

MARKET MOVEMENT OF THE DAY

New York, April 6.—The stock market today was narrow and thin and the motives prompting the light trading were correspondingly obscure. A strong contrast presented in conditions existing in the London market and here. In the former an unbridled speculation is going side by side with a state of disorder in the finances unparalleled in recent history. In New York the depletion of bank reserves by gold exports is viewed with entire indifference and without demand for speculative business to exercise a check on the outward flow of the precious metal.

One proffered explanation is that a new agreement exists among the leading banking authorities at all the great financial capitals to co-operate for safeguarding the threatening position in London. It is for this reason supposed that New York bankers perceive the shipment of gold to London with equanimity, relying on the reflected benefit to come to the New York market by the relief of the London position.

Wall street keeps an attentive eye on the commodities markets. Predictions of an increased dividend of United States Steel formed a lever for lifting prices in the early dealings, but a decline followed a rise in the call loan rate.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, $1,721,165.

U. S. 3's registered declined 1/4 per cent on call.

Peary's Own Story

Thrilling Adventures in Arctic Hunting: Preparations for the Long Night

Here in quick, terse language as vivid and dynamic as lightning, Commander Peary describes the great hunting; the stocking up of game food,—deer, musk oxen, and polar bear; the laying-to-of the Roosevelt for the long winter night amid the ice, awaiting the Spring and the sunlight for the final dash. No narrative since Caesar's own book on the Gallic Wars has contained such graphic detail handled in so simple and self-revelatory a style. De Bello Gallico is a Latin Classic; Peary's Discovery of the North Pole, as instalment after instalment appears, is slowly forming the conviction in men's minds that here is an Anglo-Saxon Classic.

The Great Millionaire Mill

The Story of the Southern Pacific Railroad System and the Great Fortunes Created by It
By Charles Edward Russell

For the first time the true record of this powerful organization is recounted, giving information from private letters, court records, etc. Mr. Russell's minute analysis of the careers of Collis P. Huntington, Leland Stanford, Charles Crocker and Mark Hopkins throws a strong searchlight upon American railroad methods; shows how the whole state of California was throttled; how the "ultimate consumer" has had a staggering burden of debt put upon his shoulders to increase his cost of living.

The Vast Riches of Alaska

Will the Morgan-Guggenheim Combination Acquire Them or Will They Benefit the Whole People?
By Benjamin B. Hampton

If you read nothing else in the whole month of April we urge you to read this Alaskan sensation. It tells the story of the great natural wealth of Alaska in figures that no mind can grasp. One estimate of the gold, the copper and the coal amounts to $17,079,500,000, and from this the estimates range as high as one trillion, five hundred and thirteen billion, nine hundred and thirty-five million dollars!

Will you and your sons inherit this property? Or will it fall into the hands of the Morgans, the Guggenheims, the Rothschilds and perhaps other great trusts?
