

SOCIETY

Bright and enticing have been the long summer days of the past week. Not too warm, but just drowsy enough to draw everyone who possessed or who could borrow a bit of leisure, out into the open. Long-distance automobile trips are growing in favor and that form of recreation accounts for a number of elocutionary and picnic parties. Fishing trips and picnics have been so intermingled that it is safe to hazard as a reply to any inquiry as to the whereabouts of any honored "citizen," "Gone on an automobile fishing picnic." For those who did not go, the cool, shadowy hours of twilight and the brilliant moonlight nights have offered an artistic setting for charming social functions.

The play festival at the university Tuesday evening and the pavilion dance given by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Greenough Friday evening have been the picturesque and notable entertainments of the week.

As the winsome little girls and stalwart boys gave their exhibition of games and drills Tuesday evening, the older folks looking on made comparison of their own childhood with the richly-endowed childhood of today; then they fell into prophetic dreams of the splendid men and women that are to be the result of this natural play movement. Graceful and beautiful women, active and alert men, both possessed of the finest mental and moral fiber, were foreshadowed on the playground Tuesday evening.

The Greenough's Ball.

Nature paid tribute in abundance Friday evening, to add a glamour of moonlight and soft breezes scented with roses and syringas, to the pavilion dance given by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Greenough in honor of their young people just home from college. More than 500 guests enjoyed the lavish hospitality offered. They danced in the spacious pavilion under flags and arches of flowers, to the dreamy strains of the orchestra and the stirring military music of the band, or they sat out on the lawn absorbing the bewitching beauty of the scene. Punch was served on the lawn and supper in a room adjoining the pavilion. Both were highly appreciated by the guests.

The picturesque effect of the ball was heightened by scores of daintily-gowned and beautiful girls who wore with especial grace the slenderly-fashioned dancing frocks that are just now the mode. As one slim, lily-like figure after another moved through the throng of dancers and the charming effect as a whole was appreciated, one ventured a hope that cumbersome, voluminous dresses would never again be inflicted upon the young woman of fashion.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenough could not have offered a more acceptable function by way of greeting to their sons and daughters and their guests than was this ball of Friday evening. Its charm remains supreme in the social annals of the summer.

Bridge Tuesday Afternoon.

Mrs. George Briggs and Mrs. J. M. Keith entertained a large company of ladies at bridge Tuesday afternoon, in the beautiful Keith home on Gerald avenue. Roses were everywhere used for decorations and with their varied coloring and rich fragrance they made a fit setting for the charmingly-gowned guests. Tables were spread for a delicious lunch after the game was over. The guests of honor were Mrs. Powers and Miss Fenwick, who are visiting Mrs. Keith and Mrs. Briggs. The ladies invited to meet them were: Mesdames H. T. Wilkinson, Tyler Thompson, J. P. Rowe, J. W. Buford, Dan Ross, Kenneth Ross, E. C. Maloney and her guest, Miss Lewis, J. J. Buckley, D. J. Donohue, P. M. Kelly, C. L. F. Kellogg, Ed Ross, H. S. Gattley, C. A. Barnes, Andrew Gibson, Dwight Hughes, F. T. Sterling, H. B. Parsons, W. W. Anderson, Houghton, Cabaniss, Mills, Greenwood, Solomon, Lombard, Kohn, Roderick and Mason.

For Mrs. Eickmann.

A pleasant picnic was arranged by the Daughters of Hermann for last Thursday afternoon in Greenough park. After the guests were all gathered about the tables, where a beautiful picnic affair was spread, Mrs. Peter Eickmann was informed that the party was given in her honor since she expects to leave Missoula soon to make her home on the Pacific coast. A beautiful Missoula spoon was presented to Mrs. Eickmann as a souvenir of her happy association with the Daughters of Hermann. Those who had a share in the delightful surprise were: Mesdames Eickmann, Hubert, Condon, Scherck, Volbrecht, Bickel, Schilling, Waterskir-chen, Stein, Stumpf, Bishop, Hoffman, Ziehlke, the Misses Tille, Scherck, Marie Hoffman, Lillian Soidler, Elizabeth Stumpf, Clara and Elizabeth Stein; Masters George Hoffman, Alphonse and Bruno Stumpf, Eddie and Willie Stein.

Mrs. Lee Hostess.

Mrs. Dennis Lee gave a party last Thursday afternoon at her home on the Rattlesnake. The guests were assembled in Mrs. Lee's cool, rose-trimmed rooms and put through their paces with a donkey contest. The most skillful hand proved to belong to Mrs. Terriault, for which she received a prize. Mrs. Clausen was given a consolation prize. Elaborate refreshments followed the contest. Those present were Mesdames Dunn, Starr, Hamilton, Spencer, Clausen, Martin, Terriault, Elmore; Misses Starr, Hamilton, Spencer, Alice Martin, May Martin, Alma Terriault, Alma Lee and the hostess, Mrs. Dennis Lee.

Stahl-Viskniski.

A wedding of much interest to the many friends of the contracting parties was solemnized at 8 o'clock last Wednesday evening, when Miss Johanna Stahl and George Viskniski were married by Rev. Gustav Mertz of the German Lutheran church. The Stahl home in Daly addition was profusely decorated with smilax and pink roses. The Misses Ruth Wilson and Minnie LeBeau played the wedding march while the bride and groom came unattended into the presence of the officiating minister. The bride was gowned in cream marquisette over pale pink and she wore pink slippers and carried pink roses. At the conclusion of the ceremony, a wedding supper was served. Here again the delicate festal pink harmony was carried out with ribbons and blossoms. Late in the evening after all congratulations and good wishes had been offered, Mr. and Mrs. Viskniski went to their new home on Cleveland street which was completely furnished and waiting. The guests at the wedding were Mesdames Stahl, Swant, Bishop, Kronik, Moks, Hensolt, Kuphal, Wilkins, Fisher, Erickson, Jacky, McCann, Mertz, Paul, Sonntag; the Misses Louise Pearson, Blanche Menard, C. Carnahan, Maud Doering, Rose King, Minnie, Martha Jacky, Minnie Byer, Minnie LeBeau, Ruth Wilson, Minnie Gerlach, Estie Kimmerly, Irene Franzin, Elvina, Emma and Louise Stahl, Lillian Reeves and Frances Stahl of Spokane; Messrs. John Reiter, Harry Dant, Don Morris, C. E. Park, H. Doering, Swant, Wilson, Bishop, Erickson, Bravdt, Ryston, Gerlach, Paul, V. Doering, John, Henry, Walter and Charles Stahl.

Country Life Club.

On Friday evening the Orchard Homes Country Life club held its regular weekly meeting in the club house. Of the 126 members nearly all were in attendance and after a short business session the floor was cleared and dancing was in order. Such private dances form a delightful feature of the club life. It is to be understood, however, that the dances are strictly private, for club members only. There seems to have gone abroad an impression that anyone can attend, but the rules of the organization provide that no one but members may participate in the dances and the rules are to be rigidly enforced. The club gives an entertainment every few weeks to which the public is cordially invited. The dancing parties alone are exclusively for club members.

A Birthday Celebration.

Mrs. Fay E. Ward invited a company of friends to her home at 1203 South Fifth street west, last Thursday evening in honor of Mr. Ward's birthday. Progressive whist was played and Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Ingalls won the prizes. A supper which did particular honor to the birthday was the main feature of the evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parker, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ingalls, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lanterman, Miss Bels Babb, Miss Mildred Ingalls, Mr. and Mrs. Ward.

Mrs. Ward Hostess.

Mrs. J. G. Ward delightfully entertained a group of friends at her home in Residence addition last Friday afternoon. The ladies sewed and visited in the pleasantly cool rooms of the Ward home where red roses and pink ones shed fragrance everywhere. The guests were Mesdames Carl Elton, O. M. Elton and their mother, Mrs. Buck, Hollister, Vaughan, Gough, J. M. Wright and C. E. Avery.

A Shower Surprise.

A number of young ladies surprised Miss Nellie Stevens last Thursday evening at her home on South Third street, and showered her with gifts of fine linen to be used in the new home which is to be hers in the near future. The evening was spent with games and music followed by a dainty supper. Those present were Mesdames Cobban and Harper; the Misses Shirley Shunk, Altha and Vera Chatlin, Rosa Lerch, Opal McCarthy, Hulda Reed, Lulu Cobban, Gregory and Shoemaker.

Mount Santinel Picnic.

A number of young people from Orchard Homes climbed Mt. Santinel Tuesday evening and made a prolonged but delightful picnic of the enterprise. They drove from Orchard Homes to Pattee canyon and went up by way of the other side. A glorious bonfire and a hearty supper, toasted marshmallows, fortune telling and singing were on the program of events at the top. Those who had a share in the celebration were the Misses Nina Mason, Sadye Morris, Belle Babb, Loretta St. Germain, Lillian Baatien, Cora St. Germain, Florence Irving, Lenora Hennick, Florence Hennick, Gertrude St. Germain, Maud Hinckley; Mrs. W. W. Lanterman; Messrs. Ed Miller, John Miller, Brown, Schoonover, Maclay, Schaffer, W. W. Lanterman.

Harp and Shamrock Club.

In the attractive home of Mrs. F. E. Martz, Thursday afternoon, the Harp and Shamrock ladies played whist with their accustomed enthusiasm. Mrs. Rafferty won the prize for high score, Mrs. Lyons took second place and Mrs. Morris received the consolation. Mrs. Frank Farley, as guest of the club, was presented with a guest prize. Rose-trimmed refreshments, pretty and appetizing, were served at the close of the game.

Daly Addition Mothers' Club.

Mrs. M. L. MacGuire entertained the Daly Addition Mothers' club Friday afternoon at her home on Fourteenth street. More than 20 ladies gathered to discuss the subject for the day, "Accidents and Emergencies." Papers were read on "Broken Bones," "Poisoning," "Pneumonia" and "Wounds." Mrs. A. C. Anderson presented an especially good paper on "How a Mother's Early Teaching Lives in the Hearts of Her Children." Mrs. MacGuire was assisted in serving her exquisitely prepared refreshments by Mrs. Carl Hale, Mrs. Keeler and Mrs. Lewis Harris. A picnic is being planned to take place of the club meeting on July 28.

L. A. A. O. H. at Cards.

Mrs. M. Lavey made a pleasant evening for the ladies' auxiliary to the Ancient order of Hibernians last Tuesday at her home on East Spruce street. Five tables were filled with whist players and after much rivalry prizes fell to Mrs. P. Callahan, Miss Jones and Mrs. Kennedy. Roses and forget-me-nots adorned the dainty refreshment trays that were the crowning feature of the evening.

Fraser-Fraser.

At noon Tuesday Miss Margaret Fraser of Nova Scotia and Hugh Fraser of Superior were quietly married at the Presbyterian manse by Dr. J. N. Maclean. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Boyd of this city were present at the wedding, being old-time friends of both bride and groom. The bride arrived Monday evening from her home in Stellarton, Nova Scotia, and was met at the station by Mr. Fraser. It was the first time the two had met in nine years, although the love affair dates back to their early childhood. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will make their home at Superior, where he is engaged in mining.

Sunday School Class Party.

The Misses Anna and Dorothea Davis and Miss Gertrude Anse entertained the young ladies who are members of Mrs. Burner's Sunday school class at the Davis home last Thursday evening. The 29 girls present made a merry time over a guessing contest; then they were treated to beautiful vocal music by Mrs. Tedrow and piano music by Miss Leila McDonald. The refreshments, delicious in every detail reached a climax in the fruit punch which Mrs. Davis concocted.

With Mrs. Meors.

Mrs. J. Wilson Moore, entertained the members of the Women's Relief Corps, last Tuesday afternoon, at her home on East Main street. The ladies sat at ease on the lawn and visited without thought of needlework or guessing games, even of cards. The one event of the afternoon that stirred them to activity was the serving of delicious refreshments which were greatly enjoyed.
