

FOUR HUNDRED NEW NAMES ADDED TO THE LOCAL INITIATIVE PETITIONS

Theodore Lentz Files Documents With the County Clerk Which Pray for the Submission of the Primary Laws to the Direct Vote of the People at the November Election.

Another big batch of names was filed yesterday afternoon with County Clerk and Recorder Kuyhal by Attorney Theodore Lentz, demanding the submission of a primary election law to the people for adoption by direct vote this fall. The lists filed yesterday each contain 400 names, and with those already filed by Mr. Lentz bring the total from Missoula county up to more than 800. Only 400 names are required from this county and they were furnished weeks ago. But in order to swell the grand total and supply deficiencies for other counties where the public sentiment is more apathetic, and where the politicians, the machine and the interests are more controlling, Missoula has furnished double the quota that would have been required if all other communities had been equally progressive.

The lists filed yesterday bring the grand total for the state far above the constitutional requirement and make absolutely certain the submission by popular vote in November the question of the adoption of these laws. If a majority vote for the laws they are adopted and become a part of the laws of the state and cannot be vetoed by the governor nor repealed except by vote of the people.

Initiative.

When seen by a representative of The Missoulian in regard to the matter, Mr. Lentz said: "This method of submitting laws is popularly known as the initiative, and was granted to the people by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1906. Under this provision of the constitution 8 per cent of the voters of the state may by petition compel the submission of a given law to the people for enactment by direct vote. The petitions are first filed with the county clerks of the various counties and by them checked with the registration lists, after which they are certified to the secretary of state.

The petitions now on file require the submission to popular vote in the November election of four laws.

Primary Law.

The first is the Oregon primary law, under which every candidate for office in the state from constable to governor, chief justice and congressman must obtain his nomination by popular vote under a method very similar to that by which candidates are nominated for office under our commission form of city government.

Corrupt Practice Act.

The second is a corrupt practices act with real teeth in it. Under its provisions candidates are forbidden under heavy penalties to spend directly or indirectly more than 15 per cent of their first year's salary in procuring a nomination to office, and under similar penalties they are forbidden to spend more than 10 per cent of their first year's salary to procure an election to office after being nominated. The commendable feature of this law is the difficulties that will be encountered in an attempt to evade it. It is practically self-enforcing. The candidate or party committee that has been defeated by the use of money can with little or no effort expose the use of money, and the first penalty is a forfeiture of the office.

To anyone who is skeptical as to whether the law is effective in actual practice in elections, I would say first to read the law carefully, and if he is still doubtful, write to some competent observer who lives in Oregon and whose law has been tried out and has accomplished just what it was intended to accomplish.

GREAT STRUCTURE BUTTER MEN GAIN IS STADIUM BIG POINT

SCENE OF THE OLYMPIAD IN STOCKHOLM IS BUILDING OF ENORMOUS SIZE.

Stockholm, Sweden, April 13.—The committee that has in hand the arrangements for the Olympic games, which are to open here on June 29, is beginning to wonder whether after all the stadium will be large enough to accommodate all those wishing to attend.

The stadium is splendidly and conveniently located, being within 15 minutes' walk of the center of the city, and has a good service of street cars to the gates. As the building is intended to be permanent, it has been seriously treated. It is of brick and gray granite and very simple in ornamentation. At the southern end the plainness of the exterior is broken by an open arcade; at the northern end, where the building backs against and runs into a hill, by two towers, from which names and events will be megaphoned during the progress of the sports. The architect, Torben Grut, says the building is an organic development of medieval Swedish architecture. It cost $250,000.

The building is now practically completed. All but a few of the seats are in place. With the exception of those in the immediate front rows, all are roofed in. The grass in the arena is coming up nicely and the cinder path is in good condition, although it continues to be worked carefully and continuously each day. Everything should be in perfect order on the opening day.

To prevent visitors from being flooded a list has been compiled of rooms available outside the hotels. There are already 11,000 on the list, the prices of which, fixed by the committee, range from $1.12 to $2.75 per day.

Naturally the management is having some difficulties. Thus far the chief complaint comes from the French and English fencers, who complain of the rules drawn up for the government of the contests in their art, while the difficulties with which the British Olympic council is beset are having their effect here.

The Swedish athletes expect to spring a few surprises on their visitors. An American trainer has been engaged and very thorough work is being done to prepare the men for the contests.

NORTH POLE IS NEXT FOR AMUNDSEN

DISCOVERER OF SOUTH POLE GETS OFFER OF WIRELESS APPARATUS.

Christiana, March 13.—An offer to equip the Fram, Captain Raold Amundsen's ship, for the north pole expedition with a complete wireless station, has been made by a German wireless company on condition that the ship be permitted to operate in conjunction with the Spitzbergen station.

The proposal to give $40,000 toward the Amundsen expedition into the Arctic has been favorably reported by the cabinet and is now before the storting.

The Nobel institute here will this spring begin the publication in English, German and French of a series of scientific works treating of questions of interest to the international peace movement and international law policy. The series will be called the "Publications of the Norwegian Nobel Institute." The first of the series will be written by Rector Doctor Anton Raeder of Christiania, on the subject of international arbitration among the Greeks. Among other works which will be published simultaneously in Europe and America will be books by Professors Loria, Oppenheim, Cambridge; P. Reinsch, University of Wisconsin; Zorn, Bonn, and Lammasch, Vienna.

GRANT'S BODY TAKEN TO OLD HEADQUARTERS

Mdm. DuBarrie Explains Free How the Bust May Be Developed 2 to 8 Inches in 30 Days.

New York, April 13.—The body of General Frederick Dent Grant, late commander of the department of the east, was removed this afternoon from the Hotel Buckingham to Governor's island, where it was placed under a military guard of honor in the chapel of St. Camillus the Confessor. There it will be until the arrival here from Russia of the Princess Cantacuzene, General Grant's daughter, for whom the funeral services have been delayed. The journey will take at least 10 days. Mrs. Potter Palmer and Adrian Honore, the widow's sister and brother, are expected to arrive tomorrow morning from Chicago and General Grant's brother, U. S. Grant, Jr., has started from California to attend the funeral.

DESERTER MEETS DEATH.

Cananea, Mexico, April 13.—Montenegro, the rascal deserter who left Nancy about six weeks ago with a considerable following and made several raids throughout this city, winding up with an engagement against the federales in El Tigre, was found dead today in a canyon just east of Yzabel. By his side was a dead federal soldier, fully equipped with gun and ammunition.

Montenegro was supposed to have received severe injuries in a fight February 21, since which time he had not been seen. His horse, covered with bloodstains, galloped into Yzabel a week ago.

INCORRECT.

Constantinople, April 13.—The statement emanating from St. Petersburg that the powers had made proposals of mediation to Constantinople with a view to ending the war between Turkey and Italy is incorrect. Although all the ambassadors here have received the text of an identical note to be submitted to the porte, none as yet has been submitted.

KNOX STARTS HOME FROM CUBA IS STILL MORE DETERMINED TO MAINTAIN AND GUARD THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

HEAVEN, APRIL 13.—The American secretary of state sailed tonight for home, well satisfied, he said, with his diplomatic mission to the Central American republics and the countries in the Caribbean sea.

"It was hardly to be expected," said Mr. Knox today, "that we could visit so many countries where there are factional political disputes without being made the target of some factional feeling. But with the exception of a few hostile expressions to which I attach no great significance, we were honored with the most cordial receptions."

The cruiser Washington, with the Knox party aboard, steamed out of Havana harbor at 7 o'clock bound for Norfolk. She will arrive there Tuesday night, and the following morning the party will trans-ship to the president's yacht, Syph, arriving at the capital Wednesday evening. Secretary Knox soon will begin another trip, this time on land. On April 30 he will speak at New Orleans on the occasion of the centennial celebration of the admission of Louisiana to statehood. He then will go to San Francisco, where, on May 7, he will speak on the Panama canal. On May 8 he will deliver a political address in the same city. He then will make public the conclusions reached as the result of his two months' trip among the neighboring republics.

More Determined.

It can be said with assurance that Mr. Knox returns more determined than ever in the policy with which his name has been linked. Those who traveled with him have received the impression that he believes the United States in maintaining the Monroe doctrine has assumed an obligation it cannot evade. Having built a wall around these countries, making it impossible for European or other powers to step in for the purpose of restoring order, or compelling the government to fulfill their financial obligation, he believes that it is incumbent on the United States to see that stable governments are maintained and that these governments live up to their international obligations.

A feature of the matter upon which the secretary has touched only guardedly is the possibility that unless the United States can bring about the desired condition of affairs some other country having interests at stake will make an issue of whether the United States has the right to defend these governments unless she is able to guarantee their good behavior.

REBELLION LEADER INDICTED

PROMINENT MEXICAN IN SAN ANTONIO SAID TO BE WANTED VERY BADLY.

El Paso, April 13.—It is stated on excellent authority that an indictment of one of the foremost leaders of the Mexican revolution, now a resident at San Antonio, Texas, is under consideration by the federal authorities in that city. This indictment, if returned, it is said, will be based principally on an alleged confession by E. H. Dean to a federal grand jury in this city last week and will charge conspiracy to smuggle arms and ammunition across the Mexican border in violation of the neutrality laws.

Two indictments against prominent Mexicans are said to have been returned in this city several days ago and suppressed for service.

In the United States district court here today Wylie M. Phillips, a member of the Texas national guard, and J. H. Talbot, both charged with smuggling ammunition into Juarez, were sentenced to a year and a day in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth.

Dr. Rafael Molina and eight other Mexicans, implicated in the ill-starred Reyes revolt, were sentenced to a year and day in Fort Leavenworth.

OROZCO EXPECTS ADVANCE.

Chihuahua, April 13.—General Pascual Orozco said today that he expected an advance of the federal force, which for three weeks has been mobilizing at Mapiqui, within the next three or four days. As in the previous campaign, which ended disastrously for the government troops, the rebels will make their first stand at Escalon. If present plans are not changed, General Emilio Campa will be at the head of his old column. General Orozco says that his faith in Campa is unshaken.

PRIMARIES SET.

Reno, Nev., April 13.—At the meeting today of the democratic state central committee in Reno the date of the democratic primaries to be held throughout Nevada was fixed for Tuesday, May 14, and the date of the state convention to be held at Fallon was fixed for June 3.

They lay particular stress on the fact that Baillie had more than one wound on his head and that this fact bears out their contention that it was the billy of Policeman Killian and not the sign that inflicted the injuries.

UP THE VALLEY.

There will be an exhibition game at Hamilton this afternoon between Manager Blankenship's regulars and the Hamilton-Yanigans combination. A number of the more enthusiastic of the local fans will make the trip.

M. D. Boardman, 573 West Main street, Helena, Mont., gives an interesting account of his improved health through the use of Foley Kidney Pills. CORPORATION PAPER TRIES TO SCARE NORRIS of opinion here is to the one fact that if the governor will call the extra session the pressure of a determined public opinion will compel the passage of the bill drawn by the Norris commission.

Shirking.

Another significant feature of the day's developments has been that several of the legislators who have not signed the call, but who are afraid of their constituents, have been getting into touch with the governor through Helena friends and thus getting in a prompt plea against being put on record.

The real friends of Governor Norris, however, are urging him to grant the petition and call the extra session upon the plea that by so doing the democratic party in the state will reap the benefit of having a widely popular measure enacted into law.

There is not only intense interest locally, but evidences are plentiful that the whole state will soon be awake to the importance of the governor's decision. It is not believed that his decision will be made for several days.

DEMOCRATS PAYING FOR LOBBYING

to produce the proofs of his charge. The minority leader read a number of letters and telegrams bearing on the connection of Mrs. Gray with the committee.

Mr. Graham reiterated that Mrs. Gray was not employed by the committee and had never drawn a penny of public funds so far as his committee was concerned.

Mann Proves It.

Mr. Mann retorted by reading a letter written recently by Mr. Graham to Secretary of the Interior Fisher, introducing Mrs. Gray and asking that she be given access to certain files in the general land office for the purpose of gathering information "for the committee."

Mr. Mann also declared that a certain attorney had appeared before the committee on the Controller's case, and although it was denied that he appeared for the committee, he had filed a bill for $1,000 and had received $200 on account.

"The attorney in question did not receive one cent from the committee," shouted Mr. Graham, jumping to his feet.

Very Strange.

"It is passing strange," returned Mr. Mann, "but the committee on accounts informs me that it paid out $200 to this attorney for services rendered before the committee. Who is paying these people? Who is paying Mrs. Gray? Who paid this attorney?"

"If public-spirited citizens wish to lend their aid to the government without remuneration," replied Mr. Mann, "it is nobody's business."

"It is the business of congress," retorted Mr. Mann. "We ought to know if these attorneys and other employees are paid by the very interests appearing before this committee. If my colleague does not know, we ought to find out. If he does know he ought to state it frankly to this house."

During the colloquy Representative Baker of California took a seat between Mr. Graham and Mr. Mann, who was just across the aisle. His broad shoulders blocked Mr. Graham's egress. Representative Fowler of Illinois, with studied indifference, took up his place immediately in front of Mr. Mann.

Republican leaders, after the clash was over, asserted privately that Mrs.

A BIG JUDGMENT.

Helena, April 13.—(Special.)—Judgment by default in the sum of $68,980 in favor of the Ames Realty company was entered in the district court by Judge Clements today against Robert Jones, the Great Falls Land and Irrigation company and Fred Churchill, receiver of the Great Falls Land and Irrigation company. The action is one to recover on a note and mortgage in connection with what is known as the Dearborn Carvey project in the northern part of this county. The decree provides that all the property covered by the mortgage, which includes land and water rights, shall be sold at auction to satisfy the judgment.

MACHINE OVERRIDDEN BY PROGRESSIVES

cluding one between Chairman Murphree and Scott Calhoun, a Taft leader, were narrowly averted. The Taft men finally withdrew. The executive committee went to another hall, adopted resolutions protesting against the "hand-picking" of the new precinct committeemen by Chairman Murphree, appointed delegates to the state convention and decided to make a fight against the seating of delegates to be elected by the direct primary.

Knowledge that Chairman Murphree of the executive committee of the democratic county central committee had met with certain other members of the executive committee and "hand-picked" 150 delegates to the state convention, 50 of them Clark men, 50 Harmon men and 50 Wilson men, resulted in a largely attended meeting of the democratic central committee today, 81 members being present. The county committee is almost unanimous for Wilson. When the meeting was called to order Charles A. Reynolds, a member of the executive committee, offered resolutions denouncing the action of the executive committee in "hand-picking" the delegates; removing the committee from office and revoking its action. Some of the Wilson men counseled moderation, peace and harmony. The debate occupied three hours. On the final vote the resolutions were adopted by 79 affirmative votes, two anti-Wilson men not voting. A resolution to elect delegates to Walla Walla by direct primary then was adopted.

The result of today's meeting is hailed as a great Wilson victory. King county having a preponderating influence in the democratic state convention. As the Murphy credentials were revoked before the ink on them was dry, the Wilson men say no attempt can be made to present them at Walla Walla. The Wilson men assert that the direct primary will result in the choice of 150 delegates.

The date of the joint primaries will be fixed later.
