

DALTON'S TRUSTY RIGHT TOE BRINGS VICTORY TO MIDDIES

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The navy, in a hard and clean game of football on Franklin field here this afternoon before a large and enthusiastic crowd, defeated their old rivals, the army, by 5 to 0. After six attempts to hook the ball from placement over the West Point goal line, Dalton, the sturdy halfback of the midshipmen, succeeded on his seventh effort, and the three points for which he had been striving looked good to the navy and proved to be sufficient to win the game.

It was a pretty kick, squarely between the goal posts, and was made toward the end of the last period of play. The kick almost broke the army's heart, but true to the traditions of the teams that have fought for West Point before them, the army stuck to it, and did not show the white feather. The navy deserved the victory, for the midshipmen put up a sterling game and outplayed the cadets from the initial kickoff down to the instant when Field Judge Fuitt threw up his hand and declared the contest at an end.

Dalton Tries Hard.

Of Dalton's seven attempts at goals from the field, three were made from the 30-yard line, the last of which succeeded; one from the 19-yard line, one from the 16-yard line and one from the 38, and one mighty effort, 51 yards from the army goal. All but three carried to the goal line, but the stiff wind from the northwest carried the ball to one side of the goal posts. Dean, the star punter of the army, made two attempts at field goals, one from the 44-yard line and the other at 45 yards, but neither kick came near a score.

The frequency with which resort was made to this method of attempting to score was because of the difficulty each team had in advancing the ball consistently. The midshipmen played a fine offensive game and there were few times through the 60 minutes of action that the midshipmen did not have the cadets on the defensive. The game will go down in football annals of West Point and Annapolis as one of the cleanest and best ever played between the Institutions. It was fought before one of the largest crowds that ever gathered on Franklin field. Every stand was taxed to its capacity, the private boxes were filled, and a crushing mass of people choked the promenade that surrounds the four sides of the gridiron.

In the boxes were many figures famililar in society circles of Washington, New York and Philadelphia. So the Navy Meyer was the only member far as could be observed, Secretary of President Taft's cabinet present. He roared hard and successfully for the navy, surrounded by a host of friends in the north stands, where the midshipmen shouted themselves hoarse for their team. Assistant Secretary Winthrop and a long line of rear admirals, captains and other officers, active and retired, were also present to root for the navy. In the south stand there was an equally large number of army officers. In the absence of Secretary of War Dickinson, because of the death of his son, General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, upheld the honor of the army. The box reserved for Mr. Dickinson had been turned over to the friends whom the secretary had invited, but most of them, out of respect to the head of the war department, did not appear on the grounds.

The weather was almost perfect for football, and the vast crowd, bedecked in the black, gold and gray of the army or the blue and gold of the navy, with a generous sprinkling of large yellow chrysanthemums, made a brilliant and animated picture. The six companies of cadets, in their long gray coats and caps, and the 12 companies of midshipmen, in the navy blue uniforms, made a fine appearance as they marched across the field prior to the beginning of the game. The bands preceding the soldierly-looking boys played lively tunes and at the sight of the future officers of the army and navy cheer after cheer swept the field. The navy goat was on hand, but for some reason the old army mule was not to be seen.

The nearest that either side came to scoring a touchdown was in the second period, when Hyatt of the army fumbled one of Dalton's long punts, and Gilchrist fell on the ball on the army's 16-yard line. "Put it over, put it over," came the cry from the frantic midshipmen in the north stand, but just as the team set themselves for a mighty effort up went the timer's hand and the period was over.

After Dalton's kick that won the game, his teammates hugged him and danced about with delight, while the midshipmen in the stands sent up an awful din with their megaphones.

The record between the two institutions stands seven victories each and one tie.

Following the close of the game, there was the same kaleidoscopic picture that has followed previous army-navy games. The 600 midshipmen assembled in midfield, formed a circle and rushed to the colors as the navy band added to the din by blaring out patriotic music. After the celebration was over the victorious midshipmen marched off the field singing, "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Game in Detail.

The army won the toss and chose the west goal, with a stiff wind at their backs. Dalton kicked off at 2:04 to the army's 5-yard line. Dean carried the ball to the army's 25-yard line. Brown gained two yards around right end. Dean punted to the navy's 45-yard line. An army man was left out for a moment. When play was resumed Dalton kicked to the army's 28-yard mark. Dean immediately returned the kick on the first down to the army's 10-yard line. Dalton again booted the ball to the army's three-yard line. With the ball only a foot from the army's goal, Dean punted from behind his goal line.

Rodes caught the ball on the army's 40-yard mark and ran it back 15 yards. Dalton failed to gain and then dropped back for a try for a goal from placement from the 31-yard line. The kick was blocked, but the navy retained possession of the ball on the army's 28-yard line. Dalton made five yards through center. The ball was only 20 yards from the army's goal. Dalton again missed goal from placement. The ball was brought to the 25-yard line and put into play. On a fake, Surlis went through left tackle for two yards and Dean then punted to the navy's 35-yard line. Clay ran the ball back five yards. Dalton punted to the army's 40-yard line.

Dean made a short kick to Dalton, the latter bringing the ball back 15 yards to the army's 42-yard line. A bad pass to Sewell put the navy back to the center of the field. It was the navy's ball on the third down, with 12 yards to gain. Dalton kicked to the army's 20-yard mark. On a fake kick, Dean carried the ball six yards around right end and punted to Sewell on the navy's 45-yard line. The army got the ball. Dean was thrown for a five-yard loss on a fake kick. He punted to Clay, who ran the ball back 15 yards. It was the navy's ball on its own 15-yard mark. Dalton kicked to Surlis, who signaled for a fair catch. The first period ended with the ball in the army's possession in mid-field.

Score—Army, 0; navy, 0.

Beginning the second period, Dean gained one yard through left tackle and kicked to Rodes on the navy's 20-yard mark. The ball was carried back five yards to the navy's 35-yard mark and was given to the army on the navy's 45-yard line on a penalty. Surlis went through center for three yards and Brown went through the same place for the same distance. Surlis was injured and McDonald went in his place.

Dean tried for a goal from placement on the navy's 45-yard mark. Dalton kicked to the army's 45-yard mark where Dean was dropped in his tracks. Dean lost three yards on an attempt to go through center, and then kicked to Rodes, on the navy's 25-yard mark. Clay kicked to the army's 40-yard mark, where the army fumbled and the navy got the ball 35 yards from the army's goal. Rodes was thrown for a loss of four yards.

After a failure to gain through the line, Dalton attempted a goal from placement. The ball went wide, and was then put in play on the army's 25-yard line. Dean went around the navy's left end for five yards, being thrown hard by Brown. The latter was injured, but resumed play. Dean booted the ball to Rodes in mid-field. Clay immediately returned the punt to the army's 15-yard line. Hyatt, who caught the ball, was thrown hard by Merring. McDonald failed to gain around left end and Dean kicked to Rodes, who caught the ball on the army's 47-yard line. Clay kicked out of bounds on the army's 20-yard mark. Dean kicked to Clay, who signaled for a fair catch on the army's 50-yard line. Dalton elected to try for a goal, from placement on the 50-yard line. The ball fell a few feet short and was again put in play on the army's 25-yard line.

In the second half, Dalton kicked to Hyatt on the army's 10-yard line, who ran it back 20 yards. Brown skirted the navy end for 15 yards. It was the army's ball on the 40-yard line. After an exchange of punts the army elected to try for a goal from placement; Dean missed the goat by 10 yards. The ball was put in play on the navy's 25-yard line. Rodes dived into center for five yards and Dalton punted to mid-field. The army fumbled and the navy got the ball on its 55-yard mark. On a forward pass the ball went to the navy on the army's 20-yard mark. Dalton made five yards against right tackle and the ball was only 15 yards from the army's goal. Dalton again tried goal from placement, but he missed by six feet from the 20-yard line. The ball was put in play on the army's 25-yard mark in the possession of the army. Dean kicked and Clay ran the ball back 10 yards. It was the navy's ball on its own 48-yard line.

The third period ended with the ball in the navy's possession on its own 48-yard line.

Score—Army, 0; navy, 0.

The fourth period began with the ball in mid-field. Hamilton returned to the game at left end in place of Elmore. Dalton gained two yards. He then kicked to the army's 25-yard line. Brown ran the ball back five yards. Devore failed to gain, and Dean, who dropped back to kick, fumbled a high pass, but recovered the ball on the army's 20-yard line. Dalton plunged into center for three yards and then dropped back for another try for goal from placement. The ball sailed straight between the goal posts.

Score—Navy, 3; army, 0.

Dean kicked to Clay at the navy's 5-yard line and the ball was brought back 20 yards. The navy was penalized 10 yards for illegal helping of the runner. Dalton kicked to the army's 35-yard line, where the army man was thrown. Dean kicked out of bounds on the navy's 47-yard line. The navy lost 15 yards for interference. Rodes made five yards on an end run. Dalton kicked to the army's 35-yard mark, where Surlis was downed without a sign of gain. Dean returned the punt to Dalton on the navy's 40-yard mark. Dalton again punted to the army's 20-yard line. Douglas went in for Merring at left tackle for Annapolis. Dalton was hurt, but refused to retire from the game. The army lost five yards for off-side play. The ball was in the navy's possession on the army's 27-yard line. Dalton prepared to try for a goal from placement from the 30-yard line. Sewell dropped on his knee to hold the ball, but instead of kicking, Sewell made a forward pass, an army man getting the ball 10 yards from the army goal. Dean kicked on the first lineup and Clay returned the ball to the army's 25-yard line. The game ended with the ball in the navy's possession in mid-field.

WALLACE RESIDENT CALLS TO SEE TAFT

Wallace, Nov. 26.—(Special.)—B. F. O'Neil, banker, railroad president, timber owner and philanthropist, has returned from a long stay in the east. While in New York he slept in the newsboys' row and also turned several big business deals affecting local enterprises. Incidentally, he escaped the political campaign in Idaho, having been defeated in his race for the republican nomination for governor. While in New York Mr. O'Neil received a note from President Taft, who desired the well-known Idahoan to call on him. The Wallace man hastened to Washington. He tells, with some glee, of the fact that when he entered the room where some 40 people were awaiting their turn to see the chief executive of the United States, he was immediately ushered into the presence of Mr. Taft and remained with him for an hour, while the others cooled their heels outside. Besides being one of the recognized leaders of the republican party in Idaho, Mr. O'Neil is a big man physically, which fact doubtless appealed to the president.

Consider all the people we know; where would they be if they did not have good eyes? Or, if they have not good eyes, where would they be without their glasses? He who has poor eyes without good glasses is working under a severe handicap, and is certain to be distanced in life's race by those who have been more fortunately endowed, either with eyes or with the common sense which causes them to go and get glasses.
