On the Run About Town

The Illinois Tenderfoot didn't show up very early yesterday morning, but when he did report it was with due humility and IS MADE in chastened spirit. "I want to apologize," said he, "for my comment upon the reliability of Mr. Cox of Chicago as a weather prognosticator. I spoke from experience in Illinois and I didn't suppose he could possibly make good as far away from home as this. But he certainly called the turn this time. This is my first experience with a Montana storm and I don't find it so terrible as I have been told it would be. This isn't at all bad, compared with some storms I have seen in the home country. If this is the worst you can do, I don't see why you all have overcoats at all out here. But I want to say that I have some respect for Mr. Cox and it will be a long time before I undertake to call him down again. But I shall have my own opinion, just the same, and he will have to show me that this was not just an accident. It was a dandy storm, though, for a spectacle and I watched it with interest."

Sometimes the crust of resentment which Charles F. Dallman is broken and he smiles. Sometimes he forgets that he is a hoodon and finds comfort in the knowledge that he is doing somebody some good.

The roasts which he receives from his friends who suffer from the influence of his 12 hoodon are forgotten occasionally when he gets word from somebody else which sounds good. Such a word came to him this week. It is a letter from Railroad Commissioner Dan Boyle and it is all the more pleasing because it came all unsolicited. Last spring Mr. Dallman shipped to Mr. Boyle in Helena a lot of trees for the orchard which the railroad commissioner is developing in the Prickly Pear valley. Writing about this orchard, Mr. Boyle says: "I am enclosing two snapshots pictures taken of the orchard set out this spring near Helena. These trees were received from you and set out March 22, 1911. They were not irrigated; cultivated two or three times during the months of May, June and July. Every tree received is alive today. On many of the Transcendent trees the limbs grew from 40 to 48 inches. They are the finest bunch of trees I have seen in any part of the state." The pictures which accompany the letter show that there is no exaggeration in the statement made. The photograph shows a healthy, vigorous orchard and one of them, which contains a picture of Mr. Boyle, standing beside one of the trees, bears out the statement as to the extent of the growth of the Transcendents. It is no wonder that Mr. Dallman is pleased.

Colonel A. Zebisch of Plains spent yesterday in Missoula visiting old friends and looking after business matters.

FROM PLAINS
It is claimed by Missoula as a native son, even if he has transferred his allegiance to Sanders county, and he always receives a cordial welcome when he comes here. He had to shake hands so many times yesterday that he didn't have half time enough to attend to the business he had on hand. It may be that his stay will be prolonged on this account and if it is, there will be no mourning in Missoula. To the Man About Town Tony said yesterday: "Plains is good. It's always good. The town is getting better all the while and we are now planning for a bigger fair next year than ever was held down that way and we are likely to dispute Missoula's baseball honors if things keep coming our way. It's good to get to Missoula for a visit and to meet old friends, but Plains is hard to beat."

Clarence Baker was another visitor from Plains yesterday and he, too, had a good word for the home precinct.

GREAT CROPS
Mr. Baker said: "We have had a splendid season. The crops were excellent and the prices have been good. The potatoes and carrots have about all been sold and there is some wheat going to market now. A good deal of the grain, however, is being held and the farmers look for a better market later. The general conditions are good down our way. There has been a good deal of substantial development and the country is growing fast. The outlook is good for next season."

As the reports came in from other points yesterday, it became apparent that western Montana's weather was comparatively good.

CHILLY STORM
Dakota it was down to zero and in Seattle there was a fierce windstorm sweeping the coast. The Man at the Wire got warmer all the time the reports clicked in and by the time the Dakota story arrived he was in his shirtsleeves and was thinking it was summer here. But the federal building workmen had to quit yesterday; it was the first time the weather had made them lay down their trowels. They are confident, however, that this is only temporary and they look for an improvement right soon that will enable them to resume operations. They need only a few days more to get the walls up.

MATTER IS SETTLED BY COUNCIL

HIGGINS AVENUE QUESTION DECIDED AFTER LONG DISCUSSION.

Again Higgins avenue was the question of the day in council circles. The commissioners put in a hard day's work on this subject, but they have wayed the consultation of knowing that the matter is settled definitely and that another obstacle has been swept from the path of pavement for Missoula. The question was brought up at the morning session of the council, and, interrupted as the discussion was by the hammer of the "weatherstrip" man, it continued until 12:15 o'clock. At this time the council adjourned for lunch. All had reassembled at 1 o'clock, however, and they went at their proposition again, hammer and tongs. At 4:45 in the afternoon the matter was at last settled. Engineer Swearingen yielded after he had made a long and forceful argument and it was decided to have a 65-foot roadway on the avenue. The 65-foot roadway will save the trouble of relaying the gas mains in the avenue. The avenue will be laid out in a straight line to the depot. At Main street there will be a slight curve to the bridge. Engineer Swearingen's plan was to have two curves, one at Cedar street and one at Main street, and a 63-foot roadway. The action was taken at the present time, in order that the catchbasins may be installed according to curb lines and also to expedite the paving question when it comes up for consideration.

The car company presented a blueprint at the morning session showing a proposed loop which the company wishes to construct at the north end of Higgins avenue. The company intends to double-track the street and the loop at the end will permit the cars to run down on one track, around the loop by the Northern Pacific depot and then return on the other track. The council granted its official permission for the proposed construction. Mayor Evans, City Engineer, Deschamps, J. R. Lattimer, Ed Donlan, W. H. Reid and R. M. Cobban as delegates to the nineteenth National Irrigation congress which is to meet in Chicago, December 5 to 9.

City Engineer Buck was granted a week's leave of absence. His vacation will begin today.

Dr. E. M. Rundquist, city health officer, presented his report to the council. It was read and ordered filed. The full report will be found elsewhere in The Missoulian this morning.

City Engineer Buck stated that the work on South Third street had been practically discontinued, but that the sewer would be put in this fall, unless the weather grows much worse. "The car of pine ordered for this work is expected in the city today. The hill on the Missoula Light & Water company for $215.00, due for water used and hydrants installed during the month of October was allowed. At the afternoon meeting Superintendent Brown of the light and water company appeared and there was a short consultation in regard to supplying all the families in the Rattlesnake district with city water. Mr. Brown stated that he would take the matter up and that he was of the opinion that the main could be extended immediately to the district affected by typhoid.

RADOVICH RETURNED TO MONTANA

SHERIFF KELLEY ARRIVES IN MISSOULA WITH MAN ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Sheriff W. L. Kelley walked into the county jail last evening with a handcuffed foreigner before him. Nick Radovich, arrested as being one of the murderers of Holmes Hayes at Taft on July 4, 1906. Radovich was brought back to Missoula from Vancouver, B. C., where he has just been acquitted on a charge of attempted murder and robbery. Radovich came to Montana without requisition papers and made the sheriff no trouble on the long trip. The Vancouver police have lost track of the man who is supposed to have been implicated with the prisoner in the murder of Holmes and the offense for which Radovich has just been tried.

Radovich, a tall, gangling, gaunt Montenegrin, walked into the jail's reception room last evening at 7 o'clock as unconcerned as a deacon passing the plate at church. On his face he wore the depressing, ingratiating smile of the peddler who is trying to sell a new kind of pie knife. The handcuffs were taken from his wrists and he turned toward the door that leads to the cellhouse. Radovich knows the ropes; still, he looks about as dangerous as a kitten.

"Radovich hasn't talked much," said Mr. Kelley last evening. "I have never been in Montana," has been the burden of what he has said. I think, however, that we have the right man—one of the right men. Radovich has just been acquitted on a serious charge in Vancouver. His partner was the guilty man, however, and he has not yet been captured. "In Vancouver I met Frank Trainor, formerly a Montana and Missoula newspaper man, and Charles Ransie. The latter is doing mighty well in the real estate business, and Mr. Trainor has a good piece on the Times. Both asked to be remembered to their friends in Missoula. "I had a good trip, although it was hurried. The police in Vancouver were very courteous and did everything in their power to help me."

THE WEATHER

Weather Prognosticator Cox drove the nail right on the head Tuesday when he predicted a sudden and extensive drop in temperature. Many who read the bulletin posted in The Missoulian window yesterday morning smiled when they saw the announcement and remarked to themselves about the wild guesses made by weathermen in general. However, Mr. Cox more than made good, as all who were compelled to cross the bridge yesterday can testify. Eight above zero was the lowest point reached, but with the accompanying wind, that was bad enough. The following figures were issued by the local weather bureau:

Maximum	14
Minimum	8
At 6 a. m.	13
Thermometer	26:18
Barometer	30:18
At 6 p. m.	12
Thermometer	26:32
Barometer	29:32
Wind	from the northeast. Precipitation .11 of an inch.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

J. A. Mitchell is establishing an office on the third floor of the Higgins block, where he will represent the United States Irrigators' company, manufacturers of a combination head gate and measuring box. Ivy Park of Caldwell, Idaho, is vice president and general manager of the company, and several prominent capitalists of the valley will be on the board of directors. The head gates will be manufactured at Bonner and sold directly to farmers, the price of each combination device being a little less than one-half the cost of wire and head gates required to do the same work.
