AVERAGE LIFE GROWS SAYS PHYSICIAN

DR. JUDSON OF NEW YORK STATES THAT HUMAN SPAN IS NOW LENGTHENING.

Dr. Adoniram B. Judson of New York has several suggestions to offer for the promotion of longevity in an article on "The Human Body Viewed as a Machine," which appears in the New York Medical Journal.

To Prolong Life.
"It is said that a sure way to prolong one's life is to contract an incurable disease," he says. "There is a germ of truth in this, for it has been observed that a person affected with one of the diseases commonly believed to be incurable is so concerned for his safety that he follows without hesitation the strict rules of health, and thus unexpectedly prolongs his life. It is fair to infer from this that if one in good health will observe voluntarily the restrictions which he involuntarily submits to, through fear of being untimely cut off, he will be almost sure to achieve extreme longevity."

"The average duration of human life is said to be lengthening. Methods of still further prolonging it may perhaps be suggested by viewing the body as an ingenious piece of mechanism more or less under our control. The body and the machine consume material known respectively as food and fuel. The fuel used must be that which produces the most power with the least wear and tear, but there is no very strict rule in regard to food.

Views on Diet.
"A competent continuous diet might include starchy vegetables, fat meat, bread and other cereals, milk, plain cake or pudding, fruit and the customary liquids. Such food should carry one a long way toward the desired goal of a late and happy old age. Striking a just balance, the vain delights of extravagant variety may be set over against recurring, bilious attacks, dyspepsia, abnormal introspection, ill temper, a blighted complexion, rheumatism and other complaints due, in part at least, to the dietetic follies of mankind.

Fuel is prepared for the engine with the greatest care. It is broken up and screened till the size of its particles is adapted to the wants of the machine. If this same attention were paid to the preparation of food there would be less trouble from the early decay and loss of teeth.

Three Not Enough.
"It was almost a sacrifice to try to discredit the family table. In a well ordered household, where the day's routine is controlled by the conventional succession of meals, it would be impossible to serve more than the customary three or four daily meals at the family table. It may, however, be fairly questioned whether the prevailing routine provides accurately for the gross wants of the body. It is related that the dining room was wanting in the home of a certain family whose members were in the habit of satisfying their appetites by occasional visits to the pantry, stored with cooked viands and furnished with appliances for warming food.

"In place of this Bohemian scheme, it may be suggested that the fast which goes with sleep be broken at the hour of waking by a small repast prearranged in anticipation of the formal breakfast. Another slight repast may intervene between breakfast and luncheon. The afternoon hours may be interrupted in a similar manner without interfering with dinner, which, in turn, should not forestall a supper before retiring. Finally, if sleep is unduly broken it may be invited to return by leaving on the food provided for the hour of waking.

"The frequency of these meals would prevent any one of them from exceeding the bounds of moderation, and the day would end without the uncomfortable sensations which so often precede and follow customary ingestion. The extra meals here suggested would not, as a rule, be eaten at home. Some of them, if desired, may be made very formal and elaborate, but many are likely to be informal and eaten from the hand and standing. Good food and sufficient variety may be found in the dinner pail, a bottle of milk may be left at the door of the office, crackers and cheese may be uncovered in the office desk, a sandwich may be extracted from a coat pocket, luncheon may be ordered in a tray, a visit may be made to a dairy, or fruit and nuts may be purchased from a convenient source."

"In the uncertain future tabloid food may cease to be a cause for merriment."

MARS HAS SNOWFALL.
Flagstaff, Ariz., Nov. 17.—Director Lowell of the observatory here reports the first apparent Antarctic snowfall of the season on Mars. Two patches appear at the latitude of 62.72, longitude 100.6. The first was on November 12 and was small, with a great increase on the 16th. The second was observed for the first time on the latter date. This is of especial interest, because it is exceptionally early for the first Martian Antarctic snow, and from the fact that the second and smaller patch is where the patch lingered in melting last August beyond the rest of the polar cap.

MAYOR STOPS THE BOUT.
Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Mayor Whitlock tonight issued orders to the police to stop the eight-round match between Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland and "Battling" Johnny Schultz of Toledo, scheduled for tonight. Mayor Whitlock said that he would not allow prize fights here, and that several minor bouts recently held did not come to his attention.

CATHOLIC CHURCH DYNAMITED.
Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 17.—An explosion of dynamite destroyed the front of the new $50,000 Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church at Clinton, near this city, early today. The parish is largely composed of Hungarian and Bohemian miners, and there has been a quarrel between the races as to which should have charge of the church.

HEAVY RAINFALL.

Taft to Act.
Washington, Nov. 17.—Prompt action will be taken by President Taft to prevent contractors engaged in building railroads in South America

Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—Shareholders of the Big Four railroad here today voted a bond issue of $20,000,000 for physical improvements. The shareholders elected four directors to serve three years. They are William K. Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. Depew, J. P. Morgan and M. E. Ingalls. James Stillman was elected a director to serve one year to fill the unexpired term of James Barnett.

TO CELEBRATE EMANCIPATION.
Washington, Nov. 17.—Booker T. Washington headed a committee that called at the White House today to solicit the support of President Taft for a movement which has been started by leading colored people "looking toward the holding of an exposition in 1913 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the freedom of the negro race in America."

LIPTON WILL CHALLENGE
New York, Nov. 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton will challenge for a race for the America's cup to be sailed in 1911. Sir Thomas made this statement just before sailing for Europe today on the steamer Lusitania.

PLACKWELL CONFESSES.
Chicago, Nov. 17.—Stephen Plackwell, 18 years old, a laborer, who was arrested in St. Louis by a Chicago detective and brought here, made a confession, according to the police, that he and a companion choked and robbed Andrew Pelligrini, 65 years old, a wealthy stockman of Vancouver, B. C., who was found dead in his room in a hotel here October 8.

GENERAL BINGHAM DEAD.
Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Brigadier General Judson D. Bingham, U. S. A., retired, died today, aged 78 years. He was born in Lawrence county, Pennsylvania, and was graduated from West Point in 1854. He was retired in 1905.
