HAMILTON IS READY TO CELEBRATE

LABOR DAY WILL BE OBSERVED IN ELABORATE MANNER IN BITTER ROOT.

Hamilton, Sept. 2.—(Special).—On Monday the labor organizations of this city will put on a celebration here which is expected to eclipse any similar demonstration ever held in this part of Montana. Three labor organizations of Missoula have promised the local management to be here in force to add to the success of the event, and it is expected that they will be accompanied by many other Missoula citizens, who will have an opportunity to see all the sports, including horse races, field sports, the ball game and the wrestling match in the evening. It is a program which does credit to the Hamilton Trades and Labor council, which had the arrangements in charge, and with good weather a monster crowd is expected.

The exercises of the day will be opened with a grand parade immediately following the arrival of the forenoon train from Missoula. The pageant will be participated in by all the local unions, those present from Missoula, the Hamilton band, other organizations and several floats. The line of march will be through the principal streets of the city, ending at the courthouse, where the address of the day will be delivered. Senator H. L. JURY ACCUSED.

Stevensville, Sept. 2.—In the case of Montana Granite Brick company against W. R. Rogers of Stevensville, which was tried in Judge Sedgwick's court yesterday, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $184. After the case was submitted, it is charged in a motion to set the verdict aside by Attorney E. O. Lewis that the jurors permitted themselves to be entertained by a representative of the brick company and that they afterward met him at the place where the bricks which were the subject of the suit are. The jury men state they went there to examine the bricks. Mr. Lewis claims that their conduct was improper and moves to set the verdict aside. George T. Baggs represented the plaintiff. The jury was composed of C. P. Mendel, L. E. Manning, Jr., John Buck, Wesley Walls, Bennett Baker, and William Lancaster.

Bitter Root Production LEADS THE WORLD

Are you Mr. Orchardist, helping to crop this year—of little ones? Are you, Mr. Orchardist, hoping to support this vagrant population? They are everywhere, except in the orchards painted with National Tree Paint and even there you may occasionally see a young one tasting it for the first time and then leaving that vicinity in disgust. Tested and found O. K. in 40 orchards last winter. Costs only 1-4 cent per tree, stays on all winter and comes off itself in the spring. Try a five-pound pail and convince yourself.

HAMMOND'S FRIENDS ARE MANY

INJURY OF POPULAR BASEBALL MANAGER WILL CALL OUT CROWD.

Hamilton, Sept. 2.—(Special).—Eddie Hammond, the popular manager of the Hamilton baseball team for the past two seasons, returned this morning from Missoula with his left arm in a sling, the ulna bone having been broken yesterday by a pitched ball delivered by Pitcher Kane of the Great Falls team. Eddie was at Missoula helping out the crippled Garden city team when the accident happened. He was playing one of his usual games, having gathered three hits in seven times to the plate, up to the time of his injury. Many words of regret were heard on the street here this morning, and it is expected that Eddie's injury will materially increase the sale of tickets for tomorrow's game between the locals and Three-Mile.

With both arms intact Hammond is about the most popular person in this city, not only as a ball player and the leader of Hamilton's crack aggregation, but as a good, all-around citizen, who is always an advocate of clean sport, so it is not to be wondered at that the feelings of local fans have taken the form exhibited this morning when he returned home. It is a safe bet that every ticket which has been printed for the game will be disposed of long before the game as the demand has been steady all along. The fact that he was injured in helping Missoula in a time of need does not lessen the feeling toward Hammond. All the proceeds of tomorrow's game go to Hammond as a donation from the members of his team and local fans, while the receipts of Monday's game with the Northern Pacific Crescents goes to the players.

INTEREST IS KEEN IN MAT BOUT

WRESTLING CONTEST MONDAY NIGHT BETWEEN SELLENTHIN AND STEIFF.

Hamilton, Sept. 2.—(Special).—No athletic event ever pulled off in this city has caused more speculation and comment than the wrestling contest arranged for Monday evening at the Lucas opera house. The match is to be a catch-as-catch-can bout between A. R. Sellenthin, the rancher-wrestler of the Bitter Root, and George Steiff, the Bulgarian grappler of Butte. Both men have appeared on the mat before local audiences and are known to be tip-top men at the game. Sellenthin met Joe Theberge of Missoula in a handicap match here last fall and was able to defeat the Garden city man in easy fashion. Theberge was to throw Sellenthin twice in one hour, but was himself flopped to the canvas in less than 25 minutes. It was apparent in that match that Sellenthin did not exert himself in the least, and as soon as he became the aggressor he secured a fall in jig time. Later in the session Steiff and Theberge met in an even match here. Steiff was the aggressor from the call of time and quickly secured a pretty fall. He then appeared to grow careless and by a splendid rally the Missoula man secured two falls and won the match. Although declared the winner, Theberge appeared to have nothing on Steiff, and although the Butte man claims to have offered Theberge every inducement for another match none has been arranged.

A pretty contest is expected on Monday evening. While the local man is a great favorite with local fans, it is thought that he has a struggle on his hands. Both men weighed in this morning, the scales showing Sellenthin the heavier by about eight pounds, but Steiff has the advantage in age. Sellenthin now tips the beam at 170, his weight before he started training being 194. He is fit for the match and states that he is able to wrestle all night if need be. Sellenthin came to Hamilton two years ago from Minnesota and located on a fruit ranch west of this city. He is an old hand at the game and has participated in some lively bouts. His first match was at Winona, Minn., 8 years ago in a preliminary to a bout between Charles Moth and McCue. Later he won from Lex Clayton and wrestled James Murdoch to a draw in two hours and some minutes. Still later he met Fred Beel, the Wisconsin wonder, and lost as the result of an injury. His last match before coming to the Bitter Root was with Frank Lewis, whom he defeated with three decisive falls. He states that this will be his last match. The match is for a $200 side bet, winner take all receipts. J. J. Fitzgibbons will referee the match.

HENDERSON SENTENCED.

Hamilton, Sept. 2.—(Special).—Otto Henderson of Victor was brought to this city today by Deputy Sheriff Craddock to serve a 12-day sentence in the county jail. He was tried today at Victor before Judge W. S. Jones on a misdemeanor charge. County Attorney Packer went to Victor today to prosecute the case.

THEATRICAL CIRCUIT MAN IN VALLEY

J. F. ADAMS, CONTROLLING REPERTOIRE COMPANIES AND FEATURES, IN HAMILTON.

Hamilton, Sept. 2.—(Special).—Probably not all residents of this city are aware of the fact that the attractions for more than 250 opera houses located between Fargo, N. D., and the Pacific coast are being booked from this city at this time. J. F. Adams, who controls the Adams Theatrical circuit, which was organized three years ago, came to this city several weeks ago and has been taking care of his interests from here. Whether he will locate here permanently he was unable to state today, but from what he had to say concerning his work, it can be presumed that he will ultimately decide on Hamilton as his headquarters, which will give the city a decided boost along theatrical lines. Adams controls the bookings of 250 houses between Fargo, N. D., and Portland and then back to Omaha, and has 20 attractions now playing the circuit. His list is continually changing and at times the number of attractions under his control is even greater than that. He stated this morning that he controlled enough houses so that he could keep a repertoire company playing three-night stands for three years. With the 250 houses he has exclusive booking contracts. Besides controlling the bookings of these houses he owns three shows playing the circuit at the present. The Hawaiian Entertainers, which showed in this city recently, are now being booked by Mr. Adams from this city. If Mr. Adams should decide to locate here it will mean that Hamilton will be well looked after in the matter of attractions visiting here, if the local house is included in his circuit.

STEVENSVILLE NEWS.

Stevensville, Sept. 2.—Mr. W. E. Bancroft, one of Missoula's oldest residents, came to town yesterday on a visit. He is the guest of W. H. Mace.

This is the second game played between these two teams, and both have been close fights right up to the finish. Yesterday's game went 10 innings. The score was 10 to 8 in favor of Stevensville.

HAMILTON BREVITIES

Hamilton, Sept. 2.—(Special).—Dr. and Mrs. Ira D. Cardiff and little son arrived yesterday from Topeka, Kan., for a visit with Dr. Cardiff's sisters, Mrs. F. V. Hoagland and Mrs. L. L. Smith. Dr. Cardiff is an instructor in a college at Topeka.

William Turnage left this morning for Jocko, where he will visit with relatives.

Mrs. H. M. Butler and daughter arrived in this city yesterday and are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Flugstad.

A strong wind visited this city last evening, causing an exasperating dust storm. It is not thought that the gust did serious damage to the apple crop adjoining the city.

A remedy cures disease, but you need Conkey's Nox-side—the wonderful disinfectant—for eradicating about the place to kill the germs and prevent disease. Four poultrymen, stockmen and housekeepers. For sale by Missoula Drug Co.

MUCH LUMBERING IS EXPECTED

FOREST SERVICE OFFICIALS EXPECT TO DISPOSE OF BILLIONS OF FEET.

Kallispell, Sept. 2.—(Special).—It is not at all improbable that the next two years will witness the inauguration of the most extensive lumbering operations yet undertaken in the west, if the plans of the forestry department to make a wholesale disposition of the fire-killed timber on the national forest reserves, resulting from the disastrous conflagrations of last year, continue to meet with the approbation that has attended them thus far. Franklyn H. Smith, lumber expert of the department, who has been in this city several days gathering data from the local forestry offices, by which he will be enabled to present intelligently the government's proposition to lumbermen, outlined the new policy of the department, which Mr. Smith says was definitely undertaken last July when he was placed in charge of the matter, to a newspaper correspondent, and declared that the most available timber will be found in forest district No. 1, and principally in this section of the district.

The Plan.

"Our plan," said Mr. Smith, "contemplates the disposition of all merchantable fire-killed timber on the reserves in conjunction with sufficient mature green, first-class timber as will justify the lumber manufacturers in engaging in the extensive operations that will be necessary to manufacture profitably the damaged timber within the time it may be expected to retain its present commercial value. By reason of the location and physical conditions obtaining in these tracts of fire-killed timber, it would be impracticable in many instances to engage in lumbering tracts exclusively, considering their depreciated value, but with the addition of the first-class timber it may be done to the mutual advantage of the department and the lumbering concerns."

Mr. Smith declared that it is expected to find sufficient of this mature timber now ready to be logged to meet the expressed requirements of more than a dozen large manufacturers of the middle west with whom he has already taken the proposition up, personally. The removal of this mature timber, says Mr. Smith, will be a benefit to the forests, generally, permitting of free development of the young trees and promoting the objects of conservation in other ways.

When his mission to the forestry offices has been completed Mr. Smith will be prepared with data that will enable him to inform prospective purchasers of the timber, just where a logging road may be most feasibly built, whether there are streams suitable for driving in the vicinity, the most available dam sites and whether or not railroads may be projected with practicability. All these details will be taken up with the expert in person with a number of lumbermen of Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and other states who have signified a desire to secure vast tracts of the timber. Three firms, said Mr. Smith, have practically agreed to negotiate for 1,000,000,000 feet each, while more than a dozen others are in the market for from 25,000,000 upward.

MAN'S REMAINS FOUND MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Wallace, Sept. 2.—(Special).—The decomposed body of a man who was later positively identified as Pete Ortolu, a miner formerly employed in the Hercules and nearly all the large mines of the district, was discovered in a lonely swamp below the city this forenoon by a hunter. A revolver, lying near the remains, suggested suicide, but this theory later gave way to the belief that Ortolu was decoyed to the spot and murdered. The unfortunate man was last seen alive about March 25, when he left his home in Burke and came to Wallace with the intention of leaving for Salt Lake City. He carried $300 in bills when he left his sister's home in Gem, and is known to have allowed this money to be seen by strangers in this city. Coroner Mowery has not decided whether he will hold an inquest, and investigation of facts so far as they are obtainable is in progress.

BULGARIAN SUSPECTS RELEASED FROM JAIL

Butte, Sept. 2.—(Special).—Completion of the inquest this afternoon into the case of the Bulgarian who was killed Thursday night near Ponfield, failed to throw any light upon the tragedy, not the slightest evidence being adduced which might tend to fix the responsibility for the shooting. The evidence of the dead man's partner indicated that whoever shot Yusein Ahamedoff did so apparently for what money he could get, which was 90 cents, although upon the body of the corpse was found a money belt containing $300. The 19 men held in jail in connection with the shooting were released today.

SURVEYS IN ARCTIC BRING RESULTS

STEFANSSON EXPEDITION SUCCEEDS IN DISCOVERING NEW TOPOGRAPHY.

New York, Sept. 2.—All the present-day Arctic maps will have to be re-modeled as a result of the work of the Anderson Stefansson expedition of the American museum of natural history. The explorers, who will return to civilization next year after four years of exploration on the Alaskan coast, give some details of their findings in a series of letters just received by the museum authorities. They are bringing back complete surveys of Langtan bay, Horton river and several uncharted regions.

The Horton river was discovered by Dr. Richardson early in the 19th century and for a brief period a few miles of it appeared on the maps and charts published about the middle of the last century. But there were no further discoveries of it, and it cannot now be found on any of the modern maps. It now appears that the river is one of the most important of the northern streams, being more than 400 miles in length. The report tells of the discovery of an unknown, unnamed river, about 30 miles long and very broad, emptying in Langton bay. It also refers to the Riviere La Ronciere, which is drawn in a free-hand fashion with many flourishes on all modern maps, rising near Bear lake and flowing northward. Stefansson has now shown this stream to be non-existent.

Of the 250 Indians seen by this party in the summer of 1910, only one Mr. Stefansson says, had ever seen a white man. Several tribes living near Coronation gulf had never been visited by a white man. Mr. Stefansson declares that the difficulties of exploration are becoming greater every year, chiefly because of the rapid disappearance of game and the inability of the country to support the expeditions. It seems likely that 10 years from now no traveler will be able to visit these regions, the explorer said.
