SEWER RESOLUTIONS OPPOSED

ENGINEERS OF NEW SYSTEM ENDEAVOR TO "SHOW" THE DOUBTING RESIDENTS.

Last night's session of the city council was given over mainly to a discussion of the sewer problem. Protests against different resolutions were read and discussed at length. It was finally decided to re-publish the resolutions, changing the time of payment and to give the property owners until Tuesday, May 21, to investigate the matter and file their objections.

The bridge lighting proposition from the Missoula Light & Water company was referred to the electric light committee, as the new committee had not had sufficient time to acquaint themselves with the details.

The ordinance calling for the closing of the saloons on Sundays, which was introduced before the council by former Alderman J. E. Patterson, was reported back from the ordinance committee. The committee made a minority and majority report. Moody and McCormick reported against the adoption of the ordinance. H. T. Wilkinson made a minority report recommending that the ordinance be passed. The majority report was adopted by the council with a vote of five to two.

The electric light committee reported favorably on the petition for an electric light at the corner of Hilda and Conwell streets and their report was adopted.

The petition of Henry Wolf and others to have the roadway to the alley between Madison and Monroe streets graded across East Pine street, was referred to the street and alley committee. This roadway was made impassable by the street railway company's grade.

Two petitions for fire plugs were referred to the fire and water committee.

The petition for transfer of license of M. Nyberg to Gust Erickson was granted, as was the petition for transfer from Geiber & Sargent to W. B. Armstead.

The petition to have the sidewalk in front of the Dixon-Cowell block cleared and the fence removed was acted upon and the contractors ordered notified to have the obstruction removed by June 10.

Considerable argument was caused by a communication from the Miracle Tripp Concrete Co., which was to the effect that, as it was the lowest bidder for the contract for city sidewalks and as they were responsible contractors and, as they were able and willing to furnish bond as required by the city council, their bid was the lowest and best bid and, according to statutes, must be accepted by the city council. They gave notice that unless the action of the city council in awarding the contract to J. E. Wilson was withdrawn, they would take such legal action as would enforce the acceptance of their bid. The Miracle-Tripp company was represented by Attorney H. C. Stiff. Alderman Finley championed the company's cause in the council. City Attorney Woody held that the council had discretionary powers in the matter of who was the best bidder. He was ordered to make a written report at the next meeting.

The offer of Joseph Herman, offering lots 12 and 13 in block 19, Higgins addition, for a city hall site, was referred to the city property committee.

The contract and estimate committee reported on the matter of awarding contracts for the work on special improvement districts Nos. 3 and 4. The committee recommended that the bid of Bakke Bros. be accepted, as follows: For work in district No. 3, $14,634.85; for work in district No. 4, $13,562.95. The report was adopted and contract with Bakke Bros. will be entered into.

Sewers.
The council next took up the sewer resolutions. Protests were filed against three of the resolutions and representatives from each district made speeches in the council. The three protesting districts were: East Cedar street, Madison to Higgins; McCormick's addition, and East Spruce street. The speeches made before the city council by the protesting districts were more or less sensible. Some of the arguments advanced were good and will be acted upon; others were not what might be called brainy. The objections at first were directed against the construction of a sewer at all. After the council had taken a recess to allow Engineers Swearingen and McCullough to make some explanations, the protest changed into a plea for an extension of the payments and more time for the people to acquaint themselves with the details of the work. One of the speeches to the council tickled Mr. Swearingen on a raw nerve and he proceeded to demonstrate why he was right to the complete satisfaction of those present. Mr. Swearingen seemed rather offended at the imputation that the persons addressing the council were rather more up-to-date on the sewer question than he was, but Mayor Logan quashed all remarks along this line by the statement that he had personally investigated Mr. Swearingen's ability and that Mr. Swearingen knew whereof he spoke. One speaker claimed that Mr. Swearingen's pipe line would not carry the sewage. This was answered by Mr. McCullough and at the conclusion of the general discussion it was decided to re-publish the resolutions on the lateral sewers and to make the payments cover a period of eight, rather than three years. Tuesday, May 21, was set as the day for hearing final objections.

Resolutions were passed covering the trunk sewers and these will not be re-published, as the cost is not so great as the lateral sewers. All the trunk sewers have now been covered and all that remains to be done is to pass resolutions covering the laterals.

A motion to instruct the city treasurer not to issue any licenses to fruit vendors, peanut vendors, restaurant keepers in wagons and peddlers generally was passed by the council.

Judge J. M. Evans requested a meeting with the council on the matter of streets where the car lines and the sewers run together. It was decided to meet with the representatives of the street car and sewer systems this afternoon at 2 o'clock and the council adjourned, to convene at that time.
