DIXON IN CAPITAL TALKS

SENATOR TELLS OF RAPID AND SUBSTANTIAL GROWTH OF WESTERN MONTANA.

Looking the picture of health, the lines of his face set a little more firmly than when he was here something over a year ago, but still retaining the winning smile, Senator Joseph M. Dixon arrived in Helena this morning from Missoula and will return this evening, declares the Helena Record.

"I don't know a thing that I can tell you, save that western Montana is going to have one of its usual good years," remarked Senator Dixon. "We've had some pretty bad forest fires and the smoke hangs in an oppressive pall over the country, but that will not affect the bumper crops of the irrigated valleys.

"Climatic conditions are such that we have no dry-land farming in western Montana. We're raising grain and fruit and the influx of easterners continues more widely advertised in the eastern cities than in the rural districts, and consequently the bulk of the new people are of the professional and business class who have tired of city life and have come to the country, in most cases bringing with them comfortable purses.

"Missoula is steadily growing and new enterprises are being launched daily which will mean the advancement of the state and the development of its natural resources. Much building is being done in both the residence and business districts of the city and the street railway company is extending its lines. I would estimate that 20 miles of steel have already been laid in Missoula and its suburbs.

"The building of the railroad up the Big Blackfoot valley will mean much to western Montana and will open up of the most fertile and best valleys in the state. Not a quarter of its possibilities have been touched as yet. The roadbed is already constructed in sections as far as Ovando, and we understand that within 90 days steel will be laid as far as Camas prairie, the last crossing on the Big Blackfoot. The line has already been built for a distance of 20 miles out of Bonner."

Asked about the report that he was interested in a syndicate to develop a water-power plant at Three Forks, Senator Dixon said that the dispatch was utterly without foundation.

Not True.

"How such a report was sent out, I cannot understand," he continued. "I am not interested in any way in any company or syndicate to develop a water-power plant at Three Forks. In fact, I didn't know that Three Forks was large enough to justify such a project. The first I knew about this report was when some one sent me a clipping concerning it. There is only one way I can account for this report and that is that some wildcat company is endeavoring to gull the unwary by inducing the mtu invest by representing that a senator is interested in the project, or else that the dispatch is the fabrication of some irresponsible newspaper. I am not interested in the water at all, in any way, and I wish you would make the correction."

BACK FROM PARK.

Attorney Harry H. Parsons has returned from a trip through the Yellowstone National park. He describes his journey as delightful.

SHOW'S PROSPECTS EXCELLENT

WESTERN MONTANA APPLE FAIR PROMISES TO BE UNUSUALLY INTERESTING.

If indefatigable exertions and boosting will aid in making the second annual Western Montana Apple Show a success, the fair this year will be a dandy, as the officers of this show are certainly working hard to make the affair this year outshine all previous shows. Secretary Brettenstein is working persistently and untriflingly in getting together an exceedingly large display of apples, fruits, grains, grasses, etc. The several departments added especially for the ladies will, undoubtedly, prove successful, as a great many additional prizes have been offered since the regular premium list went to press. Tempting premiums will be offered for the best loaf of bread, best cakes, pies, buns, gingerbread, cookies, etc., in addition to donations for jellies, jams and preserves.

A great many farmers have promised to save their very best products for this show, and this is, of course, very much appreciated by the management, for it is really imperative that a good showing is made this year to justify those that have looked upon this as an off year what really can be raised.

The benefits of an apple show in western Montana are numerous—educationally it gives an exhibitor an opportunity to compare his products with that of his neighbors, and, incidentally, ascertain how to improve his conditions and methods, and to learn correct types and how to develop them. It makes a better farmer out of the man that makes an early determination to produce display products, as he studies to improve his methods and he gives his crop better attention, and this tends to better his crop which tends to improve the entire farm and thereby increase its value.

From an advertising standpoint it not only helps the farm but the county and state as well; it shows to visitors what can be produced and places the exhibitor's ranch in the limelight as one of the best of the country. The agricultural value of the state is measured by the quality and quantity of the products of the farms, hence this value rests in the hands of the farmers, and it behooves every soil owner to show the best that can be grown on his farm. As a rule, the premiums offered at the apple show are a sufficient remuneration to pay for any extra labor and time. The cash and special premiums amount to over $2,500 already, and scarcely a week passes but that some firm offers special prizes.

The apple show this year will be held October 10 to 15 and special rates will be offered on the different railroads. There will be free attractions every afternoon, together with musical concerts each afternoon and evening. There will be myriads of beautiful red apples, attractive fruit, vegetable, hay and grain displays, in addition to bread and pastry counters and departments of preserves, jellies and pickles.

DEAD MAN'S PROPERTY INVOLVED IN SUITS

Two suits filed yesterday against Dora A. McClain, with J. P. McClain as plaintiff, concern the estate of George D. McClain, of which the defendant is executrix. One suit has to do with 40 head of horses, property of the plaintiff and sold by George McClain, and asks a judgment in the sum of $1,199. The other asks an accounting of the partnership formerly existing between J. P. McClain and the man now dead, in a ranch.

NASAL CATARRH.

Henry L. Britton Says It is Easy to Get Rid Of.

"My head, nose and glands leading to my eyes and nose were stopped up and swollen; I tried several so-called catarrh cures, but Hyomei, used thoroughly, did the curing. There is nothing too good to say in favor of Hyomei. It cured my nasal catarrh."—Henry L. Britton, Frost St., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are, and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated and inflamed membrane, it gives relief in two minutes.

Used regularly for a few weeks, it will build up and heal the germ-infested membrane and drive out catarrh.

If you own a small Hyomei pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of Hyomei at druggists everywhere, or at Geo. Froehelmer's in Missoula, for only 50 cents. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat or money back.

GOOD FISHING.

J. P. Pasture, who is spending his vacation at Libby, is having good luck fishing. He writes a friend as follows: "I find some real live fellows here, and the fishing is excellent. I caught 50 on Libby creek Sunday and 60 on Granite Monday. Tomorrow, Tuesday, I will try my fortune in Granite lake." A half a hundred trout a day is considered a pretty good catch.

SWEET IN TOWN.

DR. HARKINS BACK FROM EUROPE

UNIVERSITY INSTRUCTOR RETURNS FROM LONG TRIP—SOME EXPERIENCES.

Dr. W. D. Harkins, head of the department of chemistry at the University of Montana, who has been absent in Europe and in the east for the past 15 months, has returned to Missoula, preparatory to resuming his academic duties. Dr. Harkins spent the greater part of his time in Germany and in Boston. While in Germany he studied with Professor Haber, one of the most noted chemical scientists of the present time, the work being done at Karlsruhe, where is situated the largest and most elaborately equipped chemical laboratory in the world. Later, after a trip through Switzerland and Italy, he went to Boston, where he was connected with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a member of the faculty. While in residence there Dr. Harkins devoted his time to research work in physical chemistry for the Carnegie institute of Washington.

In Europe. Although Professor Harkins' visit was primarily of an educational character and pertained exclusively to educational matters, yet he took advantage of his opportunity and made a tour of the most important European countries. In England the University of Oxford offered the first attraction for him, he going from there to Eton college and then to London. At Eton he saw the college students attired in full dress suits and plug hats at midday; at London, Dr. Harkins remained three weeks for the purpose of attending a series of lectures on the progress of the international chemical congress which was convened there at that time.

He also spent some time at the University of London. "The English are a very entertaining and sociable people," said Professor Harkins, "and during my sojourn among them I had a perfectly enjoyable time. Banquets constituted one of the prominent features of social life; these banquets are most elaborate and sumptuous, and sometimes as high as four or five thousand guests are in attendance." Dr. Harkins had an average of three invitations each day for such social functions.

It was the original intention of Dr. Harkins to study at the University of Berlin. He had, however, occasion to go to Karlsruhe and, in particular, to visit Professor Haber, to whom he had letters of introduction. The unusual facilities for chemical work in the Hobe Schule diverted him from his former purpose.

Many Nationalities. In his laboratory work Professor Harkins associated with a polyglot student body. Under Professor Haber were studying eight Englishmen, two Americans, two Japanese, 15 Russians, five norwegians, besides representatives from other nations. "Many of these were able to speak English," says Professor Harkins. "One Japanese was an exceptionally brilliant student; one of the deepest thinkers I have ever come in contact with. Professor Haber says the Russians are generally the best students; there are not enough Americans at the school to make an accurate estimate of their ability."

"The Germans are exceedingly polite and courteous. They show great respect to a foreigner; in this they surpass the Americans by far. Shortly after my arrival at Karlsruhe, I noticed a young man on the opposite of the street take off his hat to me, and I did likewise to him, although I was not personally acquainted with him. I learned later that he was one of Professor Haber's students.

"I avoided the common highways of foreign travel as much as possible. If one pursues the ordinary route he will always meet Americans, always be with Americans and always speak English. In order to make the tour instructive one must mingle with the native people.

"Good fortune attended me throughout the entire trip except at Boston, where my little boy was stricken for some time with typhoid fever; it attacked me also, but resulted in nothing serious."

During his absence Dr. Harkins visited the leading universities of the world—Oxford, the universities of London, Paris, Berlin, Heidelberg, Strasbourg, Munich, Zurich. In this country, he was at Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton and Chicago. He also made a tour of the south.

Dr. Harkins is a man of rare scientific ability. He is also a graduate of Stanford university from which institution he received his doctor's degree in 1907; at Stanford he was also instructor in analytical chemistry. Such men as Dr. Harkins are building up the University of Montana to be one of the foremost institutions in the west.

LADIES, WHY NOT PRESERVE YOUR YOUTH AND BEAUTY?

Nothing so detracts from the attractiveness of women as dull, faded, lustreless hair.

There is no excuse for this condition nowadays, because notice is hereby given to the readers of The Missoulian that Parisian Sage, the quick-acting hair restorer, is now on sale in Missoula and is sold with a rigid guarantee at 50 cents a large bottle.

Since its introduction into America, Parisian Sage has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons: It is safe and harmless. It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ. It stops falling hair. It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft, glossy and luxuriant. It gives life and beauty to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy. It is the faintest perfumed hair tonic made.

It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

Fight shy of the druggist who offers you a substitute; he is unworthy of your confidence.

Made only in America by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package.

THE WEATHER.

IF YOU CANNOT SWIM STRAY NEAR THE SHORE, IF YOU CAN SWIM BE SATISFIED TO TELL YOUR FRIENDS ABOUT IT.

Yesterday was a fine summer day, the highest point reached by the thermometer being 85. The mountains were all shrouded in smoke and the sky seemed murky on that account. The following figures were given out yesterday: Maximum 85 Minimum 49

6 a. m. Thermometer 52 Barometer 26.66
6 p. m. Thermometer 81 Barometer 26.62

COURT IS MOVED.

Yesterday the greater part of the paraphernalia of the district court, including everything but the furniture, was moved from the old courthouse to the courtroom in the new. The old district courtroom, once the largest hall in Missoula county—even when Missoula county included all of western Montana—practically seems mighty small potatoes and few in a hill just now.

M. M. Gibson of Chicago is in the city on business. He is traveling for the hardware firm of Hibbard, Bartlett & Spencer.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 215 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.
