When William Penn came o'er the sea, he didn't like to fight, a thingy Quaker like was he and wouldn't fight the red men, for that would be a sin; but he wanted Pennsylvania, so he took the Indians in; he had a stock of mirrors, some colored beads, the Aborigines fell for them and William's crafty deeds; and when they'd finished swapping, the Indians all felt grand; they had a stock of tinsel and William had their land; from that cute bit of jobbery there grew a system great; as William jobbed the Indians, the bosses jobbed the state; but now the folks are getting wise—at last they've rung the change; they have the bosses on the run—it seems mighty strange; they chased Boss Penrose to the sea—they scoured him some, you bet; he climbed aboard his private yacht or he'd got awful wet; the landslide swept the Keystone state and swept it mighty clean; it was the grandest victory that we have ever seen; they got a lot of losses and they almost got Daltzell; McKinley views the wreckage and concludes that "war is hell."

Writing to The Man About Town, Judge Woody announces, under date of last Wednesday, his intention to start for home this morning. He has had a pleasant winter at Santa Barbara. "Wolf and Hathaway blew in here last Sunday evening," writes the judge, "and the next day it commenced to rain. Yesterday morning they pulled out for San Diego, going through Los Angeles without any longer stop than necessary to change cars. Wolf looks fine and feels well, but said it was too cold and wet for him here. Monday morning Wolf, Hathaway and I walked from the Arlington hotel to the beach, a distance of a mile and a half, and then walked back. Wolf stood the three-mile walk well and did not complain of fatigue, so you see he is in pretty good condition. Major Cabanessa and his wife came here two or three days ago and will return in a few days to San Francisco, traveling by automobile. During the past two days it has been raining all the time and through nearly all of last night it poured heavily. The sun is shining now, though it may be raining again in half an hour. The weather here is very uncertain, as is everything else, including the people. Will tell you more when I get home. All in the best of health; the only sticky thing is my pocketbook, which is in an emaciated condition."

A letter from Fred Murray, written in Los Angeles, gives to his friends in The Missoulian office the good news that his health is so much improved that he expects to return to Missoula in May or June. He left Phoenix last week and is spending the time in Los Angeles until the summer weather is well established here. His mother will probably start home this week. Fred writes that he has seen a good many of the Missoula colony in Los Angeles and that they are all apparently prosperous. He does not like the City of Angels as well as he liked Phoenix and he likes none of the places he has seen as he likes Missoula. He says he is strong and well and that he is anxious to get home again and see if he can take up his old work as well as he used to. He will be cordially welcomed and, though his friends do not want him to hurry back before he is thoroughly well, they will be mighty glad to see him when he comes.

Frank Licht, who is of the already returned Missoula colony of the south, has fitted into the home landscape as naturally as if he hadn't been away at all. Frank is a bit thin, but he looks brown and strong. With a few weeks of Missoula eating, he will be round and aldermanic if his appearance counts for anything. He traveled far and wide through the southern country, but he has come home just as loyally a Missoula booster as he used to be. "It is good to be back," said he to the Man About Town the other day. "The old town never looked as good before and seems all the better by comparison with other places. I was well treated all along the trip, but there is no place like home, and I am glad that I am here again."

Yesterday was the first Sunday affected by the new ordinance governing the saloon-closing hours. The inspiration parlors opened their doors at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There did not seem to be any mad rush of the thirsty nor was there any riot. In fact, it is doubtful if there were many people in town who noted the change. The saloon men announce that they are determined to see that there is no disorder attending the new arrangement and give their word that all of the laws will be observed.

CONTRACTOR KILLED. Several hundred Sunday pleasure seekers saw Thomas Fuller, an Ocean Park contractor, ground to pieces under the wheels of a "Venice Flyer" at the Hill street station, then witnessed a wild scramble by souvenir hunters, including several women, who sought to pick up bits of bones and flesh. Fuller attempted to jump on the train as it was leaving the station and fell under the wheels. He had come recently from Dallas, Texas.

MINING MAN KILLS SELF WITH GUN

E. C. HAMSHAW COMMITS SUICIDE IN HOTEL APARTMENT OF HIS WIFE.

Seattle, April 14.—E. C. Hamshaw, aged 39 years, a mining man of Atlanta, B. C., and Los Angeles, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a revolver in a room in a fashionable hotel occupied by his wife, against whom he had begun divorce proceedings. Hamshaw, whose father, Frederick T. Hamshaw, is said to be a wealthy British Columbia mining man, began divorce proceedings against his wife last winter. Early in March, Mrs. Hamshaw arrived from Los Angeles to contest the action. Last week Hamshaw visited her at the hotel and endeavored to effect a reconciliation. He called again today and they were together on the roof garden much of the time. When they returned to the room, Mrs. Hamshaw took her eight-months-old child in her arms and laid down on the bed. Hamshaw smoothed the pillows and, walking to the foot of the bed, drew a pistol and shot himself. His father is in London and his mother is visiting in Los Angeles.

WAR.

Mexico City, April 14.—It is believed here that the coming week will see a renewal of hostilities beyond Torreón which have developed into time-marking tactics since the battle of Parral, on April 3, and its subsequent evacuation by the federals. The interval has been employed by the war department in building up its forces, demoralized by its initial campaign. With General Huerta and his reinforcements, variously estimated at from 1,800 to 3,000 men, arriving at Torreón, it is intimated that new and formidable advance will be begun at once.

The fighting strength of Orozco is said to be 8,000 men in perfect shape for the reopening of hostilities, well entrenched between Escalon and Jimenez. The rebel artillery is said to consist of 10 cannon, three of which were captured by General Tracy Aubert.

UNCHANGED.

El Paso, April 14.—A dispatch from the Associated Press correspondent at Chihuahua received at midnight, but the filing time of which was not indicated, merely shows the military situation to be unchanged. No mention is made of the receipt of the warning of Secretary Wilson of the state department at Washington.

AMERICAN JUDAISM NO PROVINCIAL

CENTRAL CONFERENCE OF RABBIS IS ADDRESSED BY PRESIDENT SCHULMAN.

Baltimore, April 14.—The trend of American Judaism and its aid in the preservation and growth of the religion of Israel, constituted the message given today to the central conference of American rabbis, by its president Samuel Schulman of New York. Rabbi Schulman praised the government at Washington for what it had done on the Russian passport question. Rabbi Schulman said: "We glory in the name of American Judaism, but it implies for us nothing exclusive or provincial. As the religious leaders of the synagogue, we naturally take this opportunity to congratulate the national government and the American people upon the clear enunciation of the principle that the United States cannot allow any discrimination to be made by any government in American citizenship, because of distinctions of race or creed. We congratulate them upon the act which told the Russian government that the United States expected every government to honor an American passport in the hands of an American citizen, irrespective of race or creed.

"Conscious of its liberality and at the same time of its duty, the synagogue should watch jealously any possible undermining of its interests or integrity from within. If, as rumor has it, Jews like the Church of Christian Science, it becomes our duty to investigate to what degree this is so. With any particular individual, who, through mental stress or physical suffering, seeks what he considers remedies that are offered him by the practice of such a church we should deal most leniently.

"But on the other hand, when, as rumor has it, Jews formally enroll themselves as members of Christian Science churches, and presumably subscribe to the tenets of Christian Science, some of which are opposed to fundamental principles of Judaism, and when even officers of Jewish congregations find no inconsistency between memberships in the synagogue and formal membership in the Christian Science church, such persons should be told that such double allegiance is impossible; that membership in the synagogue is incompatible with formal membership in a Christian Science church, even as such membership would be incompatible with membership in any other Christian denomination.

"While the Jew becomes a member of the synagogue by birth and he comes potentially a member of it, though he may not become formally affiliated with any particular congregation, and while he remains a Jew as long as he does not formally adopt any other religion, he must be considered as ceasing to be a Jew, if he takes any steps which formally put him out of the synagogue."

NEUTRALITY TRIAL TO BEGIN TODAY

GENERAL REYES, ALTHOUGH IN MEXICAN PRISON, TO BE TRIED IN TEXAS.

Laredo, Texas, April 14.—The case of General Bernardo Reyes, charged with violating the United States neutrality laws in an attempt to organize in this country a revolution against the Madero government, will be called tomorrow for trial in the federal court here. General Reyes, now in a Mexican prison, will be represented by counsel. It is understood that the defense will ask for a postponement until Reyes shall be able to present himself in person for trial and, failing in this, will endeavor to have the case dismissed on a nominal fine imposed. Reyes voluntarily surrendered to the Mexican authorities when his revolution failed last fall.

GLOBE TROTTER

Since a belt line has been established around the world, by pleasure cruising ships, some unique globe-trotting records have been established. The famous 89-day trip of Jules Verne's "Phineas Fogg" has become a commonplace. The lure of the globe trot has led one traveler to circumnavigate the globe three times in a single year. The multiple globe-trotter, O. F. Van Deusen, joined the Cleveland, of the Hamburg-American line, at Naples last fall on her eastward world cruise. On reaching San Francisco, he immediately booked for the return trip, sailing a week later. The cruise was already sold out, and a special stateroom was built to accommodate him. On reaching Honolulu Mr. Van Deusen called to his wife to join him in New York and take passage for a third trip around the world on the Victoria Louise, of the same line, sailing November 12. The three cruises will carry this globe trotter some 75,000 miles in a little more than one year, doubtless a new globe-trotting record. Incidentally, Mr. Van Deusen in his eastward trips will have gained two whole days on the calendar.

RECORD FOR BOY.

Los Angeles, April 14.—Farnum T. Fish, the 16-year old Los Angeles aviator, flew from San Diego to the Dominguez aviation field near here today, making the entire flight over the Pacific ocean at an altitude of about 7,000 feet. The flight was unannounced and is believed to have established a new record for over-ocean flights. The time was somewhat less than a mile a minute.

THE SAME.

Philadelphia, April 14.—Returns from Saturday's primary late tonight show that the two Harmon delegates in the Eleventh district were defeated by Wilson men and that in the Twenty-eighth district two Clark men defeated the two Wilson candidates for national delegates. Wilson's vote remains 74 out of the 76 in the delegation.

BEEVES ARE COOKED ON THE LEVEE

WORK OF RESCUE ALONG THE MISSISSIPPI IS PROCEEDING RAPIDLY.

Vicksburg, Miss., April 14.—The Mississippi levee for miles along here presents a weird scene tonight. Fires made of driftwood dot the embankment on which refugees are roasting the carcasses of beeves for food. Meanwhile the work of rescue proceeds in the back country. Volunteers in launches and skiffs and on improvised rafts have saved nearly 1,000 persons since the Salem levee broke Friday and other thousands who made their own way to safety are coming along the levee. Tugs and steamboats are gathering them up and bringing them to Vicksburg. Governor Brewer has ordered tents sent here for their use.

In two days the inhabitants have been driven from a territory embracing 100 square miles. The cause was a burst suddenly through the levee at Salem last Friday evening, inundating two miles of farm land within 20 minutes.

Ahead of this rush of waters rode a score of negroes from the Anasatia plantation. They rode all night through the darkness and rain, warning the inhabitants to flee, until overtaken by the rising tide they were forced to flee for their own lives.

Vicksburg, New Orleans and Lake Providence were appealed to and sent relief expeditions, which started in boats across the flooded country toward Anasatia and Rosevelt on the crest of the current. Families were found on tops of houses, having chopped holes in the roofs and climbed upon the ridge poles.

One boat found a white man and a negro, almost exhausted, clinging to a sapling. They had rescued their families and gone back for their belongings. Another negro was entangled in a barbed wire fence. A planter took his saddle horse upstairs with his family. Livestock of all kinds suffering for food, was found on perches while floating carcasses of drowned animals are familiar sights.

Desolation. Each hour carries the desolation further inland. The tide from Panther forest and Red Fork, miles to the north in Arkansas, is coming down the bayou to Marn and Tensas basins, swelling the floods from crevasses. Eventually the water will find its way through Tensas basin into the Red river and thence back to the Atchafalva and Mississippi rivers. Already the Atchafalva is even with the top of the levee. The reaches at Panther Forest and Salem are widening continually and this has relieved the strain on the dykes still standing. No further breaks occurred today. The work of strengthening the weak points has progressed satisfactorily and the government engineers are optimistic.

Natchez reported tonight a fall of one-tenth of a foot in eight hours. The gauge here at 8 o'clock read 56.9, a fall of .2 in 24 hours.

Rise Continues.

New Orleans, April 14.—The waters of the Mississippi river continued to rise today from Vicksburg to the mouth of the river. The levees above New Orleans give promise of withstanding the strain, according to official reports tonight. They are in fair condition below New Orleans for 40 miles, but at several points still further south the situation is not reassuring. Should these levees give way the effect would largely be local. More than an inch of rain fell here this afternoon.

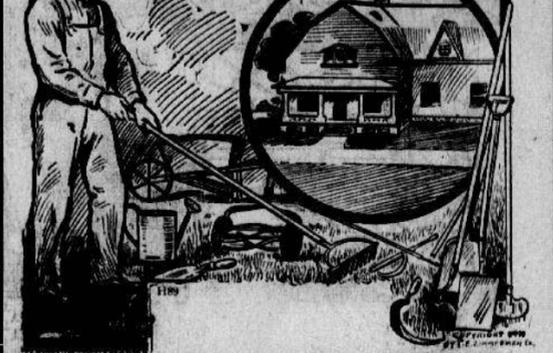

The river here at 6 o'clock tonight registered 14.7 feet, less than one foot below the previous high record.

MUTINY SUPPRESSED BY CHINK SOLDIERS

Nanking, April 15.—The mutiny among the soldiers has been suppressed. Of the 30,000 soldiers stationed at Nanking, 800 were involved in the mutiny and the rest promptly assisted in restoring order. The authorities now are in full control.

General Huang Sing, commander at Nanking, gives assurances that there is not the slightest danger of an extensive outbreak, although it is natural to expect trouble from time to time. The soldiers have not been paid and it is thought the worst element among the recruits may be ready for a disturbance. Government officers and assemblymen have left the city and the assembly is closed. Premier Tang Shao Yi and members of the cabinet are expected to sail for Peking tomorrow.

CHURCH CEREMONY BRINGS DEATH

CORNERSTONE LAYING IN NEW JERSEY ATTENDED BY FATAL ACCIDENT.

Harrington Park, N. J., April 14.—Two persons were killed and more than a score injured, several seriously today when the collapse of the floor of the Church of Our Lady of Victory precipitated nearly 300 persons to the basement. The church only was partly completed and the assemblage was in connection with the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone. The collapse came while an address was being made by Father Delaney, pastor of the church. Suddenly the floor went down with a crash. Men, women and children were caught and many were crushed badly.

Nicholas Ottigen and Mrs. E. Hoelkern were injured so badly they died. About a dozen persons were taken out unconscious and several sustained fractures of legs and arms.

FOR ROOSEVELT.

Washington, April 14.—West Virginia followed Pennsylvania into the Roosevelt ranks Saturday, the county primaries resulting in giving control of the state convention to the Roosevelt forces. Upshur county sent a solid delegation of 17 to the state convention; Minor county, 11 out of 13 delegates; 26 out of 29 in Payette; 22 out of 33 in Vahall; 36 in Jefferson. Of the delegates to the state convention already elected, Roosevelt has 138 and Taft, 64, with two unreported.
