage will start the game and will give "way to" when the team is on the defensive. The varsity and first substitute team will leave for Auburndale tomorrow, while the other substitutes will go to Cambridge Saturday morning.

Harvard Is Fit.
Cambridge, Nov. 17.—The Harvard eleven wound up its preparations for Yale today on a slippery field. There was scarcely any scrimmage work, but a good deal of kicking and catching of punts. Both elevens will meet Saturday at the stadium with a season of victories behind them. As usual, Yale is the favorite in the betting at slight odds.

NOTES OF WALLACE

Wallace, Idaho, Nov. 17.—James Gearson, who for five years has been superintendent of the Gold Hunter mine at Mullan, and previously connected with the Hecla mine at Burke, has gone to Cobalt, Ontario, Can., to take a position as superintendent of a silver mine.

While sitting in his bunk at the cabin on the Al Page ranch on Pine creek last evening engaged in cleaning his rifle John Donohue dropped the gun. It is to be expected, however, that in some cases parents of the children did not tell the truth about the children's ages.
The rifle, which was of heavy caliber, sent a ball crashing through Donohue's body from right to left side, the bullet just missing the lower side of the heart. Donohue was placed in a ranch wagon and driven five miles to the Kellogg hospital, the nearest place where a doctor could be found. The jolting of the vehicle caused a serious loss of blood and Donohue was unconscious when he reached the hospital. An examination showed that no vital organ had been injured and if blood poison does not set in the injured rancher will recover.

The traffic of freight over the Idaho Northern railroad from the Murray district is growing heavily every week. The new sawmill at Eagle is shipping three cars of lumber a day, the Bear Top mine is shipping eight carloads of ore a month, the Monarch mine will begin shipping a carload of concentrates a day next week, and there is a large general traffic in lumber, stulls, and other mine timbers and ore.

The residents of Grand Forks are just recovering from a dry season and are making up for time lost by taking their "morning's morning" at all times of the day. All the saloon men and their bartenders of Grand Forks were indicted by the federal court at Moscow for running saloons on the Coeur d'Alene national forest without permission. These cases were the outgrowth of those started before a United States commissioner in Wallace and decided in favor of the saloon men. A United States marshal and two deputies made their appearance in Grand Forks soon after and took the six saloon men in custody and kept them until allowed to go free at Moscow under bonds fixed in the federal court. The saloon men hastened back to Grand Forks and found a populace well nigh desperate, if one may believe stories circulated here, for want of their usual refreshment.

Bert D. Richards of Kingston started suit for divorce from Nellie G. Richards a year ago, making sensational charges of infidelity. He appeared in a fair way to win his suit when the court dismissed the action because of the failure of the husband to pay his wife temporary alimony as ordered.

Now Mrs. Richards has retaliated with an action for divorce filed here, charging non-support.

George Ward, a teamster, has had the windows of his house fitted up with new catches. His determination to do so arose from the fact that his habit of using an Indian club to hold up his bedroom window resulted in his breaking two fingers of his right hand. Ward was raising the window and thought he had caught it safely with the Indian club when it fell, dropping on his hand.

MEENAN ACQUITTED.
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 17.—Robert J. Meenan, a mine promoter of Deerpark, S. D., charged with forgery, was acquitted by a jury in the criminal court here last night. Meenan was accused of having raised a stock certificate in the Golden Placer Mining company from 250 to 25,000 shares. It was charged that he sold the stock to buy machinery for the new mine. His wife sat at his side throughout the trial, conversed with her husband's lawyers and assisted in the examination of witnesses.

MAE WOOD GOES EAST
Julesburg, Colo., Nov. 17.—Mae Wood, charged with perjury in connection with the claim that she is the wife of Senator Thomas C. Platt, will leave for New York tonight for trial. She says she has received no notice that the charges have been formally dismissed.

When a cold becomes settled in the system it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all dealers.

GRACE IS PLUCKY.
Princeton, Ind., Nov. 17.—Miss Grace Witherpoon, 29 years old, a tough overpowered a burglar who had entered her home and wrenched from her a jewelry box containing more than $500 worth of jewelry and furs.

COLLINS NOT MURDERED

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Investigation by the coroner into the death of Krelgh Collins, former western tennis champion, who was found dead in the street last night, dissipated all rumors that he had not been killed by a street car. These rumors had caused the inquest today to be postponed until tomorrow. A postmortem examination of the body established the fact that he had been killed by a street car. No marks of bullet wounds could be found.

APPLES FOR STOCKHOLDERS.
Spokane, Nov. 17.—The interest of James J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern railroad, in the National Apple show, now being held in Spokane, was shown by the receipt of an order from him today for 100 boxes of apples at $10 a box, which will be distributed among the royal and titled stockholders in the Great Northern railroad.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 25 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—there is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.
