

SOCIETY

Now that the Missoula Social Dancing club has opened the winter season, there seems to be no lack of diversified entertainment. The chief event of the past week, of course, Thanksgiving day, with its numberless family dinners and reunions, which in many cases included the strangers within our gates. Several affairs were given for Miss Reinhard, whose wedding next week will attract much attention. Mrs. Duniway extended a pretty compliment to the ladies of the faculty, which was enjoyed by many of the town people. Altogether, it was a gay week, with a promise in the air of a gay and festive winter.

Mrs. C. A. Duniway Receives.

The woman's hall at the state university was never prettier than on Friday afternoon, when Mrs. C. A. Duniway gave a handsome reception, at which she introduced to Missoula society Mrs. A. W. Richter, Mrs. Joseph E. Kirkwood, Mrs. Eugene P. Carey and Miss Mabel R. Smith. The spacious drawing rooms were artistically decorated with Oregon holly and the foliage of the Oregon grape, the beautiful colors and skillful arrangement of which formed a splendid background for the many handsome gowns in evidence. A profusion of flowers was also used with equally pleasing results in the different rooms. In the reception line were also Mesdames W. F. Book, M. J. Elrod, E. Whitaker, L. C. Plant and the Misses Corbin, Buckhouse and Stewart. The dining room, where refreshments were served throughout the afternoon, was in charge of the young ladies of the senior class of the university, who are the Misses Hazel Butzinger, Daisy Penman, Laura Johnson, Olive Lovett, Frances Foster, Edith Rolfe, Edna Rosean, Mamie Burke and Mary Elrod. Sweet music was provided for the occasion and added much to the pleasure of the guests, who were many. The compliment extended to the newcomers was a cordial and gracious one and one that was deeply appreciated by those in attendance.

As-Yu-Like It.

The members of this club met at the rectory with Mrs. Lennie Smith last Tuesday afternoon, and the meeting proved to be one of unusual interest. Two exceedingly clever papers were read. One by Mrs. Tyler Worden presented the lives of two historical characters, namely, Alphonso the Learned and Alfred the Great, and very skillfully compared their mental and moral qualities and characteristics and the influence left by each man. Mrs. Tyler Thompson's paper, while altogether different in subject matter, was equally entertaining. She dwelt upon that mysterious and romantic figure of bygone ages, the "Buccaneer," of the days when "might was right," and the law that prevailed was the primitive one of "he takes who may and keeps who can." The rise and fall of the "buccaneer" as told by Mrs. Thompson was unusually interesting and held the absorbed attention of the members of the club who were fortunate enough to hear it.

Monday Afternoon Tea Club.

Mrs. H. T. Wilkinson was the hostess to this small and delightful club last Monday afternoon, and despite the inclemency of the weather all were present and good cheer prevailed. As usual, the time was occupied with a bit of needlework and a bit of chat, which was followed by a fragrant cup of tea, for which the hostess is truly famous. Mrs. Wilkinson's guests were Mesdames M. Rathbun, John Bonner, Kenneth Ross and Ralph Adams.

A Compliment Paid Miss Reinhard.

A pleasant kensington in honor of Miss Elsie Reinhard was given Friday afternoon by Miss Edna Owsley and Mrs. J. F. Reinhard at the home of the latter. Dainty bits of fancy work and lively conversation engrossed the attention of the ladies during the afternoon, and the talk was principally of the wedding of next week, an affair in which so many are interested. During the afternoon refreshments were served, and an additional tray heaped with beautiful handkerchiefs, the gifts of her friends, was presented to Miss Reinhard. The guests of Friday afternoon were the Misses Maude Burns, Mittie Shoup, Margaret Ronan, Grace Stoddard, Josephine Hatheway, Helene Kennett, Flora Woody, and Mesdames Lucretia Worden, Henry Worden, D. J. Donohue, F. T. Sterling, Benson Hood, Ralph Adams and Jacob Reinhard.

For Miss Reinhard.

Complimentary to Miss Elsie Reinhard, Miss Mittie Shoup entertained a number of friends yesterday afternoon in a very delightful manner. When the invitations were extended the guests were bidden to bring their thimbles, needles and scissors. Thus well fortified, they appeared on the scene of action and were promptly put to work upon various dainty articles, which were afterward presented to Miss Reinhard with much pomp and ceremony. As a reward for their work, which was truly "a labor of love," the guests were served with the daintiest of refreshments, to which full appreciation was given. Those invited to meet Miss Reinhard were the Misses Allen, James, Spencer, Kennett, Owsley, Woody, Flora Woody, Porterfield, McDonald, Hatheway, Ellithorpe, Simons, Cantwell, and Mesdames Benson, Hood, Ed Ross, Ralph Adams and Asa Willard.

Pretty Home Wedding.

One of the prettiest home weddings celebrated in Missoula was that of Miss Mary Dwyer and Frank McAboy, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer, last Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The home was beautifully adorned with gorgeous white chrysanthemums for the occasion and presented a beautiful picture. The bride, who wore a handsome gown of white net over white silk, was attended by her sister, Miss Cecel Dwyer, who was charming in pale pink. August Swant, an intimate friend of the groom, acted as best man. The impressive ceremony of the Catholic church was performed by Father Treveille. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was served, after which the happy couple left for the coast on an extended wedding trip. Those who had the pleasure of witnessing this party wedding were Mr. and Mrs. G. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haverty, Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. F. Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. H. Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martz, Mr. and Mrs. James McClennan, Mr. and Mrs. John Shyrock, The Misses Chadwick, Sadler, Armstrong, Williams, Reeves, Maloy, Marguerite Maloy; Messrs. Leland Healy, Jack McGraw, Reginald Chadwick.

O. D. O. Club.

Owing to the nearness of Thanksgiving day to their day of regular meeting, the O. D. O. club met on Monday, two days earlier, with Mrs. William Tooley at her home on North Third street. The members were all present, with Mrs. C. A. Anderson as the guest of honor. To the skilled players, the twenty hands of whist passed the afternoon very quickly and most pleasantly. In this club there is a very graceful custom of presenting the guest of honor and the hostess, as well as the successful players, with pretty prizes, which in this case were a handsome cup and saucer and a half dozen cups and saucers. Mrs. W. H. Hutchison held the highest score and was presented with a handsome cream and sugar set; Mrs. R. D. Owens having the lowest score, became the proud owner and wearer of a substantialingham kitchen apron. Those present were Mesdames George Pease, D. Tracy, Charles Grayshaw, Harry Wilkins, William Tooley, George Richards, Howard Emerick, Earl Stillwell, Ralph Melaney, W. H. Hutchison, R. D. Owens, Stella Snell and C. A. Anderson.

Wedding Invitations.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Gilbert J. Heyfron of this city, and Miss Florence Editha Ervey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ervey of Spokane. The ceremony will be said on the evening of Wednesday, December 8, at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride, 1708 Fourth avenue, Spokane. Mr. Heyfron's bride is a graduate of the University of Montana and one of the most charming young women ever to attend that institution. She has many friends in Missoula. Mr. Heyfron is a member of an old and prominent family here and is well liked. He received his education in the schools of the city, the University of Montana and the University of Michigan, where he graduated from the law department last June. He is at present a deputy in the office of Thomas P. Conlon, clerk of the district court.

Miss Ambrose Entertains.

Miss Ethel Ambrose assisted by Miss Sue Garlington entertained a number of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ambrose, 401 First street, west, on Friday evening. The greater part of the evening was spent in playing games and in historical and other contests, after which refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Minnie Lucas, Gertrude Lucas, Adna Garlington, Winifred Feighner, Jennie McGregor, Helen Smead, Sue Garlington, Ethel Ambrose, Aileen Ambrose; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Ambrose, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Van Patten, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ambrose;

Messrs. King Garlington, Thomas Layfield, Chester Adelbert Nickum, Forrest Morgan, J. R. Evans, Herbert Hitchcock and Rev. E. O. Cole, of Stevensville.

A Happy Afternoon.

One of the most elaborate and delightful parties given in Missoula was that given by the Misses Martha Shoe and Gladys Phillips Wednesday afternoon. That the entertainment had been arranged by willing hands and loving hearts was shown in the completeness of the day's program and by the fact that nothing was left undone to the happiness of the young people. Games of all kinds and other amusements whiled away the hours altogether too quickly. Later in the evening a delicious turkey dinner was served at a table that was beautifully decorated with flowers. Those present were the Misses Ethel Graham, Grace Hughes, Zella Shopp, Ruth Beekes, Ursula Campbell, Christina Donlan, Marjorie Simons, Nona Hyde, Ruth Hickey, Mabel Edwards, Martha Shoe, Gladys Phillips, and Master Frisk Naylor; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Basher, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Phillips, Mrs. J. G. Fendrich and Miss Margaret Lee.

Informal Gathering.

At the home of Miss Elsie Reinhard last Friday evening was a busy group of workers, trimming and tying and cutting fragrant evergreens into ropes and wreaths for the adornment and beautifying of the church, on next Wednesday evening at which time, Miss Reinhard becomes the wife of Mr. F. G. Mowers of Seattle. When the guests arrived, they were ushered into the spacious kitchen which was fresh and spicy with the aroma of the immense heap of fir boughs which were piled on the floor; balls of twine, scissors and knives were provided, and many hands making light work, it was only a short time before the huge array of wreaths and ropes of the green were completed. During the busy time the workers were cheered by the sight of a big kettle of fudge which boiled and bubbled on the kitchen range and tantalizing smells; by the time the work was finished however, the chef in charge of the fudge pronounced it done, and it was passed and partaken of with extreme relish. Those taking part in this pleasant work, were the Misses Stoddard, Spencer, Allan, James, Shoup, Hatheway, Kennett, Campbell, Ellithorpe, Woody, Flora Woody, Mesdames Ralph Adams, Benson Hood.

Juvenile Dancing Party.

Master James Mills was the dignified and capable host Saturday evening to a number of his friends. The house was fragrant and fresh with evergreen boughs, which were used in profusion. The most attractive rooms, were, of course, the library and drawing room which had been thrown together and prepared for dancing. The floor was of a most entrancing alpine green, and the music was so inviting that the pumps and slippers flew and skipped with an abandon and grace unrivaled by the Frenchiest of French dancing masters. After some time of this delightful exercise, an elaborate supper was served, after which most regretful adieus were made with the firm conviction that there never was and never would be another evening just like this one. The participants in this lively affair were the Misses Jeanne Sloane, Helen Coen, Lucile Curran, Margaret Beck, Edna Woods, Catherine Mills, Messrs. Paul Davis, Russel Marlowe, Wallace Lebkicker, Harry Battin, Franklin Woody.

Four-Leaf Euchre Club.

Mrs. E. L. Bonner entertained this popular club on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Gerald avenue. Five hundred was the preferred game, which seems to have become firmly fixed in the affections of the members of this club, to the almost total exclusion of whist, or even bridge. The afternoon was passed in the usual interesting and pleasant manner, and was brought to a close by the serving of refreshments. The players were Mesdames Hiram Knowles, Charles Blair, C. W. Lombard, J. W. Buford, John R. Toole, Kenneth Ross, H. T. Wilkinson, Tyler B. Thompson, E. A. Spottswood, C. A. Barnes, Warren Wilcox, S. J. Coffee, John Bonner and Tyler Worden.

Missoula Social Dancing Club.

The elite hall on Friday evening was the scene of the initial dance of the Missoula Social Dancing club. Now, that this has occurred, the social season of the winter may be considered as fairly begun. The hall on Friday evening was gay and festive indeed, with inviting music and flying feet. Many new and handsome gowns graced the occasion and the affair was so thoroughly enjoyed by those in attendance that it is safe to wager a successful season for the club.

The Literary Department.

The literary department of the Woman's club met last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. T. A. Wickes. A good attendance enjoyed the able presentation of the life of Oliver Goldsmith, which was given by Mrs. Hedley Gardiner, and which was followed by the reading of "The Vicar of Wakefield" by Mrs. George Miller. A critical discussion of this classic occupied the remainder of the afternoon and a deep appreciation was shown.

Pleasant Dinner on Monday Evening.

A very pleasant dinner was given last Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Tyler B. Thompson, the guests being Captain and Mrs. Frank Halstead, Lieutenant and Mrs. B. Waller Field, Lieutenant and Mrs. C. T. DeWitt Grubbs, Judge Sloane and Ronald Higgins. The center of the table held a beautiful and graceful arrangement of enchantress carnations and ferns, and the delicate shade of the flowers was the dominant note of the color scheme.

A most attractive menu was perfectly served and the evening was a pronounced success.

Pleasant Family Gathering.

One of the pleasant family gatherings of Thanksgiving, took place at the hospitable home of Colonel T. C. Marshall, which has received the appropriate and euphonic title of "Marsh Hall". None were present but members of the family, and those who gathered around the table were Captain and Mrs. Frank Halstead, Lieutenant and Mrs. Ben Waller Field, Mrs. Emily V. Marshall, Miss Capicola Jenkins, Miss Pearl Jenkine, Miss Miriam Virginia Field, Miss Miriam Marshall Halstead and the genial host, who carved the turkey in his usual liberal and graceful manner. This reunion was one of particular pleasure, as Captain and Mrs. Halstead have just returned from long service in Alaska, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Field have shortly for two years in the Philippines.

At Dinner.

Miss Louise and T. M. Stephenson entertained at dinner Thanksgiving day, at their residence 209 South Fourth street, west. The table was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and smilax. An elaborate menu of several courses was enjoyed. Covers were laid for six. Those present were Dr. N. E. Shea, Jay McCormick, Jack Helrich, J. Astholy of Spokane, T. M. Stephenson and Miss Louise Stephenson.

Line Shower.

The Misses Nelson and Shunk entertained on Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Mable Stowe. The afternoon was spent with dainty needlework after which refreshments were served. A pleasant feature of the afternoon was a linen shower. About 20 guests were present.

Eastern Star Auxiliary.

The members of the Eastern Star auxiliary had an unusually pleasant meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jessie Garlington. A large number of the members were in attendance, and the entertainment and luncheon that had been provided were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

For Miss Stowe.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Fred Tedlie entertained in honor of Miss Mable Stowe. A china shower was a pleasant feature of the afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served after which the ladies departed for their home each one voting Mrs. Tedlie a very gracious hostess.

A Hosiery Shower.

Miss Bessie Wilde entertained a large number of friends at what Friday evening in honor of Miss Mable Stowe. A pleasant surprise of the evening was a hosiery shower. At a late hour refreshments were served.

Naval Shower.

On Wednesday evening Miss Mable Stowe was the guest of honor at a novelty shower given for her by the Mesdames Elton and Barrett. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served.

Wireless Cure For Rheumatism

Electric Current From Electropodes Proves An Astonishing Remedy For Rheumatism and Other Diseases.

Now Within Reach of Every Sufferer. You hear no click, you feel no current, yet with increasing power a gentle healing, soothing, restoring current is sent into every fibre, nerve, vessel and organ of the body by means of a remarkable new discovery called Electropodes.

Proofs of the results of Electropodes, in cases of rheumatism especially, and of nervous affections and organic diseases, and the transformation in scientific theories. Electropodes are different from any other electric appliance since they create no current except while they are actually in service. The current generated has been found to have an astonishing effect on blood impurities and the kidneys, thus being a quick remedy for rheumatism, as well as lumbago, back pains, kidney troubles, stomach and liver complaints, headaches and weak heart. Electropodes in appearance are peculiar metallic insoles so placed in the heels and arch of the shoes as to be unnoticeable to the wearer. They never cause discomfort. No medicines or temporary drug stimulants are used or needed. Right from the start the system undergoes complete, healthy, change by means of this electropode current. So remarkable are the results of these Electropodes that they are now being sold under a legal binding signed contract with each purchaser to give quick relief and satisfaction. They are sold now at all drug stores at only $1.00 a pair and the druggist signs a contract that if they are not absolutely satisfied with the results of Electropodes at the end of a full 30 days your money will be refunded.

Thus every man and woman can now test the wonders of Electropodes without risk. If your druggist does not have Electropodes on hand, we suggest that you send $1.00 to the Electropode Company, Suite 65, Holland Bldg., Lima, Ohio, and you will get a pair of Electropodes by return mail, together with our signed contract, binding themselves to satisfy you before 30 days are over, or position your money. Say whether for lady or gentleman. Get a pair of Electropodes today, and get rid of rheumatism or other trouble at once.
