

Half-Price for Leather Goods

We have a line of ladies' shopping bags in genuine seal, Morocco, alligator and fancy calf that we will close out at just one-half of the regular market price. They are all good, serviceable bags, but because we sell more metal bags than leather we will let them go. After all, there is no other kind of shopping bag to compare with a good quality leather for convenience, durability and good looks under hard usage.

The circus tent is folded and the circus men are gone; the caravan and animals have loaded and moved on; we saw the glare and glitter, we heard the blare and boom; we laughed to see the clowns perform—they drove away the gloom; we saw the fearful leap for life—it made us hold our breath—we thought the leaping lady was leaping to her death; we saw the tiger tamer ride in the grand parade; her blue tights looked exceeding thin—she caught cold, I'm afraid; we saw the roaring lion shake out his tangled mane; he looked like he'd been out all night, sleeping in the rain; we heard the spic's raucous voice in the good old hally-hoo; we bought balloons and lemonade and ate some peanuts, too; we saw a lot of wondrous things, surpassing all belief; but we'll remember longest that pin-headed cannibal chief; he was the big attraction in the downtown barker's show; he had the crowd a-going and the going wasn't slow; he was a cockaburum, to see him cost a dime; but he was sure a daisy, performing all the time; a tom-tom made his music, he had raw beef to eat; his head was quite diminutive, he largely ran to feet. I had a great time circus day. But I am here to note that that pin-headed cannibal was the show that got my goat.

Dick Brown, who served a term as porter in Hollingsworth's barber shop and is well known in Missoula, has returned to the Garden city. The Richard in question is not the one who killed a woman here some years ago and is doing a stretch in Deer Lodge. Nothing like that. During Dick's residence in Missoula he was a hero and his specialty was stopping runaways. Dick returned to his native health Sunday afternoon with the Al G. Barnes circus train. He is making a tour with this mammoth and colossal aggregation, and he is greatly delighted when he arrived in Missoula Sunday. The town has made progress since Richard left three years ago and his Ethiopian eyes did a bulge when he saw what the city looked like. "I sure didn't think that the town could get along so fast without me," said Dick with a face-splitting grin, "but it suitably has come up most powerful fast."

It has all been decided. The recent go between P. Woody and H. Stiff has produced an immense amount of speculation as to which would be the victor in a finish fight. The battle at the polls Saturday night was a brief affair and was interrupted before either of the fighters could show what they had. Now, if the present arrangements go through, they will be matched for a finish fight. It is admitted that Stiff has a big edge in the matter of weight, but to offset this is the fact that he fights mostly with his feet and that this will not be tolerated under the Police Gazette rules adopted by the contestants. Then, also, Woody has a big advantage in foot-work. He is a shifty man and carries a good kick in either paw. Of course, Stiff also owns a haymaker, but the local fight followers do not believe that he can land it. The division of the gate receipts is what bothers the promoters at the present time. Both of the fighters have the idea that they would prove the better drawing card, and each one is holding out for 75 per cent of the gate. It seems that the long end of the money will go to Woody—at least that was the dope peddled yesterday morning. It should be a classic.

GOOD CARD

If there is any action recently taken by the council which has produced more applause than the steps taken to adopt a chicken ordinance, please make mention of the fact. The joker has for years been supplied with material on account of the fact that neighbors' chickens have been permitted to get the biting from the gardens, which the amateur has believed to be much more and fostered cherubim neckties; but Missoula has been eliminated from his field. One man in particular is strong for the city council since its recent action. Speaking of the measure, he said: "Letting us my weak point, I like the green stuff better than anything raised in gardens, and every spring I plant my little garden. Lettuce is always one of the main constituents of my bucolic endeavors. Last year I had the hardest luck imaginable and it was all the fault of my neighbor's chickens. I put in a lot of good, hard work on that garden and one morning I was rewarded by seeing the first shoots of the lettuce stick their heads through the ground. When I returned that evening the chickens had been there and the lettuce was no more. That is the reason why I am applauding the action of the council so strongly."

A FINE MEASURE

The remodelled firehall is certainly a big improvement over the quarters formerly provided for the men and equipment. This goes for both the first and second floors. The first floor has been made much roomier and more convenient by taking out the staircase on the east side of the building. There is now room for the hose cart which is to be brought over from the south-side station. Everything has been repainted, a new floor has been laid and the change is certainly much for the better. The stairway at the east side has been replaced by a circular affair at the front end of the station. This can be utilized by the men, who do not

Hydrogen Peroxide Special

There are many kinds of this justly popular remedy. The demand has grown so fast and the price forced down so low that many makers have been forced to make it of the cheapest material, thereby producing a cheap, inferior and dangerous product. Much of this cheap peroxide contains a free acid and is injurious to the mouth and gums, and should not be used. We have succeeded in obtaining an absolutely pure peroxide—free from acid and of the highest antiseptic value and at a very low cost, and will from now on offer it to you at the following prices:

- 4-ounce bottle peroxide 10c

want the exercise incident to shinning up the brass rod. The upstairs quarters seem a big improvement to the men, who have been cooped up in one little room for such a long time. They now have a bath and several other conveniences to them before unknown. There is also room now for them to spend their leisure hours in a comfortable manner. It is something that has been needed for a long time and its coming has been none too soon for the local fire contingent.

KRAUSE CROSS-FIRES GOODMAN'S CHARGES

Upon complaint made by I. Goodman, proprietor of the Montana Supply & Jewelry company, Max Krause, who has been in his employ for some time, was arrested yesterday charged with having appropriated some goods from the store. Krause was later released on bonds. He alleges that the goods, which the officers found in some trunks in an up-stairs room of the house had been taken by him purposely, and that he expected to hold them until Goodman paid him a balance due on his wages, which he stated amounted about $200. There were several matters in connection with the case which were not made clear to the officers last evening and which will be thrashed out in a justice court today.

MANY FRIENDS ATTEND THE STINSON FUNERAL

The funeral of James J. Stinson, who died last Saturday night, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. C. Larabee, on Cooper street. Rev. Harold H. Griffin conducted the simple and beautiful service and many friends were in attendance both at the home and at the interment in Missoula cemetery. Quantities of flowers were brought to the casket by these same friends.

Notice to South Side Property Holders.

Mayor Rhoades requests the property holders on the south side to meet with the city council at the city hall, Tuesday evening, May 28, 1912, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of talking over the proposition of building sewers on the south side. A large attendance is cordially asked to be at the meeting.

EIGHT COYOTE PUPS IN STOCK

MISSOULA BOY HAS BABY HOWLERS FOR SALE AS RESULT OF HIS JAUNT.

Do you want to buy a coyote? If you do, Willard Jones of South Sixth street, west, can accommodate you. He has a stock which will enable him to fill, immediately, any order up to eight. He will book orders for future delivery in excess of that number.

Jones is the crack quarter-mile runner of the Missoula county high school. It will be remembered that he gave Hauser of Anaconda the chase of his life at the interscholastic meet and would have run the star off his feet with a little better coaching.

When school closed, Jones decided, having no other employment in sight, that he would go coyote hunting. There would be good money in that with the bounty figured in. So he took his rifle and with one companion went up the Blitter Root as far as Florence on a train. From Florence the boys struck into the mountains and their first day's hunt was rewarded by the discovery of a coyote den.

They dug into it and brought out eight pups, evidently about six weeks old. The boys tried in vain to locate the old ones, but were not successful. They brought in the eight little fellows alive and they have a menagerie at the Jones home.

The coyotes are for sale, for this hunting business must show a profit. Terms are reasonable and delivery will be prompt.

LOCAL SOCIETY

As-You-Like-It Club. Mrs. Hiram Knowles will entertain the As-You-Like-It club this afternoon at her home in Knowles' addition. This being the last meeting of the club for the year it will be a special session. Each member will bring a guest and all former members have received special invitation to be present. A program of unusual interest has been planned and refreshments will be served during the social hour.

A Box Party.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lusk gave a box party for the performance of "The Pink Lady" at the Harnois theater last evening. Miss Olive Wheeler of San Francisco was the guest of honor and those invited to meet her were Mrs. Agnes Lombard, Mrs. Edwin Dodds, the Misses Dorothy Sterling, Carolina Wharton, Jessie Wharton, Mabel Smith, Dorothy Polley; Messrs. Allan Toole, Walter McLeod, Gilbert McLaren, Professor Whitlock; Captain Mullay, Lieutenants Harding, Davis and Miles. After the play, the company adjourned to the Lusk home of Gerald avenue, where a midnight supper completed the delightful evening.

A Birthday Treat.

Wayland Hoyt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis O. Hoyt, entertained some of his friends most enjoyably Saturday afternoon in honor of his ninth birthday. His guests, Harold Dorman, Jack Maxwell, Donald Barrett, and Miles Virginia Hoyt, were taken for an automobile ride which ended at the baseball game. After the games were fully enjoyed, the young people were whirled back to the Hoyt home on South Third street, where a supper table was spread with an abundance of good things to eat, both substantial and dainty. Japanese lanterns were used for decorations and there was a birthday cake with nine candles lighted upon it as a reminder of the occasion for celebrating.

Bridge Club Wednesday.

Mrs. E. L. Bonner will be hostess for the Bridge club tomorrow afternoon at her home on Gerald avenue.

A Farewell to Miss Thomas.

About 40 of the employees of the Northern Pacific railway presented Miss Ada Pearl Thomas with a very beautiful cameo brooch and a sterling silver library set last evening by way of expressing something of the high esteem in which she is held among them. Miss Thomas has been for the last seven years a nurse in the Northern Pacific hospital and she has endeared herself to all who have known her by her lovely character as well as her professional skill. Now that Miss Thomas has decided to go to be with her father and mother in the family home at Turner, Ore., her many friends realize how greatly she will be missed in Missoula. The presentation last evening was made at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beebe on West Spruce street. Miss Thomas leaves for the west this morning.

NO ELKS' DANCE.

Decision was reached last night by the Elks that they will hold no dance this week. The regular night, Thursday, is Memorial day and it has been found that to hold the dance on Wednesday would conflict with other social events. On this account the event will be passed this week.

BROTHERHOOD ENJOYS VISIT FROM FOSHAY

James A. Foshay, the supreme president of the Fraternal Brotherhood, visited Missoula lodge to speak on and explain the new plans as adopted at the supreme lodge session held in Los Angeles during April. The members turned out well and their friends were also there in goodly numbers. Mr. Foshay's address inspired all with an enthusiasm for the new plans, which it is believed, will show good results. President Foshay is past grand master of the Masonic lodges in California, is widely known in educational circles, and for the last seven years has been supreme president of the Fraternal Brotherhood, during which time the organization has grown from a small order to one comprising a membership of over 51,000.

President Foshay was entertained by Mrs. C. H. Green, at her home, 1101 Cooper street, during the day, after which he went to the Knights of Pythias hall to meet the members.

A lodge meeting was held that President Foshay might see how well Missoula could exemplify the work, after which a reception and banquet were given in his honor. The banquet was an unqualified success and several bright and witty toasts were given.

Mr. Foshay will next visit Idaho Falls and then go to the lodges in Utah. He is to make a complete tour of the states, visiting in each where there are lodges of the Fraternal Brotherhood.

PLENTY YET

STOVE PIPE ENAMEL

The shabbiest of all shabby things is a rust-disfigured stovepipe. Ordinary "stove polish" will not restore its surface; in fact, the sheen gives emphasis to the roughness. Our stovepipe enamel will do the work and make the rust-eaten surface look like Russia iron. This enamel will stand a high degree of heat. Dries quickly with a fine, brilliant finish. Used on stoves, pipes, registers, pipes, auto lamps, boiler fronts—anywhere that heat is applied.
