

MANY ARE KILLED WHEN FORTRESS BLOWS UP

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY NICARAGUAN SOLDIERS DIE IN BIG EXPLOSION.

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, June 1.—The fortress on Tiscapa hill, Nicaragua, was blown up at 3 p. m. yesterday. One hundred and fifty soldiers perished in the explosion. All the ammunition in the fortress was destroyed. The cause of the explosion is as yet unknown.

Strict censorship has been established from Managua.

It is generally believed by the public that the explosion was the result of a criminal act in connection with a revolution directed against the administration of President Adolfo Diaz, who recently succeeded Juan Estrada.

Two Nations.

New Orleans, June 1.—Nicaragua, probably the most war-torn republic of the tropics, is to be split into two nations if the plans of the liberal party successfully materialize. This is according to gossip in the Central American colony here today. The scheme provides for making independent republics on the Atlantic and Pacific provinces. In the west the conservatives would rule, while the new Atlantic republic would be dominated by the liberals, who precipitated the revolution of a year or more ago that resulted in the deposition of Zelaya.

It is planned that Adolfo Diaz, who recently succeeded Juan Estrada, as president of the republic, shall be chief of the new Pacific domain, while Estrada shall assume rule as president of the Atlantic domain.

Estrada, who led against Zelaya, is said to be on his way to New Orleans. It is declared here he will be in favor of the split so that the liberals and conservatives may have equal shares in the republic and end dissension. There have been disorders in Managua, the capital, since February 5, when the barracks were blown up by the enemies of Estrada who complained that, as a liberator, he was not initiating reforms which he had promised when he set out to eliminate Zelaya.

The marriage license gave the groom as 43 and the bride as 32 years old.

NEW YORK LAD CONFESSES TO ACCIDENTALLY SLAYING YOUNG COMPANION.

New York, June 1.—Not until Carmine Plombino broke down today and said he fired the fatal shot, were the police able to decide which of the four boys was responsible for the death of John Miale. The Miale boy's body, stuffed into a bag, was found last night in the cellar of a tenement in the Italian quarter. Four of his playmates, from 10 to 14 years old, were arrested and while they admitted he had been killed by one of the four, each claimed his own innocence.

Plombino wept as he told his story and, dropping to his knees, called on the spirit of his dead friend to forgive him. He said that he had shot Johnny accidentally while they were struggling over money. After that, the boys confessed that they took the dead boy's money, some $15, and spent it for candy and moving picture shows.

FASTIDIOUS REQUEST IS CAUSE OF MURDER

Chicago, June 1.—A too fastidious request that a bartender wash his hands before serving a drink is said to have been the cause of a quarrel which today cost Andrew Plowanek his life. The police are now searching for Emanuel Over, the bartender, who, Plowanek's friends declare, struck their companion, knocking him down and fracturing his skull, a short time after the words "wash your hands before you wait on me" were uttered.

Plowanek died at the county hospital without regaining consciousness.

WALDORF - ASTORIA PEDAGOGUE BILKED TRANSFERRED BY MINISTER

EXPATRIATED AMERICAN DEEDS ONE-HALF OF FAMOUS HOTEL TO HIS SON.

New York, June 1.—For a consideration of $1,900, half of the $1,000,000 Waldorf-Astoria hotel has been transferred by William Waldorf Astor to his eldest son, Waldorf Astor. The transfer, just filed here, is in the form of a deed to a trust company, which will hold the property in trust for the son. The value of all the New York holdings of the father is estimated by experts at $200,000,000. He has resided abroad for many years and unless he disposes of his holdings during his lifetime they will be subject to a five per cent inheritance tax upon his death.

WOMAN TEACHER IN SEMINARY TELLS OF HER DEALINGS WITH REV. MR. PLAAS.

Boston, June 1.—A guarantee by Rev. Norman Plaas of 10 per cent interest led Miss E. Annette Sunier of Brooklyn to induce her mother to sell real estate holdings in Iowa City, Iowa, and invest $6,000 in the stock of the Redeemable Investment company, and influenced her to invest $3,000 on her own account in subsidiary companies, according to her testimony in the trial of officers of the company on charges of fraudulent use of the mails. Miss Sunier said she first knew Dr. Plaas, former president of the Redeemable when he was president of Washburn college, Topeka, Kan., where she was a professor.

Florence I. Tucker of Rahway, N. J., testified to buying $550 worth of Redeemable stock solely in consequence of a talk with George B. Graff, secretary of the company, whom she met at a Christian Endeavor convention in Europe.

JUNE.

Me thought that winter, love, would never end,
That the dark year had slain the innocent May,
Nor hoped that your soft hand, this summer day,
Would lie, as now, in mine, beloved friend;
And, like some magic spring, your dream-deep eyes
Hold all the summer skies.

NOCTURNES.

Now cometh night, soft-slipped maid of sleep,
* Tiptoeing down the dwindling paths of day,
Bearing above her garb demure and gray,
The tiny candles given to her keep
Eve's curtain drawn, she lifts her arms to sweep
The cloud of hair from her pale brow away.
She threads her needle with a silver ray
Of moonlight, and with stitches long and deep
She mends the robe of slumber. Fold on fold,
She wraps it round her mistress and her queen,
Till hush and dark her regal dreams emprise,
Softly the little maid slips out to hold
With random Morpheus' tryst upon the green,
And close, upon his breast, her weary eyes.

STATEHOOD MEN

It is the hour when clock and chandelier clear,
Midnight forgotten, oversleep the dawn;
When dewdrops stay the flanks of hare and fawn,
And roses blink at morning through a tear,
It is the hour when hush and vigil clear
The world of every music. So I pawn
One hour of dreams to watch the coming on
Of sunrise to your dreams of morning,
dear:
The first deep sighs, like lilies in your breast,
Stir from the snow, and watch your covered eyes
Awake to purple violets from the dew;
To feel your arms, the ferns of spring's unrest,
Reach up unto the call of golden skies
And draw the smile of heaven down to you.
—Alofius Coll.

THE BRIDE.

The orange blossom crowns her
The bridal satin gowns her
The happy anthems ring;
Girlhood's gay reign is over
She goes to meet her lover
While Eden's voices sing.

The marriage vow is spoken
The wedding bread is broken
With blessings and with tears;
These two set out together
Through storm and sunny weather
To journey through the years.

Eat send your choicest dower
Great joy and plenty shower
From blue and kindly skies;
Earth's music and its laughter
And gladness ever after
And love that never dies!

So life goes on forever
Hands join no more to sever
The roses crown the June!
And down the aisle a-swinging
We hear the angels singing
A joyous hymn of tune.
—Kate Masterson.

DENVER PATROLMAN REMOVES NEGRO PORTER FROM BED ON LIVE WIRES.

Denver, June 1.—Patrolman Albert Collins effected a thrilling rescue of Edward Welch, a negro porter, from the electric wires above a crowded Denver street today. Welch was cleaning windows when he fell, landing among the wires, 40 feet from the pavement. One of his hands lay across a live wire and the odor of burning flesh reached the crowd below, while two fingers dropped to the ground. Collins crawled on a fire escape, used a mop to dislodge Welch's arm from the live wire and with the aid of another policeman pulled Welch into a window. It is believed Welch may recover, although his arm must be amputated.

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Denver Patrolman Removes Negro Porter from Bed on Live Wires. Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, Missoula Drug Co.
