

ANTI-RECIPROCIITY SPEECH BY CANNON STIRS UP HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Arguments of the Former Speaker Are to the Effect That the Proposed Agreement Should Have Originated in the House, and Is Therefore Unconstitutional.

Washington, April 23.—(Special.)—A most remarkable thing took place in the house the other day. Uncle Joe Cannon, formerly speaker of that popular body of lawmakers, stood upon the floor and spoke for three hours and 20 minutes without a break. Considered as a physical feat that was a grand performance. Mr. Cannon is far beyond those scores and 10. Those who differ with the old man in politics cannot but admire his ability and courage. His speech was full of meat, logical and, at times, eloquent. It was delivered from an aisle—one end of it to the other—on the republican side.

Uncle Joe is a wonderful performer. In action he is a live wire. He thinks rapidly, talks fluently and moves about like an acrobat. One of his favorite points upon the table with his left hand. He marches up and down, waves his arms, bows and nods, and shouts. He is considered one of the greatest debaters in congress. For the last three years the insurgents of his party have abused him, but last Wednesday when he spoke so forcefully against the Canadian reciprocity bill they were delighted with him. The old man was so in earnest, so clever, and so entertaining that dozens of members crowded the aisle to hear him. Some of the new men stood throughout the speech and never missed a word. Every now and then Mr. Cannon would pause, pour a little water from a glass into his hand, and bathe his perspiring brow. Clad in dark cut-away suit, linen shirt, standing collar and string tie, he looked like a relic of the past. But his argument, his language, and his alertness proved him a statesman of today. He may be wrong in his position, but he has vigor, convictions, courage, intellectuality and ability far in excess of the average congressman.

Opposes Reciprocity.

Mr. Cannon spoke in opposition to the Canadian reciprocity bill.

"This," said he, "is the most important matter before this body since the Spanish-American war. By way of introduction I will say that I represent my district. But, when voting here, I vote for legislation that goes into every American home. I try to represent the whole people. I have never arrayed class against class, or section against section.

"Ought this treaty to be ratified? The bill was not prepared, except one section of it, under the constitution. It came in here with the president's message and was introduced formally by the gentleman from Massachusetts. It did not originate in the house, where all revenue measures must start.

"Treaty agreements are not always wise. Often they are unwise. Take the war with Spain. That side of the house led by the peerless leader became very patriotic and, as one result, we got the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico and Cuba. In my opinion we have the Philippine Islands for all time to come. We may say on the stump that we will give them to the people as soon as they are sufficiently civilized to take care of themselves, but I do not look for that day soon.

"The peerless leader helped to put through the treaty. He has been here again recently. I have seen him circulating among the democrats. He gave the majority that ratified the Philippine treaty of peace. He will give the majority that ratifies the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

"In making treaties we must be careful," declared Mr. Cannon. "Some treaties are like a trade. They have honey on their tongues and cleverness in their feet. That is the way an old constituent of mine puts it."

Growth of the Country.

Mr. Cannon digressed here to tell about the wonderful growth of this country. He said that he recalled the day when there were less than 100 miles of railroad west of the Alleghany mountains. At that time, he said, the fertile lands of the Wabash region were so thick with malaria that you could cut it with a knife. He gave statistics of figures to show the wonderful growth of the middle west. "Now," said he, "we have 92,999,000 people. We can support five or six billion."

In discussing the men and times of his young manhood Mr. Cannon spoke of the various nationalities represented in the great streams of people that poured into the west from every direction.

"Among the mighty throngs," he pointed at the top of his voice, "were thousands of Irishmen and people for I am half Irish. They came as laborers and business men. Travel throughout the west and you will not see an Irishman picking for a living. They have become great men. Some of them are in congress, some in the state legislatures and some on the police forces of the country."

The house applauded and laughed.

With Mr. Cannon in his half-humorous reference to the Irishman and his proneness for the police force.

Mr. Cannon declared that he did not come here to follow the lead of the president. He represents his constituents and the president's. "The president and the house and the senate may stand together for this bill," said he, "but I will walk in the shadow of my judgment although I walk the path alone."

Mr. Cannon used a map to show that weather conditions in Canada are much better than weather conditions in America for farming. Early frost and lack of moisture handicapped the American. He predicted that the passage of this bill would help Canada to do for the west what the middle west did for the east when the movement from the eastern states to the western country started.

"Christ died for all," declared Mr. Cannon, "but nations are for their own."

"There has never been a time," he said, "that Canada did not knock at the door of America for the tax-free admission of her farm products. She came to Harrison with a treaty agreement. This time, however, the United States has gone to Canada. The Canadians say that they desire higher prices for their farm products."

Steel Trust.

The steel trust, Mr. Cannon said, desired the passage of this treaty, why, he could not say, but thought the gentleman from Alabama could. This brought Mr. Underwood to his feet.

"I am certain that the gentleman from Illinois knows more about the steel trust than I do," responded Mr. Underwood.

"I did not mean to be personal," explained Mr. Cannon, "but I believe that the steel company would like to see the bill pending become a law and I referred to the gentleman because of its great development in his district.

"I will look him in the eye and say this: 'I have never had any connection whatever in my life with the steel company. Some of my relatives has."

Speaking of the claim that Canada would not accept the treaty if the free bill were attached, Mr. Cannon asked: "Who is legislating for the United States, Canada or us?"

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS GIVE SPLENDID BALL

As enjoyable a ball as has been given for many months was that of the Missoula council of the Knights of Columbus last evening at Edite hall. Everything was perfect and the knights and their friends danced away a merry evening. There was a large invitation list and there were few regrets.

GERMAN WAR SCARE.

The German emperor has called out the reserves, according to a report received here last night by George Mink, the standards is said to be the receipt of news that Fritz Koopman and Joe Hiddet are on the way from Missoula to Berlin. It is feared that Koopman will stampede the German sausage makers by the introduction of new friills and the hopgrowers are preparing to unload their entire crop upon Joe—hence the fear that the entire German economic system will be upset.

CLEANED UP.

The sheriff's office believes that, with the arrest of "Dad" McKay, who was landed yesterday, it has cleaned out the "Middletown" of St. Regis. Marie Nelson, Carrie Swanson, Bernice Roe, Gerrie O'Neil and several men are in prison now.

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF SCROFULA

Scrofula belongs to the type of diseases known as blood poison, and is a trouble usually manifested in childhood. The ordinary symptoms of Scrofula are swollen glands about the neck, sores and ulcers on the body, scaly diseases, skin affections, weak eyes, poor physical development, etc. The trouble being deeply rooted in the blood, often attacks the bones if the poison is not removed from the circulation, and this should be seriously considered in the case of any child who shows symptoms of having scrofulous blood. Some persons who inherit Scrofula reach maturity before the trouble develops, but being bred in the circulation, the disease is bound to show itself in some form. Frequently a debilitating spell of sickness offers a favorable opportunity for the disease to manifest itself. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and by going down into the circulation, and ridding it of the scrofulous germs, and enriching the blood with healthful corpuscles, S. S. S. cures Scrofula permanently. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and is perfectly safe for children. If you or your child have any symptoms of Scrofula, begin the use of S. S. S. at once, and get the disease forever removed from the system. Book on the blood, and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

KNIGHTS OF CAMERA TO TOUR PARK

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF PHOTOGRAPHERS TO VISIT YELLOWSTONE AND COMPETE.

In connection with the convention of the National Photographers' association in St. Paul, July 24 to 29, the Northern Pacific railway is arranging a special, personally conducted train to Yellowstone park for the benefit of those photographers who wish to visit the "Scenic Wonder Spot."

What is of especial interest to the knights of the camera is the announcement that an attractive list of prizes will be offered for the best series of 10 photographs, none smaller than 8x10 inches, of scenes in the park, which shall be submitted to the railway officials following the tour. Those eligible to compete are members of the association who shall either make the trip on the special train or who shall join the party at the park.

LOS ANGELES WAITS PRISONERS' ARRIVAL

made the signal for precipitating the long-threatened general strike for unionizing Los Angeles.

Such a strike, coming or during the trial of the accused conspirators, would complicate matters and create a dangerous condition.

Such fears on the part of the police are unfounded, however, according to a statement issued today by J. E. Timmons, general organizer of the iron workers, who is in charge of the strike here. Timmons declared that all the labor unions wanted was a square deal. He asserted that it was palpably the intention of the foe of labor to lay at the doors of the workingmen's organizations responsibility for the Times outrage.

"But," he added, "I have only to remind the people of this county how often such charges have been made against the unions."

Not Organizations of Murderers.

"The unions are not organizations of murderers," Timmons continued, "and nobody will rejoice more to see the guilty punished than the members of labor unions."

Leaders of the local unions continued their private conferences today, presumably on the subject of the defense of the prisoners and the raising of funds to finance the legal battle, which gives every promise of being fiercer and more bitter than that which resulted in the acquittal of Meyer, Hayward and Pettibone in the Steenberg case.

It was reported here that Clarence Darrow, the man who defended the Colorado miners in the Idaho dynamiting case, would take the lead in defending the McNamara and McManis. It was also said that Attorney Rappaport, counsel for the International Iron Workers' association at Indianapolis, would be the personal representative of John McNamara, John Harriman, a socialist attorney, was mentioned as a probable member of later's legal array at the trial. But nothing authoritative regarding the defense's plans could be obtained.

A report that habeas corpus proceedings would be instituted here immediately upon the arrival of the prisoners likewise could not be verified.

COLONEL MARSHALL DIES ON TRAIN AT FARGO

the best payor the city ever had. He was a member of the Tenth legislative assembly and one of the leaders in that session. He was married in 1878 in Kentucky, to Miss Millie T. Jenkins, daughter of Dr. Jenkins of Ballard county. She died in New York city in June, 1899. They had three children, Anna J., Emily M. and Charles S. Paternally Mr. Marshall is a member of the Elks, United Workmen, Knights of Pythias and the Masons. He is well and widely known, highly esteemed, and his name will stand for probity and true manliness of personal character.

FOR DEBT.

Dr. M. H. Kuhl brought suit for $225 against Rev. Father Leo of Phillipsburg in the district court yesterday. It is set out in the complaint that the plaintiff sold the defendant a "blue roan gelding," and that the purchase price has not been paid.

AUDIENCE WILL SEE MARRIAGE LICENSE IS NOW FREE

"COUNT" WILL APPEAR IN MONOLOGUE, SONG AND DANCE THIS EVENING.

ACCORDING TO ATTORNEY GENERAL GALEN BAR TO MATRIMONY IS REMOVED.

Tonight Missoula's most picturesque character, "Count" Emil Johannes Schnitzleberger, will appear at the Grand theater as an added attraction. The "count" will be given every chance, this time, to show his ability and will perform as a Hottentot. On several occasions he has copped the change on amateur nights at the Grand and now he has turned professional. He has secured a coach, John Trehela, and has been working consistently. Mr. Trehela has written a monologue for the "count" and it is touted as a best good enough to be played clear across the board. Mr. Trehela has fitted Herr Schnitzleberger out in true native costume and his appearance this evening will have its educational value, not to mention the attractions of the wit of patter, the lilt of song and the artistry of dances. If the "count" doesn't land in first place in the affections of tonight's audience, there will be something wrong—with the audience.

Helena, April 24.—In an opinion given today by Attorney General Galen Bar to State Examiner Kumpke, it is held that there is no law providing for the collection of a fee by clerks of courts for the issuance of a marriage license. Under the original law governing the issuance of marriage licenses the clerk and recorder issued them, collecting a fee of $2. Later the legislature made the clerk of the court the issuing officer, but did not provide for the collection of a fee. The last legislature amended the law relating to county clerks by omitting any fee for issuing or recording a marriage license. This being the fact, says Mr. Galen, there is now no provision in the laws of our state providing for or requiring any fee to be paid to the county clerk or to the clerk of the district court for issuing a marriage license.

A merry time resulted from the attempts to locate the originals of the pictures. Music and refreshments added zest to the party.

The Best Investment in Missoula is in DALY'S ADDITION

Two years ago there was hardly a building in Daly's addition. Now there are more than 200 houses there. Of these, more than 100 were built last year. This year's building has already been started. There are gardens being made; there are trees being planted; there are improvements of all sorts under way. There is 17-minute electric car service here; there are electric lights; there is city water at every lot; there are telephones; there is no convenience which the central part of town enjoys that is not found here. Around Daly's addition you will find tracts that have been on the market for years at prices higher than ours; they have grown but little. Daly's addition has grown by leaps and bounds. Study the situation and you'll see why.

The growth of the past two years in Daly's addition is but typical of what is going to happen there in the next two years. The development of Missoula will continue in this direction. Already the growth for this season is well under way. The school trustees have found it necessary to provide school room for Daly's addition and are planning the removal of the old Hawthorne building to this section, where a full block has been bought for school purposes. This will be a temporary relief. There will be, inside of two years, more school children in Daly's addition than there are now in the Orchard Homes district, where a big six-room building has just been finished.
