ROMONA
SISTER TO CLEOPATRA.

Adapted from the novel of Helen Jackson. Was taken at Camulos, Ventura county, California. The actual scenes were laid from a story of the white man's injustice to the Indians.

Scene One—Romona learns that she has Indian blood herself.
Scene Two—The devastation of Alessandro's village by the whites.
Scene Three—Romona kneeling beside her dead husband.
Thrilling—Realistic—True—Sublime—Photography Unexcelled.

OUT OF THE PAST.

Yes, 'tis true, it is one of those vitagraph masterpieces, "One which will be a headliner which will make a deep impression upon the theatergoers of Missoula.

ALL ON ACCOUNT OF A LAUNDRY MARK.
Here it is, a comedy full of giggles, sniffs and laughs. If you can't laugh, don't look, for it is the comedy the best yet.

FORTUNE'S FOOL.
Lovesick boy who tries to commit suicide. Rip roaring comedy of the Bijou kind.

"O. HENRY" IS DEAD
IN NEW YORK

WILLIAM SYDNEY PORTER, BRIL-LIANT JOURNALIST AND WRITER, IS NO MORE.

New York, June 5.—William Sydney
Porter, known best under his pen name of "O. Henry," as the writer of short stories, died today at a local hospital. He underwent an operation last Friday and never rallied. The nature of his ailment was not made known.
Mr. Porter was born in Greenbush, N. C., 46 years ago, and began his journalistic career on the Houston Post before that he had been cowboy, shepherd and druggist; and an active traveler. The general public knew little of his private life, for he shunned interviews and was content to be known merely through his writings as "O. Henry." His breezy paragraphs penned in Texas first drew attention to the young writer several years ago.
Then he launched forth with "Sunday Stories" for a New York paper, and was quickly recognized as a writer of ability.

Magazine stories followed and his name was assured. It was only two years ago, however, that any but his closest friends knew his real name.
Then he reluctantly consented to have his photograph printed with a brief biographical sketch. He had been in poor health for some time, but it was not thought his illness was serious.
Wednesday he dined with friends and seemed in his usual spirits. Friday night he was taken ill and removed to the hospital. A minor operation was performed but up to within an hour of his death today it was thought he would recover.

Drainage of both liver and kidneys, however, proved more deep-seated than had been thought and he died rapidly. The burial will be at Asheville, N. C.

success with the dollar sign. Dollars say to ideals. Business is to be men for profit. Be chary of asking your impertinent question, "How we get on."
Our motto is to get on. Politics, we are told, is a game. It is anything to beat the other side. It is all right to have ideals but they must be practical.
It is nice to win in straight work, but if it is necessary we must be willing to stoop to conquer, even if the stoop becomes a twist in our moral anatomy, which will never come out. Society is setting up conventional standards of living which are far from ideal.
There is a demand for knight-errantry
if the higher ideals in life are to win out. Who are to be our modern knights? Where shall we recruit them better than from the ranks of the young men and women who have dreamed dreams and had visions in our halls of higher learning? The state has a right to say to you who have been under her tutelage: "Be true to the ideals I have given you in the mount of study."

"Let that word loyalty mean as much in your life as it did in that of the knights of old. It meant to him that a pledged word was never to be

UNITED STATES COURT OF CUS-TOMS APPEALS HAS MANY CASES ON DOCKET.

Washington, June 5.—With 225 cases on its docket as a starter, the latest federal court, the United States court of customs appeals, will begin business Tuesday. On that morning the five judges of the new court will begin to hear arguments in cases on the calendar. It is expected the entire membership of the court will be present. It consists of Presiding Judge Robert M. Montgomery of Michigan and Associate Judges William Hunt of Montana, James A. Smith of California, O. N. Barber of Vermont and Marion Devries of California.

Although 225 cases are docketed in the court, preparations for hearing such as the filing of records and briefs have made it possible for the clerk of the court to place only 168 on the calendar for argument at this time. These cases have been gathered from all over the country.

IN THE THEATERS

At the Family.
The first offering of the Dick P. Sutton No. 1 company at the Family theater for this week will be "Sapho." This play will be seen tonight and Tuesday night. "Sapho" is a play that has been widely discussed. The story has been widely read and the dramatization follows the novel very closely. The main trouble with novels that have been adapted for stage presentation is that a lot of the best spots, and some of the most interesting of the dialogue, is lost by dramatization. However, such is not the case with "Sapho." When Joseph King adapted "Sapho" for the stage, he not only retained the very best of the story in his play, but here and there he added

WAR HEROINE DIES.
Indianapolis, June 5.—Mrs. Lovina Streight, known during the civil war as the "angel" of the Fifty-first Indiana regiment, and the widow of General A. D. Streight, died at her home here today, aged 89 years. General Streight was appointed colonel of the regiment when it was organized and Mrs. Streight accompanied him throughout the war as a nurse. Carrying messages from General Buell to General Boyle in Tennessee she was captured by the enemy, but escaped by forcing a teamster at the muzzle of a revolver to take her in his wagon out of the lines.

The ISIS

THE DANGER LINE.
One of the most artistic dramatic pictures we have ever had. Taken from a world-famous French story.

THE UNMAILED LETTER.
Hiram Walker of Squashtown makes that fatal error of trying to mail a letter in a fire alarm box, with almost a heroic finish. This is a big screen from start to finish.

FOR HER SISTER'S SAKE.
This is another Isis comedy, one of the kind that sends you home smiling. Showing the pranks of the "angel child" and the effect on her sister and beau. Don't miss this.

KING COTTON.
