

JAS. M. RHOADES

Candidate for Mayor

Stands for These Principles of City Administration

Progressive Plans for a Progressive City.

Such Economy as is consistent with Efficiency.

A Guarantee that the City Shall Receive a Dollar's Worth of Labor or Material for Every Dollar It Spends.

The Employment of Missoula Union Labor upon all Missoula Work.

The Inauguration of All Enterprises Possible for City Betterment, which Will Afford Opportunity for Missoula Labor.

The Offer of All Possible and Practicable Inducements to Attract to Missoula new Industrial Enterprises.

The Enforcement of All Laws and Ordinances Without Fear or Favor

The discussion of the city's business with the city's business men—in other words, the establishment of a citizens' advisory council, whose advice will always be considered in matters of municipal concern.

I stand upon the record which I have made in Missoula since I have been a resident here. I am willing to submit that record to the closest scrutiny of my fellow citizens. What I have accomplished, they know; I have endeavored to be a helpful citizen. Whatever benefits Missoula, benefits me, as a citizen and as a property owner.

I pledge myself to the carrying out of the principles which have been set forth above. If I am elected, my whole time and my whole effort shall be directed to the betterment of Missoula. Upon this platform I solicit your support.

By what a man has done, you can best judge what he will do. During the years of his residence in Missoula, Mr. Rhoades has been a constructive worker. The splendid Elks' building is a testimonial to his ability as an organizer and an executive. The fact that the Polleys Lumber company plant is located in Missoula is another evidence of his efforts in behalf of Missoula's industrial welfare. He has been instrumental in many ways in developing and bettering the city. This is his record in the past. By it, you can judge what he will do in the future.

Mr. Rhoades has more than a local reputation. In his many years of residence in Montana, he has made a record for business ability and has established a reputation for official integrity. He was, early in his Montana career, a railway man; he used to have a run on the Northern Pacific's Yellowstone division in eastern Montana. He is well known in the business and professional circles of Miles City and Glendive. There have been many kind words spoken of him by his old neighbors in eastern Montana, since they learned of his candidacy. All testify to his ability and integrity.

JAS. M. RHOADES

Candidate for Mayor