

CORNELL LOSES TO PENNSYLVANIA AFTER A HARD AND FAST STRUGGLE

Red and Blue Team Show Lack of Form, but Between Fumbles and Poor Handling of Punts, Manage to Score Two Touchdowns—Two Goals From Placement Cornell's Only Score.

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—In a hard and fast game in which there was a mixture of good and bad playing, the University of Pennsylvania football team defeated Cornell on Franklin field this afternoon, 12-6. The Quakers score was made on two touchdowns and goals and Cornell's on two goals from placement by Quarterback Butler. Despite the fact that Pennsylvania won, the score was a disappointment to the followers of the Pennsylvania eleven. The red and blue team at times lacked the dash it has shown in several games this season, and some of its plays were marred by fumbling and the poor handling of punts.

On the other hand, Cornell played a more dashing game than was expected. Her interference to help the runner with the ball was at times almost perfect. On several occasions it looked as if the Ithaca men would succeed in carrying the ball across the goal line for touchdowns, but the Pennsylvanians braced when things looked dangerous and held the big red team from New York state repeatedly. Then Cornell would resort to a goal from placement, but it succeeded only twice in the five or six times it was tried.

Pennsylvania's back field was a disappointment, as it failed to play up to the form shown in previous games. This was due in a large measure to men who had been injured again becoming incapacitated as far as first-class football was concerned. Scott played poorly compared with his brilliant work heretofore, being outplayed by Butler and frequently fumbling punts.

The Cornell team, as a whole, gave a fine exhibition of helping the runner, easily bowing over Pennsylvania tacklers before they were able to touch the man with the ball. Cornell's playing was also quite free from fumbles. Except a wing-shift used by Cornell, the game brought out no new football features. The forward pass failed almost as often as it gained, Cornell being more successful with this play than Pennsylvania.

The Game in Detail.

Pennsylvania won the toss and took the kickoff. Pennsylvania got the ball on Cornell's 30-yard line and by a dashing play through the line and a forward pass took the ball to Cornell's 4-yard line, where it was fumbled and Cornell got it. Cornell immediately punted to her own 25-yard line. After one play, Mercer took the ball around Cornell's right end and ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Ramsdell kicked goal.

The play during the remainder of the period was in Pennsylvania territory. The ball was on Pennsylvania's 15-yard line in Cornell's possession when the period ended.

Score: Pennsylvania, 6; Cornell, 0. When the second period began Butler, who had failed in two attempts for a goal, tried again and succeeded in a pretty kick from placement on the 25-yard line.

Neither team was able to make much of an impression on the opponent's line for a touchdown. It was a fine duel, between Scott and Butler and Gass, who relieved Butler. A feature of this duel was the running back of a punt by Gass for 30 yards and a 25-yard dash by Ramsdell to Cornell's 37-yard line. Hough, who took Scott's place, in three dashes took the ball to the 70-yard line and then Sommer, on a delayed pass, made a touchdown. Ramsdell kicked goal.

In the third period Cornell intercepted a forward pass and on the next line-up Nichols, for Cornell, took the ball around Pennsylvania's right end to Pennsylvania's 45-yard line, where Butler kicked a goal from placement at a different angle.

Score: Pennsylvania, 12; Cornell, 6. Both teams played hard and fast.

Cornell got the ball on a poor forward pass. A forward pass gained 25 yards and a fumbled punt enabled Cornell to keep the ball on Pennsylvania's 20-yard line. Butler here narrowly missed another field goal. Pennsylvania then got the ball and worked it to Cornell's 18-yard line where the period ended.

Score: Pennsylvania, 12; Cornell, 6. With the ball on Cornell's 18-yard line at the beginning of the fourth period Pennsylvania tried a forward pass and Cornell got the ball on a fumble and punted to midfield. Getting the ball after an exchange of punts Pennsylvania rushed it for short gains around Cornell's ends and a forward pass netting 25 yards put the ball on Cornell's 7-yard line, where Pennsylvania last five yards. Ramsdell then failed at a goal from placement. Cornell punted to midfield. The game ended with the ball in Cornell's possession on her own 43-yard line.

Final score: Pennsylvania, 12; Cornell, 6.

MIDDIES ARE READY FOR THE ARMY GAME

Annapolis, Nov. 24.—Football work in Annapolis for 1910 closed today with the final practices of the midshipmen on Worden field. Tomorrow the navy squad, numbering 35 players and substitutes, will leave for Philadelphia, where the big game with the army will be played on Saturday. Head Coach Berren, at the conclusion of today's practice, gave out the navy's tentative lineup for the game. The team is one of the most evenly balanced that has represented the navy. The line from wing to wing averages 175-7 pounds, and the back-field quartet 171-2 pounds, making the team average 174-11 pounds. The practice today was in every way pleasing to the coaches. Coach Berren said that every one of the 17 players who had suffered from stomach trouble recently had recovered.

MANIFESTO IS ISSUED BY MADERO

republic because of this system of government and grown because of the efforts of General Diaz to saddle on the nation a successor of his own choosing. This, it is declared, decided many Mexicans to undertake the struggle for a recovery of popular sovereignty. The anti-re-election national party was organized for this purpose. It named Madero and Dr. Francisco Piquez Gomez for the offices of president and vice president. The manifesto states that General Diaz, realizing the conditions, had Madero imprisoned before the election. The elections took place, it is stated, the people being excluded from the Madero meetings by violence, while prisons were filled with independent citizens and shameful frauds were committed.

"This unlawful and ruthless situation can no longer subsist," the manifesto continues. "I have thoroughly comprehended that if the people have designated me as a candidate for the presidency it is not because they have discerned in me the gifts of a statesman or ruler, but the manliness of a patriot, determined, if necessary, to sacrifice himself provided liberty can be achieved."

"In virtue of the above, and as an echo of the national will, I declare now the past elections to be illegal and the republic to be without lawful government, and I assume provisionally the presidency of the republic until the people will designate its ruler in conformity with the law. To attain this end, it is necessary to remove from power the audacious usurpers that, as sole title of legality, display scandalous and immoral frauds."

The manifesto designates Sunday, the 20th of November, from 6 o'clock as the date and time for the rising.

Goes Off Half-Cocked.

El Paso, Nov. 24.—The absence of alarming reports today from the centers of disturbance in Mexico, is taken as additional confirmation of declarations that President Diaz has the situation south of the Rio Grande well in hand. The government is reported tonight in complete control everywhere except at Guerrero, to which point troops have not yet penetrated. The insurrectionists at this place are reported to have appointed a city government of their own choosing. The town of Guerrero referred to in dispatches from Eagle Pass in connection with the reported wounding of Madero is believed here to be a village 50 or 75 miles farther south. Those who place a more serious construction on the recent disorders assert that Madero's presence will serve to concentrate the isolated groups which have been incapable of anything like united action, owing to the absence of a recognized commander-in-chief.

An opinion much more widely expressed, however, is that the revolution which General Reyes feared a year ago went off "half-cooked" and that nothing now can make it a serious threat to the Diaz administration. Nothing confirmatory of the wounding of Madero was received here tonight.

Madero Reported Injured.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Nov. 24.—The Mexican commander in Ciudad Porfirio Diaz tonight informed Customs Collector R. W. Dowe that Francisco I. Madero, claimant of the presidency of Mexico, was severely wounded in a fight today at Guerrero, between his forces and 200 rurales and cavalry commanded by Colonel Fuentes and Lieutenant Nicmar Valdes. The Mexican commandant said that his advice came directly from a trustworthy citizen of Guerrero, who came in during the day. According to the report, Madero led his force when federal troops engaged them. The engagement was fierce for a time. Madero was seen to fall from his horse. He was carried to the rear and his force fell back. The federal troops are reported to have followed up their advantage, scattering the rebels to the hills. The nature of Madero's wounds are unknown. Collector Dowe said tonight that he would wait for absolute confirmation before making any report.

FOUNDER OF GEORGIA HONORED BY STATUE

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 24.—The memory of General James Edward Oglethorpe, the founder of the colony of Georgia, was honored here yesterday by the unveiling of a statue erected by the state of Georgia, the city of Savannah, the Sons of the Revolution and through private subscriptions. The monument, which cost $40,000, stands in Chippewa square. The monument represents Oglethorpe, not as an old man as most of the prints of him make him appear, but as an English officer in uniform.
