

TAF FIRST MEMBER OF CONGRESS

PRESIDENT WAS ENROLLED IN CONSERVATION BOOKS BEFORE PINCHOT.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—An interesting light on President William H. Taft's connection with the conservation movement develops in the fact that the records of the National Conservation association show that he is the original member, having joined before Gifford Pinchot took office and while the venerable president, Charles W. Eliot of Harvard, was at its head.

Commenting upon the slight confusion of some of the delegates already appointed as to the need of work of the conservation association and the conservation congress, Secretary Shipp of the association, who is also executive secretary of the congress, said: "The association is a permanent organization, having a membership of nearly 50,000 scattered throughout all of the different states. Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester, is its official head. It is organized along lines similar to those of most general associations, and deals with conservation questions in their broad relations and as they affect the states, although purely state questions are within the purview of the various state commissions."

"The conservation congress is differently organized, having a membership of only such delegates as attend, but no permanent or fixed number, its sessions are arranged by an executive committee representing the association and the congress, and its annual sessions are open to all who come, irrespective of membership in the national association. The two organizations are separate and distinct, the congress being an annual meeting of men interested in conservation and the association being an organization of men who are members and maintain a permanent relationship. At the head of the congress is President Bernard N. Baker. The conservation movement, therefore, has two official heads, President Pinchot of the association and President Baker of the congress, each fulfilling separate and distinct duties."

The local board of managers is laying plans for an attendance of 15,000 delegates at the five-day September conference. So great is the flood of acceptances from the invitations issued a month ago that plans are already being laid to entertain one of the largest assemblages either St. Paul or Minneapolis has ever seen. Committees have been named to appear in advance for suitable hotel accommodations and information bureaus and other special facilities will be provided in anticipation of an attendance which will fill the two cities to overflowing.

MARKET MOVEMENT OF THE DAY

New York, Aug. 18.—For the first time this week the stock market evinced a reactionary tendency with a generally lower level of prices.

The declines were serious, not was there any enforced liquidation, but rather of realizing for profits with some attendant bear selling. The general belief is that the political events of the next few days are bound to leave their impression on the securities market. Wall street is devoting marked attention to the conflict in the republican party. The market opened with recissions of a point or more in many of the active issues and soon went lower on unfounded rumors dealing with the alleged serious illness of the best known member of the standard oil party. Partial recovery was made from these setbacks but the list displayed more or less hesitation for the balance of the day and closed at or near the lowest prices. Further light was thrown on the country's foreign trade situation by the publication of an official statement from Washington concerning imports and customs receipts for the first year under the new tariff. It puts total imports during the 12 months ending July 31st at $1,562,441,181, of which slightly less than 50 per cent entered free of duty. Imports during the year were larger than in any corresponding period in history and the volume of those entering free of duty the largest ever shown to any corresponding period. Customs receipts for the year were $327,873,672, a larger total than in any other year except 1907, when the total was about $3,000,000 larger. London was again a seller in this market to the extent of about 25,000 shares. The Bank of England increased its proportion of reserves to liabilities to a point well above that of last week and the total reserves also were larger. The Bank of France reported a trifling loss in gold and a large gain in treasury deposits.

Bonds reflected the tone of the stock market by their irregularity. Total sales, par value, $1,430,000.

Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Foreign markets showed symptoms of strength today which was reflected locally by an advance in wheat prices. The buoyancy abroad was mainly in the undertone of the market, based on expectation that France would require much outside grain. Belief that recent and present rains in the northwest would delay the threshing and moving of the new corn was a bullish factor and in the same category were listed export cargoes from Pacific slope, and a good cash demand in the northwest. The close was steady in all those deliveries.
